Australia Day Celebrations

The Murrindindi community came together to celebrate everything great about being Australian at eight community events held across the shire on Australia Day.

Murrindindi Shire Council Mayor John Walsh said Australia Day presentations were an opportunity to recognise and promote the wonderful efforts of those who live in the Murrindindi Shire.

"Congratulations to our winners and it was great to see so many communities embrace the Australia Day spirit. I would also like to thank all the ambassadors who gave of their time to celebrate with us." Cr Walsh said

Citizen of the Year, Brad Quilliam, Young Citizen of the Year, Ayden Embling and the Murrindindi Community Event of the Year went to the Marysville Sparkling Wine Festival.

Brad Quilliam – Citizen of the Year
Brad, a Kinglake resident of more than 20 years, is a local business owner who is very committed to his community.

Brad has not only been an instrumental part of community initiatives including the Kinglake Ranges Visual and Performing Arts Alliance, Kinglake Ranges Radio Station, the Pay Dirt Band (performing at community events following the February 2009 bushfires), Kinglake Produce and Artisan Market and Charter President for the Kinglake Rotary Club, but has also worked tirelessly in aiding the Kinglake and Murrindindi business and tourism communities. Brad has been one of the key people in the formation of the Kinglake Ranges Business Network, is Chair of the Murrindindi Business Associations Forum and representative on the Goulburn River Valley Tourism Board.

For Brad it's also about supporting the youth of our community and he was involved in the building of a youth facility in Kinglake, is an active member of the L to P Driver Mentor Program and has established North East Publishing social enterprise providing young people with valuable practicable skills in the printing trade.

Brad has played an instrumental role in the recovery efforts within his community.

Ayden Embling – Young Citizen of the Year
Our Young Citizen Ayden Embling has been recognised for his willingness to be involved in community projects and in a number of instances, taking a leading role.

His eagerness to become involved is outstanding for one his age and his obvious enjoyment in the activities enthuses others.

Ayden has put his many talents including public address and lighting to great use in Alexandra Secondary College school productions, Freeza Battle of the Bands events, St Mary's Ball, the Marysville Sparkling Wine Festival and the Cartwheels Festival.

Ayden is not one to take the back seat and encourages all young people to get involved in their communities.

Marysville Sparkling Wine Festival – Community Event of the Year
Murrindindi Community Event of the Year award was presented to the Marysville Sparkling Wine Festival. This event is the first dedicated to Australian sparkling wines and was first held in Marysville over four days of the Melbourne Cup weekend in 2010.

The event recognises the importance of bringing members of the community together while promoting social and economic development - Marysville is back and open for business.

In 2011, its second year, there were more than 200 sparkling wine entries, judged by some of Australia's top wine experts. The 2011 event ran for a week and included a business breakfast, a corporate golf day, wine judging, a gala dinner and a Cup Day festival in Marysville.

In Marysville....

The Marysville & District Historical Society took out the "Best Community Float", Terry Donovan "The Most Imaginative Float", Pans on Fire were awarded for being "The Most Entertaining".

Lily and Amy Morrow were awarded prizes for their beautiful Korean national costumes.
