GLEESON + TONTA

ELECTRICAL AND FURNITURE

SALES

1/12/2008 Journal

Changing face: Gleeson and Tonta will soon be under new ownership.

Changes for Gleeson and Tonta

DAVID Gleeson and Bob Tonta, the businessmen behind Dandenong furniture and electrical icon Gleeson and Tonta, are selling and retiring after 33 years.

The store will this week begin preparations for a final 'retirement' sale.

Early in the new year the store will open under new ownership.

Announcing the retirement last week, Mr Tonta said it had been a fascinating time to be a businessman in Dandenong.

"When we opened we were just about one of a kind. Now there are many stores offering the same as we do. Dandenong has grown so much. You would hardly recognise it from the town it used to be."

SEE The Journal next week for a look at Gleeson and Tonta's years in Dandenong.
