Dear Mr. Fitzgibbon,

I enclose a letter received from Mr. B.D. Croke, V.C.A.H., which is self-explanatory.

The Board believes a letter of support is more appropriate if given by those who know of the course or have been active participants.

Yours faithfully,

Dear Sir,

The Victorian College of Agriculture and Horticulture is at present going through the process of re-accrediting the "Further Certificate in Farming" with TAFE. This part time course has now been conducted for thirteen years and in that time some 3000 Victorian farmers have improved their management skills by participating in one of the district based courses. No doubt you have dealings with graduates of these courses in your industry.

A recent survey of farmers who have completed these courses has shown an overwhelming recognition of the value of these courses to these persons as farm managers. There is no doubt that farmers want these courses to continue.

Course re-accreditation requires not only the support of the people doing the course but also of industry groups and associated industries that service farmers. I am therefore writing to you to request a letter of support from your organisation for these management courses. This letter would be appended to the reaccreditation document as evidence of industry support.

I look forward to hearing from you in the near future.

Yours sincerely,

Barry D. Croke
