The Eastland barter

Ringwood Council and Coles-Myer have resolved their differences on the Eastland redevelopment which is now up for community perusal. SUE HEWITT looks at what the deal entails.

SHOPPING at Eastland will no longer be a dreary trudge through a well-worn complex, caught in a time warp of the 1960s.

It is to be transformed into a world-class regional shopping centre, a benchmark by which to judge all other complexes.

Should a special deal between council and Coles-Myer meet community approval and be agreed to by the Minister for Ethnic, Municipal and Community Affairs, Ms Hogg, and Treasurer Mr Sheehan, shoppers will be wandering through this retail fairy-tale by August, 1994.

Plans for Eastland redevelopment were given town planning approval in October, 1990, but to the community it seemed that nothing more was done.

Behind the scenes council and Coles-Myer were caught in a battle of wills from which observers believed none would emerge victorious.

When Cr Max Williams became mayor he faced deadlocked negotiations last September.

Coles-Myer would not redevelop unless council sold the land and council did not want to give up a public asset, formerly a football oval that was donated in the early 1900s.

Council was smarting from the fiscal decisions made by former city fathers who in the mid-1960s agreed to lease the site to Coles-Myer for one up-front payment and an annual lease of $52,000.

In 1994, council could have set a new rent of about $400,000, but would have been tied to that figure for another 30 years.

All up, the original arrangement locked council into leasing the site to Coles-Myer for 75 years.

The two parties also had a language problem — Coles-Myer was talking commercial realities and council was talking about community needs and assets.

INSIDE Eastland . . . plans are afoot to transform the shopping centre into a world-class regional complex.

What is proposed is that Coles-Myer would gain the bulk of the site, from the carriageway in front of Eastland north while council would control the parking area from the shopping centre south to Civic Place and in one section to the Maroondah Highway.

Local member and Community Services Minister, Ms Setches, sent in a 'translator' several months ago from the Minister for Manufacturing and Industry's office.

He was an 'honest broker' who sat and explained each party's concerns to the other, and helped repair the broken line of communication. Gradually, the parties sorted out a unique deal, one which council chief executive officer, Mr John Paech, believes is an Australian first.

It also solves many problems. It frees council from the 75-year, unprofitable lease and gives it a generous income amounting to $18.75 million over 10 years. It protects the community's investment in the Eastland site by setting up a Ringwood trust to use the $18.75 million to buy other community assets.

To Coles-Myer the deal is attractive because it gives the company the site, paid off over the decade, to develop without ties.

The proposal, now on public display, involves council selling the land to a joint Coles-Myer/council Eastland Shopping Centre trust. At present council owns two-thirds of the redevelopment site including the land on which the centre was built, and Coles-Myer owns parcels of land around the edge of the main site, including lots in Warrandyte Rd, Miles Ave and Ringwood St.

What is proposed is that Coles-Myer would gain the bulk of the site, from the carriageway in front of Eastland north while council would control the parking area from the shopping centre south to Civic Place and in one section to the Maroondah Highway.

Through the trust council and Coles-Myer would hold different units or shares entitling them to different things.

Council's shares would guarantee it $18.75 million over 10 years, while Coles-Myer would gain the land at the end of that period through the trust arrangement.

The income to council would be $400,000 this year, $3.5 million next year, $5.2 million in 1994, $1.8 million in 1995, $1,808,000 in 1996, $1,816,000 in 1997, $1,825,000 in 1998, $1,954,000 in 1999 with the final pay-out figure dependent on a related clause on the council's provision of parking.

This money will be put into a separate trust, owned solely by the council, so that it can be used to buy other community assets or land. This would protect the income from being depleted on councillors' pet projects.

On the parcel of council-controlled land, council has the option of developing its own village shopping strip, embracing a town square. This must be done before the Eastland redevelopment is completed to protect Coles-Myer's grand opening.

