MR. SCOTT DIXON YEARBOOK EDITOR

I've been fortunate enough to be the editor for the Weemala for the past four years, and in that time there's been many, many highlights here at Norwood. Thankfully, the Weemala has been there to record all those moments for the school's posterity.

This year marks a very special year for the Weemala - the first time in thirty-eight years that it has been distributed for free to all students. Enjoy!

FLASHBACK WEEMALA 1974

In 1974, Norwood - then a mere twenty six years old - was busy building what is now the school library and participating enthusiastically in the AFS exchange student program.

MR. VIN VIRTUE SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

2012 has been an exciting year at Norwood Secondary College. Our VCAL program continued to be a resounding success, and the new ACE program has been an asset to the school's academic program. My congratulations and thanks to those staff who have supported all these talented students.

My thanks also to this year's College Captains, Amy Galbraith and Joshua Gray, for all their hard work.

We look forward to the growth and challenges the new year will bring and believe that our new staff and students will flourish in the Norwood community. In 2013 our population will increase by about ten percent.

Finally, I would like to thank all our School Council members for 2012 and our Assistant Principals, Jenny Mason and Geoff Castles, who have given tirelessly to the school and my special thanks to our School Council President Bill Treglown.

MRS. JENNY MASON MR. GEOFF CASTLES ASSISTANT PRINCIPALS

The Weemala had the opportunity to ask the assistant principals of our school to reflect on the year that was. Here's what they had to say.

Weemala: How would you sum up the year here at Norwood?

Mrs. Jenny Mason: A year of achievements and opportunities for our students. Look at the range of sport, music and camps available, and also the achievements in academics, sport, the Arts.

Mr. Geoff Castles: Busy, hectic and it has passed quickly.

W: Can you tell us about some of your favourite moments of 2012?

JM: I really enjoy seeing students excel at something they have worked at, so attending the Cabaret, Music Concerts are great, talking to students who come in having won a sporting flag, and presenting certificates to students for achievements at assemblies always give me a 'buzz'. I also really enjoy working with our student leaders.

GC: Participating in the Central Australia Tour with a fantastic bunch of Year 11 students.

W: What do you look forward to most next year?

JM: The challenge of welcoming students and staff new to Norwood in 2013 and making sure all feel happy, accepted and part of the Norwood Community.

GC: The successful integration of many new students to Norwood.

W: And lastly, what do you take the most pride in at Norwood?

JM: Our students - they are friendly, mature and kind people and I feel proud that students leave Norwood with qualities that will make them adaptable to change and respectful and caring of all other community members.

GC: The unity and dedication of the staff and the high level of cooperation of (most) students.

ACADEMIC HIGHLIGHTS

A recap of another successful scholastic year at Norwood.

Norwood prides itself on the commitment of its staff and the results they achieve in the classroom. Here, a few faculties reflect on the year that was and share with us some of their standout moments...

ENGLISH

Year 12 students worked hard all year to hone their skills for the exam in November. We consolidated the study of the context 'Identity and Belonging', which involved students writing about what it means to belong to a group and to be comfortable in your own skin.

In Year 11, we reintroduced 'Macbeth' and continued with the engaging context 'Future Worlds'. Year 10 students produced some exciting versions of scenes from 'Romeo and Juliet' and Year 9 students explored two new texts, 'The Hunger Games' and the graphic novel 'The Hound of the Baskervilles'.

Year 8 students studied 'Whale Rider' and in Year 7 we introduced the novel 'Coraline' and studied how the story changed when produced as a film and a graphic novel.

Debating-wise, 2012 was massive. We fielded two Year 10 teams and a Year 12 team, with the younger students lifting our position from near the bottom in 2011 to knocking on the door of the finals.

Kate Borzym, Izabelle Chabierski and Max Rivadera were among the standouts, displaying amazing oratory and organisational skills. Well done to them all.

HUMANITIES

History and Geography, together with Economics and Civics at Junior School, make up the areas of study for the Humanities Department at Norwood. As fieldwork is a major component of Geography studies, our pupils were involved in many excursions this year.

Students in Year 7 went to Edendale Farm in Diamond Creek, where they completed fieldwork at four different stations on the topic of sustainability.

For their Local Neighborhood Study, Year 8 students went to Richmond, Toorak and Kilsyth, comparing the demographics of three very different suburbs, and finding major differences in the way we live in Melbourne.

Year 9 students had their wonderful City Experience, getting to know the heart of Melbourne, and VCE History students had a tour of the City Centre investigating how Melbourne began and developed, looking at the Ian Potter Centre, the Immigration Museum, the spectacular dome of the State Library, and of course the Shrine.

Grateful thanks to all the Humanities teachers, who have been expert and caring in their delivery of the Humanities Curriculum!

LANGUAGE OTHER THAN ENGLISH (L.O.T.E.)

The Norwood community provided a warm welcome to four new language assistants this year from Monash, Deakin and Melbourne universities. An unexpected bonus this term was the recent arrival of Michelle Anggia from Jakarta, on a Youth Exchange Program.

