

KEWRIOSITY

Municipal Offices,
Charles St., Kew, 3101

February 1987

Kew's Premier Youth Theatre in performance

It's a comedy thriller with a very intricate plot," enthused Paul Magee, producer and co-director of Premier Youth Theatre's first major production Tomb with a View.

The play, by English writer Norman Robbins, concerns a very eccentric family (the Tombs) and the aftermath of the reading of a will.

The director, Kelly Hutchinson, has, like Paul, been with the group since its inception in mid 1985.

"The group has always been self-motivated," said Paul.

"It's grown by word of mouth and we have organized our own drama workshops and developed ways of working together effectively. This has made the group very cohesive," he added.

In the beginning, drama teachers from local schools gave some guidance and now the group has some professional assistance once a week from community theatre performer, Loretta Smith.

But basically, the show belongs to the young people involved.

Tomb with a View will be performed at the Montague Theatre, Xavier College, on February 19th, 20th and 21st. Tickets can be obtained by ringing 861 6828 (AH). Leave your name and address and number of tickets required and tickets will be delivered to you.

SEC Act threatens trees

Kew residents may be in some unpleasant surprises as a result of the SEC (Clearance of lines) Act.

Kew is now a "declared area" which means that Council has a statutory responsibility to maintain set distances between trees and overhead power lines.

Trees will have to be pruned far more severely than in the past, to comply with the stipulations laid down in the Draft Code of Practice.

Council is very concerned about both the aesthetic and economic ramifications of the Act for Kew.

The harsh pruning, to be carried out over a 3 year period, will adversely affect the appearance of some of our streets and will mean the purchase of new equipment and the employment of extra staff.

Special application will be made to the SEC to vary the requirements in the Code of Practice for significant trees and the SEC will be requested to undertake minor works in some streets to provide increased tree clearance from overhead conductors and thereby limit the need for extra pruning.

While understanding the SEC's concern about fire hazards and the continuity of supply, Council believes that the present situation is an over-reaction when the potential dangers from trees growing around and through power lines in Kew are considered.

Kew Council will make every effort to maintain the high aesthetic quality of our streetscapes.

inside

Dates and notices	2-8
Profile: Cr David Timms	4
Council news	3-5
Children's services update	7
Images of Kew	5
Community news	6-8

Challenging year ahead p.3

Dates for February

- 2 Country Womens' Assoc. Kew-Balwyn Branch basket luncheon, 12 noon, general meeting, 1.00 pm, at the East Kew Uniting Church Hall in Normanby Road. Guest speaker: Mr J. Sullivan of Legacy. New members welcome.
- 8 Induction Service at Kew Baptist Church, Highbury Grove, 10.30 am. Church members cordially invite Kew residents to celebrate with them.
- 11 Hyde Park Fellowship, 2.00 pm. Speaker: Rev. James Latu.
- 12 Kew Garden Club, 8.00 pm. Senior Citizens' Centre. Have your general garden queries answered.
- 15 East Kew Catholic Tennis Club social tennis day, 12 noon, Leason Street. Members, potential members and visitors welcome. BBQ facilities available. Contact 859 5508.
- 18 Kew Legacy Widows' Club, 11.00 am at the RSL meeting rooms, Cotham Road.
- 23 Kew Daytime Garden Club, 1.30 pm at the Senior Citizens' Centre. Speaker: Len Russell on general gardening. Contact 859 2977.
- 24 Country Women's Assoc. Kew-Balwyn craft day, 10.00 am at the East Kew Uniting Church, Normanby Road, BYO lunch.
- 26 Friends of Bodalla AGM, 10.30 am, Bodalla Nursing Home, 32 Walpole Street. There will be a demonstration of breadmaking by Sister Jan Henderson. RSVP 862 1355 by February 20th, for catering purposes.
Friends of Bodalla raises funds for the frail aged residents. New members always welcome.
- Arthritis Foundation Kew Self Help Group, 10.30 am at the Senior Citizens' Centre. We will be planning our participation in the forthcoming Kew Festival. Visitors welcome. Contact 862 2021 or 836 8794.
- Kew Early Planning for Retirement Group, 8.00 pm, Hall 3, Kew Civic Centre. Guest Speaker: Roy Fincher of the Citizens' Advice Bureau. Non-members most welcome.

notices

Raffle winners

The winners of the Kew Full Day Care Inc. Raffle, drawn on December 22nd, are as follows:

First prize, overnight at the Beaumont Motel, Studley Park Road, with champagne on arrival and bed and breakfast was won by Mrs J. Renton.

