Lions Club of Marysville & District Inc.

July 10, 2015 President Delice Guscott Vol. 42 No. 27

LIONS 'CHANGEOVER' - AN EXCUSE FOR A PARTY

The Lions Club of Marysville & District held their annual Changeover dinner, (where the changes in Club officer positions become official), last Friday night.. In this case only one position was changed, that of Club President..

We welcomed members from the Lions Clubs of Alexandra, Eildon, Heathmont, Waverley and Mornington, and many local community members to share the occasion.

The Lake View room of the Community Centre was decked with a large number of International flags, adding colour and atmosphere, and the tables were oriented towards the MC Lion Ron.

An excellent meal was provided by Lions Glen and Kerry with invaluable help from Daniel.

Community members of the 'Triangle collating Team' were recognised and thanked for their past services, though now not needed for collating since introduction of the re-vamped Triangle, we appreciate their continued involvement with distribution.

Past President Graham presented his report on the past year, thanking all members for their involvement and commitment. He then announced that donations from income for the past year were just over $39,000 representing countless volunteer hours.

The installation of the club board of directors was carried out by Lion Anne Secker of Heathmont. Club President is Delice Guscott, Secretary Glenn McFadzean, Treasurer Pauline Alman and Past President Graham Taylor is now Membership Chairman.

Tickets for the raffle prizes, which had been eagerly purchased following Lion Ken's enthusiastic recommendation on each prize, were drawn resulting in some very happy winners.

WHEN WARM AND FUZZY BECOMES HOT AND SMOKY

Fifteen minutes is all it takes to check your electric blanket, according to CFA, which is urging community members to learn how to store, check and use blankets properly to avoid a fire.

CFA Operations Manager Robert Van Dorsser said that anyone deciding to sleep on a 'live' electric blanket was risking their life.

"By not turning the blanket off before you go to bed you are crossing your fingers and hoping it won't short out and start a fire. They are designed to warm the bed before you get in," he said. "When you get into bed and leave the electric blanket on, heat becomes concentrated in areas where your body creates pressure. Even a sleeping cat can generate enough heat to start a fire," he said.

Mr Van Dorsser said blankets should be inspected and tested each autumn - ideally before the first use of the season, but it's not too late to do this inspection and protect your life.

"It should take about 15 minutes, and that includes time out for a cup of tea," he said. "There's no reason or excuse not to spend that 15 minutes once a year. Your life is too precious to be wasted by a fire."

A quick guide to checking, testing and storing your electric blanket

Check:

Fit your electric blanket and make sure it is unplugged

Carefully look and feel for any damage to the wires. If you find exposed, broken or badly twisted wires dispose of the blanket immediately.

Starting from where the power wire is connected to the blanket inspect the wire, connectors, controllers and plug. If you find any damage or discolouring have it repaired by a licenced tradesperson, or dispose of it.

Test:

Cover the electric blanket with a blanket or doona, plug it in and switch it on high.

Go and have a cup of tea and wait 10 – 15 minutes before returning to the blanket.

Unplug the electric blanket and remove the blanket / doona. Move your hands over the blanket feeling for hot spots or cold spots (either of these is a sign that the blanket needs to be disposed of).

Store:

If you take your electric blankets off your bed for summer, store it either loosely rolled or folded. Do not place anything on top of the blanket.

COUNCIL GRADUATES COMPLETE CERTIFICATE

Officers from the Community Services department at Murrindindi Shire Council proudly donned cloaks and graduation caps recently having successfully completed a Certificate IV in Aged Care. The graduation ceremony on Tuesday 23 June may have been small but the smiles of the newly qualified Community Support officers and their guests were expansive .

The nine staff members from Murrindindi Shire Council were joined by eight Mansfield Shire Council staff and one employee from the Bindaree Residential Aged Care Facility. After beginning in March 2014, participants attended the face to face course in their own time, one day each month. Much of the study was completed outside of the class time.

Providers of the nationally recognised certificate, Warner Institute, were professional and supportive throughout the delivery and ensured all the participants were given assistance and guidance at any time, both in and out of the classroom.

Murrindindi Shire Council Mayor, Cr Margaret Rae attended the ceremony and said all the graduates should be proud of their achievement.

"This training has enhanced the officers' skills to provide a truly holistic service and care to clients living in the Murrindindi Shire, particularly those with complex needs.

