WELCOME TO THE GATE.

EDITORIAL

At long last The Gate for 2001 makes its appearance after much difficulty and much gained experience on the way. Thanks to the dedicated team of students who did their best to put this magazine together and they include: Matt Smith, Huddia Amira, Rakibe Agushi, Carmel Carlin-Smith, Kara Agius, Susan Collier, Megan Kiley, Bethany Mitchard, Kim Mitchard, Bianca Coviello, Owen Stafferton, David Kut-Moi-Cheung, Marcin Warsilewski, Jordan Vakka, Natalie Charles, Pinh Tran, Daniel Brewster, Rukshan Fernando, Haidi Wang and all the other contributors including the photographs of Mrs. Ellins, Mr Roy, Mr Pegram and Mrs Smith.

As we go into the Second Millenium the school has seen many changes not the least being the beautification of the front of the school and we hope that The Gate reflects these changes as being a magazine for the whole school.

Principal's Report

The year 2001 has been my second year at Dandenong High School and if I needed any confirmation about this being a wonderful community to work and learn in, then the achievements of students have reinforced the feeling.

Student achievements have come from all quarters – in academic areas, in sporting areas, in debating and public speaking in drama and music etc. Our VCE results and the results that students achieve at other levels of the school continue to be quite outstanding. The achievements of our students in sport are wonderful with many students and teams reaching state championship level. But more importantly than the level of achievement there are the high levels of participation and the great enjoyment students experience. I was terribly impressed with the successes again this year from our students who were involved in debating and public speaking. Excellent results were evident in competitions against other schools and in local and regional competitions.

The school this year has taken great strides forward to build a curriculum and structures to support the multi cultural nature of the students who attend Dandenong High School. With government support and the careful allocation of funds, innovations in the middle years (Year 7 to 9) and in the senior years have seen the school better meet the needs of students. We again have taken great strides forward in the provision of computer resources for students. The Library is now one of the leading libraries in government schools. Outstanding facilities are provided across all curriculum areas and I am delighted to see the way the vast majority appreciate the conditions that are provided to support their learning.

A small, but highly supportive group of parents and an excellent school council supports the work of teachers in the school. I am delighted to see the other ways parents support their students – through the Canteen, through their participation in various groups and through their attendance at important meetings held in the school. I am also delighted to report that the student leadership this year has been of the highest quality. We have seen good levels of funds raised in the school and for organisations outside the school. We have seen students leading whole school assemblies and we have seen to very successful student leadership programs – Victorian Youth Development Program, and our own student Leadership Program.

I want to thank the staff for their superb efforts in delivering the curriculum to students and for preparing the senior students for life beyond school, be it further study, training or employment. I want to wish the Year 12 group well in their VCE and hope each person achieves the outcome they are looking for.

In a time when the world has been thrown into disarray through the irresponsible actions of a few, the harmony that exists here in this school represents an even stronger symbol than ever before. It is a testament that, with effort, people can work and learn in an environment that respects difference.

School Captains' Report

First of all, Beth and myself would like to take this opportunity to congratulate the school community on the successful completion of another year, the eighty-second in the schools long and distinguished history in the area. We would also ask all students of Dandenong High School, particularly the graduating Year Twelves, to aim their ambitions and dreams as high as is possible. At this point in time, there is a myriad of opportunities for young people like ourselves, especially those of the calibre produced by Dandenong High School, and there is no reason why the plans of our students should be limited in any way.

We would also like to thank those people responsible for this year running as smoothly as it has. The wider school community, ranging from the families of the students, the support staff at the school, the staff at the school, and the students themselves can be proud of the way the past year has progressed, and Jordan and I would like to thank all involved in allowing us to represent the wider school body this year. It has been a source of pride for both of us, especially to be representatives of such a group of people as we have here at Dandenong High School.

In a year where the world seemed to be turned upon its head by tragedy, it was something of a relief to be able to have Dandenong High School as a welcome source of stability, and we would like to declare our gratitude for that, and our best wishes for the future. Good luck, and have fun.

Farewell to Mr Ward

Dandenong High School is sad to report the retirement of Mr Peter Ward, Assistant Principal at the end of this school year. Mr Ward will be a significant loss to the school as he has been instrumental in initiating a range of improvements to a number of areas, particularly in relation to school finances and facilities.

Mr Ward attended Bygullah Primary School and Trinity Grammar School in England before he and his family came to live in Australia. He then completed his secondary education at Hampton High School before attaining his university and teaching qualifications at Melbourne University and Melbourne Teachers' College.

Mr Ward was a teacher at Belmont, Doveton and Cranbourne Secondary Colleges before being promoted to Assistant Principal at Dandenong High School.

During his time at our school he has overseen a number of major developments which have improved our facilities and the physical appearance of the school. These have included a Major Maintenance project which involved improvements to all classrooms, corridors and other buildings and the planning and construction of the Gymnasium section of the Edna Dawson Vukmirovic Performing Arts Centre.

He has also been important in the improvements made in the Information Technology and Library facilities areas and in the implementation of plans for enhancing the appearance of the front of the school.

Dandenong High School students can now feel proud of the way our school looks and can also feel confident that we have some of the best learning facilities of any State school in our regional area.

Many of our students will have come into contact with Mr Ward in his movements around the school on a daily basis. Some of them will have received counselling from him either because they have had a problem or because they have needed guidance about how to take better advantage of the educational opportunities the school provides. It is certain that all students will have received fair and sensitive treatment from Mr Ward along with some sound advice delivered with both warmth and a sense of humour. He will be sorely missed by the student body who have been appreciative of his wisdom, his caring nature and his ability to set them on the right track if the occasion demanded it.

In particular, the Dandenong High School staff will miss Mr Ward. Mr Ward has been a source of inspiration for staff who have found in him an excellent professional role model, and an approachable and always helpful colleague willing to give generously of his expertise and personal time.

The Principal, Mr Culkin and the other Assistant Principal, Mrs Stevenson, have found Mr Ward a pleasure to work with because of his willingness to work cooperatively as a member of the school's administrative team and because of his insights into issues and his problem solving abilities.

We wish Mr Ward well in his retirement and hope that he will finally find time to relax and unwind with his wife Jean, daughter Nicole and son Mark. Our best wishes for this new phase of your life, Mr Ward!

Farewell to Mrs Patricia McCurdy

Pat McCurdy came to Dandenong High School in 1975 as a library assistant, and continued until August this year, making her one of the longest serving staff members in the school's history.

Pat's retirement was celebrated in style by past and present, teaching and non-teaching staff, librarians and principals, at an afternoon function in the library.

Pat firstly must be recognised for her outstanding enthusiasm, energy and hard work. Over her years of service at the school she was an integral part of many exciting changes to the library, and was both a wonderful team member and co-worker.

Pat's unique and cheerful personality was her trademark. Many staff members found themselves coming to the library for its services as well as a chat or joke with Pat.

