THE UNOFFICIAL VALUE OF COINS.

This month we publish in response to many requests a list of the coins and prices some dealers will pay for them. Listed are those up to 1939, where no detailed story is required; i.e.: Pennies, 1919 with dot below and above scroll, 40/-; or dot below scroll, 20/-. These will be given with the remainder of those available as soon as space permits.

MORE ARTS AND CRAFTS IN ACTION

Tuesday, March 17th, was the date for the combined arts and crafts and history display in Cheltenham at the Civic Hall. A black and white photographic exhibition, a showing of colour slides, an exhibition of paintings and floral art, history display and play reading of "Doctor in the House" comprised the programme.

A WELCOME REVIVAL

On Friday and Saturday, 24th and 25th April, the City of Moorabbin Theatre Group will be going to East Bentleigh Hall with a revival of "The Heiress". This delightful show, which provides something of a glimpse of life into an earlier period, will be well worth seeing, particularly in the hands of such a competent group of artists. Bookings and enquiries: Miss Judy Oliver, 65 Roberts Street, Bentleigh. 'Phone 97 5967.

GUIDES TO SCHOOL PROJECTS ON MOORABBIN

The 1964 edition of "Guides to Projects on The City of Moorabbin" is now available from your nearest Free Library or the Moorabbin Town Hall. These guides are designed to relieve children (and parents) of the amount of work usually involved in research work in connection with civic projects. Other information is available to schools through this Newsletter. Schools requiring regular posting of the Newsletter are asked to enrol their school with the society (5/- per annum) and to enclose an extra 5/- (10/- in all) for postage. Newsletter will then be mailed directly each month.
