

Introducing your STUDLEY PARK WARD COUNCILLORS

Councillor J. Tutt

James Tutt graduated as a Civil Engineer from the Caulfield Institute of Technology. Before this he received an Education Department - Victoria scholarship which required him to complete the C.I.T. course then work for two years in industry before studying one year at the Technical College of Victoria. This work experience was with the Port of Melbourne Authority.

After qualifying as a Technical Instructor he taught at several metropolitan technical schools before becoming an engineer with the Ports and Harbours Division of the Public Works Department.

During this period his involvement and interest in education of managers (engineering) emerged, and after three years with the Public Works Department he joined the Australian Institute of Management - Victoria. For some eight years he developed and organised management education and training programmes over a wide range of areas including finance, marketing, production and personnel.

To further his knowledge and expertise in manpower development he applied for and was awarded a Federal Government scholarship of one year's duration for completion of the National Training Council's course for Manpower Development Executives. He then became Training and Education Manager at the Melbourne Chamber of Commerce.

Councillor R. Saunders

The new Councillor for Studley Park Ward, Robin Saunders, has lived in the ward for 14 years. He and his wife Kate have three daughters, aged 4, 2 and 9 months. The eldest, Anne, attends Stawell Street Kindergarten. Robin is a Civil Engineer, and has worked for engineering contractors and consultants in Australia and overseas. He is now working with the Country Roads Board, and has just completed an eighteen month secondment to the Department of the Premier as a policy analyst. His recreational activities include squash, carpentry and the gradual renovation of his home.

"A number of planning issues are confronting Kew residents, issues which will require careful management" says Councillor Saunders. They include:

- * the Kew Junction planning proposals
- * the MMBW's plans for higher density living in inner suburbs
- * the formulation of a Local Development Scheme
- * the new Victorian Government's policy for giving Councils more responsibility
- * the proposed 220 kV SEC transmission line across Studley Park
- * the next stage of the Kew "Forward Plan".

Referring to discussions with residents during his election campaign, he said: "Several themes were repeatedly mentioned -

- concern at the intrusion and speed of traffic in residential streets
- confusion about who is eligible to vote in Council elections
- a need for better communication about the problems and work of Council."

I hope to be able to contribute to the solution of these problems during my term as a Councillor.

He is a member of the Institution of Engineers - Australia, the Australian Institute of Management and the Australian Institute of Training and Development.

His particular interests are the identification of training and education needs for commerce and industry and the development of programmes and courses to suit.

Councillor J. O'Brien

We found our Kew house on our seventh wedding anniversary (a happy omen!) and moved in eighteen years ago on New Year's Day 1964. Sarah was then nearly five years old and Megan just three. We couldn't imagine a nicer place to raise a family - and still feel that way.

Then, as now, there were community issues under consideration - the arguments for and against new Municipal Offices; the dangers associated with the use of dieldrin in ant control; "shandy" rates; the potential demolition of the Junction terrace houses and continuing planning proposals and plot densities.

Involvement in the formation of the Kew Association and later the Studley Park Conservation Society Limited were interesting experiences in Community co-operation.

In 1975 I was appointed as an Official Visitor at Children's Cottages Kew and Willsmere Hospital and am at present honoured to be the President of the Kew Historical Society.

As a Councillor for the past two years, I have learned and appreciated much more about our city's administration and am grateful for the chance of contributing to the planning policy for Kew Junction.

GOOD NEWS FOR CRAFT WORKERS

The Worco Recyclotron, at 69 William Street, Hawthorn, is in full swing at the moment on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays to sell the very large array of materials of all kinds suitable for use in schools, kindergartens and craft groups.

Worso has been praised by people in this field for its very wide range of these materials. On October 7th. the Neighbourhood House group, also in William Street, will be hearing from Mrs. Mel Saunders, a highly experienced craft worker, who will demonstrate how these can be used for producing all manner of articles which give delight to people of all ages.

The thing to remember is that, because these are trade surplus products, the price can be kept very low.

CAREGIVERS NEEDED!

Family Day Care is a co-ordinated child care scheme in Kew and Hawthorn where babies and young children are cared for individually or in small groups, in the homes of selected caregivers. Being a caregiver may be a way for you to earn a little extra money while providing a happy, warm and homely environment for children in need of care for all or part of the day.

Enquiries may be directed to the Family Day Care Co-ordinator, Kim Henderson, at the Hawthorn City Council, Telephone 819 2444.

KEW Municipal Library

July 1982 was another record month for Kew Library with 40,633 loans, comprising 30,076 adult and 10,557 junior.

Many of these loans were taken out on Sunday afternoons, for the Sunday opening continues to be supported enthusiastically.

Please note, however, that the Library will be closed on Thursday 23rd. September for the Melbourne Show Day holiday.

MODERATOR TO VISIT

Rev. G. Lawrence Turner B.A., Moderator of the Synod of Victoria, will be the guest preacher at the 10.30 a.m. service on Sunday 12th. September, the occasion being the sixth anniversary of the day when two congregations at East Kew became one.

During the service there will be an act of dedication and reference to a plaque indicating that these buildings are approved by the Australian Committee Rehabilitation of Disabled (A.C.R.O.D.) as having suitable toilet and access facilities for disabled persons. The service will be followed by a fellowship lunch and music.