The school community join together to wish her all the very best in the future, and a wonderful and exciting retirement.

Library

Casual Day is no different in the Library Resource Centre, than any other day. The students use all the facilities available to them for their research and study. These include the helpful staff, book and non-Book resources, printing and photocopying.

SRC 2001

This year the SRC had a very successful year under the dynamic leadership of our president Luda Wang.

Everyone became involved, participated in discussions during meetings and willingly helped out with fundraising.

Friendships were made across all year levels.

Fundraising highlights included a Slave Auction and three Sausage Sizzles. Funds raised will benefit students by improving school facilities.

Thank you to all SRC members for your excellent efforts during the year.

Welcome to our New Chaplain and Nurse

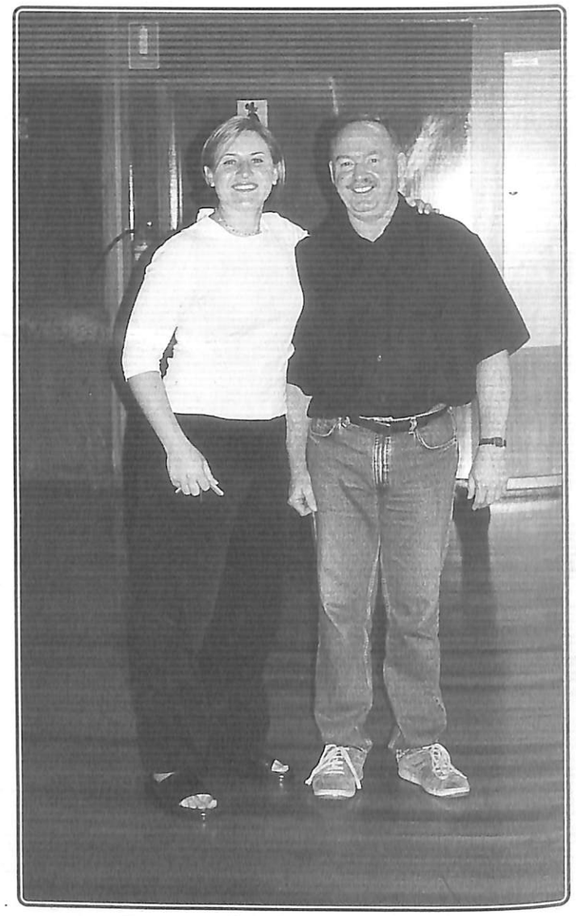

Mr David Ogden

Mr Ogden came to Dandenong High School from Echuca where he worked as the part-time Minister of the Church of Christ and the Echuca High School Chaplain. He has also worked as the Operations Manager of a vocational facility for people with disabilities in Sydney.

He is married to his wife Annette and has two children, Melanie who is a teacher in Sydney and Josh who is in Year 11 at this school.

Although he comes originally from Sydney this does not stop him from being a keen supporter of Aussie Rules Football (no particular team) and a keen spectator of all other sports. Since coming to Dandenong High School he has coached many teams but his best known for his soccer coaching.

He loves giving a hand to all the students and is an extremely good listener. His hobbies include playing golf and reading.

Kate Strauss–Adolescent Health Nurse

Kate OUR nurse is aged 27 years and has worked in the UK for two years and then was Associate Charge Nurse at Monash Medical Centre in the Adolescent Unit.

Her many hobbies include netball, travelling, cooking and socialising with friends.

She is part of the School Welfare Team and works closely with Mrs Wright and David Ogden. Her role includes individual counselling, health education in the classroom and health promotion activities. She job shares between Dandenong High School and Doveton Secondary College.

Her favourite saying when on the Year 7 camp is "medication group remain behind for the distribution of pills."

Prose & Poetry

He was ...

He was the one who left my mother
The one who wanted to part
He was the one who left her crying
The one who broke her heart

He was the father of the daughter
The father of an innocent child
He was the father who denied his responsibilities
The father who ran away for a while

He was the man my mother loved
The man she thought would bring her happiness
But instead left her
With a heart full of sadness

Eighteen years have passed
And he has returned
He wants them all back
But has lessons been learned?

It is easy to say sorry
And to forgive and forget
It's been such a long time
I don't think we're ready yet.

When I Was A Child

When I was a child I loved playing with my dolls. I used to have so many of them but now I don't have any, because I left all of them in Yugoslavia. I always used to put make up on them and do their hair I think that was one of my favourite things. I also used to dress them up in different clothes and each one of them used to have a name, my favourite one was called Daca. Also I loved going with my mum to work place because she used to work at a Child Care Centre. I loved going there because I had lots of friends there and we used to play all sorts of different games and do lots of interesting and fun activities. I went with my mum because my dad was working and my brother, who is four years older than me had to go to school so I had no one to stay home with and the only solution was to go with my mum.

I think I had a happly childhood because I always got what I wanted and went places I wanted to. My parents were also very loving and caring so I'm very grateful for that.

"The Shell"

if the little sea could speak I think it would say:

Take what you want
Take what you please
But be prepared to pay a costly fee

I am often peaceful calm and still
But just remember
I can kill.

Failure

(This is something I have written, thinking of year 11 and year 12.)

Failure – it is my very worst fear
As I stand at this point in time right here.
I ponder the past, – what the future will bring
And I feel the future's uncertainty sting.
I have come this far with a very high hope
But I stress at the thought of not being able to cope
With the things that life will throw at me,
For uncertainty is the worst – I'm sure you'll agree.
Not knowing if I will handle it all
But instead, under pressure, stumble and fall.
The thought of such failure scares me a lot,
All the things I have worked for and finally got
Will go down the drain as I give into life
And bend under the weight of the effort and strife.
As these desperate thoughts race through my mind,
Concentration is hard to find.
But just as the white towel is being thrown in ('Cos I know against life I can never win),
A breath of hope, as real as pure air
Finds a determination, not previously there,
That I can control what life may send.
But here's the thing I can't comprehend,
Where did this feeling begin – where did it start?
Perhaps from a little niche held in my heart
That's telling me I can do it, come what may
And in the end, here's what I say:
The future is uncertain but I can cope
As long as I aspire to fill my hopes,
And continue to dream to fulfil them all.
I may trip a little, maybe-even fall,
But I'll keep on striving for the best I can be,
In the end, I'm the architect of my own destiny.

The Spider

Just as my fingers close the pen,
A spider, smaller than a grain of sand,
Proceeds from nail to knuckle, pauses, then Starts the vast exploration of my hand. Hastily tramping through warm wastes it goes Careless of curving hairs and rutted skin Earthquakes of muscle, great volcanic throes Of blood and flesh beneath, scorning the din Of monstrous nostril-gales that blast its way From wrist to elbow, where the white ascent Of one world-column starts. 'Now fail!' I say.
It does not even ponder what I meant,
But moves up through an atmosphere grown colder Towards the uncharted mountain of my shoulder.

