SIX RIBBONS

remembering Jon English

"Jon English was a one-off, a never to be repeated showbiz dynamo ... we will never see the likes of him again."

Craig Bennett, Studio 10 Showbiz Reporter

JON ENGLISH was one of few Australian performers to combine a stellar career in music, television, and stage. For over four decades he remained one of this country's most successful, loved, and enduring recording and performing artists. Jon sadly and unexpectedly passed away on 9 March 2016, just as he was about to record a new album and embark on a national tour.

On the first anniversary of Jon's passing, we present 'SIX RIBBONS' - a two and a half hour tribute to an extraordinary man who, over the course of his long professional life, brought such joy and entertainment to so many, in so many genres.

Hosted by Peter Cupples (Stylus) - Jon's long-time friend and musical cohort of over 20 years, and featuring performances from a raft of guest artists and musicians, including: Dave Gleeson (Screaming Jets/Angels), Wilbur Wilde (Old '55/ Hey Hey It's Saturday), The Chantoozies, Brian Mannix (Uncanny X-Men), Scott Carne (Kids in the Kitchen), Wendy Stapleton (Wendy and the Rockets), Lisa Edwards and Lindsay Field (John Farnham band), James Morley (ex Angels), Bloom (Amanda Canzuro), the Jon English Trilogy of Rock band, and more, join with us as we remember and celebrate the life and music of a truly great Australian legend.