Coles-Myer also has the opportunity to match any other developer's tender on the council project.

Council could also close Melbourne St south from the highway and create a pedestrian mall leading to the shopping centre. There is also the option of a pedestrian bridge across the highway to the railway precinct.

At a special council meeting last Thursday, council agreed to place the proposal on public display.

After the independent panel's review, the council's deadline is critical. It has scheduled July 14 as the day that council and Coles-Myer review the project and execute the final documentation.

This is only a fortnight before the August 1 elections, when the Mayor, Cr Williams, and councillors Margaret Cheevers and Neil MacDonald face the voters.

Cr Williams said last week he hoped the electors would not judge him on the Eastland development alone, but said he was proud of that achievement.

GOODWILL

Your Community is Served by a Junior Chamber

BECAUSE IT:

Interests young men in service to and improvement of their community and country.

Trains young men in self-development activities. Develops better qualified and more valuable employees.

Aids the progress of members in their business, or other chosen field of activity.

Provides valuable experience in leadership to many who might not otherwise have the opportunity.

Provides self-confidence, poise and executive ability to many who might not otherwise progress.

Emphasises the importance of freedom of opportunity for the individual.

Pertinent Questions Answered

1. WHAT IS A JUNIOR CHAMBER?

It is an organisation of young men whose purpose is:

- (a) To provide leadership training and other self-development activities to young men so that they may become more valuable to their employers or in their chosen field of endeavour.
- (b) To help improve, serve and develop their community and country.
- (c) To provide fellowship with young men of a similar age and with the same ideas.

2. IS THERE AN AGE LIMIT FOR MEMBERS OF A JUNIOR CHAMBER?

Members of Australian Junior Chambers range in age from 18 to 40.

3. ARE LADY MEMBERS ACCEPTED BY JUNIOR CHAMBER?

Due to the different interests involved, ladies are not included as members of a Junior Chamber. Many Junior Chambers, however, have Ladies' Auxiliaries which operate quite independently of the Junior Chamber movement.

4. WHAT SERVICES HAVE JUNIOR CHAMBERS RENDERED TO THEIR VARIOUS COMMUNITIES IN THE PAST?

Each Junior Chamber is an autonomous body with the right to develop whatever programme of activities will best serve its own community.

Activities of Junior Chambers in the past are too numerous and varied to list here, and vary from chamber to chamber, depending on the needs of the community concerned. They have included such undertakings as:

Road Safety and Courtesy Campaign	Rooms for Boys' Homes
Community Beautification	Flood Relief Appeals
Film Service	Salesmanship
Tourist Promotion	Business Management
Traffic Safety	Industrial Fairs
Youth Development	Civic Libraries
Public Speaking	Industrial Visits
Building of Hobbies	Civic Affairs
	Assistance to under-privileged sections of the Community.

5. HOW WAS JUNIOR CHAMBER FORMED?

Junior Chamber of Commerce had its birth in St. Louis, Missouri, U.S.A., in 1915. A progressive movement of young men combining the ideals of fellowship in action and self-improvement by service, chambers grew rapidly throughout America leading to the formation of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce in 1920.

Fired by imagination, initiative and the ideals of young men of action, Junior Chambers of Commerce were formed in the early 1920's in England and Canada and, in the years to follow, New Zealand, Australia and a host of other countries. An inspired idea quickly became a world-wide movement.

December 11, 1944, saw the crystallisation of the movement as a universal expression of the ideals of young men in the formation of Junior Chamber International at Mexico City. Today it is the third largest young men's organisation in the world, being active in 90 countries and territories of different race and colour.

Its ideals are its Creed, its purpose training by experience and example in education and service to the community, and its record the proud achievements of young men of action wherever Junior Chamber exists.

6. WHAT IS THE CREED OF JUNIOR CHAMBER INTERNATIONAL?

The Creed of Junior Chamber International is as follows:

WE BELIEVE:

That faith in God gives meaning and purpose to human life,

That the brotherhood of man transcends the sovereignty of nations.

