

TAX OFFICE GETS DANDENONG SHOPFRONT

Getting help with your tax issues is easier with the Australian Tax Office (ATO) setting up shop in central Dandenong.

The ATO has opened a shopfront with the Department of Human Services, in the Government Services Building, Level 1, 27-29 Robinson Street.

You can talk about general enquiries with ATO staff, or access phone services for more specialised tax and superannuation information. Self serve computers connecting to the ATO website and online services including myGov, are also available.

Phone the ATO on 132 861 to see if the services you need are provided at the shopfront or make an appointment. Translation and Interpreting Services can also be accessed on 131 450.

Visit ato.gov.au/otherlanguages to access information about general tax and superannuation in 25 different languages.
