Caulfield Community Day

Sunday, December 11 Caulfield Park

47 local groups and organizations will take part in Community Day next Sunday.

It's the third annual Community Day which has been organized by the Caulfield Council and a Community Advisory Committee.

A supplement concerning Community Day accompanies this issue of Contact.

Caulfield Council's manager of Recreation and Culture Hale Messerow commenting on Community Day said "It was originally instituted as a means of celebrating the work of hundreds of recreation based groups in the Community, giving them the opportunity to showcase their efforts, gain new members and add to their treasury.

It was also intended to enable park patrons to gain a sense of community identity, awareness and involvement."

Caulfield Community Day has made an impact upon the community.

For the people who use the City's parks it has meant an opportunity for a fun day in the sun in a carnival atmosphere as well as a place to do early Christmas shopping.

For recreation-based groups in the community, it has provided an opportunity to publicise the work they have done throughout the year.

The big jump

Activities on Community Day will begin at 10 a.m. and run through to 6 p.m.

Father Christmas will arrive on a horse drawn hay cart at 2.15 p.m. with lollies for the children and following his arrival at 2.30 the Golden Eagles Parachute Team will make a jump into the park.

Throughout the day there will be ballet, street theatre, folk singing cycling and many more displays on centre stage.

Family Barbecue

Barbecues will be available in the park between 6 and 8 p.m. for anyone who would like to bring along a chop and cook it for themselves. Residents are encouraged to join in the family barbecue in the beautiful setting of Caulfield Park.

Carols by Candlelight

At 8 p.m. Carols by Candlelight will be presented by Geoff Raymond in the Park with the assistance of the Caulfield City Choir and the Caulfield Citizens Band.

Folk singer and popular television and recording artist Seona McDowell will appear as the feature artist. Seona who has a tour with American singer Don McLean to her credit, accompanies herself with six and twelve string guitars, a five string banjo and Appalachian harp.

The supporting choirs will be from the Carnegie State, Holy Cross and St. Anthony's Primary Schools.

Cobbers

A man's Cobber is more than just a friend — he's the mate you'd give your last quid to. What better name for a band playing the best of Australian music . . . "Cobbers", the Bonzo Bush Band.

Cobbers play all the old-time bush songs and melodies on lagerphone, fiddle, squeezebox, harmonica, spoons, guitar, banjo, mandolin, concertina and bindara brass — an Australian innovation somewhere between a guitar and a double bass.

They also introduce more unusual instruments, such as dulcimer, auto-harp, penny whistle and bodhran (an Irish drum). As well as their singing, the band have made an extensive study of old time colonial demcel which they teach at every opportunity.

See the Cobbers on Community Day, Sunday December 11, Centre Stage 3.30 p.m. - 4.30 p.m.

Miss Australia

'It was almost as if I went for three interviews to get a job.'

Local Carnegie girl Gloria Krope is Miss Australia 1978.

She was crowned Miss Australia just five weeks ago in the Sydney Opera House by the Premier of New South Wales Neville Wran.

When Gloria was originally approached to enter the Quest, her answer was a very definite "no". "I was basically disinterested in entering beauty quests", she said. "I'm not the beauty quest entrant type of girl, and never will be."

