POET'S CORNER

The following poem has been written by an anonymous local writer....

VIII omen at well

odeled tel Well dressed in diamonds and gold The man pretendes to know and tell his future state in heaven or hell. If monkeys have no soul or sense they make the best of present tense. They do in nature keep their place and may in time be favorite race. O man, O man do see thyself shun being proud and erlfish else face you must a change of station. The planet earth has strong attraction the Mother earth gave birth to all and every object back must fall. Go by the tide as sailors say when one is dead and thrown away. Please draw my carcase as I am. All pearls and gems are lifless sham.

Confiratulations and best wishes to two local girls...Wendy Gogld (married last Saturday) and Maryanne Hope (to be married tomorrow. Wendy married a Melbourne chap(sorry about not knowing his name) and Maryanne will marry John Serong.

Best wishes to all from all of us.
