The Visiting Committee's Report was given by Cr. Bealand who said that in company with Cr. Maxwell he had visited the school and they had inspected four of the trade classes. He was pleasantly surprised with the machines in the machine shop although the shop appeared rather crowded but he expected that there would be more room between machines in the new building when it was occupied next year.

They next visited the Electric Welding and Leatherwork classes and saw some very fine work being done. In the Electric Welding Department they noticed that the stands for motors under test was rather insecure and they considered that provision should be made for greater safety.

Business Part-time Instructor - Plumbing Department