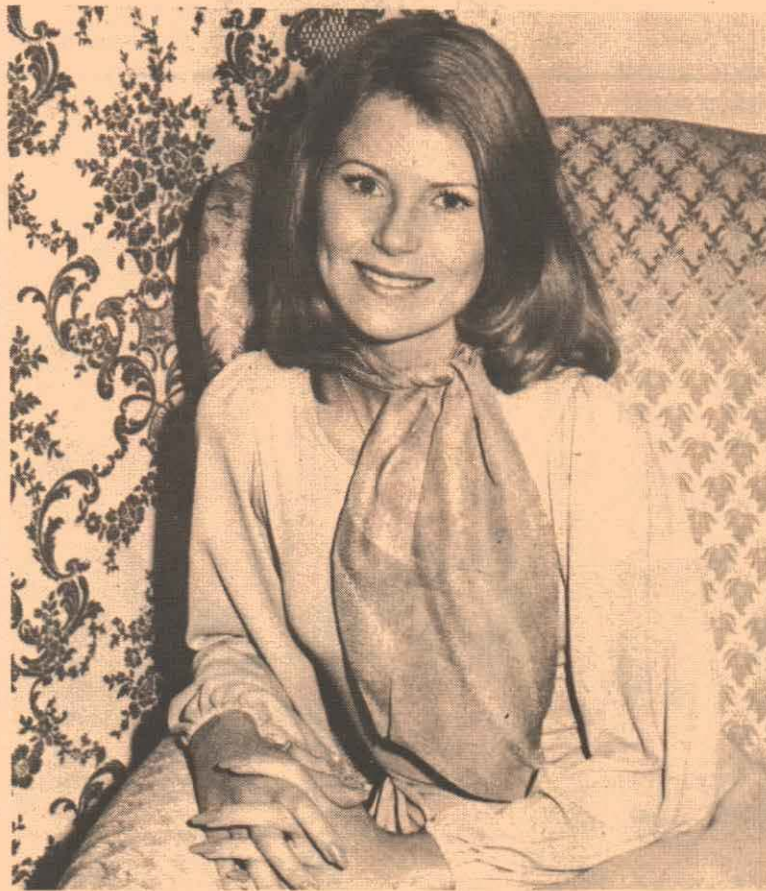

However a second approach by the Miss Australia Quest to Gloria resulted in a run down on what the quest was all about and the work that it involved. This time her answer was "yes".

Gloria admits that prior to entering the quest, she had very little idea of what it was all about. She is determined that during her year she will break that barrier wherever she goes.

The Miss Australia Quest has always been recognised as being different from other beauty quests. Gloria believes that it is largely because it is for charity.

"It's not a glamour parade, its done for a purpose and its done professionally" according to Gloria.

Years ago Miss Australia spent more time overseas than she did in Australia. The situation has reversed and Gloria will spend most of her year travelling around Australia working for the Spastic Society.

● Gloria Krope

She will travel overseas later next year for a short time. "I see my role as doing a job", Gloria said. "A lot of people don't realise that it is a full-time job and not just a full time crown."

I'm working six days a week in Public Relations. My main aim is to generate funding for the spastic kiddies and adults in our society."

Gloria makes no bones about the fact that her previous work as a private secretary, public relations executive, travelling cosmetics consultant and air hostess provided her with the groundwork which makes her new 'job' a lot easier.

Life now for Gloria Krope is a vast contrast to several months ago when she spent much of her time entertaining going to the gym, practising yoga, reading, knitting and sewing.

Of course she will continue to practice yoga wherever she goes but some of the other activities will have to be put aside. But for the moment Gloria agrees that the alternatives are preferable.

She has already flown to the South Pole, — "it was like a 14 hour party" she said, and travelled around Australia in 24 hours, in actual fact 23 hours and 10 minutes.

For the 22 year old Miss Australia its hard work, long hours and constant public attention. But she wanted the job and was chosen from hundreds of entrants; she's dedicated and she's loving it.

Children in Concert

Children aged between 4 and 14 years showed their musical and dancing skills at the first ever Arts Centre mini concert on Sunday November 27.

Performances were made by children who had been involved in the Exploring music, Creative movement and Modern dance classes held at the Centre.

Opposite: Modern Dance Team in Concert, Teacher, Tania Richter.

NEWS IN BRIEF

STATE RELIEF

Caulfield Council recently donated $1000 to the State Relief Committee.

The Committee's funds had depleted following the assistance which had been given to the many areas which suffered natural disasters last year.

The grant made by the council was a special grant and not an annual one.

DOOR KNOCKS

At a recent meeting the Caulfield Council adopted as its policy a maximum of six door knock collections be approved annually as well as an additional one at the discretion of the Mayor.

The policy also states "that the council recognizes that many citizens regard door knock collections as an unwarranted intrusion into personal privacy, and that such campaigns should only be permitted by Council on rare occasions."

The council has always approved the annual Red Cross and Salvation Army door knock appeals.

NEW COAT OF PAINT

The Caulfield Town Hall is to have a new exterior, and this time it will be white.

Tenders are to be called this month for the painting job.

The Town Hall will change inside as well as outside.

$20,000 was allocated in this year's budget for an investigation of upgrading the building and the provision of adequate office space.

