Marysville's recovery draws interest from neighboring council

Staff from the Parks and Bushlands department of Yarra Ranges Shire Council have toured Marysville's Gallipoli Park and surrounds.

The 55 staff members were interested in seeing the town's recovery from the 2009 bushfires and in particular the rebuilding of key facilities and the revival of parkland.

Murrindindi Shire Council's Manager Infrastructure Operations Mark Leitinger led the group through Gallipoli Park taking in the lake and playground and included a walkthrough of the Community Centre.

"We were pleased to be able to share what we have accomplished during the recovery and reconstruction phase and in particular our learning's.

The group later went on to spend the afternoon touring Steavenson Falls with staff from the Department of Environment and Primary Industries (DEPI).

MARYSVILLE "VILLAINS" TO PLAY IN GRAND FINAL

This Sunday - 25 August at 2.30pm at the Woori Yallock Football Ground the Marysville "Villains" veteran Australian Rules football team will play Wandin in the Grand Final.

This is Marysville's 1st appearance in a Grand Final for 40 years. The last appearance was also played against Wandin in 1973 and the Villains came away as the victors.

The Marysville District Football Club was founded in 1931 and in 1986 the club was disbanded. In 2009 after the devastation of the "Black Saturday" fires a group of local residents formed a committee to bring football back to Marysville and the Marysville District Football and Netball Club was founded. In 2011 the fledgling club was able to field a veterans team to play in the Yarra Valley Mountain District Football League and after only three seasons the club under the coaching of Dean Connell has fought its way into a Grand Final.

Club President Graeme Haycraft said "I urge all members and supporters to make the trip to Woori Yallock. Marysville and Wandin have played twice during the home and away season with both clubs tasting victory the Grand Final should be a ripper of a game. We need all our supporters to attend to give the Villains every bit of encouragement and support."

Recovery projects connect communities
FRRR announces latest recipients of Grants for Resilience & Wellness

Bendigo, 15 August, 2013: The Foundation for Regional & Rural Renewal (FRRR) has announced the latest round of recipients of its Grants for Resilience and Wellness (GR&W) program, a long-term community recovery program funded by the Victorian Bushfire Appeal Fund. Funding from the GR&W program enables bushfire-affected communities to connect, share experiences, enhance individual and community wellbeing and resilience, and to build strength and capacity for the future.

Communities affected by the 2009 Victorian bushfires are continuing their recovery by implementing a range of locally-led community-strengthening and resilience-building projects. FRRR's Natural Disaster Program Manager for Victoria, Natalie Egleton, said that the latest GR&W projects are wide-ranging and forward-thinking in their aims and outcomes.

"This round of GR&W includes projects that promote youth engagement and support services, health and wellbeing, creative outlets for reducing social isolation and stress, community cooking and meals programs and more," Ms Egleton said.

"We understand that while the bushfires were a few years ago now, recovery from such a traumatic event takes a lot longer than many people realise. Through GR&W, we support projects that help these communities to continue healing."

The latest round has funded 15 community organisations for their projects: for the full list of recipients and project details, visit the FRRR website. GR&W is a rolling grants program and is accepting applications for the next round of funding.

For comment, contact FRRR's Natalie Egleton, on 03 5430 2399 or call Julie Weldon on 0423 110 802.

About FRRR

The Foundation for Rural and Regional Renewal (FRRR) was established in 2000 to support the renewal of rural and regional communities in Australia through partnerships with the private sector, philanthropy and governments. Its mission is to champion the economic and social strength of Australia's regional, rural and remote communities through partnerships with the private sectors, philanthropy and governments. Since its establishment, FRRR has managed the distribution of more than $35 million in grants and provided substantial capacity building support to community organisations across the nation. A good education is the best start in life that we can provide for our children.

Murrindindi Shire is fortunate to have excellent education resources at all levels and particularly the major secondary colleges at Alexandra and Yea.

I recently had the opportunity to be 'Principal for the Day' at the Yea High School. It was a great experience and I was particularly impressed by the innovation shown in the programs that Principal John O'Meara and his team have introduced. One is the outreach program known as AYCE which stands for Access Yea Community Education Program. It now has students enrolled at seven AYCE centres located around the State.

