General

Lack of Instruction in Mechanical Engineering Subjects following Mr. Wright's resignation.

Mr. Bealand reported that he had received complaints from students to the effect that no provision was made, following Mr. Wright's resignation, for them to receive lectures in engineering subjects.

The President said that Mr. Herschline had endeavoured to obtain the services of Mr. E. J. McCann, but without success.

Mr. L. Hillman had been taking certain of the lectures but this was mainly fresh prior to the examinations.

18-12-40

Mr. Lambert, who had been appointed to this position, had given an assurance to remain for two years and it was hoped that students would not have a similar experience again.