In his report to the General Purposes Committee, the Deputy City Manager Operations, Mr Logan said, "The present inefficient use of space within the Town Hall needs to be considered with a view to providing facilities which would make it easier for the public to receive service and for the Council staff to operate."

Architects, Oakley Parkes and Partners have been requested by Council to submit a fee for a feasibility study into the upgrading of the town hall and council chambers, the provision of office space and the best utilization of library facilities within the city.

SUPPORT FOR 2% INCOME TAX CAMPAIGN

Caulfield Council at its November 8 meeting supported the Municipal Association of Victoria in its "Two Percent of Personal Income Tax Campaign"

Councillors agreed that it was fundamental to Local Government that Local Government Authorities be allocated 2% of personal income tax.

In its request for Council's support, the Municipal Association of Victoria stated;

"This campaign is clearly aimed at the Federal Government and is an issue which requires a lot of face to face discussion between Councils and Federal candidates during the lead up to the December 10 elections.

Already the President, Vice-President and Treasurer of the Association have visited Canberra to make personal representations to political leaders."

"The most appropriate way to take care of the general revenue assistance is for the Federal Government to allocate 2% of the P.I.T. to Local Government in the next budget and the Association would welcome the support of each and every Council on this issue."

The Caulfield Council has written to all candidates for Henty, Balaclava and Higgins informing them of their support for the 2% campaign.

She said that although she lived all her life in Caulfield she realised only now that she was part of the Caulfield community, that she "belonged."

"Frankly, I became quite patriotic", she said.

"We do not suffer from suburbia symptoms anymore..." said another active mother.

Several residents praised the Child Day Care scheme.

I would very much like to hear other comments, or criticism by residents about community services in Caulfield.

By communicating with us, you can "help us to help you."

Councillor Irene Capek, North Caulfield.

LETTERS

The Editor, Caulfield Contact,

Dear Madam,

During my latest visits to social institutions in the City of Caulfield I had the opportunity to hear many enthusiastic comments about the facilities available in our City.

One mother who arrived recently from Greece attended an infant health centre with her first baby.

She told me that she felt confident, that due to the wonderful services provided she could now cope with the difficult settling-in period and the new baby. "Before I went to the centre I thought that everything went wrong."

Another remark came from a young mother involved in one of the new toddlers' playgroups.

Bric-a-Brac, Junk or Jewels

If you don't want it,
"Step toe" does

But it's not the Steptoe you see opposite, it's the Caulfield Council's Salvage Collector. Collection bags are left regularly at homes throughout the municipality.

If you have clothing, bric-a-brac, furniture, shoes, papers, clean rags or anything else you no longer need, fill a bag and assist the Opportunity Shops in Hawthorn Rd., Caulfield and Rosstown Rd., Carnegie.
For special collections and further information please phone Caulfield Town Hall on 528 3366.

• Handyman, Trevor Keen hard at work

Handyman needs a hand

Council's Handyman Trevor Keen is flat out carrying out minor repairs and maintenance jobs for elderly and disabled people in Caulfield.
Trevor's work ranges from planing doors and fitting shower grab rails to cleaning blocked down pipes and replacing light globes.
Along with Spring came many requests for gardening jobs, far too many for Trevor to handle. And so the handyman needs some help. If you would like to assist Trevor voluntarily or at a low cost, please phone him on 528 5366 Monday to Friday between 8.30 a.m.-9 a.m.

LONE FATHERS 'BATTLE' ON

The Federal Government's recent announcement that lone fathers will have equal rights for Social Security Benefits as lone mothers, is a victory for the Lone Fathers Association.

But local lone father James Petrie, treasurer of the Lone Fathers Association is far from happy about the situation. He says that lone fathers are still not entitled to the transport, education, medical and dental concessions that the lone mothers receive.

James Petrie became a lone dad four years ago when his wife died. He was left with two boys aged 3 and 8.

"The Church was my standby, they came to help me, without the Church I would have gone under," Mr Petrie said.

His youngest child lives with his grandmother during the week and goes home on weekends. It distresses Mr Petrie that he is unable to have his child with him permanently.

Mr Petrie has been at the same job for 21 years and has no desire to leave. While he remains working he is not entitled to any special benefits.

Dads help each other

In April this year, James Petrie held the first meeting of the Lone Fathers Association at his home. The association now meets regularly in the city "to try to help one another, and lone fathers throughout Australia."

