This Play was first produced in London by those famous comedians, Ralph Lynn and Tom Walls.

The story deals with the efforts of Aubrey Allington and his wife, Louise, to make people believe that they have more money than they actually have. Chesterman, a solicitor, brings them word that Aubrey's brother has left him a life interest in a fortune. On his death the money passes out of the family to a Mexican cousin, who is thought to be dead. In an effort to obtain the entire fortune, Aubrey masquerades as his cousin. Then the fun commences, as complications arise ending in the unexpected appearance of the cousin from Mexico.

The boys are playing the male and female leads. They enjoy doing so, and last year, after performing successfully "WHAT'S YOUR FAVOURITE PUDDING," it was suggested that the girls be given these parts. They did not receive the suggestion favourably, and it was decided to make no alteration in this year's casting arrangements.

The School's Dramatic Club has over 100 members, and the competition for parts in the School Play is very keen.