"The participants had to extend themselves, at times finding the study stressful and demanding. It is a huge accomplishment of which Council is extremely proud," said Cr Rae.

Community Support Officers assist people within the community to remain living at home independently, preventing the premature admission to residential aged care facilities. For further information on the Home and Community Care services offered by Murrindindi Shire Council phone 5772 0333. P*hoto: Graduates with their certificates*

MAYOR'S CHAIR
BY CR MARGARET RAE

By now most of you will have become aware that there will be two by-elections held in our Shire shortly due to the resignation of two Councillors. The two affected wards are Eildon and King Parrot. It is with great regret that we have to farewell two colleagues, Councillor Bernie Magner and Councillor Cris Ruhr, who have contributed passionately on behalf of their wards and on behalf of the whole Shire. Each of them has been balancing the demands of full time work and travel with the responsibilities of being a councillor – and this is something that does present a real challenge.
However, while the time has come for them to decide where the balance falls for them, I feel sure that they do not regret having had the experience and privilege of representing the community and contributing to the future of our Shire.
The role of Councillor is indeed a privilege as well as a responsibility. It is a role where 'getting on the other side of the table' leads to a deeper understanding and appreciation of the complexities of providing services – over 100 in total – to a wide range of disparate communities with varying needs and wishes.
So what does it take to be a Councillor? Because it is an elected position, there are no prescribed qualifications – but wanting to serve the community and make a contribution is clearly a given. Much of what is needed is learned 'on the job' but, because Council strategies, policies and decisions are arrived at as a team – that is, by all the Councillors coming together around the table as Council in the formal setting of the Council meeting – no one Councillor operates on his or her own and there is a great deal of information, support and discussion along the way.
Each individual therefore brings their own unique set of skills and everyone has something to offer. Communication skills, problem solving and analytical skills, being able to understand financial and reporting processes, understanding what it means to be ethical and accountable, having a commitment to achieving the best outcome for the community as a whole and working as a member of a team are key attributes.
Challenges certainly exist – learning how to represent a specific community well while making decisions in the best interest overall is one; understanding governance matters and the code of conduct is another. But there are also many opportunities to broaden individual knowledge in new areas – whether waste management, arts and culture, land use management, or community services, for example – they are all rewarding.
So can I ask you to think about representing your community? You don't have to live in the ward where there is a vacancy but you must be a registered elector in the Shire and meet other specified criteria. The Victorian Electoral Commission is conducting the by-elections and has all the details on its website www.vec.vic.gov.au including timelines, processes and a Candidates Handbook. In addition any of the Councillors would be happy to talk to you about being a Councillor.
Nominations will open on Thursday 23 July and close at 12noon on Tuesday 28 July which is a fairly short period. So now is the time to do some homework. If you are thinking of standing as a candidate, please seek out as much information as you can; if you know someone you would love to represent the community, please talk to them and encourage them to stand. Life as a Councillor is complex, challenging and extremely rewarding – give it a go!

VILLAIN'S TASTE VICTORY AT CHIRNSIDE PARK

Marysville's veteran's football team travelled to Chirnside park last week with both sides hungry for their first win of the season, and from the first bounce it was evident that both sides were prepared to give their all to get the 4 points. With the Villain's short on numbers both teams agreed to play 16 a side, which gave the Villain's 2 players on the bench, whilst the home side had 5.

Chirnside fired the first shot, running hard and peppering the goals, but the visitors fought back each time to keep the belief alive. Hard work by the defenders and some class in the midfield allowed the green and gold to fire a few shots back, to trail by 13 points at quarter time.

Marysville stood strong in the second term and every time Chirnside scored the Villain's pushed and replied on the scoreboard, narrowing the gap and keeping themselves in the game, with only 4 points the difference.

Chirnside got off to a flying start in the third term, kicking 3 unanswered goals, until the umpires stopped the game and lined the players up for a head count. Chirnside had been playing the quarter with an extra player on the ground. A free kick and 50m penalty enabled the Villain's to goal, but then it was just hard work and belief as they foaled twice more to bring the gap to only 3 points at the final change.

The huddle was full of belief and passion, and that was how the last quarter played out, both sides were hunting the ball, hungry for that elusive first victory, and goal for goal, blow for blow it was the green and gold singing the song, coming from behind to win by 5 points in an absolute thriller.

Best players; Brodie Arnott, Steve Hedger, Brian Heard, Lucas Russell, Leigh Fisher, Joe Hamilton, and every other player in the team.

