Printing Machine

Mr. Bealand said that the replacement of the obsolete printing machine in the Printing Department had been discussed at the Apprenticeship Advisory Committee meeting ^{held on} the previous evening. It was stated at that meeting that a suitable machine would be available in the near future when the Printing Trades School in Melbourne is fully equipped. It was resolved that the Education Department be requested to transfer a suitable flatbed machine to this school. (Mrs Bealand & John)

Condition of road in Norman Street.
It was resolved that the attention of the Burgaree Fire be drawn to the poor condition of the road ^{in Norman Street,} between Creswick Road and Dobson Street, and informed that Education Department assistance is available for such work. It was also resolved that the Education Department be requested to arrange with the Victorian Railway Commissioners for the erection of a warning device at the railway crossing in Norman Street. (Mrs Pearson & Smail)

Minutes of 1954 Conference

It was resolved that the matter of comment on resolutions, particularly Resolution 3, be referred to the President and the Principal ~~and that~~ for report and re-consideration at the next meeting of the Council. (Mrs Bealand & Pearson)

Finance Committee - Special Meeting

5-3-55

Held in the Principal's office on Saturday, 5th March 1955 at 10 a.m.

Present The President, Mr. G. J. Jephth (Chair) Vice-Presidents Mrs G. B. John and J. J. Smail, Mr. W. E. Williams and the Principal, Mr. R. W. Richards

Apology An apology was received from Mr. S. D. Wyres, Inspector in Training and Obsolescence.

Business An interview with Mr. F. M. Sheahan B.E. (Training) of King's Cross, Sydney New South Wales. Mr. Sheahan satisfactorily answered all questions relative to the course he had done at Sydney University and his practical experience since. He stated that his health was good and that if selected he would be able to commence duty ^{ten days} after giving notice to his present employer. Mr. Sheahan retired from the meeting and it was then agreed that his re-appointment to this position be recommended to the Education Department. This concluded the business and the meeting closed.