If you happen to be a previous member of either of the former congregations or this congregation please try and be at Normanby Road on the 12th. September and renew previous friendships. For further information contact 859 5477.

The New England Ensemble is one of the few fully professional chamber groups in Australia. The group has travelled widely through-out Australia as well as overseas, and regularly performs for Musica Viva and the ABC. They have also released a number of recordings.

The Kew Philharmonic Society is particularly pleased to present the Ensemble at a Sunday afternoon concert at the new hall at Lauriston Girls' School in Huntingtower Road, Armadale at 2 p.m. on September the 5th.

The Ensemble will be accompanied by the Kew Philharmonic Orchestra and will perform Beethoven's Triple Concerto and Brahms's Double Concerto. These works are very demanding and will provide an extremely entertaining concert.

Tickets will be available at the door for $6.00 adults or $3.00 for students and pensioners. Any enquiries can be directed to the Society's Hon. Secretary on 29 4697.

DROP IN

You are invited to Drop In between 10 a.m. and noon each Wednesday commencing 22nd. September at the Uniting Church Hall, Normanby (near High Street - take North Balwyn tram No. 48 to stop No. 45) for morning tea/coffee and other activity depending on you.

Please come and meet new friends. All age groups welcome. The building has facilities (access and toilets) for disabled or handicapped persons.

COME ALIVE

Now that winter's over - why not a family outing on a Sunday afternoon - the 12th of September?

Yes, at 2.45 p.m. the group 'Come Alive' will present an afternoon of music ranging from traditional and contemporary gospel to folk music, light popular music and message songs.

The venue is the Foster Parents Plan Centre (formerly Kew Presbyterian Church), on the corner of Highbury Grove, Kew, and whilst there is no admittance charge, there will be an opportunity to make a donation to the work of "PLAN".

So keep the afternoon free, and bring the family and friends to make this a worthwhile time for PLAN, yourself and the group.

HIGHBURY GROVE KEW UNITING CHURCH

History of Church

Barnard's History states that the first Christian service in Kew took place at the home of Mr. J. V. Morgan, under the auspices of the Primitive Methodist Church. A wooden building was erected in 1857 and afternoon services were held. Owing to people leaving the district the Society lapsed.

In 1880 a few members of the Wesleyan Methodist connection met to worship in Mr. Eyre's home, and a link was established with Hawthorn, the minister there being Dr. W. H. Fitchett who shortly afterwards became founder and president of Methodist Ladies College.

The Richmond circuit invited Rev. John Harcourt, a retired minister, to care for the little church and services were transferred to the Town Hall in Walpole Street. A class meeting was established, a Sunday School started, and land was purchased in Highbury Grove at a cost of 350 pounds. In October 1882 the foundation stone of the church was laid, and the centenary of this event will shortly be celebrated.

At first only part of the nave was built, but in 1889 the transepts, tower, and spire were added, and after the appointment of Rev. P. R. Usher, the parsonage was erected. Even before this the Sunday School hall had been built, the stone having been laid by Mrs. Henry Berry of "Otira", the Berry family being generous supporters. In 1911 the two vestries were added and the pipe organ installed. Twenty years ago the church was remodelled and a narthex provided.

Music has always been a feature of the worship at Highbury Grove. Also provision has been made for young people, commencing with a Mutual Improvement Society, and continuing today with two fine tennis courts.

Members of the congregation have been active in community service and have given strong support to the missionary causes.

Ten years ago an approach was made to the Presbyterian and Congregational churches, resulting in the formation of the Combining Church in Kew. This meant that Church Union Day was celebrated by an already integrated congregation and much appreciation is due to Rev. W. Hargreaves and his wife for the gracious way in which they have fostered the family spirit amongst their people.

The Congregational and Presbyterian churches celebrated centenaries some years ago, and all sections of the Uniting Church are gladly cooperating in a service of thanksgiving for one hundred years of Christian witness in this place. The preacher will be the Moderator, Rev. G. L. Turner, who has had a long association with Highbury Grove, beginning when as an "Otira" student he was recommended as a candidate for the ministry by the Kew Quarterly Meeting.

The service at 2.30 p.m. on Sunday September 26th.. will be followed by afternoon tea, and all interested people will be welcome, especially former worshippers of the Presbyterian, Congregational and Methodist churches. On the following Saturday evening there will be a concert featuring pipe organ, the Tudor Choristers, and the Arnold Trio of cello, clarinet and piano. Tickets cost $5, with concession at $2.50, and proceeds will be donated to the Bourke Presbytery appeal for the manse at East Doncaster.

On the 2nd. October at 8 p.m., a concert will be held in the Kew Uniting Church, 23 Highbury Grove, Kew.

The concert will be presented by the "Tudor Choristers" conducted by Mr. David Carolane, and the "Arnold Trio" - cello, Miss Audrey Turner; clarinet, Mr. Len Reiper; and piano, Mrs. Nora Bremner.

The soloists will be Mr. Reiper, with Mr. Ken Falconer at the organ.

The proceeds are in aid of the East Doncaster Parish Development Fund. Tickets may be obtained from Mr. Reg. George, Flat 1, 92 Princess Street, Kew 3101 - or by telephoning 861 9193.

Admission $5, pensioners students and children $2.50.