That economic justice can best be won by free men through free enterprise,

That government should be of laws rather than of men,

That earth's great treasure lies in human personality, and

That service to humanity is the best work of life.

RETIREMENT COMMUNITY
 8-12 Albert Street, Ringwood

Dear Householder,

Perhaps you're not thinking of retirement units at this time, and maybe you're not of the right age group. But there could be somebody in your family, friends or relatives who could be interested.

Ringwood Village is right in your own district, and you'll find lots of information about it in this brochure. So give it a little thought, not only on your own account, but of somebody you know, and pass the leaflet on to them.

Incidentally, we find some people are happy to sell their homes and move into retirement units with a cash surplus that is very handy at this time of their lives. And our units are most reasonable for the accommodation and facilities they offer.

Yours sincerely,

DAVID THACKRAY
Retirement Living Consultant

HAPPY LIVING IN A HAPPY PLACE!

Ringwood Village, with its convenient location (see map on the back of this brochure) is a community of 27 units, nineteen with two bedrooms, the remainder with one.

It's not one of those impersonal places but more like your own suburban street with a neighbourly feel about it. There's a furnished and equipped resident centre for residents and their guests, or you may like to call it a community centre — for that's what it is, a place where you can meet all other residents of the community for a chat, a "cuppa" or a game of cards. And we have an outdoor living area with barbecues for relaxing and entertaining when the weather's right for it.

THOUGHTFUL PLANNING

You'll find living at Ringwood Village has been thoughtfully planned for your care and safety with wide doorways, waist-high light switches, door handles instead of knobs, shower curtains, non-slip ceramic tiles in the bathroom and kitchen. An emergency call system is installed which works electronically from a pendant switch, which can be worn if required. With its large windows, your unit is light and bright yet your privacy is assured.

RESIDENT MANAGER

There's a resident manager who's responsible for security, maintenance, and keeping the grounds in order. Yes, you have your own manageable garden area if you like to do your own.

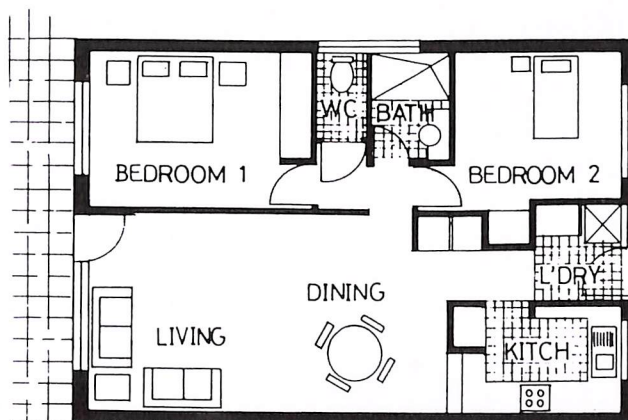

STRATA TITLE OWNERSHIP

Because each resident owns his/her unit, we have been able to arrive at a surprisingly low weekly figure for maintenance and service. This covers the resident caretaker, gardening, provision for future maintenance, arrangement of community services, and fire and hazard insurance on your unit.

COMMUNITY SERVICES

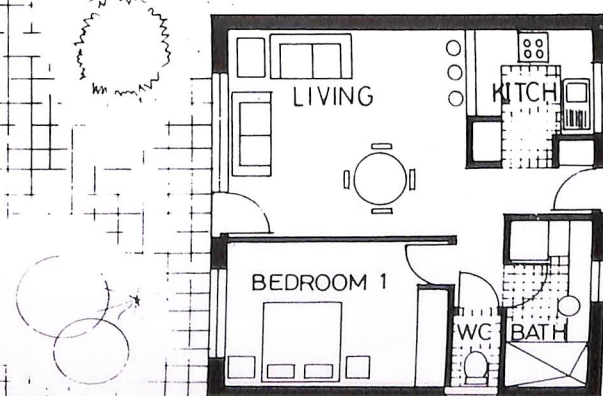

Through our liaison with the Council and other organisations, we have a range of community services which are available to residents. A medical consultant is available if residents are unable to consult their own doctor.