Through the association fathers in similar situations have got together. They now meet socially with their children and help each other out in times of financial and mental stress.

The maximum rate of benefit available to Lone Fathers is $49.30 per week, plus allowances for dependent children.

Lone Fathers wishing to apply for benefits should go to their local Social Security office.

Cumpulsory Voting

Voting at the Caulfield Council elections in August was compulsory for the first time this year.

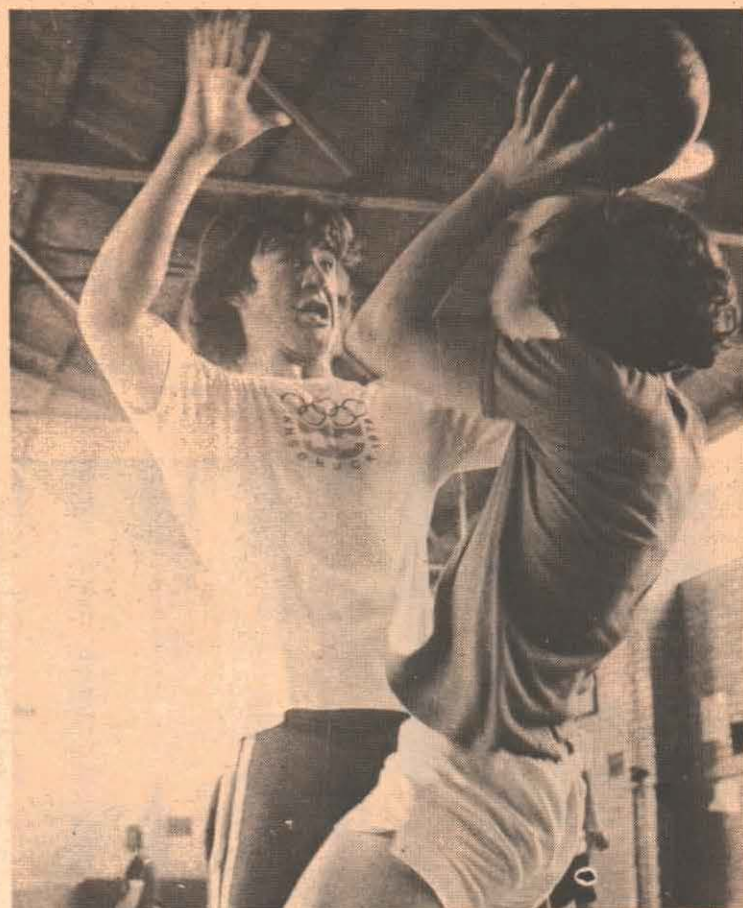

Although steps were taken by the Council to notify residents about compulsory voting, many people failed to vote.

Following the elections notices were issued to residents who failed to vote seeking an explanation. Most people have responded to this notice, however those who have not will now receive a $4 fine.

For further information phone the Council Rate Department on 528 5366.

CAULFIELD GRAMMAR BASKETBALL tours again

In the gym at Caulfield Grammar School Senior Team Captain, Wayne Evans of Grafton Street, Elsternwick, proves a formidable foe in a training session for their forthcoming trip to Oregon, U.S.A.

Following their most successful tour of California in 1974, Caulfield Grammar School Basketball coaches, Milton Anderson and Harry Clarke are this time off to Oregon, U.S.A. with a senior and junior team.

First stop is Portland, Oregon, via Hawaii, leaving Tullamarine on December 8.

For the next two and a half weeks they will play local high schools in the towns of Oswego, Eugene, The Dales, Sweet Home, Newport, and then it is on to Los Angeles for more games, and the inevitable visit to Disneyland and Universal Studios.

Enthusiasm for the trip by the parents and friends of the team members was most evident at a recent dinner-acution which raised over $3,000 toward expenses.

Decked out in their especially designed blue and white school colours track suits which feature the School Crest, and the Australian flag, the teams will certainly be striking visual ambassadors for their school and state.

Caulfield City Council has provided gift packs for presentations to School Principals and Officials, and Department of Tourism has provided Proclamations of Goodwill signed by Lindsay Thompson, State Minister for Education, who is an Old Boy at the School.