Dragonfly

Once a feisty dragonfly
Travel across the sky
He roamed across the land and sea
Flying low and high

He elevated like a rocket
Shooting up to the stars
He zoomed along the highway
Dodging trucks and cars

His wings were huge and sparkly
Spanning five centimetres long
But one day he heard something special
One day he heard a song

He followed the notes for hours
Trying to find the song
But then something terrible happened
Something terribly wrong

He realized he had been taught
In a rather large spider web
He frantically squirmed around
When the spider bit him on the head

So this is it for our friend
His last moments are nigh
A spider about to digest
Our good old, Dragonfly

HI I am a student at DHS and I believe that, well I believe a lot of things and one of them is, that words are just words so don't take them to heart. Another thing that I believe is that each and every one of us has our own unique and special gifts. Take me for instance. I believe that I can see spirits and I also believe that I can dream the future. I believe that if I really try I can see through other people's eyes. Another thing that I believe is that if every one tries hard enough they can conquer anything they want to. I also believe that LIFE is what you make it you only get out what you put in. In school I think the amount of people in my grade who don't believe that they will get any where is astounding Life is not a open and shut case like most people think here at school. They think that school is a thing they were pushed to do, not a necessity. That is all I believe and I hope that most of this essay will help people.

When I was a child

When I was a child I was a tomboy. I would always play soccer with the boys and I always used to hang around with them. Instead of playing with dolls, you would find me on a soccer field, running after the soccer ball, and all my team mates were boys. Sometimes they would beg me to stay longer and play soccer with them just so they could win.

I have one brother and he is three years older than me. When I was around eight and he was eleven, he always used to go out and I would always follow him to wherever he went, especially to his friends' birthdays. He never wanted me to go with him, because I always used to annoy him. If he didn't let me come I would start crying and my mum would make him take me with him.

In the town that we lived in, we lived in a building, and the apartment that we lived in was ours, since most people in Yugoslavia live in apartments.

The neighbourhood was also good. The neighbours were nice, and we were close with everyone, especially to our next door neighbours. We would always be together, go to barbeques and holidays together.

I miss those times and I wish it could happen all over again!!

The best two months

My best two months of the year are December and June. My best month is December because it is the end of the year and the workload is getting less and less. An up side is that we get our reports. Mine is normally good, so I like it. It is also getting close to Christmas and we make things, give and get Christmas cards. We also look for a Christmas tree. We are lucky in that we have a live one. It is also cool because I get heaps of toys, clothes and money.

I like June because it is my birthday and we like to go to the snow a lot as well it is the start of the school holidays. My mum's birthday is the 1st of June too, that is another reason why I like June.

Life

Last week I received a call,
That broke my heart, that made me cry.
One of my friends, a friend so dear,
Had met her death, had met it with fear.

It opened my eyes. It opened my heart.
It made me think. It made me wonder.
All of a sudden I realized,
The Human Race's greatest blunder.

Death may be around the corner. Death may be near Yet we all keep thinking there's plenty of time.
"I'll do that tommorow, I'll do that next year"
We all forget as each day passes our end draws closer.

Do what you dream. Do what you dare.
Bearing in mind, life is so precious. Life is sublime.
Triumph your fears. Drop all your cares.
Live life to it's fullest. Live life to it's prime.

The person who has been most help to me in my life

The people who have helped me most in my life are probably my parents. I couldn't just pick one of them, because both of them are the reason why I am here today. Firstly they brought me into this world, and raised me since I was born, into the young woman I am today. They taught me how to become a person and to cherish everything I have, because I am so much more fortunate than the others in the world are. Every day I wake up, I have clothes to wear, and food to eat. I am also privileged to be able to go to school and have an education. And what's more I have a loving and caring family, which is more than I could ever ask for. My parents have helped me live a healthy life, taught me what's right from wrong and how to become a better person. They have both equally helped me to become the person I am today and I thank them both gratefully.

A Special Person

In my opinion a special person is someone who cares about others. Someone who can keep secrets, a person who understands you, gives you advice and helps in difficult times in your life. That person might be your friend but not necessarily, it can be also a family member.

My mother is a special person to me. I know she does her best to give me support and make life easier for me. She didn't have the best childhood. Even though her mother tried her best to give her as much as she could, life for my mother wasn't easy. She was born in Poland in the early 60's. She has one brother who is ten years older than her. Her mother divorced her father when she was a little girl. My mother told me that was a period of time in Poland when you could easily get a job, the country was very industrialized but everything that was made went to Russia. So there was nothing on the shelves except vegetables. My mother's mother was working at the train station. She had to work 12 hours a day to support her family, so she had no time to cook dinners for her kids, that was my mother's job. Everyday after school my mother had to cook dinner for the whole family. Also cleaning the house was on her shoulders.

Shortly after I was born my father went overseas to work, so I stayed with my mother. Ever since I remember we have been always together. We played different sorts of games and when I grew up we started travelling. We spend most of our days together. I've enjoyed most of our trips no matter where we went. The most exciting trip was two months spent in Italy. I always remember that period of time. We really had a good time there, even though my father couldn't go with us. My mother and I spent lots of time together going to the beach, visiting old castles. I will always remember this time as the best holiday with my mother.

My mother is an out going person. She always knows what she wants. She is helpful to me and her friends when they need her. She has really good art and graphic skills. Some of her paintings were sold for a few hundred dollars. She never likes to make paint for money. She always says that she is doing that because she likes it and it helps her to relax. Her real job is a florist. She knows a lot about flowers. She has successfully finished a Tafe course with a really good result and now she hopes that she can manage to open her own business in Australia. I think she will, because she always makes her goals come true.

There is something special in my mum's personality. I don't know what it actually is, and its hard to describe. For me she is one of the smartest people I have ever met. She understands and she always knows when I'm sad or something is bothering me, even when I'm trying to hide it. That is why she is a special person in my life.

Grandma's Gift

My grandmother died last fall. She was 94 and I loved her deeply. As a child, I would visit her often and our days together were full of fun and laughter. She had the most beautiful music box I had ever seen. It sat on her dressing table, and when the sun shone through her lace curtains, the light would catch on the golden lock and send beams of sunshine around the room. It had been given to her by granddad, before he went off to war and she had treasured it all her life.

My eyes went immediately to the box each and every time I entered the room. It mesmerised me. Grandma would turn the key to begin the music. Carefully she would lift the porcelain lid to reveal two bears dancing cheek to cheek. I would beg grandma to play the music over and over again, while I sat at the end of her bed and watched the teddies dance and turn.

Sometimes, I imagined that they were on their first date. The lady bear had taken a lot of trouble with her appearance. She had tiny spring flowers in her hair and her mother's pearls around her neck. He had on a bow tie and held himself straight and tall. As he held her in his arms, a flush of colour ran through her cheeks; perhaps she had met her Prince.