How we help you

Physiotherapy and Manipulative Therapy keeps you moving through every stage of life from birth to old age. For most causes of muscle or joint pain, Manipulative Therapy can offer relief by using treatment such as mobilisation, manipulation, electrotherapy, remedial exercises and postural correction.

Back pain

80% of all people suffer from back pain at some stage in their lives. Back pain can be caused by injury to the spinal area, poor postural habits, muscle weakness or diseases such as arthritis.

Headache and neck pain

Head pain can be experienced anywhere in the head or face. It is usually felt at the base of the skull, the side of the head, the forehead or around the eyes. The most common cause of neck and head pain is the irritation or damage to the upper part of the spine around the neck.

Shoulder conditions

Shoulder pain can stem from the neck, upper back or the shoulder joint itself.

Tennis Elbow

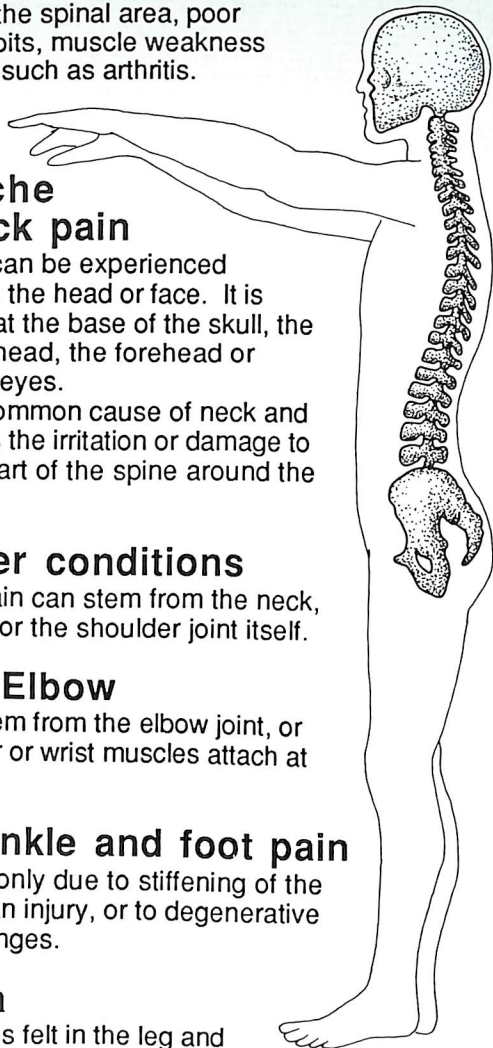

Pain can stem from the elbow joint, or where finger or wrist muscles attach at the elbow.

Knee, ankle and foot pain

Most commonly due to stiffening of the joints after an injury, or to degenerative arthritic changes.

Sciatica

Sciatic pain is felt in the leg and radiates from the back, often spreading into the buttock, groin, thigh, lower leg and even the foot.

About our centre

The Ringwood Manipulative Therapy and Physiotherapy Centre opened in 1977. Today our centre has grown and developed a reputation based on a 'hands on' personal approach to patient care.

Our centre has special expertise in the management of spinal disorders, muscle and joint pain, accident recovery, sporting injuries, and work rehabilitation.

We are an integral part of a medical team and can work with your doctor or specialist, although a medical referral is not necessary

Our philosophy of qualified care

You can be confident that the advice and treatment you are given is safe. Your Manipulative Physiotherapist is a registered private practitioner and is bound by a professional code of ethics.

The Ringwood Manipulative Therapy and Physiotherapy Centre has a commitment to maintaining the highest standards of patient care.

