DEAR MARYSVILLEITES There will be a stall in the main street opposite the Rex Cafe on Saturday March 22 (TOMORROW) for the Church of England Building Fund. It takes two kinds of people to make a stall a success... those who donate and those who buy and I know this town is bubbling over with both kinds. I thank you all from the bottom of my heart. It starts at 10.30 and goes till all is sold.

PRACTICE MATCH THIS SATURDAY

Seniors and reserves to be at the ground Match is against the R.A.A.F.

WELCOME TO THE LINDORFFS

We all wish Bev and Bob Lindorff and their children-Kylie, Scott and Travis-all the best in their new venture as managers of Marylyn. The family is an acquisition to Marysville and if you have a chance, make yourself known to them and extend a personal welcome.

HERE IT IS!!!!!! THE VILLAINS SUPPORTER HAS COME OUT OF HIBERNATION AND PUT PEN TO PAPER AGAIN.....Now folks, read on! MAINI Vo 11o TOI. ... NITTIE 2011UB 31YOU

Well here we are at the start of another football season and if last Sunday's practice match is any indication it's certainly not going to be a good one. When are the boys going to learn that to become a good footballer one must train-preferably at least one night a week anyway. We had quite a few injuries omly because the boys were not fit enough to take t the knocks.

We seem to have paid out a lot of money Coaches and one can only hope that their performance picks up during the year.

There were a few good players but 6 or7 boys cannot carry the whole team. I noticed also that the supporters haven't changed their attitudes too much either. The whole afternoon left a lot to be desired and if Marysville want to gain a place in the four then they are going to have to pull their socks up. So come on boys show us what you can do (or can't) The Villains Supporter.
