Hi Michael,
I asked a few people about Dunearn. They have all agreed that there was a family by that name living just in behind where the street named Dunearn in Dandenong exists today. They ran a poultry farm. There were a number of other small farms in that area. The poultry farm ran from Koonalda Road through to Heatherton Road. None of the people I spoke to knew of an area called Dunearn. One family lived just in behind that area. I do not think there is much of a story to be told. It is interesting that the postcode is 1735. Is it possible to ask the body that took the survey?
