DAY

Our special Guest Speaker today, Janice Hunt, is a local resident of Williamstown. She has spent seven years as the Leader of the organization which co-ordinates Australia's Non-Government Funded International Relief Agencies across the world. She is currently the Executive Director of the International Women's Development Agency which is very active in promoting programs for women especially in developing countries. Her work has involved extensive travel - particularly in Africa and Asia. Her reflections on such experiences will be very interesting and inspiring for all young people concerned about Social Justice issues.

Janice will also talk to you about how she achieved her status in the promotion of programs and policies to advance the rights of disadvantaged groups in our international community. Her experiences and insights will be rewarding for us all - especially for all young women present on this occasion of celebrating the role of women in our society. I hope that her perspectives will enable and empower us to find ways to overcome many of the disadvantages that Groups and individuals face in our complex world.

Acting Deputy Principal, Gail Hutton, also will be talking to us all about the history and significance of International Women's Day.

I am very grateful to these speakers; and hope that you find them enjoyable and informative.
