BUSINESS PROFILE

Store looks out for bright sparks

ALTRONICS Build It Yourself Electronics Centre has been open for business in Springvale since 2006 and has recently undergone a significant renovation.

Anyone passing would certainly have trouble missing the new bright red signage when travelling down Princes Highway.

The store offers a little something for everyone with large ranges of audio visual equipment, build-it-yourself kits, speakers, audio gear and much more.

The store offers more than just the usual electronics shopping experience, Altronics's specialty is great service and technically minded staff who can help.

Altronics VIC branch manager Paul Zervaas said: "We try to give customers a no pressure environment to get the parts they need to get their job done.

"We get such a variety of customers through the door each day, from students looking to build a robot to trade installers for speakers and CCTV systems."

So, tinkerers looking to invent the latest and greatest gadget or in need of some batteries to power up the kids' Christmas toys, Altronics has everything they need.

Store manager Harold and the team are ready to help seven days a week.

Altronics Build It Yourself Electronics Centre is at 891 Princes Highway, Springvale.