AUSTRALIA DAY BREAKFAST

Australia Day, January 26, 1978 will be celebrated in Caulfield with a Civic Champagne Breakfast at the Town Hall at 7.30 a.m.

The Mayor, Cr Geoff Patience announcing the occasion said "City Councillors are keen to make this annual function a real community celebration and to encourage local residents to join them at the Breakfast."

Although the Council is sponsoring the Breakfast, those attending are asked to make a donation of $6 toward the Mayor's Charity Appeal.

Anyone wishing to attend should write to the City Manager, City of Caulfield, P.O. Box 42, Caulfield or call at the Town Hall with their donations and an entry card will be issued.

"The Next Best Thing to Home"

The Children's Neighbourhood Centre in Lirrewa Grove, Caulfield is 'the next best thing to home' because it is run by parents.

In actual fact the Caulfield Council has provided the premises and subsidises running costs, and professional child care staff are employed; however decisions concerning most aspects of the Centre are made by the parents.

The Centre originally opened at 256 Hawthorn Rd., in 1975 with limited funding and only one professional staff member. Parents helped out at that time to ensure that all children were well cared for.

In October this year the Centre moved next door to another Council owned house. Perhaps homely and very happy environment.

The Constitution of the Centre requires that the overall administration be the responsibility of a House Committee comprising all parents or guardians of the children attending and that a parent or relative from each family attend at least two meetings a year.

Each parent is asked to do four hours of voluntary work annually; of course many parents do far more.

The Executive committee has eight office bearers; Chairman, Volunteers Co-ordinator,

● For Daliah, the Centre really is the next best thing to home.

The Centre is strictly non-profit making and fees are kept to a minimum in order to provide good quality child care as cheaply as possible.

Thirty-three places are available daily at the centre for full and part-time care. Two 'occasional care' places are also held to cater for mothers who have an appointment or need a short time away without their child.

Many parents take advantage of part-time care for their children and so although only 33 places are available daily, the centre currently caters for 103 different children weekly.

The Centre opens at 7.30 in the morning and closes at 6 in the evening providing the opportunity for working parents to deliver and pick up their children. Children from 2 to 5 years are eligible to enrol.

According to the Centre's Director Marlene Fraser, one of the greatest advantages of parent participation is that the staff get to know the parents.

"And knowing the parents teaches you how to react to the child." Marlene said.

"If a child arrives at the Centre and goes into a tantrum, you know far better how to treat the child if you know the parents and therefore the history."

Parent, Ruth Caple is one of the very active mums at the Centre. She said that prior to the Centre opening at 256 Hawthorn Rd, there was a desperate need in the area for part-time and occasional care for children, as well as full-time care.

She believes that the Centre has helped to meet that need but is distressed at the enormous waiting list.

After a visit to the Children's Neighbourhood Centre it's easy to believe that many children just don't want to go home — what could possibly be better?

● Many children need a sleep during the day. Beds are erected quickly in the playroom.

● Children in the playground

the most vivid example of parent participation was seen at this time.

The house required extensive internal renovations to adapt it to a child minding centre and to pass Health Department requirements.

Over a period of two months prior to the Centre opening, parents carried out the renovations from demolition work, building and gardening to painting, wall papering and general interior decorating. The result is a delightfully warm, Secretary, Vice-chair secretary, Treasurer, Maintenance Officer, Enrolment Officer and Social Secretary.

The enrolment officer's job is a big one. The demand for the centre is overwhelming. There are around 100 children currently on the waiting list.

The enrolment officer visits parents wishing to enrol their child and assesses individual needs. Preference is given to children from families in need. 40% of children enrolled at the Centre are from single parent families.

● In one of the colorful playrooms the children are shown how to make mobiles.

MAYOR'S MESSAGE

At the approach of the Festive season I am most conscious of the many who go on holidays. To each of them I say be careful — on the roads — fishing on the rocks — when swimming particularly those who are not strong at swimming. May you enjoy your well earned holidays by taking care.

The current councillors have made increased work on roads and footpaths their number one priority. From remarks made to me ratepayers appreciate this increased work.

The other day I participated in a quiet day for the city of Caulfield and it was only when I heard so much noise during the declaration that I wondered if all the noise was necessary. Maybe we can be a little quieter in our daily habits.

