Skin care with a laser

Dandenong Dermatology Centre has been providing dermatology care and laser therapy to the area for many years.

The centre is headed by Dr Peter Fergin, Dr Olivia Milne and Dr Stephen Gilmore.

The trio were recently joined by Dr Rebecca Nguyen.

Laser treatments are provided by dermatology and cosmetic nurse Marie Lebrasse. Marie has many years of expertise with laser treatments and techniques. She regularly updates her laser knowledge and skills and adheres to all new standards and regulations.

Dr Fergin says that with summer over, now is the perfect time to repair the freckles or pigmentation that appear on exposed skin on the face, chest and hands.

Dandenong Dermatology Centre is at 1/110 David Street. Call 9791 3455.

Laser Treatment at Specialist Dermatologist

- Pigmentation/Melasma: A very common skin condition that is easily treatable, often using combination therapy of cream and laser treatment
- Sun Damage: Rejuvenate your skin for a lighter and more youthful appearance
- Age Spots: Those unsightly blemishes on the backs of your hands can be removed permanently
- Vascular Marks: Blemishes in many sizes and shapes can be found all over the body and can be easily treated with instant cosmetic results achieved
- Flushing: Redness can be treated with little or no side effects and minimal downtime
- Rosacea: A common skin condition that causes red pimples, telangiectasia and flushing mainly of the cheeks and nose, often causing embarrassment. This irritating condition can be safely treated with our medical grade laser.
- Hair removal: Laser hair reduction reduces the amount of unwanted hair, with any new hairs tending to grow through lighter and finer
- Glycolic Peels: Glycolic peels are a specific technique for skin renewal that helps remove the damaged layer of surface skin cells revealing fresh skin for a healthier, smoother, plumper, firmer less oily and more even toned appearance