Or were they not in love at all? Were they dancing at their daughter's wedding and just going through the motions for the sake of appearances? Had they fallen out of love many years ago but stayed together for the sake of the children? Was the flush in her cheeks one of anger as she remembered all the times that he had not been there when she had needed him most? Was the stiffness in the way he held himself a way of keeping distance between them, because it hurt too much to let her get close again?

Maybe they were having an affair. Maybe they were both married to other people but were unable to deny the feelings they had for each other. They might have been sneaking a dance at the company ball and pretending for a moment in time, that they were married to each other.

The music box sits on my dresser now. Grandma left it to me when she died. She knew that, like her, I too would treasure it for all of my days. I still look upon it with wonder, but I no longer imagine all different stories about the bears. Now there is only one story. The dancing bears are my grandma and grandpa on their 50th wedding anniversary. They are as much in love on this day as they were on the day they met. The warmth that shines in their eyes tells everyone of a love that has lasted throughout the years, and the tenderness with which he holds her near, tells of the great care he would always offer her. He likes the way that he can still make her blush and she loves the way that even at 73 he holds himself well and is still the most handsome man she has ever seen.

Go and travel the world.
Maybe you will see
Uluru, or Niagara Falls,
The Pyramids
Or an underwater city.

Go and travel the world.
Maybe the Elephants are stampeding.
Maybe you'll find a friend,
Or a friend of a friend.
Maybe you'll find yourself.

Go and travel the world.
Even if there's only
The whole planet to see,
Even if there's only
Islands with palm trees,
Even if
You
Have not,
Go and travel the world!
At least
You can say that You have.

My name is Ying Ying. But you can call me Vicky. I'm a Chinese girl. I have black hair, black eyes, and I am not so tall. I have some pimples on my face. I can speak Mandarin and little English. My birthday is on 29/8/82. I come from China. China is a big country. I've been in Australia for eight months. My parents are in China.

I'm the only child in my family. My father is a manager, he's a good father. My mother is 45 years old, she works at the post office. I miss them very much, but I have lots of relatives in China as well.

Now I'm studying at Dandenong High School. I met some Chinese girls. They are really nice to me. They always help me. Because my English is not good I don't know how to finish my homework. Some teachers are very good. They are very kind and nice and they help me a lot. So I'm very happy about that.

I have lots of friends in China too, but now I can't play with them. I miss them so much.

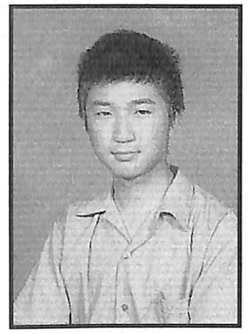

My hobby is shopping and feeding dogs. Sometimes I like to watch TV, play cards and go to parties.

When I finish my study in Australia, I want to go back to my country because my family, my home, my friends, my love and everything I know are in China. I want to be a kindergarten teacher. I think the kids are cute and they can make me happy. I want the kids to say to me: "Hi Miss Ying, Good morning" every morning. That's my dream.

When I Was A Child

When I was a child I wanted to lots of things.

I wanted to climb a big apple tree to find the biggest red apple I had ever seen. I went with my friend to make a house for our own and find the biggest house we had ever seen. We played a game in the park.

When I was a child I lived in China with my father, mother, grandfather and grandmother. They are my family. Also I have three aunts and two uncles but they didn't live with us. They have their own family.

When winter came I always played with snow. I made an ice house and played snow balls with my friends. We liked to play video games, watch tv and go on outings.

When I was a child, at Chinese New Year I always said Happy New Year to people I know and they always gave money to me.

Overseas Students' Page

There are eleven Overseas Students at Dandenong High School this year. They are students who come here to study in Years 10–12 from countries such as China, Hong Kong and Vietnam and after completing their university studies, return home.

They stay with a guardian whilst in Australia and as they are here without their parents, we, at Dandenong High School, make them feel welcome and support them during their time with us. The Overseas Students took part in some enjoyable activities this year.

The Beginning of the Year Luncheon
Sightseeing in Melbourne
Excurson to Phillip Island
Farewell Luncheon

The students would like to share some of their thoughts with you.

Excusion to Phillip Island

During the September school holidays we went on an excursion to Phillip Island. It was a pleasant, sunny day as we took the tour bus from the city and we were all looking forward to our adventure.

Our first stop was Warrook Cattle Farm where we had the chance to touch and feed the kangaroos (they never seem to get enough to eat), hold a baby ringtail possum and observe a sleepy wombat which did its best to ignore us. After a quick snack and some snapshots, we all piled on the bus again and after a tour around the Koala Conservation Centre, we took off for the island.

Our next stop was the Nobbies and Seal Rocks. Some of us braved the cold winds to go down the walkway for a better view while the rest of us stayed in the comfort of the Visitors' Centre enjoying the panorama.

Finally it was on to the Penguin Parade, but first a spot of shopping of souvenirs. It was dark by now and we were anxious to observe the little creatures we had heard so much about. Doesn't it always rain when the action begins? Soon we saw the little penguins emerge from the sea, gathering at the water's edge before making their way like groups of tiny soldiers up the beach and into their nests, totally oblivious to the crowds of tourists. Everyone was amazed to see this awesome spectacle.

Now it was time to return to Melbourne, but not before we enjoyed a satisfying and much needed dinner in Cowes. Settling back on the bus to the city, we reviewed the day's events. We all agreed it had been a wonderful day.

International Week Report

Term 3, Week 9 was International Week at DHS. This week is important to the school because there are many different nationalities from around the world at DHS. International Week celebrations show respect to people from different countries.

Tuesday 11th September was a special day for ESL students. All ESL students were asked to bring some special food from their country. The Year 9 ESL class was asked to be involved in setting up the luncheon. We found it very interesting and enjoyable. Seeing how many people contributed to this made us really happy. We also think that students and teachers enjoyed the atmosphere and music too. Mrs Papazoglou did an excellent job.

At the end of the week we were involved in the International Week Concert which showcases dances, performances and costumes from different countries around the world. The concert was very exciting. Every country that performed did their best and that's what made it very enjoyable. We liked each and every performance because it was amazing to see all the different things that students did.

The International Week made us feel very welcome in this country and in this school. DHS is a school which holds International Week with such warmth.

Year 8 Medieval Plays

In term 3 Ms Saris's Year 8 History class and Ms Robson's Year 8 ESL class performed Medieval drama plays in the drama room. Sasha, Vendim and Ganesh organised the lighting and the music. Ms Saris organised the groups and assessed us. Ms Robson supervised the students during their rehearsals and took some photos. I was in a group with Branka, Milica, Kristy and Catriona. We did a play based on The Black Death. Our play was about a disease spreading and many people dying.

Hosea Sasha, Vendim, Azem and Adnan performed a play about Duke William attacking Henry II. Henry got killed and Vendim and the Duke won. Celine, Adelina, Bianca, Melanie, Alysha, Beatriz and Hayley performed in a play about life in the Village. Chensi, Todd, Jamie, Yue-Ing, Marinko and Matthew did a play about the ordeal of fire, water, and fighting.