Yea High School is also a member of the Big Picture Education Australia network of schools and is a vibrant learning institution with a progressive attitude to curriculum programs and education provision. There is also a strong focus on trade training since not all our children are destined for careers in academia or business.

Yea High School has also implemented the unique program in conjunction with the Evolve-Keeping Kids on Track Program for years 8, 9 & 10 to provide support to our young community members whose families or themselves may have been impacted by the February 2009 bushfire.

Evolve is a unique approach that provides sustained support and a focus on developing self control, self confidence and organisational skills together with the services to focus on better attitudes to life, family, school and study.

The Evolve program also includes a virtual self survival, resourcefulness and supporting life experiences for students at a number of outdoor venues including Typo Station in northeast Victoria. The program has also been an exceptional support since a large part of the Yea High School's student catchment includes Flowerdale and Kinglake.

Students who have engaged with Evolve are noted to be more focused and productive in class, with improved attendance and motivation. They also build more connection with the school and their peers with a greater capacity to understand the ideas and issues affecting their life and find an increased interest in developing a pathway to the future.

I was also reminded that there are important milestones in the history of community education in Yea coming up in the near future.

In 2015 the 155th year of formal education will be celebrated in a number of ways and which are currently being considered.

According to Education Department records the first Yea School number 699 was formally established on 1 January 1860 and within about three years had a recorded enrolment of 39.

Another milestone for the High School itself will be its 60th year including 50 years established on the current site in Racecourse Road.

Our local schools are very keen to locate historic memorabilia of education in Yea including photos, newspaper coverage, other mementos and especially to establish contact with their early students or family descendants.

John O'Meara at Yea High School on 03 5797 2207 is an important point of first contact and contributions to our local history of education are important and will be welcomed.

Mayor's Chair

The Shire's review of its Rating Strategy was put on hold earlier this year while we awaited the outcome of the State Government's review of differential rates. The latter review has been completed and now it is appropriate that we complete our work.

The Rating Strategy determines the share of rates collected from different categories of property owners. The Rating Strategy does not determine the total amount of revenue to be raised from property rates. We are not looking at the size of the pie but the way in which the pie is sliced and size of the slice for each group.

Assessing the suitability of the current Strategy and if seen as necessary, the establishment of a new Strategy, are not an easy tasks. There are many competing requirements further complicated by the fact that the underlying system is based on property values which have no direct relation to the operations of Council nor to the way residents use and receive services.

Differential Rates may be applied where Council considers they will contribute to the equitable and efficient carrying out of its functions. Currently we have one differential rate for farms in excess of 40ha.

Issues that have to be determined include whether services that benefit mainly one sector of the community should be supported to a greater extent by that sector. Is a commercial rate a suitable way to contribute to the costs of economic development and tourism support activities? Should we attempt to take into account the ease or other wise of access to centralized services such as swimming pools and libraries? Should we attempt to make adjustments for distortions caused by different variations on changing property valuations?

We also need to understand how our rating system compares to other similar Councils and whether the factors that underpin those neighbouring strategies are also applicable here.

The Rating Strategy Review report discussing the current system and some possible options is available on the Council website. Council will be reviewing the options, and looking at the implications of other variations, with a view to resolving the Strategy by the end of 2013.

Murrindindi Shire Council
Offices to temporarily close

Murrindindi Shire Council's offices and libraries will be closed for the morning of Thursday 29 August as staff from across the shire take part in disaster recovery training.

CEO Margaret Abbey said the important training would focus on assisting the organisation to be better equipped to prepare for and implement recovery actions in a disaster situation.

"Following our experiences in 2009, and the magnitude of the fire event that saw all of our staff impacted, it is important all staff have the opportunity to participate in this import workshop.

"Our Council has assisted in the development of a range of tools that will assist local government in building capacity in times of disaster recovery," Ms Abbey said.

The project funded by the Department of State Development, Business and Innovation has focused on the 10 councils most affected by the 2009 bushfire: Alpine, Mitchell, Mount Alexander, Yarra Ranges, Nillumbik, Whittlesea, Latrobe, Baw Baw, Wellington and Murrindindi.

