

The faces of China

36. Seo (George) Young and his family. Note the bound feet of Mrs Young.
Seo Young was one of the few Chinese who became a mine manager.

MINES. WE HAVE ORIGINAL by Lee

Some mines were owned by Chinese but their locations are unknown. The Victorian Mining Association from 1874 tried to prevent any of its members and families from working or doing business with Chinese. Seo (George) Young of Eaglehawk was a wealthy mine tailings manager believed to be the only known Chinese to have occupied a position of authority over both Caucasian and Chinese workers.

MISSIONARIES.

James Lee Wah visited the sick and dying in the Hospital, the Asylum and in scattered huts along the creeks and gullies. He conducted services in the Mission Hall and Chapel at Ironbark Camp from 1869-1906. William Ching Wah was busy in the Golden Square district from 1869-1880. In 1882 James Ah Shim took over Ching Wah's duties at St Stephen's Church. Later missionaries were Moses Ah Gon, Philip Lew Tong (Chung), David Ng, and Fung Gay.

36. Seo (George) Young and his family. Note the bound feet of Mrs Young.
Seo Young was one of the few Chinese who became a mine manager.

MINES.

WE HAVE ORIGINAL Eaglehawk

Some mines were owned by Chinese but their locations are unknown. The Victorian Mining Association from 1874 tried to prevent any of its members and families from working or doing business with Chinese. Seo (George) Young of Eaglehawk was a wealthy mine tailings manager believed to be the only known Chinese to have occupied a position of authority over both Caucasian and Chinese workers.

MISSIONARIES.

James Lee Wah visited the sick and dying in the Hospital, the Asylum and in scattered huts along the creeks and gullies. He conducted services in the Mission Hall and Chapel at Ironbark Camp from 1869-1906. William Ching Wah was busy in the Golden Square district from 1869-1880. In 1882 James Ah Shim took over Ching Wah's duties at St Stephen's Church. Later missionaries were Moses Ah Gon, Philip Lew Tong (Chung), David Ng, and Fung Gay.

Raylene do we have this photo someone I know has it as unknown, found a

in "Chinese Footsteps" Historical sites of Bendigo, RUAW

Store.

rom

ear in 1896

Office on ngs fee, the a residence
ry elections.
held a mpensation o ding a

217

ally
17

Act

1917

[Signature]