Second prize of dinner for two couples at Harrigans Restaurant, 299 High Street, went to Mrs R. Thomas and Mrs Y. Poznanski.

The winner of the third prize of two bottles of champagne from the Bottle Shop at the Tuckerbag Supermarket, Kew Junction, was Mr R. Lindsay.

Thanks to all those who participated in our first fundraising venture, particularly the Kew traders who generously donated prizes.

Correction

The phone number for the Kew Branch of Alcoholics Anonymous in the 1987 Kew Community Directory, is incorrect.

The correct number is 429 1833.

New Church in East Kew

The Melbourne Chinese Baptist Church is making its headquarters in East Kew.

They will be sharing facilities with the East Kew Baptist Church in Woodlands Avenue.

Most of the 80 strong congregation comes from Hong Kong and they will meet for worship on Sundays at 11.30 am.

The Pastor for the Melbourne Chinese Baptist Church is Rev. Daniel Lee, 6 Octanis Street, Doncaster East, phone 842 3931. The Secretary is Mr Joseph Wong, 12 Larch Crescent, Mt Waverley, phone 233 7771.

cont. p8.

Kew Full Day Care Centre Inc.

will be the management committee of the centre.

You may place your child's name on the enrolment list by contacting:

*SUE HILL : 862 1724
between 9-11 weekdays*

Quality full and p-time care will be offered...

Commentary

Challenging year ahead

Council will meet this month refreshed after the break and ready to oversee the progress of our two major projects.

We will be finalising plans for the Recreation Centre.

Considering the vagaries of Melbourne's summer, this indoor aquatic centre with outdoor play area will prove to be a real asset for Kew residents.

This year will also see the completion of the City Hall conversion project.

The transfer of the library's 88,000 books and extensive equipment will be a mammoth task and should take place around mid year.

During 1986, Council recommended discussing forward planning, a process which was slowed while the amalgamation issue was being mooted.

The Forward Planning Committee, made up of Councillors and senior staff, is in the process of setting down Council's aims and objectives as a framework for the formulation of longer term strategic planning.

The Forward Plan will be completed this year.

In 1987 Council will need to take into account the implications of the new Local Government Act.

This will set out the potential for innovative directions in Local Government especially in the area of entrepreneurial activity.

I am looking forward to the second half of my term as Mayor in an atmosphere of increased certainty for Local Government in general and Kew in particular.

With major projects determined we will be able to direct our energies to providing the best amenities and services for Kew residents.

Cr Joe Orlando
Mayor

good gardening

Kew residents care for their environment

One of the very pleasing aspects of parks and gardens work in Kew is that we find that residents are very caring about their street trees and parks.

Rarely a street tree gets damaged without it being promptly reported to us as has happened recently when a furniture van broke branches on trees in Kilby Road and a tree was ring-barked near the corner of Molesworth Street and The Boulevard.

The same applies to rubbish being dumped in parks and reserves.

These incidents are reported promptly and have subsequently decreased considerably.

The mowing of naturestrips is another area where residents help the Council and help to keep the municipality attractive.

We often hear of residents who mow not only their own naturestrip but those of elderly neighbors as well.

One resident even mows a section of the median strip in Old Burke Road and another a large section alongside the Carmelite Monastery in Murphy Street.

Many residents of Hamer Court Frail Aged Hostel help considerably with the maintenance and improvement of the gardens surrounding the hostel.

We also have many residents who offer trees and shrubs and perennials for transplanting into council gardens, most recently Mr Reed from Pakington Street.

Watering young street trees during summer time is another way in which Kew residents show that they care for their environment.

Well done residents of Kew.

We appreciate your assistance.

Peter Davies,
Superintendent of Parks and Gardens.

Council meeting times for February

10 Standing Committees 7.30 pm
17 General Purposes Committee 7.30 pm
24 COUNCIL 8.00 pm
Meetings are held in the Committee Rooms at the Municipal Offices and are open to the public.

Eat your way through Fun Day

One of the highlights of this year's Fun Day on March 13th will be the fiesta of food in the Alexandra Gardens, where a variety of treats from around the world and around the corner will be offered.

And if that's not enough, just imagine the delights in store in the evening.

Fairy lights festooning the trees, a scattering of tables, and the tantalising aroma of spit roast and baked potatoes tickling your nose.

Sounds wonderful, doesn't it?