Offices and libraries will reopen:
Alexandra: 11am
Yea: Noon
Kinglake: 1pm

Marysville Golf Report

When the rows of daffodils along the roadside adjacent to the first fairway are in bloom the Marysville golfers know that spring will soon be coming. The daffodils planted by volunteers after the 2009 bushfires are always enjoyed by those who drive past in cars and golfers who drive their golf balls down the first fairway.

Last Saturday was the second and final stroke round of the Winter Aggregate for both the men and the ladies. The men's winner was Steve Coker (26) with nett 132 followed by Rob Christie (12) with nett 136. Gail Leigh (10) was the ladies winner with nett 150 with Heather Jenkins the runner up with nett 163. Congratulations to Gail and Steve for their 2013 victory.

The Saturday daily winner was Rob Christie (12) with nett 66 and Steve Coker (26) was the runner up with nett 69. Rob also won the putting competition with 27 putts on a count back from Joe Tricarico and Keith McClaine. The ladies daily winner was Gail Leigh (10) with nett 78. The nearest the pins were won by Adam Littlejohn, Rob Christie, Gail Leigh and Bob Emblin.

The Thursday golfers played stableford on the back nine holes and Ron Denmead won with 14 points. Nearest the pin on the 18th was won by the returned traveler Bob Emblin. Next week the Thursday nine holers will play Par on the front nine holes whilst some ladies will travel to Broadford to play in their annual ladies Bowl event.

Whilst the Marysville golfers were playing at home on Thursday Gail Leigh and Liz Amos played in the Avenel Ladies Silver Salver. Gail's good form at home continued away on the Avenel sand scrapes and she won the A grade competition with 39 stableford points, a nearest the pin and was a member of the winning small teams event. Well played Gail and congratulations to all our weekly winners.

Next Saturday golfers will play a stableford round as part of their charity day with all proceeds going to the Dalton Fiske Foundation a Marysville and District Lions Club initiative.

Good Golfing.

Murrindindi Shire Council Customer Service Officer

We are seeking a confident and cheerful Customer Service Officer to work closely with our residents and ratepayers at Murrindindi Shire Council's headquarters in Alexandra.

The prime focus of this position is to promote and lead the delivery of a positive customer service culture within the Alexandra Office, internally and externally.

The successful candidate will naturally have a high level of customer service skills, organisational skills, time management skills and computer proficiency. Experience in administration and a broad understanding of the function of local government is also required to be competitive in the role.

The position description is available from Council's website at www.murrindindi.vic.gov.au.

Applications are expected to highlight your strengths and to address the key selection criteria to explain how you best meet the needs of our team.

Applications are to be marked 'confidential' and addressed to Murrindindi Shire Council, Attention Damien Cocks, Manager Customer Services and Communications, PO Box 138, Alexandra 3714.

Applications close at 5pm on Friday 30 August 2013.

General Manager positions successfully appointed

Murrindindi Shire Council has announced Michael Chesworth as General Manager Corporate and Community Services and Tamara Johnson as General Manager Infrastructure and Development Services.

The appointments finalise the restructuring of the organisation following the implementation of a Services Review started in 2011.

CEO Margaret Abbey said the organisation had reduced its general management team from three to two positions following the cessation of the Murrindindi Assistance Package provided as part of the Shire's bushfire recovery funding.

"It is with mixed emotions that I make this announcement as we have been fortunate to have an outstanding team of general managers, but our structure, in refining the way we operate, only allowed for the two senior positions. The current General Manager Corporate and Community Services Rob Cherry will not have his contract renewed under the new arrangements," Ms Abbey said.

"Rob Cherry has guided the organisation through a very testing period and I would like to acknowledge his outstanding leadership and his professionalism in dealing with such challenges as the Services Review, rating strategy and the delivery of some very rigorous budgets. I wish him all the very best in the future."

Ms Abbey said Mr Chesworth and Mrs Johnson were strong leaders.

"Both Michael's and Tamara's corporate knowledge and expertise will guide us well. They have great teams working for them and the Murrindindi Shire community.

"We look forward to delivering for the people of our shire."

Information requested for a flood study of Flowerdale

Current and past King Parrot Creek residents with recollections and photographs of the June 1989 flood are invited to attend an information sharing session on Thursday 5 September 2013 at the Flowerdale Community House, 36 Silver Creek Road, Flowerdale, commencing at 5pm, to conclude approximately 7pm.

