No petrol or other volatile spirit shall be carried on any omnibus except in the operating tanks provided for the purpose.

(m) Wiring.—All wires carrying electric current shall be properly insulated and protected from injury, and so placed that they cannot be a source of danger.

(n) Heat.—Effective means shall be adopted for preventing the heat of the motor, generator, or exhaust pipe connexions from injuriously affecting any parts of the vehicle or the comfort of the passengers.

(o) Signals.—Each motor omnibus shall be fitted with an approved means for enabling passengers to signal to the driver or the conductor when required.

(p) Warning Horns.—A horn, or other means of giving warning of its approach, shall be affixed in a convenient position on every omnibus to the satisfaction of the licensing authority.

(q) Tires.—The use of any tires other than rubber tires on omnibuses is prohibited.

Pneumatic tires, when used, shall be maintained continuously in a safe condition, and otherwise to the satisfaction of the Council.

When tires other than pneumatic tires are used, they shall be of rubber at least 1 inch thick on the whole circumference of the wheel, and shall at all times be maintained in a good condition, and in such a manner as to reduce vibration.

(r) Brakes.—Each omnibus shall be fitted with at least two independent brakes, one of which must be operated by a pedal. Each brake shall be capable of easy adjustment and of stopping the vehicle and holding the same under all conditions from forward or rearward motion, and shall be fitted, when considered necessary by the Council, with an approved form of compensating device, so that the braking effect is the same on each road wheel. Brakes shall not be deemed independent which operate by the same connexions upon the same brake blocks, or upon the same brake drums. One at least of such brakes shall act directly upon the road wheels, and remain effective even if the driver quits his seat.

In the case of petrol-driven omnibuses, other than those licensed to carry not more than twelve persons, the operation of either brake shall in no case disengage the clutch from the transmission gear.

(s) Steering Gear.—No omnibus having the steering apparatus fitted upon its left side shall be licensed. The steering arms, and other connexions thereof, shall be of ample strength, and as far as possible protected from damage by collision. Ball and socket joints of steering connexions shall not be endent, but the longitudinal or transverse rods shall be carried upon and above the ball. The whole of the brake and steering parts of every omnibus shall be maintained in proper condition, and be subject to inspection and test at any time by the Council or its Inspector.

(t) Nuts and Bolts.—All brakes and steering connexions secured with bolts or pins must have such bolts threaded and fitted with nuts, which latter shall be locked and pinned. All other parts of any omnibus connected by bolts or studs and nuts which may be subject to severe vibration shall be fastened by lock nuts, castellated nuts, or by nuts and approved spring or lock-nut washers, to prevent their working loose and causing noise.

(u) Advertisements.—No advertising matter of any description shall be permitted to be displayed on the outside of any omnibus, except that indicating the route and destination of such omnibus.

Every omnibus for which a licence is applied for shall be made available for inspection by the Inspector, who shall examine the same for the purpose of ascertaining its suitability in every particular for use as a country omnibus. If the same is approved by him, he shall determine the number of passengers which, in his opinion, the same may, having regard to its construction, safely and conveniently carry, which number, when so determined, shall be the maximum which it shall be lawful to receive and convey in such omnibus at any one and the same time.

The owner of every such omnibus shall cause a notice of the number so determined to be carried in some conspicuous place on the outside of such omnibus as may be directed by the Inspector, distinctly and legibly painted in words at length, and in letters at least 1 inch high, and of proportionate breadth, in the following form, that is to say:—
 "Licensed to carry (here insert the number fixed) passengers inside, and (here insert the number fixed) passengers outside."

The said notice shall also be exhibited on the inside of such omnibus in such place, form, and manner as the Inspector may direct. When such omnibus is constructed to carry passengers in different compartments, then such notice shall specify the number of passengers permitted to be carried in each such compartment, and shall at all times during the currency of the omnibus licence be kept conspicuous, legible, and undefaced in such place as shall be directed by the Inspector.

If the driver or conductor of any such omnibus shall cause or suffer to be conveyed at any one and the same time by any such omnibus, whether inside or outside, or in any compartment thereof, a number of passengers greater than the number determined as aforesaid, he shall in respect of each passenger so conveyed over and above the said number, be deemed guilty of a separate and distinct offence against the provisions of these Regulations.