And after all that feasting you will be able to salve the conscience with some energetic dancing to a Bush Band and later watch the static fireworks display.

It will be great family entertainment, so don't miss out.

Festival favourites like the grand parade, stalls in the gardens, acts on the Portico, the billy cart derby and rides for the kids will also feature.

An event that shouldn't be missed is the ecumenical gathering at the Carmelite Monastery in Stevenson Street.

This is a unique opportunity to visit the monastery which is normally closed to the public.

Attendance is by invitation only and inquiries can be made on 862 2402.

Come along to this year's festival. It is brought to you by the hard work of community volunteers and is non-profit making.

If you would like to join the committee, even just to help out on Fun Day, contact Alan Chung on 862 2466

Profile

Cr David Timms

David Timms has been a Prospect Ward Councillor for a year and a half.

His decision to stand for local government happened "overnight" after a suggestion was made that he nominate.

He had not perceived himself as a particularly community oriented person before that.

I wasn't a member of any local groups, but I did have certain ideas about the way Kew should be managed. I'd watched the freeway carve away part of Hay's Paddock and wanted to act to protect Kew's parklands," he said.

David Timms was educated in Kew and has spent most of his life here.

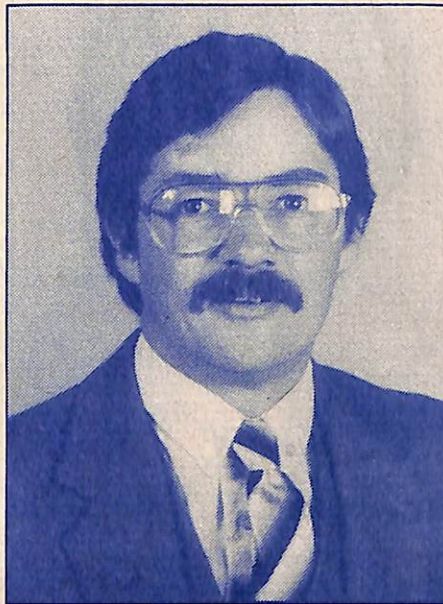

He runs a successful plumbing business and says that he finds out about many residents' concerns "on the job".

He felt that with his knowledge of the local community and his business management skills, he could make a contribution to his community.

"I see my role primarily as representing residents' views in Council," he said.

David Timms thinks that we are fortunate to have 15 councillors because this makes for optimum resident contact and lightens the load on individuals a little.

Even so, he was surprised at the considerable time commitment involved in his position.

He would like to see more young people standing for election to Council.

"Sometimes it's difficult to find time for everything, but it's really worth the effort to know that you can affect decisions that are made. So many people criticise but are not willing to do anything about it or become involved in the process," he said.

Cr Timms thinks that the contribution of younger people to Council could be of particular value for they may have fresh ideas and a different perspective on Kew's future.

He is concerned with preserving and enhancing the residential amenity of Kew.

He sees this partly in terms of limiting the degree of office development to the Derrick Street "triangle" and ensuring that there are adequate controls on unit development.

He would also like to see the Recreation Centre go ahead.

David's wife Joanne has also become involved in community issues.

She is a member of the local kindergarten committee and the Full Day Care Centre committee.

They have 2 children, Samantha, 3½ and Kevin, 2.

To find relaxation from his busy schedule, David's favorite activity is to scuba dive in the sink holes and underwater caves at Mt Gambier.

"It's a totally different world," he said with a hint of nostalgia as it is becoming increasingly difficult to really get away from it all.

These days you are more likely to find him flying the radio controlled aeroplanes he builds "in my spare time".

Calling artists and craftspersons!

Once again, during Senior Citizens' Week (March 16-22) there will be an Arts & Craft exhibition featuring the works of creative elderly residents of Kew.

In addition to the display of handcrafts it is hoped that for a few hours each day there will be a guest artist "in residence" demonstrating their skills.

Yvette Poznanski, who will be coordinating the exhibition, would be delighted to hear from local artists or craftspersons willing to participate in this project.

Yvette may be contacted at the Municipal Offices on Mondays and Tuesdays. Phone 862 2466 ext. 60

Bruce Rigby

John McBrien, Superintendent of Works (middle front row) and depot staff.

After School Program for Kew Primary School

Kew's second After School Program will start in April at Kew Primary School.

It will also cater for children from Sacred Heart Primary.

This will relieve the pressure on the existing program at Kew East Primary School, which is at bursting point.