All the partners continually update their knowledge by attending further education courses required and supervised by the MTAA.

The team

Pip Durrant, Warwick James, Richard Gole, Gregory Collis-Brown, Cheryl Langford, Merle Bradford, Heather Colliver.

What is Manipulative Therapy?

Manipulative Therapy is the detailed assessment and treatment of painfully restricting muscular and skeletal conditions using 'hands on' graded passive movement techniques.

This means that we use a combination of soft tissue mobilisation, remedial exercises and joint manipulation scientifically designed to correct these disorders. Your progress is professionally monitored throughout the treatment programme.

A Manipulative Physiotherapist is a highly qualified physiotherapist who has completed a four year Degree course, at least two years practical experience and has then undertaken a 12 month Post Graduate Diploma in Manipulative Therapy.

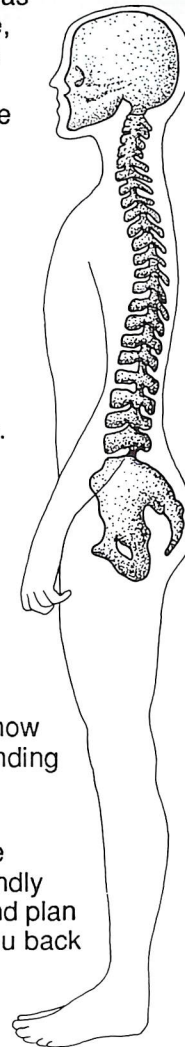

A healthy approach to pain relief

Pain can be a lonely and distressing experience. Pain may be nagging, sharp, uncomfortable or sheer agony. It can last for hours, days or even years if uncorrected.

For some people this means time off work, dropping out of a favourite sport or merely not being able to do as much as they once could.

At Ringwood Manipulative Therapy and Physiotherapy Centre we know how much encouragement and understanding people in pain need.

We combine our scientific knowledge and professional expertise with a friendly ear. We take the time to diagnose and plan a comprehensive treatment to put you back on the road to better health.

Preventative care

Our centre has a commitment to teaching you how to help yourself. First of all we get you back in good shape. Then we show you how to understand and work with your body to remain healthy and avoid future problems.

We offer postural assessment and advice for children and adults, advice regarding home exercises, sleeping positions, general fitness, self treatment, recreational and sporting activities.

Getting you back in business

Our aim in rehabilitation is to treat people as soon as possible after an accident. Prompt and qualified treatment can mean pain relief and a return to full activity as soon as possible. We provide rehabilitation services in the following areas;

- ◆ Sporting injuries aimed at successful return to sport in the shortest possible time.
- ◆ Optimal recovery from motor vehicle trauma.
- ◆ Work related injuries, including work site assessment and activity modification programs.

Physiotherapy for better health, fitness and fun.

Using our knowledge of how the human body works, we can prescribe enjoyable and safe fitness programs to help the old and the young on the road to recovery and good health.

Centre staff can arrange a work site assessment and suggest modifications of activities if necessary. Our centre also runs back and neck care programmes for industry.

Baker Boy BREAD

1st February, 1966.

Dear Customer,

From Monday, 14th February (next week) all our bread will be charged for at decimal prices.

It will greatly assist the change-over in booking if you would pay your account (if any) up to and including Friday (11th February) in ordinary money. This, we are sure, will avoid delays and inconvenience to yourself and our salesmen after "C" day.

Further, as some old coins do not have exact decimal equivalents, we are asking that you pay cash daily on delivery from "C" day onwards. If you do this, and tender cash in amounts which are multiples of sixpence we will be able to give the correct change in cents.

OUR SALESMEN WILL BE ISSUED WITH 1 CENT AND 2 CENT COINS TO ENABLE THEM TO GIVE YOU CORRECT CHANGE IN CENTS, WHICH YOU MAY THEN USE ELSEWHERE FOR OTHER PURCHASES.