Goals; B Heard 6, L Fisher 2, L Russell 2, S Donkin 1, big G 1

This Sunday 12/7 the Villain's travel to Emerald in the search of another win, so come along and support your local vets football team.

GOVERNMENT PLAN FOR FUTURE OF AUSTRALIAN AGRICULTURE ARRIVES

Independent Member for Indi, Cathy McGowan AO, has welcomed the release of the Government's Agricultural Competitiveness White Paper. The Paper will detail the Government's policy commitments and long-term strategy to increase competitiveness, profitability, investment and jobs in the sector.

"The Paper has been eagerly awaited. Its release is a positive step in identifying what's needed for agriculture and food production in Australia to have a sustainable future," Ms McGowan said.

The Issues Paper provided farmers and stakeholders in Indi an important opportunity to input to the White Paper.

"Thanks to everyone for making submissions to the Paper. It is important the views of regional Australia were considered," she said.

"Indi's farmers and food producers are well placed to meet growing demand for clean, green Australian produce."

Ms McGowan was pleased more money has been allocated to the Australian Competition and Consumer Commission to tackle issues in the sector; however increased funding is also required to build vital infrastructure for supporting food production expansion.

"I support the call for further investment in freight rail and telecommunications infrastructure, particularly to address mobile phone coverage in areas of most need," she said.

Ms McGowan will seek feedback from the agricultural sector in Indi on how the Paper will impact the sector in the North East. "I will take up any concerns farmers and stakeholders have when Parliament resumes in August," Ms McGowan said. Photo: Cathy McGowan (Source: Facebook)

MARYSVILLE GOLF REPORT

It was a week of wild wintry weather and a number of golfers made the sensible decision to stay at home by the fire.

The Saturday competition started in dry conditions but wet weather gear was required about half way through the game and conditions became quite challenging. Both the men and the ladies played a stroke round for the July monthly medal. The men's winner was John Norfolk (19) with nett 67 followed by John Trathen (25) with nett 74. John Trathen also won the putting with 28 putts. The ladies winner was Lesley Rundle (31) with nett 80 with Rebecca Lee (27) runner up with nett 83. The nearest the pins were won by Sabrina Stow, Wayne Healy, Leo Curran and Yewls Kuan who also won the Golden Shot. Visitors Leo Curran from Melbourne and Mildred Lyon from Drouin were welcomed to the competition.

On Thursday only 5 hardy players played stroke on the front nine holes. The winner was Roger Thomas with 35 nett followed by Kellan Fiske with nett 38. Roger also won the putting with 13 putts

The weekly competitions would not run successfully without the help of some of the members. Our thanks to Kellan Fiske and the volunteers for preparing the course each week; to Adam Littlejohn for collecting the competition fees, sending the field off and running the presentation and to Yewls Kuan for recording the handicaps.

Next Saturday Roger Thomas, Travers Stow, Steve Coker and Brad. Simpson will play the semifinals of the men's individual match play event. The men who are no longer in the match play will play a Par round as will the ladies.

For information about the club please ring 59633241

COUNCIL STAFF REPRESENT VICTORIA AT NATIONAL CHALLENGE FINAL

A small team of six Murrindindi Shire Council staff has represented Victoria at the National Finals of the Lcal Government Management Australasia (LGMA) Challenge.

After taking out the top honours at the State challenge in March, our Team was then catapulted to the national final to compete against the top teams from each Australian State and Territory plus a team from New Zealand.

Council's Acting Chief Executive Officer Michael Chesworth said the team performed exceptionally well on the day and did both Murrindindi Shire Council and the State of Victoria proud.

"This year's final was a high energy and challenging event. The calibre of participants on the day was impressive and all teams were put through a myriad of difficult tasks, putting their combined skills to the test.

"While our team didn't come away with a prize this time, the judging panel said all teams performed to a very high standard, and it was a tough race to call.

"The team did an excellent job and the experience and skills gained throughout the program will be beneficial for the work place", said Mr Chesworth.

At a presentation evening following the national challenge, the Murrindindi Council Team was presented with its award for winning the State challenge.

The national challenge day was won by Kingborough Council from Tasmania with second place going to Marrickville Council from New South Wales and in third place was Tauranga City Council from New Zealand.

The Local Government Management Australasia (LGMA) Challenge has been running for more than 20 years. The annual event attracts local government professionals to participate in the sector's leading professional development program.
