With Ellison we leave this lovely Isle to-day after a kind of week-ended pleasure with the reception of the new volume, or my friends part, of a very excellent ring which immediately preceeded it. 20/11/88.

How about the afternoon show to my friend's brother?

What about those matches.
My ~~brother~~ had nothing to do with them.

How did such a happy time. The time has flown & I am still it - as there no all good everybody has been so kind.
I am only 65 the theories & I have to know for it would take a special man was the most camp on massive base

She broody to the fore
She caught us by the ankle neat,
And bent us to the floor.

In a corner most demurely,
There sat little Downy,
With a wicked twinkler in her eye,
Her hands clasped on her knee.

Bronny's pink keached pawd in black,
And red the men or dance,
While Ranji bore a humpety air,
Shook killed us with a glance,

Buttercup in paper clad
Was waiting for the end
Old Nick, he wandered in and out,
So stiff, he could not bend,

We danced and waited midnight,
Then went to ring the bell,
And roared in the New Year,
In a way you all know well,

Stada Stahan. Jan 15th Feb 1st

You ask me to write, what I think of my trip
And to tell all the knotty, no-brain
How it's once sketched to write down my thoughts.
You know might have years of my brain.

I come for four days, and a fortnight's stay
The reason I cannot explain
Unless that the air was exceedingly good
And it's wise to keep out of the rain,

We went rowing, we went diving
We went swimming in the sea
We went for walks to picnics
And with us took our tea

We had a Jansay Dress Ball,
On the eve of the New Year,
When I spy turned up in a bag,
And Bill was full of beer.

Bessie Stata she looked a picture,
With her basket, eggs, and straw,
And the spins they brought the hammer down,
When they sat upon the floor.