Add to this Lea Claude, our delightful Year 11 French exchange student, and the eclectic mix of languages and cultures this year has definitely helped broaden and enrich Norwood's learning and teaching environment.

Studying a second language offers an abundance of opportunities for our students. It might mean a trip to Noumea, engaging with native speakers, cooking specialist dishes, visiting restaurants or perhaps sampling satays and croissants.

For others, it may be the chance to learn traditional dances, enter poetry competitions or simply write pen pal letters to those in another country. Whatever the reason, learning a LOTE can deliver a life-long journey of wonderful experiences.

SCIENCE

Complementing the class work students undertook for science, students also participated in a variety of other activities designed to extend their class room studies and abilities. Year 7 and 8 visited IMAX and Andrew Plant, visiting palaeontologist, author and artist brought dinosaurs to life for the year 8 students and taught them how to quickly draw a dinosaur.

Year 10 advanced science students received intensive hands on workshops in genetics/microbiology and chemistry at GTAC and Box Hill institute respectively as well as smaller sojourns for selected students to other tertiary institutions such as the La Trobe University Biochemistry Department.

7 ACE science had a consistent start to the year, finishing on a high with a special visit to Healesville Sanctuary for hands on classification activities to compliment and extend their studies in classification and ecology.

VCE students attended a plethora of excursions including physics of Angry Birds and the synchrotron (physics), GTAC, Melbourne Zoo and microscopy department at Melbourne University (biology), Cunningham Dax at Melbourne University (psychology) and Melbourne Aquarium and La Trobe University Chemical Science.

On a whole school level, many distinctions and credits along with increased participation rates were recorded for the International Science Quiz and the Australian Chemistry Quiz.

Among the 200 odd students involved in the quiz, those with distinctions received prizes during assemblies and all students received a detailed breakdown of their abilities and results. Congratulations to all of the students who participated.

Read on in the Year in Review section to see what has happened in our other faculties; Mathematics, Technology, Business Studies, Health and Physical Education, and The Visual Arts.

THE YEAR IN REVIEW

Because school is about more than what happens in the classroom.

OPEN NIGHT

It's the night when Norwood throws open its doors to the community; Open Night. A chance for prospective students and their parents to come and see what a great range of subjects and opportunities are available to them here. Turnout is always fantastic, enthusiasm is always high, and this year was no exception.

ATHLETES AFOOT!

Another Norwood year, another year of sporting highlights and athletic endeavours. From the February Swimming Sports Carnival to the April Athletics Day and May school-wide Cross Country, both students and staff gave their all to ensure the energetic spirit of Norwood remained undimmed.

Congratulations go to Maroondah House for their dominant showing at the Swimming Carnival, Kalinda for taking top spot at the Athletics, and Adam Cerra (7B), Shannon Ritchie (11E) and Lorna Clark (7C) for helping Mullum House to Cross Country glory.

TOP DESIGN STANDOUTS

Each year, the Top Designs exhibition, a prestigious display of the best VCE work from around the state, is held at the Melbourne Museum.

Mr. Philip McElroy's Systems Engineering students have excelled again this year. Max Reid has had his internal combustion engine project from 2011 featured in this year's 'Season of Excellence' at Top Designs and Alex Stent has submitted his Driving Simulator for inclusion in next year's Top Designs.

LIFE IS WHAT HAPPENS WHEN...

As I reflect over the year deciding which highlights to mention there are so many...

The trip with Year 11 to Central Australia always moved me, as together we set up camp and saw the amazing and changing landscape, heard the stories and smelt the Outback air.

The Year 7 camp where I saw friendships develop, new experiences for some and the transition from primary to secondary school. The concerts where student performed or the art works and folios which are displayed, and working with a dedicated group of people, helping them to reach their potential.

All that said I am aware the stuff of life for some this year has been a difficult road to travel. It is the sitting and listening to the stories of our students, and offering support, the practical support, the hospital or home visits for me is the highlight which stands out.

I consider it an honour to travel the difficult road we sometimes have to travel to get to the good places. In travelling this road, I have seen people rise above the difficult stuff of life and grow into the people they were meant to be.

I look forward to serving this community of Norwood in the new year.

Peter Whitefield, College Chaplain

THE HIGHLIGHTS OF L.O.T.E.

Here's just a few highlights from another exciting year in the exotic subject that is Languages Other Than English....

Centre: Year 7 students proudly display

MATH + ENGLISH = ENigMA!

During Term 3, the year 7s and 8s took part in the Enigma Quiz. The program was run by the teachers from Norwood.

All year 7 and 8 students participated; the competition ran through two stages. The first round began in each form, where students from each class were separated into several teams of five.

The team with the most correct answers (questions were of literacy and numeracy), moved onto the second and final round which staged the victors from each form against each other. After the winning team was determined, each member of the team was given a gift voucher.

THE 'CAN DO' VCAL ATTITUDE

The VCAL students contributed to the Norwood experience in a very permanent and positive way this year, building some outstanding new features around the school.

A formal opening of the new features was held in October to recognise these students for their outstanding efforts.