Goulburn Broken Catchment Management Authority Floodplain Manager Guy Tierney said the June 1989 flood was the biggest since records began and approximately represents a 1 in 50 year type flood.

"The CMA and Murrindindi Shire Council are undertaking a flood study of King Parrot Creek to help us more accurately map the possible flood extent and height, and reduce future flood impacts," Mr Tierney said.

"The study will also provide information to assist emergency services when responding to flooding."

He said the study would cover the area along King Parrot Creek from south of Silver Creek Road Hazeldene (2521 Whittlesea-Yea Road) to the northern side of Flowerdale (2988 Broadford-Flowerdale Road).

"This study has prepared draft maps of flood extents in June 1989 based on a survey of historic water heights, however, Council and the CMA are seeking input to review how accurately the mapping reflects the community's recollections of the flood," Mr Tierney said.

"We know there are many residents who still have vivid memories of the flood - and hopefully photographs – and we are keen to capture that information to help us with our study and ensure the flood mapping is reliable."

Council's General Manager Sustainability Michael Chesworth agreed that local landowner's hold vital information that will help to complete the study.

"Local knowledge of flooding is critical to the completion of the final flood mapping for the Flowerdale area and I encourage current and past land owners from the area to attend this information session," Mr Chesworth said.

Once flood mapping has been finalised, existing flood overlays in the Murrindindi Planning Scheme will be amended through a publicly exhibited planning scheme amendment.

For more information or advice on proposed flood study mapping, phone Guy Tierney on 5820 1120 or email guyt@gbcma.vic.gov.au .

Murrindindi Bushfire Memorial Update

Stage 2 of the Murrindindi Shire bushfire memorial consultation process is almost complete.

Based on feedback received from the extensive consultation process the Murrindindi Bushfire Memorials Working Group is recommending two regional memorials to be sited in Marysville and Kinglake to represent the broader impact of the fires, as well as several 'Local Memorials' to be sited in communities where lives were lost.

Mayor John Walsh said that the bushfire memorials will be respectful places.

"The memorials will commemorate the loss of life, livelihood, home, friends and community and treasured landscapes wrought by the devastation of the 2009 bushfires. These memorials will also be places to acknowledge and appreciate the enduring community spirit that is nurturing regrowth and renewal in a landscape and world that has changed forever," said Cr Walsh.

The Working Group has recommended that names of the deceased be included in the two regional memorials unless families wish otherwise. Families that prefer not to have names included should contact Jenny Branton on 0417 532 344.

Sites suggested through the consultation process have been assessed and the following sites preferred:

- Central Regional Memorials

- Marysville – Lions Park

- Kinglake – Frank Thomson Reserve

- Local Memorials

- Narbethong – Narbethong Reserve

- Toolangi / Castella – Castella Central Park

- Kinglake West – Whittlesea / Yea Rd
Flowerdale / Hazeldene – Byrneside Reserve

The Strath Creek community indicated during stage one consultation that they did not want a memorial. Strong themes have emerged over the two stages of the consultation including that:

Messages including honour, remembrance and reflection should be conveyed through the memorials, along with survival, recovery and community spirit.

The names of those who were lost in the fires should feature on the central memorials, with space left for future listing of names for those who opt out in the initial development.

The loss of pets and wildlife should be acknowledged in some way, but in a manner secondary to the loss of human life.

The loss of property should be acknowledged through a general statement.

The story of the fires should be told through some interpretive elements, including the response from the emergency services and broader community.

Materials should be durable, long lasting and have a relatively low maintenance requirement over the long term and should reflect the beauty of the natural environment. Rocks, gardens, trees and water could be incorporated into design options.

The working groups' recommendation to create six memorials represents a significant construction project which is estimated to cost more than the current budget. Given that, Council will be seeking additional funding and philanthropic contributions. It is hoped, sufficient funds will be attracted to enable all six to be constructed on the preferred sites, however, should there be a funding shortfall, the scope of the project will need to be modified to fit within the available budget.

Once funding has been obtained a design brief will be issued, based on the information collected from the community, for the design and construction of the memorials. The consultation process will continue during the design phase.

Information about all aspects of the memorials and their designs, including contact details for members of the Working Group, is available on the Murrindindi Bushfire Memorial website at <http://murrindindibushfirememorials.wordpress.com>.
