KEITH LINNELL TUNING

Dandenong mechanic Keith Linnell would not change his business and passion for the world.

Having serviced the auto industry for more than 40 years, the owner of the Dandenong car service, Keith Linnell embodies the passion for cars and racing. Quite literally, you can say Keith's life is cars.

"It's good to get a job you're passionate about," Keith Linnell says. "I love what I do."

Having worked for both Ford and Holden, he opened his own car service 32 years ago as Keith Linnell Tuning and Motor Repair. The 65 year old motor enthusiast also spends his spare time with racing cars at the tracks in Philip Island and around Australia.

"Cars are definitely a lifestyle for me," Keith Linnell says. "I have a great passion for the industry and I just had the ambition to go further."