SCIENTIFIC STANDOUTS

THE HOMEWORK CLUB

A new initiative this year at Norwood is the after-school Homework Club, run every Tuesday in the library.

An initiative supported by 2009 school captain Jessica Lundie, who is now studying for her own teaching degree, the Homework Club is an opportunity for students to meet with volunteer teachers (and staff keen to devote some of their own time) for one-on-one tutoring in a range of subjects.

"What a success it has been", said Jessica. "It has been an absolute pleasure to work with the students in such a relaxed and studious environment."

THE CAMP LIFE

From surfing to skiing to camping to hiking (and more!), Norwood students covered all terrains and conquered all climates in 2012 thanks to a wide range of morale-boosting, team-building experiences, ably led by their enthusiastic teachers.

THE SPRING EXHIBITION

The second annual VCE Spring Exhibition was held in October and gave Year 11 and 12 students the opportunity to show off their finished projects in a range of subjects.

This year featured a range of outstanding pieces from Studio Arts, Media, Food & Technology, Visual Communication, and Product Design & Technology (both Textiles and Wood). The audience-voted Artist & Artisan Award went to Year 12 student Abby Stranger for her black and white photograph series (below).

CENTRAL AUSTRALIA TRIP

For many students, it's the experience they remember most fondly when they look back at their time at Norwood; the Year 11 trip to Central Australia, two weeks travelling to the Red Centre and seeing a different part of this country.

But it's not just about the visit to Uluru, swimming at Katherine's Gorge and hiking King's Canyon. It's the friendships they make and the bonds they built and that makes this a truly memorable time for all the Norwood students.

TEACHERS vs. STUDENTS FOOTY

Arguably the school sporting highlight of the year is the annual Teachers (and a few brave Year 11s) vs. Year 12s football match, played on the last day of Term 3. Yet again the teachers proved triumphant, registering a close one goal win.

THE 2012 GRADUATING CLASS

YEAR 12 CELEBRATION DAY

Every year they manage to make it a little more colourful, a little more creative and a little more eye-catching. This year's Celebration Day was one of the best the school has ever seen with a wide (and weird) range of costumes and getups worn by our departing Year 12 students.

A closing night and a fitting tribute to the graduating class, the November Valedictory Dinner honoured outstanding students, dedicated staff and the endlessly supportive parents of this year's Year 12s.

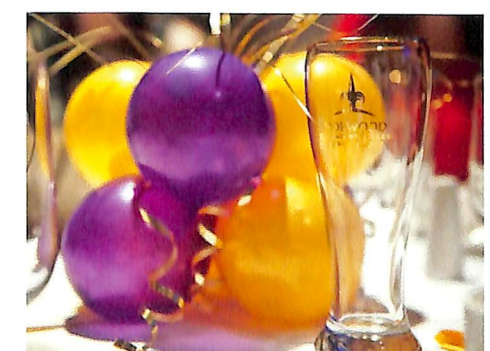

Amongst the awards presented last night were the NESTA Award to Matthew Menegol (who also received the Bio Box Award) and the Deakin University Endeavour Grant to Bradley Blair & Samantha Winstone.

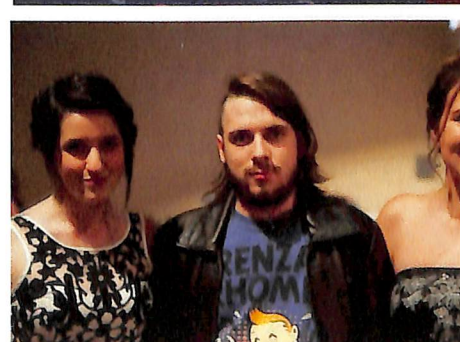

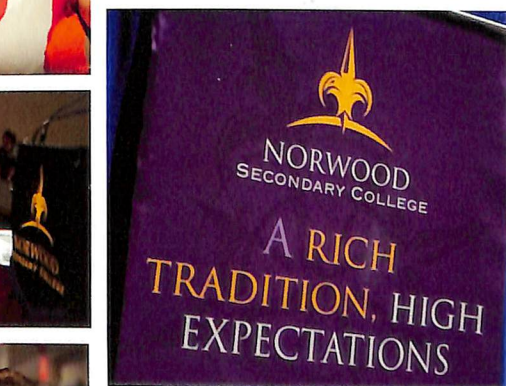

Other winners included Rebecca Matthews, who received the Bert Prior Prize for Sport, John Hensworth (Citizenship Award) for his contributions to the school alongside commitment to his studies, and Madison Morgan, recipient of the Pierre De Coubetin Award.

Rounding out the night, Louise Hockey received the Caltex Best All-Rounder Medallion and college captain Amy Galbraith was given the Deakin University Achievement Award.

Congratulations to these students and their families, and to all of the graduating class of 2012 for a memorable year.

VCE Literature*

"The Central Australia trip was pretty sick and the Deb was amazing."

"I can't wait to see what Year 12 brings!"

*Henry Jacob,
Year 11E*

"One of my pet hates is the way people weep over their 'journey'. Yet that's exactly what high school is, and while I may not be weeping over it, it's sort of surreal to come to its end. It's been a blast."