It was fun dressing up in the costumes and using the props in the drama room.

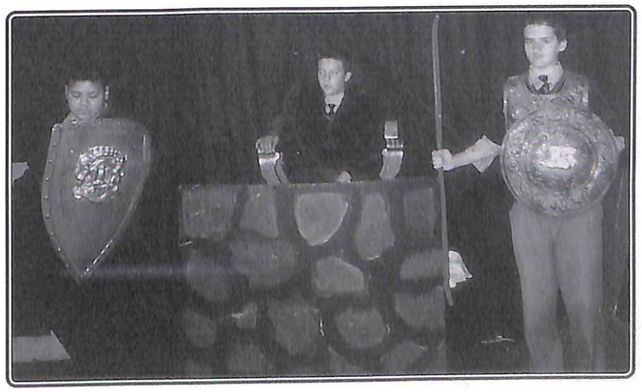

We all had a great time at the rehearsals and in the final performances. We learnt a lot about people in Medieval times.

Breakfast Cookoff Competition!

What's your usual breakfast? Cereal, toast, a jaffle when you get to school or nothing until the recess Coke and Mars Bar! Well, six senior Home Economics students had the opportunity to rethink breakfast when they participated in the annual Education Week-Breakfast Cookoff Competition. This was the third year in a row that Dandenong High School had the opportunity to participate and reach the finals of this very competitive (and tasty) culinary experience. I know what you're thinking, how hard can it be to grill a bit of bacon and really go fancy with a couple of hash browns! This is what most of the team initially thought too! This is before they were 'grilled' into what it is all about. Now just to whet the appetite for any senior Home Economics students interested in doing the same in the 2002 competition and getting the chance to be 'Jamie Oliver' or 'Ian Huey' Hewitson' for a day, read on, this is what this year's team did to become regional finalists.

RECIPE FOR SUCCESS IN THE BREAKFAST COOKOFF 2001

Take 6 students:
Kym Mitchard, Andrew Napolitano, Owen Stafferton, Janette Vlahovich, Joanne Vlahovich, Susan Ware

Form an interesting theme:
"East Meets West"

Develop an original and impressive 5 course menu that blends well:

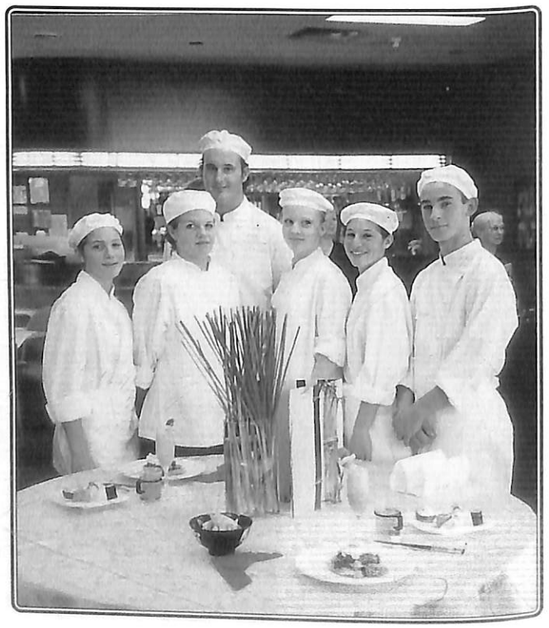

Yin & Yang Smoothie
A refreshing combination of creamy watermelon and honeydew

Mandarin Dynasty
Golden pyramids of exotic fruit nestled in creamy coconut lime rice

Hidden Bok Choy, Sitting Egg
Asian interpretation of a western breakfast classic, Bok choy, tofu and poached duck egg, with light chilli sauce

A to Zen
A selection of sushi/yumcha inspired tastebud awakenings

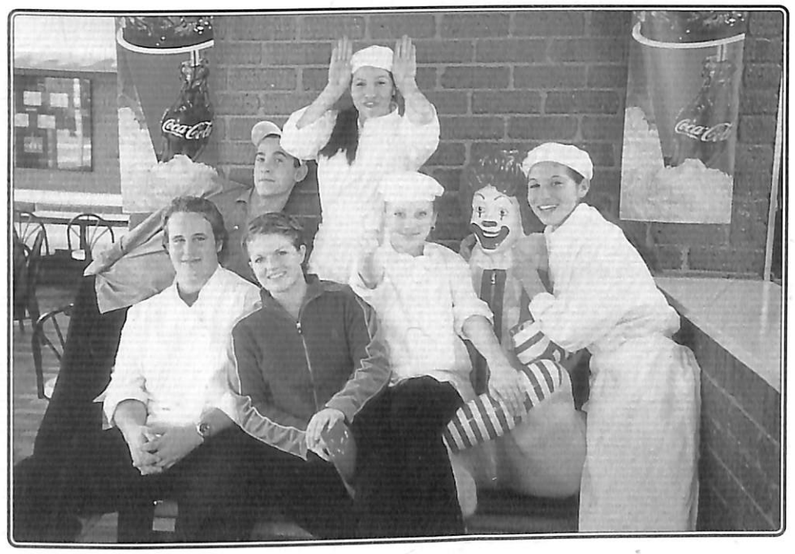

Dragon's Fire
A chilli infused tea

Prepare and present the above, in 1 hour, on an impressively decorated table (ask teachers like Ms Skoufis to help with menu card and collect suitable tableware from Mrs Josza and others). Taste and Season well and it's ready to go: The team had the chance of several trial runs and 'guinnea pig' tastings (very game Mr Culkin, Mr Ward and Mrs Stevenson) before the very early (5am) drive to the venue with food devotees Mrs Oliphant nd Mr Taylor.

Dandenong food technology students have done very well in this event and this year was no exception! Smartly dressed in their chef's uniforms, and not a stain in sight, this team cooked up a gourment breakfast (and a glutton's delight!) which won the praise of professional chefs judging the event.

So, food for thought as you head off to Macca's for breakfast over the Christmas holidays think about what you would really like to eat and consider becoming a member of next year's team.

Ms Vouvopoulos (Home Economics)

The Little Shop Of Horrors

This year Dandenong High School chose to perform the cult hit "The Little Shop of Horrors" as the 2001 school production. Auditioning began right back in February and the students and teachers put in countless hours of work in the months leading up to the performances.

The story focuses on a young man named Seymour (Michael Hawthorn) who unwittingly nurtures a talking plant that he discovers while working in a florist on skid row. The evil plant consumes everything in its way including the shop's owner Mr Mushnik (William Zaharopolous), the evil sadistic Dentist (Daniel Liddonicci) and Audrey (Erin Gill) who lives opposite the florist shop and works with Seymour.

Two matinees were performed, one to the students from years seven and eight from Dandenong High School and another to local Primary School Students. The students gained confidence with each night performance and by the final night everyone was ecstatic with the results of what they had worked so hard for.