Kew Council has approved funding for the program which will provide care for up to 30 children per day, meeting the needs of the growing number of families in which both parents work.

The two staff members running the program will be offering activities such as art, craft, music, cooking, dance, aerobics and sport.

It is hoped that funding can be arranged to employ an integration aide so that children with disabilities can join in too.

Until the program is operational, parents requiring after school care for their children can use the program at East Kew Primary.

For further information, contact Kew's Children's Services Officer, Elizabeth Sullivan, on 862 2466 or the Co-ordinator of the After School Program at EKPS, on 859 6052 after February 5th.

A gentle reminder about Kew's By-Laws

Mini bike riding

It's a sad fact for mini bike owners that there is nowhere in Kew that they can ride.

Because of the noise and nuisance, Council has prohibited mini bike in all recreational areas.

Breaking the by-law carries a penalty of up to $400.

Please respect other people's rights to enjoy their leisure in peace and quiet.

It's the neighborly thing to do.

For information about By-Laws, contact By-Laws Officer, Ron Cook on 862 2466.

Get your entry in!

The Images of Kew photographic competition and exhibition invites you to record a moment in Kew's history for future generations.

Five Kew pharmacies have offered prizes of $100 in five categories designed to cater for the most amateur photographer, children, teenagers and the experienced and professional photographer.

You need not be a Kew resident to enter, but there is a prize for the best entry from a Kew resident.

We are looking for subjects that represent Kew today. Perhaps you live in a house of historic interest or your next door neighbor might fall into the same category.

Take a photo, have it blown up, mount it

Bruce Rigby

Mrs M. Hayter meeting a familiar face at the "Kew Faces" exhibition. Organisers hope to see more of this at the "Images of Kew" exhibition in March.

Kinder for three year olds

The North Kew Municipal Kindergarten at 152 Pakington Street is offering sessions for 3 year olds on Wednesdays between 9.00 and 11.30 am.

The cost will be $65 per term (four terms) and the number of children will be limited to 20.

For bookings and enquiries, contact Janet Healy (sec.) on 861 7657 or Julie King (Pres.) on 861 5683.

KEW COMMUNITY HOUSE INC.

Co-Ordinator: Rhonda McCaw

6 DERBY STREET, KEW, VIC. 3101
Telephone: 862 3126

A New Year Starts

Now it's February and children are being organized for another year at school, or leaving home, and you have more time to develop your own interests.

Even if you still have pre-schoolers we can offer you sometime to yourself with the childcare whilst you do a course.

We have some new developments this year with 2 VCE TOP classes being offered.

For a regular commitment of 3 hours on a Monday or Tuesday morning you can learn Australian Social History or Media Studies.

These subjects can be approached for general interest or as a stepping stone to further education.

Teachers from Box Hill TAFE come to the House and you enrol as a part-time student ($40) which gives you access to all on-campus facilities as well.

It costs no more to do extra subjects.

Enrolments are being taken now so contact the Community House on 862 3126 immediately.

Twelve students are needed for each class so do pass on the information to anyone you know who may be interested.

Volunteer tutoring for adult literacy

Do you have a spare two hours a week and would like to help an adult to improve their basic skills?

Swinburne Adult Literacy Program is looking for people from the local area to train as volunteer tutors to help adults overcome their difficulties with day to day reading and writing.

A teaching background is definitely not necessary but good everyday skills are required for those interested in becoming literacy tutors.

If you are interested in being a tutor in the day or evening, please contact the co-ordinator of the program, Mary Sutherland on 819 8816 (or 819 8118)

1st Semester Pamphlet

The 1st semester classes at the House will commence on Monday 2nd March and finish on Thursday 25th June.

A very interesting range of courses is being offered ranging from various ethnic cooking, crochet, fimo, Italian, German, Childbirth education, Calligraphy, Communication, Art and Car Maintenance.

Our pamphlet is available here at 6 Derby Street, Council Offices and the Library.

Now open on Wednesdays!!!

From February 4th, the Community House, 6-8 Derby Street, will be open for people to drop-in at any time between 11.00 am to 4.00 pm each Wednesday.

A small group will meet to have lunch (50c) and talk and get to know each other.

We hope our group will grow, so we really need you, your relatives and neighbors of any age.

Future planning depends on who drops in and what they would like to do, be it knitting or farnarkling or whatever.

Idle chat or heated discussion may be your cup of tea.

Have one on a Wednesday in 1987!

