was a marked improvement on the previous system of lighting and left little to be desired.

They next visited the Carpentry and Plumbing Shops. In the latter department examination results last year were very disappointing but there were universal throughout Victoria and an examination of the question papers indicated that the Examiner had set questions outside the syllabus. The Master Plumbers' Association was going into the matter and would ^{make a} report to the Education Department in due course.

C. Roff said that it would be an advantage if the name of the instructor were placed on the door of his department. This would make it unnecessary for members of the Visiting Committee to ask the name of the instructor at each department.

Both C. Roff and C. Martin expressed their appreciation of the reception they met with from the various instructors during the course of their visit.

The report was received on the motion of C. Bealand, seconded by St. George.