The production would not have come off the ground if it weren't for the tireless efforts of the Director, Miss Kamevaar and the Assistant Director. Miss Poliakow. The students were also greatly encouraged by the guidance and enthusiasm of the Musical Director Mrs Baratini and the dance choreographer Miss Mason. Special thanks also go to Mrs O'Shea and the year 12 textiles students for making the costumes, and to Miss Port and her make up crew who helped bring the characters to life. Mr Pegram and his technical team along with the backstage crew kept the whole play running smoothly. Special thanks from the entire cast go to Mr Ramsay for the creation of Audrey II and to Victoria Rendall for assisting with the dance choreography.

Erin Gill & Michael Hawthorn

On the twenty-first day of the month of September, in an early year of a decade not too long before our own, the human race suddenly encountered a deadly threat too its very existence. And this terrifying enemy surfaced – as such enemies often do – in the seemingly most innocent and unlikely of places …

"Look out, Here comes Audrey II"

After endless months of hard work and dedication from a talented cast and crew, THE LITTLE SHOP OF HORRORS was finally ready to be performed in front of a live audience. The cast was led by Michael Hawthorn who played Seymore, Erin Gill as Audrey, William Zaharopoulos as Mr Mushnik, Daniel Lidonnici as Orin Scrivello the dentist, and Greg Mack & Tshepo Moeng as the voice of the plant Audrey II. Also part of the cast, the band, the chorus and the dance troupe always kept the audience entertained and made the show complete. All cast members gave fabulous performances which would not be easily forgotten, but this production would not have come together as wonderfully as it did without the hard work and commitment of the crew which consisted of backstage, sound and lighting, hair and make-up, costumes and set construction.

There are two matinee performances, the first of which was performed for our very own year 7, 8 and 9's. The second matinee was for our local primary schools who enjoyed it immensely. There were also three night performances, opening night was on the 30th of August and closing night was on the 1st of September, with each performance being larger and more spectacular than the last.

Everybody involved with this years production had a lot of fun and found it a memorable experience. Dandenong High Schools 2001 production THE LITTLE SHOP OF HORRORS would not have been possible without the endless help and constant support of all the teachers, our shining lights who led us through this production period.

Trip to Healesville Sanctuary

On Thursday the 26th of July, year 7 and 9 ESL went to Healesville Sanctuary. In the bus we had some lollies and we looked at the vineyard where they make the wine for people. So it took us two hours to get there. When we arrived we had a barbecue. Everyone ate hot sausages except for me but I had a diet cola to drink.

Then after lunch we went to look at the reptiles. On the way we saw koalas and dingoes. The koalas were asleep. We saw two dingoes. One was sleeping and the other was staring at the people.

Inside the reptile house, the Education Officer let us tough a python. The python was so leathery. It was not slimy as we expected. Then we went to see the Birds Of Prey. We saw the black kite eagle and the barking owl. Then the wedged tail eagle. I liked the wedged tail eagle although it scratched me on my neck.

Then we had a lesson. We got to touch the Tawny Frog Mouth. It was soft and we saw more animals. Then we got on the bus and ate lollies. My friend and I were playing 3310. We were back at school by 3:15pm. I enjoyed the trip.

On Thursday 26th of July I went on an excursion to Healesville Sanctuary. We went on a bus and on the way we ate lollies. Mrs Papazogolou gave us three lollies each but then most of the people didn't eat them so then I got to eat an extra three. The ride took two hours. It was fun on the way because I got to see lots of things.

When we got there it was 10:30 and we had a barbecue, some chips and a drink. Then we looked at some animals for about half an hour and we went to the birds of prey show. After the birds of prey, a lady took us to a little room where lots of animals are. We touched a python, two lizards, a bird and a green frog.

My favourite animal is the python because it is a snake. Then we looked at some animals outside and went back to the bus. On the bus it was cool because we saw a hot air balloon.

On Thursday, 26th of July a year 7 and 9 ESL class went to Healesville Sanctuary. Alex said they left school at 9.20am, and arrived at Healesville Sanctuary about 10.30am. These are the animals they saw at Healesville Sanctuary: possums, kangaroos, koalas, reptiles, birds, frogs, lizards, a sugar glider, a Tawny-frog mouth and turtles.

According to Alex, it wasn't boring at all and they behaved very well. They stayed for 2 hours and 30 minutes at Healesville Sanctuary. The weather was very cold but it was lots of fun. Mrs. Papazoglou lost her camera case. For lunch they had lollies and sandwiches.

The animal Alex liked was the snake. It was leathery and slimy. Alex touched snakes, a frog, a turtle, a lizard and a sugar glider. He also liked the Birds Of Prey as well. Eric was too scared to touch them all, but he did touch the Tawny-frog mouth. They made some new friends.

On Thursday, 26 June we went to Healesville Sanctuary. First we went to have our lunch. We had sausages to eat which the year 9's cooked.

Then we went to the reptiles. On the way we went past the koalas. They were sleeping and climbing. In the reptile house we saw snakes but in the classroom we saw a tree frog, a python, a sugar glider and a turtle.

After the lesson we went to the canteen. Then we went to see the birds of prey and we saw the barking owl and wedge tailed eagle. Then we went on the bus. Miss Port tried to make us sing and we sang on the way home.

On Thursday, 26th of June some year 7's & some year 9's went to Healesville Sanctuary. Miss Port was driving the bus and Mrs Papazoglou & Mrs Manger came too.

When we arrived at Healesville we had a barbecue. After the barbecue, we looked at the animals. We saw: koalas, dingos, pythons, snakes, frogs, kangaroos, Barking Owls & the Tawny Frog Mouth. The koala I saw was grey with white toe nails.

After we saw the animals we went to the canteen & bought some chips. We then went to the kangaroo enclosure and I saw heaps of kangaroos. I also had a photo taken with the kangaroos. We only stayed at Healesville for 3 and a half hours. We then went back onto the bus and Miss Port was making us sing but we didn't. When we got back to school we had to say thanks to the three teachers and we went home. I enjoyed my day at Healesville Sanctuary.

By Nurgan Alievski 7B ESL

On Thursday the 26th of June a year seven and nine ESL group went to Healesville Sanctuary. In the morning, we all came out to the front of the school and had a roll call. We left school at 9.20am. In the bus, Miss Port's rules were that we had to sing along with the music and eat lollies but most of all we had to enjoy the trip.

When we came there we had a nice quiet barbeque. The barbeque area was very bushy. It had lots of green plants. We ate sausages with bread. Mrs Papazoglou brought diet coke for us to drink.

After we ate, we went to the Reptile house. In the house there was a Reptile show. A man showed us some snakes and said you should never attempt to kill a snake by yourself because you can be poisoned. It is better to leave it alone and call an expert to take the snake away.

