Girls' Preparatory School.

General. The Principal reported that he had discussed this matter with Mr. Pavia, Principal of the London Institute of Technology, Geelong, but without obtaining much helpful information. It appeared that Geelong was in very much the same position as ourselves though they had started evening adult classes along similar lines to the Emily M. Phelan

College of Domestic Economy and were working juniors into these classes in the day time. This gave the juniors a much wider course and one that offered attractions over the present Girls' Preparatory Course. From information given him at the Education Department we could not ~~visit~~ ~~hope~~ ~~to~~ ~~take~~ ~~students~~ other than from the eighth grade and the only alternative appeared to be one of contacting the parents of eligible girls through the medium of lists supplied by the local schools and of endeavouring to broaden the syllabus on similar lines to those adopted in Geelong.

Visiting Committee
