Hey Ho! To the Greenwood. (Round)

Hey Ho! to the greenwood * go.
And there find buck and doe.

Come Lasses and Lads,

and Eng Folk Long.

mf Come Lasses and Lads get leave
of your dads,

And, away go the Maypole Rie,
For every Fair has a sweet heart
there,

< And the Fiddler's standing by.

mf For Willy shall dance with Jane,

< And John has got his Joan.

> To trip it, (Three Times.)

< Trip it up and down. (Repeat.) mf

Begin says Hal, Oh yes says Moll
We'll need up packington's pound,
Do, do says Jess, No, no says Bess
We'll first have Lellengel's round
Then every lad did take,
His hat off to his lass,

Come Lasses and Lads. 2nd verse.

And every girl did curtsy, 3 times
On the Grass (Repeat)

The Song of the Volga Boatmen.
A Russian Folk Song.

pp Yo Heave Ho (twice)
Sing my brothers, Yo Heave Ho three times
Heave my brothers, Yo Heave Ho.

p When the waves at daybreak shine
Bend your shoulders to the line.
Wide is the river flowing for ever.
Sing my Brothers, Yo Heave Ho.

f Yo Heave Ho (twice) mp Haul my brothers, Yo Heave Ho (three)
Row my brothers, Yo Heave Ho.
When the midday sun is high
Nighly our oars we ply.
Deep is the river flowing for ever.
Row my brothers, Yo Heave Ho.

Yo Heave Ho. (twice),
 Sing my brothers, Heave Ho. (three times)
 Heave my brothers, Yo, Heave, Ho.
 When the night her wings have spread
 On the deep we make our bed
 Silent the river flowing forever
 Sing my brothers Yo Heave Ho

Yo Heave Ho. (twice)
 Sing my brothers, Yo Heave Ho.
 Yo Heave Ho. (three times)