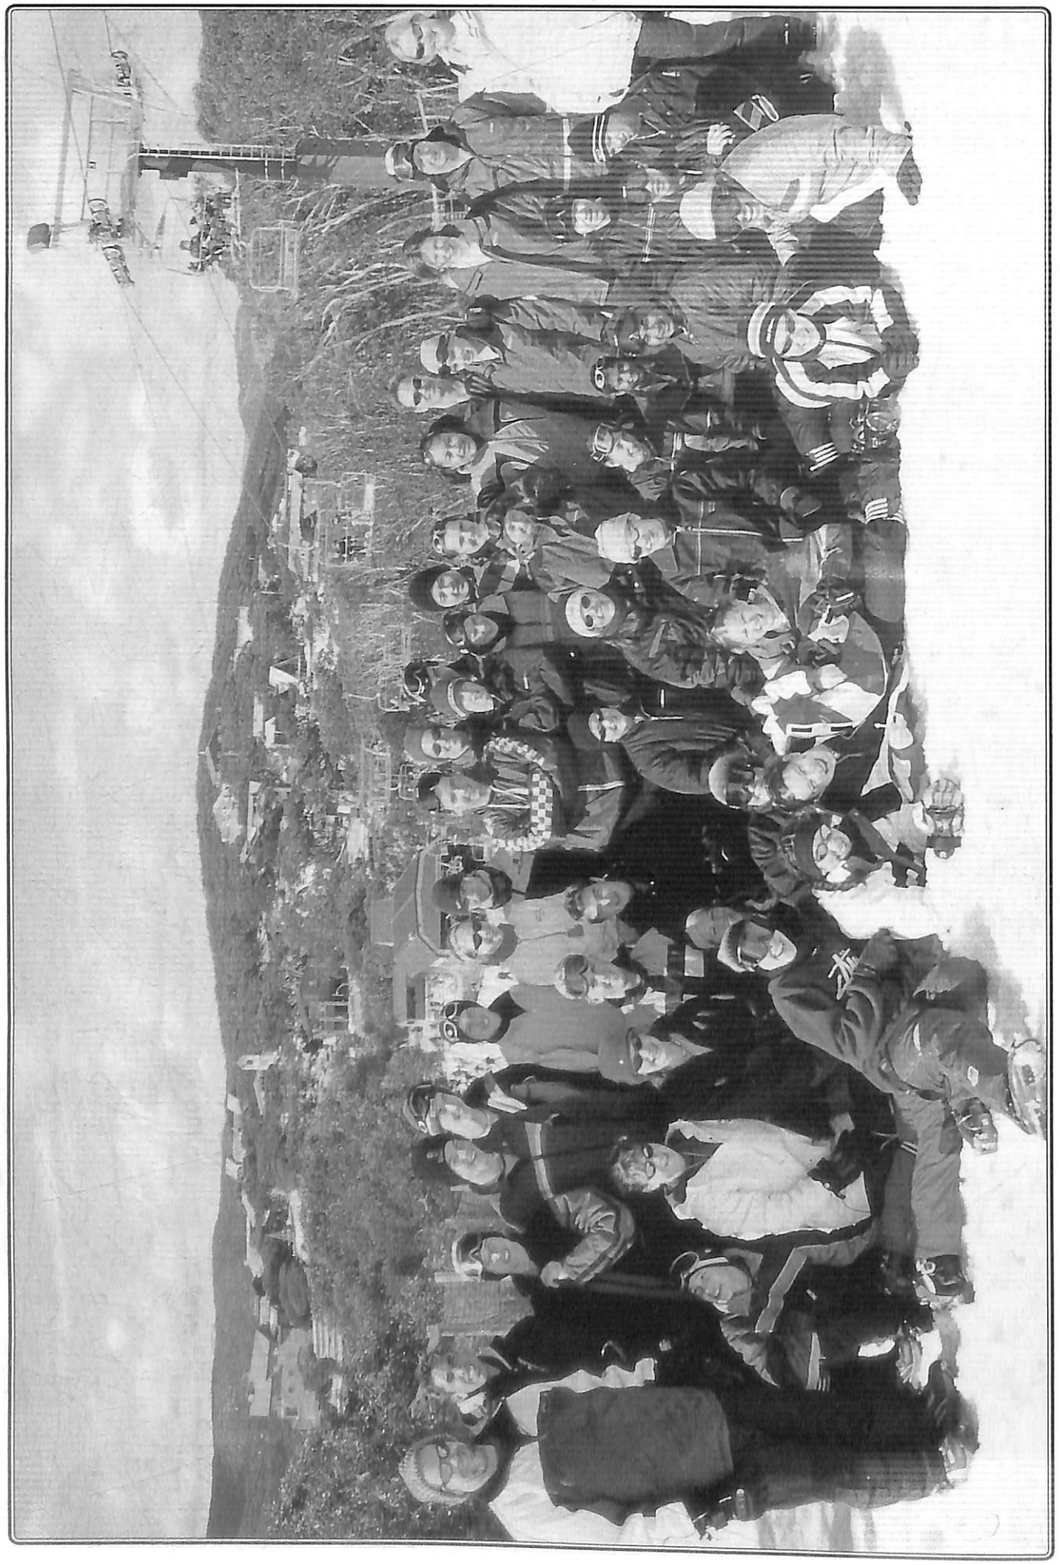

Then we watched the Birds of Prey show. One of the birds that we saw was the wedge tailed Eagle. The man said the eagle can live up to 45 years. The barking owl hit one of the people in the head.

After the show we had a group lesson and we went to the education office where a woman showed us a tawny frog mouth. This bird only eats mice. We also saw a long snake, a turtle, a lizard, and a sugar glider.

My favourite animal was the snake. The snake's skin felt very leathery and very dry. I enjoyed the Birds of Prey most of all because it was fun and exciting to watch. When the lesson finished we went to the canteen. In the canteen Marco and I bought an ice cream.

2001 Mt Buller Ski Camp

It was that time of the year when the Alps become covered in snow and the 40 eager DHS students started to do crazy things (especially with their hair) in anticipation of the exciting week ahead.

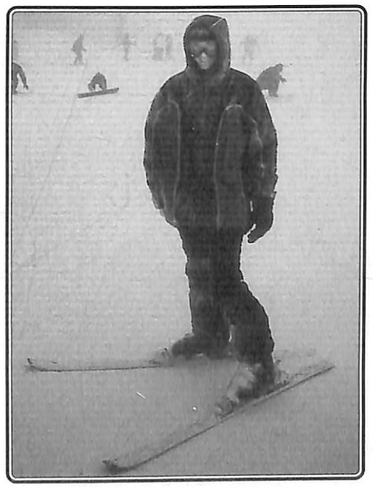

On Monday 13th August we departed from DHS gates at 4am to travel to Mt Buller. It was "all go" from the moment we arrived. All the skiers and boarders were set up with their equipment for the week and it was straight off to our daily two-hour lesson with the qualified Mt Buller ski instructors.

