20-4-55 Broken Windows in Plumbing Department
The Principal said that these breakages were caused by the heat from the oxy-acetylene flame used on the heating bench.
Messrs. Lee and Ashburner had been asked to advise regarding wire screens for the windows and had recommended a certain type and gauge of wire.
It was decided to explore the possibility of obtaining a heat resistant glass for these windows.

Accounts Accounts amounting to £9127-1-11 on maintenance account and £18-12-8 on Special Equipment Grant account as per Chairman's Book, Vol 8103/104 were passed for payment.
(Cusack & Lynch)
