Guys and Dolls

Guys & Dolls, A musical fable of Broadway has been one of the most successful musicals of all time, playing for 1,200 consecutive performances, and sprouting both a number one soundtrack and award winning movie that starred Marlon Brando, Frank Sinatra, Jean Simmons and Vivian Blaine. Last year saw the return of Guys & Dolls to the Broadway stage with astounding success, winning both a Tony for best musical and a Grammy for best musical soundtrack.

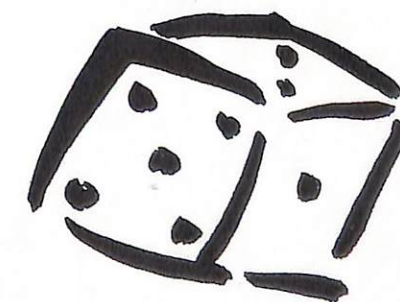

Based on characters created by Damon Runyon and compiled by Frank Loesser, Guys & Dolls is a story about gambling, the fast life, guys, dolls and love.

Nathan Detroit has been successfully running his floating crap game for years now, but just when all the big gamblers are in town he cannot find a place as the FBI is breathing down everyone's neck. Nathan's only chance is the Biltmore Garage, but he needs a $1,000 Cash, and in advance. To make things worse for Nathan, it's his 14th Anniversary with his fiancée Adelaide, the famous Broadway star - and he doesn't even have enough money to buy her a present. Nathan decides to bet Sky Masterson - the highest and most respected gambler of them all, $1000 that he cannot take any girl Nathan names to Havana, Cuba for dinner tomorrow night. Sky accepts and Nathan chooses Sergeant Sarah Brown, leader of the local Salvation Army.

Sky, using the fact that the mission is in serious need of customers, swindles Sarah into going with him. Nathan not having the $1,000 decides to hold the crap game in the mission during Sarah's absence, but they are discovered when Sarah and Sky return from Havana. In Havana they had fallen in love, but now Sarah is convinced that she has been used so as to leave the mission empty.

The crap game has resumed in one of the city sewers and things are getting nasty for Nathan when Sky arrives. To make it up to Sarah, he bets each gambler a $1,000 against their souls - if he loses he pays each a $1,000, if he wins they all have to turn up to the mission.

A few hours later they're all seated in the mission, even Nathan who has missed his elopement with Adelaide so as to be there. Sky leaves for points west and all looks bad. But surprise, surprise the mission gets saved, Sky returns and the girls triumph with marriage.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

This performance has been the result of nearly 12 months hard work from a dedicated and highly energetic bunch of young adults, the oldest of which is twenty five. Our age, or lack of it has never proved a problem - just a challenge, and although we were initially greeted with scepticism I believe we have come through with the goods. If I may borrow a quote from the next wave organisation "By the Youth, With the Youth For the Youth in all of Us" or something like that!

In no specific order the producer wishes to thank the following people for generous contribution to this production.

Kate "I don't drive that bad" Hall for the support, the friendship and the clues, Powelly for the rippin lino print, guru Mr C for introducing me to this crazy world, Geraldine Pincombe, Don Hall, Steven Reiteri, GunsN'Roses, Monica "Look it fits" Patchett for recruiting half of Croydon High among other things!, Kylie "Freak" Mitchell for timing her holidays so well, I told you never fall in love, John "Sleepy Dog" Gates for being so organised, as well as a good friend and brother -Narby lives, Hoody - "I didn't do it Trev", Ryan "Humphry" Smith - you sly dog, Erin (A bird in the hand is always worth two in the bush), Deano and Chris "Let's watch the centenary match" Bird, Rory for the Nintendo, Mum - for absolutely everything, after all I am easy to live with!, Dad - Keep laughing & thanks for giving us Rip Rip Woodchip, Russell "I'll fix your car soon Thomas" Tonking, Lee "15 Point turn" Mullen - Thanks, Leah - thanks for the webber & stuff, Judy Maloney, Shannon Pincombe - I'm thinking of ya mate, Maroondah S.C., Karl Trsek, McDonalds, Circle K, Mobile Petrol Stations, Volkswagon for getting me there, Coffee in general - I couldn't have done it without you - Same goes for smokes, The Croydon Hotel -thanks for those happy hours, Johnny Mac & Yvonne - for your house, your time and your brains?, Mrs Colson, Maureen Gates for putting up with John, Michelle "It's under Control" Dorian, Miller for all the special deals, Yarra Valley Anglican School for breeding such reliable little chappies, Danielle Biggs for doing what others weren't capable of, Valdo for keeping Hoody under control and introducing us to the wonderful world of Ram Gold (Gatesy, get that out of your nostrils), Cheers - We love you Normy, Opal Nera Sambuca, Kind of makes life worth living, and last but not least Slingers for giving us dedication, support and for most of all believing.