Lunch everyday was eaten at the awesome ABOM. After lunch we spent the afternoon improving our skills including making jumps and trying to stay on our feet. After a day skiing and boarding, many tired and exhausted bodies made their way to our accommodation at the Merrijig Ski Club which was situated on the mountain – a bonus. So, picture a typical ski lodge with an open fireplace and comfortable couches, and that is what we had with a fantastic stereo and sound system. Our hosts were very friendly and the food was as good as my mums (if not better?).

Our first night was spent at playing "Getting to know each other" games organised by Sir Trevor and the Year 11 leaders. We also began our game of "Assassin" and a trivia night, where students and teachers found themselves singing and acting and even voting off the weakest link. This trivia was the first year where teachers did not win due to Mrs Hayes taking the first walk of shame in the weakest link! Other nights were spent dancing, playing pool, watching TV and socialising in front of the log fire. All students and teachers became great friends and on the slopes you would often find DHS students singing, "Ain't no mountain high" while on the chair lift or shouting "Nice one brother!" Without hesitation each day would usually end in a savage snowball fight with students versus teachers.

Once more a huge thanks to our teachers, the ski instructors AND THE year 11 leaders, Brad, Michelle, Kieran and Susan.

The memories and experiences we had made this ski camp another great success.

Sport 2001

To borrow a well used phrase, what a BIG year it has been in interschool sport!!

Throughout the year, our students have eagerly immersed themselves into the many and varied sporting activities on offer at various levels of competition. This year, we have achieved vastly improved final scores in each of the three major district carnivals (swimming, cross country, athletics) and placed a creditable 2nd in each of these events. We now have such large numbers of students reaching zone finals that we don't have sufficient space in the Gate to list them all individually, and Sport would need its own school magazine to highlight and pay tribute to all of our student's wonderful achievements this year.

This year has seen DHS teams with an emerging stronghold at the district level, particularly in girl's cricket, badminton and boys basketball. Credit to these teams for their efforts and a special mention to the boys basketball teams – we won the district flags at all levels (year7, year 8, year 9&10, year 11&12). Luke Bayley was the overall winner of the 2001 District Golf competition (in a field of 30 competitors) and along with Krit Barnett and Amy Hunt, represented our school at the Southern Zone Golf championships.

In 2001, many of our senior and middle school students have volunteered their time, energy and knowledge to help coach and manage junior sport teams. These coaching roles are providing our students with valuable experiences and leadership skills, responsibility and skill sharing (not just another day off school!) Due to a lack of teachers available to coach/organise sport teams, a significant number of our teams would not have been able to participate in the interschool sport program if not for the many students who regularly and eagerly came knocking on the door of G10 staffroom looking for a team to adopt as their own!

Achievements at State Championships

In order to participate in State Championships in interschool sport, students first compete at the District level and if successful, then enter into the Southern Zone Championships. First and second placegetters at Zone level then get the opportunity to compete in State Championships where the standard of competition is obviously very high. Our congratulations therefore go to all of the following students and teams for their outstanding achievements in state level sport whilst representing Dandenong High:

- Taape Taape – Bronze Medallist – U16 Boys Discus (State Championships Nov. 2000)
- Ao Ma – U14 Boys Triple Jump – State Finalist (Nov. 2000)
- Chris Parry – U21 Boys Steeplechase – State Finalist (Nov. 2000)
- Peter Borovac – U16 Boys High Jump – State Finalist (October 2001)
- Darren Zuydam – U14 Boys Hurdles – State Finalist (October 2001)

Thankyou to all DHS staff who contributed in any way to the interschool sport program. Your support is vital to the success of the sport program and is always appreciated. To those students who participated in sport throughout the year, thankyou for your never-ending passion for sport and your enthusiasm and drive to do your best for our school. I encourage all DHS students to "have a go" and become involved in interschool sport in the year ahead.

Mrs Sue Ewin (Sport Coordinator)

Physical Education 2001

Some highlights in the Physical Education and Sport area for the year 2001 have included:

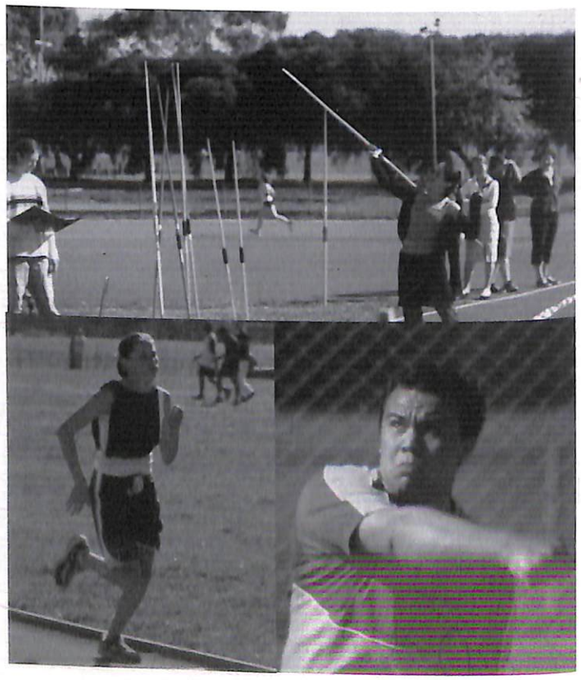

- Nicholas Conway receiving the schools' nomination for the Pierre de Coubertin award
- Health and Physical Education Week Activities

Nick Conway deserves our congratulations. He received the schools' nomination for the Pierre de Coubertin award. This award is presented to one student each year for displaying an outstanding sporting ethos, inline with the ideals of the Olympics. Nick has displayed sound leadership, and sportsmanship skills. Well done on your achievement.

As apart of Health and Physical Education Week this year students had the opportunity to participate or spectate in a range of activities.

Wheelchair basketball, Staff v Students netball and volleyball matches, and lunchtime badminton. The senior students participated in table tennis, trampolining, and volleyball. All year 7 students took part an inter form sport competition. Sports such as basketball, netball, table tennis, and volleyball were contested. This competition was played in fine spirit with fun and enjoyment being the major objective. However, at the conclusion of the day, for each of the sports contested there was a winning form group. All team members were presented with medallions as a reward and a memento of the day.

Physical Education Co-ordinator

Shine

In late September, 20 students ranging from year seven to year twelve were given the opportunity of a lifetime. Dressed in sparkly tops and tight black pants (much to the boys horror – or was it?) they performed a series of dance routines at the Rod Laver Arena as part of the Joining the Chorus' Dance Spectacular.

Dance rehearsals had been going on both in the school and externally for the most part of the year. Some students had a dancing background – but those who didn't were soon up to speed. The thrill of performing in front of an audience of thousands made all the hard work worthwhile.

The Dance Spectacular entitled "Shine" is a bi-annual event aiming at giving talented Victorian Schools Students a chance to perform on a larger scale. The performance is organised by the Joining the Chorus Company who work especially with young people talented in the performing arts.
