That the Registrar intimate to Mr. Lecturer Thomas that the Administrative Council fail to discover any reason for continuing his services as Lecturer in Surveying: that the Registrar communicate with Mr. Lecturer Trause to ascertain if he will undertake the charge of a Class in Surveying.

Mr. Lecturer Trause being on the premises was introduced, and in reply to the Vice-President stated that he would be happy to devote the leisure at his disposal, to the conduct of any Class given him by the School: at same time he desired to mention that this was the first intimation he had received of his services being in request and would like to consider the proposal.

Mr. Caselli suggested with reference to the Dies for Medal proposed as an award to certain students, that Mr. Sayer of the London Chartered Bank be asked to oblige by furnishing a design. This was generally approved.