Phone Rhonda (862 3126) to make further inquiries if you like, otherwise just arrive.

Watch for March Kewriosity to read of the 'Wednesdays in February' experience.

Be part of it.!

Come along on February 4th.

Gymbaroo offers early learning

With one in four of Australian school children failing to learn the 3 R's adequately at school, Margaret Sasse, Director of Gymbaroo, feels she is offering a community service in that her Gymbaroo program is aimed to combat under-achievement at school.

Under professional guidance in a fun environment children are provided with stimulation which will encourage intellectual growth at the right time.

Sessions are held for infants from six weeks of age and progress to early primary school age.

Activities are pitched for each developmental stage.

Sessions vary in length according to age and parents attend with their children.

"Our programs are based on the premise that intelligence not only grows but can be grown," Margaret Sasse said.

Interested parents can gain further information by ringing 818 6927 or 818 2686.

A very happy Christmas lunch brought together many of the people who have contributed to the smooth running of the House in 1986.

Hassle free apprenticeship training

The Inner Eastern Group Apprenticeship Training Scheme, launched last October, has really taken off.

Placements are being made, over 60 applicants for placement are being processed and negotiations are underway with over 40 host employers.

What is the scheme?

It is an innovative approach to apprenticeship training instigated by the Inner Eastern Councils and aimed to benefit employers and apprentices by providing a flexible program and support system.

The scheme is particularly suitable for business people who do not want to make a four year commitment to employ an apprentice or who can only provide for some aspects of apprenticeship training.

It would also suit those who would like a second, third or fourth year apprentice.

Kevin Wood, Co-ordinator of the scheme is very enthusiastic about its potential.

"We have been impressed by the standard of applicants in general but those who are invited to join the scheme undergo a screening procedure for aptitude so that employers can be sure of a high level of competence," he said.

Kevin advised students to look at the broad range of trades — anything from stonemasonry to flower arranging, jewellery making to butchery — and not just concentrate on areas like carpentry and plumbing where there is an over supply.

"There is a great need for apprentices in metal trades, motor mechanics and fitting and turning," he said, adding that students should be prepared to try something different.

The group is an equal opportunity employer and encourages young men and women to look at both traditional and non-traditional trades as possible careers.

"There have been rapid developments in trade, particularly in fitting and turning which has become highly technical. It is a very challenging area and would provide a stimulating career for the right person," he said.

The group also has positions available in the government and industry accelerated training program.

The scheme provides support for employers by covering all apprentices with WorkCare, adapting requirements to meet employers' needs, assisting with

The Kew Children's Services Consultative Committee has decided to publish an 8-page newsletter at regular intervals to keep parents up to date about local children's services and activities. Kew council will generously fund this publication, and 1987 will see the first two issues roll off the press in April and September.

The Newsletter will be practical, containing Infant Welfare Centres, Playgroups, Toy Library, Child Care Centres and Kindergartens news and information — details of dates, times and places for a variety of activities.

There will be details of people to contact concerning various aspects of parenting.

The type of information that's good to keep on your noticeboard by the phone!

But more than just being practical, the Newsletter will aim to be informative.

any difficulties arising from employment and maintaining all records pertaining to apprenticeship training.

Employers are urgently required if the scheme is to reach its full potential.

If your business would benefit from the assistance of an apprentice or if you require more information, contact Kevin Wood on 882 2735 or write to The Inner Eastern Group Training Inc., P.O. Box 328, Camberwell, 3124.

Children's Services Update

There will be articles on the many diverse aspects of children's lives and of parenting, written by experts.

What we need now is enthusiasts who would like to contribute their skills to launching the K.C.S.C.C. Newsletter.

Do you have graphics, editorial or writing skills to volunteer?

Do you have expertise in a specific aspect of childcare and parenting?

Would you like to contribute an article to the inaugural issue of the Newsletter?

Perhaps you'd like to join our editorial sub-committee.

For more information please phone Alison Dalziel on 859 2585 or Krista Bell on 817 2576.

Looking to the future, the C.S.C.C. will hold its AGM on March 5th at 8.00 pm at the Pakington Street Kindergarten.

There will be a speaker on the subject of families and parenting.

Watch March Kewriosity for more details.

Krista Bell

Care-Force needs volunteers

Care-Force Family Support Services operates throughout the Inner Eastern Region, providing services to families with dependent children, including Counselling, Occasional Child Care by arrangement, a Family Aid Program, and a Family Centre at Peppercorn Cottage, 93 Elgin Street, Hawthorn, which is open Monday, Tuesday and Thursday.

Care-Force is inviting people who enjoy working with others, to join their team of volunteers, who work together with staff to complement these programs by providing additional support in a variety of areas.

To help you to help others, training and support are provided. The next preparatory course of 6 weekly sessions, covering such topics as acceptance, confidentiality, self-esteem, communication and helping skills will be commencing shortly.

If you are interested, please call us on 882 2523 and talk further with our Volunteer Co-ordinator, Amy Whittaker — she'll be glad to hear from you. Care-Force (Inner East) is located at 61a Victoria Road, Hawthorn, and is sponsored by St. John's Homes for Boys and Girls, Canterbury.

March 16 - 22nd

SENIOR CITIZENS WEEK
ARTS & CRAFTS EXHIBITION

Senior citizens are invited to submit original paintings, tapestries and other craft items for an exhibition to be held during Senior Citizens Week.

For further information -
Contact Yvette
862 2466 ext 60

notices cont.

Family folk dancing

The Kew area branch of Parents for Music (Family Music Association) is organising an exciting series of family folk dances in 1987.

They will be held on the fourth Saturday of every month, 7.00-9.00 pm at the East Kew Uniting Church Hall in Normanby Road.

Cost will be $12 family (members $10).

The dances will feature the well known group Shenanigans and guest artists.

Kew Auxiliary of The Royal Women's Hospital

The first meeting of the year will be held in Room 3, Kew Town Hall at 2.00 pm on Thursday 26th February.

We are a small group of ladies working to raise funds to buy much needed equipment for the hospital.

Our members feel committed to continue to help this hospital which has a high standard of caring for its patients.

We would like to see more people joining us, so why not come along and find out how you can help us, you will be assured of a very sincere welcome from our president, Mrs Nancy Clarke.

Afternoon tea is served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Red Cross

The Studley Park Red Cross Auxiliary meets the fourth Monday of the month in Hall 3 of the Kew Civic Centre. New members welcome. Contact 859 1026.

Footy News

New coach of the Kew Football Club, Brett Burden, extends a welcome to all new footballers and supporters who may have moved into the area to attend practice at 6 pm on Monday, Wednesday and Friday during February and March at Victoria Park, Kew, to try their hand with Kew in the strong Victorian Amateur Football Association.

Country players and U19 players are urgently required.

Secretary Mick Bollman 63 0481 (Work), 818 6536 (Home) and 817 1118 (Pavilion).

Keeping you informed

With January ended and holidays over for most of us, your Citizens Advice Bureau is now back in full operation.

Our services include free legal advice from one of our panel of solicitors each Tuesday between 7.30 and 9.00 pm and a Social Worker to help with personal and family problems.

Trained volunteers are on duty at the Bureau from 10.00 am to 3.00 pm daily from Monday to Friday and information on a wide range of subjects can be obtained by calling at the Bureau or telephoning on 861 5244.

There is a continuing need for new volunteers to maintain this important community service. If you feel you would like to help in this way, just call at the Bureau and learn how you could become part of this Statewide organisation.

You will find the Bureau at the rear of the City Hall, immediately opposite the Library.

Deadline

Kewriosity is prepared and edited by Susan Schwartz, Information Officer for the City of Kew and a community based Editorial Committee. Copy for the MARCH issue should reach Municipal Offices by FEBRUARY 3rd.

Babysitting?

A babysitting club is a group of young families living in a local area. When a club first starts the families often have a common link such as playgroup, church or kindergarten.

The number of families in a babysitting club increases as new families move into the area or when a family feels this type of child will suit their needs.

The club aims to provide home based child care on a reciprocal basis at no financial cost to members.

Using a babysitting club means that a child is cared for in his/her own home by an adult who is usually familiar to the child. Alternatively the child may be cared for in the babysitters' home, with the opportunity of playing and mixing with other young children.

Membership of a babysitting club means that parents and children develop social contacts and friendships, families obtain information about the local community and its resources.

Existing babysitting clubs looking for new members of families interested in joining a club can contact Elizabeth Sullivan, Children's Services Officer, Kew Municipal Offices on 862 2466 or the numbers listed below.

Sacred Heart Babysitting Club — Helen Wright 817 5303
Kew-Balwyn Babysitting Club — Margaret Picken 817 2903
Kew Babysitting Club Co-Op — Anne Roubin 862 3309

Images of Kew

Bruce Rigby