On behalf of the councillors — staff — the Mayoress and myself I would like to wish to all the citizens of Caulfield seasons greetings and a new year full of expectations and good health. Take care.

Geoff Patience BEM., JP., Mayor
City of Caulfield.

7.30 p.m. The Caulfield Citizens' Band will play Christmas music prior to the commencement of the Carols by Candlelight Program.

7.45 p.m. Appearance of Father Christmas to provide a special Christmas treat for the children.

8.00 p.m. Carols Program begins with the first Carol — "O Come, All Ye Faithful."

O Come, All Ye Faithful

1. O come, all ye faithful, joyful and triumphant
Come ye, O come ye to Bethlehem;
Come and behold Him, born the King of Angels:

O come let us adore Him,
O come let us adore Him,
O come let us adore Him,
Christ the Lord.
2. Sing, choir of angels, sing in exultation,
Sing, all ye citizens of Heaven above;
Sing ye, all glory to God in the highest;
O come let us adore Him . . .
3. Yea, Lord, we greet Thee, born this happy morning,
Jesus, to Thee be glory given;
Word of the Father, now in flesh appearing:
O come let us adore Him . . .

While Shepherds Watched

1. While shepherds watched their flocks by night,
All seated on the ground,
The Angel of the Lord came down,
And glory shone around.
2. "Fear not," said He, for mighty dread
Had seized their troubled mind;
Glad tidings of great joy I bring
To you and all mankind.
3. To you in David's town this day
Is born of David's line,
A Saviour Who is Christ the Lord;
And this shall be the sign:
4. The heavenly Babe you there shall find
To human view displayed,
All meanly wrapped in swathing bands,
And in a manger laid.
5. Thus spoke the seraph; and forthwith
Appeared a shining throng
Of angels praising God, who thus
Addressed their joyful song;
6. All glory be to God on high,
And to the earth be peace;
Good will henceforth from Heaven to men
Begin and never cease.

Guest Appearance:

Carnegie State School Choir — "Baboushka"

Lorena Romero — Verse 2

Choir — Verse 3

St Anthony's Catholic School — Little Donkey

God Rest You Merry, Gentlemen

1. God rest you merry, gentlemen, let nothing you dismay,
For Jesus Christ our Saviour was born upon this day,
To save us all from Satan's power when we were gone astray:

Chorus:

O tidings of comfort and joy, comfort and joy,
O tidings of comfort and joy.

2. From God our heavenly Father a blessed angel came,
And unto certain shepherds brought tidings of the same,
How that in Bethlehem was born the Son of God by name:

Chorus . . .

3. Now to the Lord sing praises, all you within this place,
And with true love and brotherhood each other now embrace;
This holy tide of Christmas all others doth deface:

Chorus . . .

The First Nowell

1. The first Nowell the angel did say,
Was to certain poor shepherds in fields as they lay,
In fields where they lay keeping their sheep,
On a cold winter's night, that was so deep.

Chorus:

Nowell, Nowell, Nowell, Nowell
Born is the King of Israel.

2. They looked up and saw a star,
Shining in the east beyond them far;
And to the earth it gave great light,
And so it continued both day and night.
3. Then let us all with one accord
Sing praises to our heavenly Lord,
That hath made heaven and earth of naught,
And with His blood mankind hath bought.

Guest Appearance:

CAULFIELD CITY CHOIR

Caulfield City Choir, under their conductor Mr Murray Brown, will present a bracket of three songs:

1. A Christmas Carol
2. Rocking
3. A Merry Christmas

2. Everything is Beautiful
3. Scarlet Ribbons
4. For Baby for Bobbie
5. Amazing Grace
6. Jingle Bells

Away in a Manger

1. Away in a manger, no crib for a bed,
The little Lord Jesus laid down His sweet head,
The stars in the bright sky looked down where He lay.
The little Lord Jesus asleep in the hay.

2. The cattle are lowing, the baby awakes,
But little Lord Jesus, no crying He makes,
I love Thee, Lord Jesus! Look down from the sky,
And stay by my side until morning is nigh.

3. Be near me, Lord Jesus, I ask Thee to stay
Close by me for ever, and love me, I pray!
Bless all the dear children in Thy tender care,
And fit us for heaven to live with Thee there.

Hark! the Herald Angels Sing

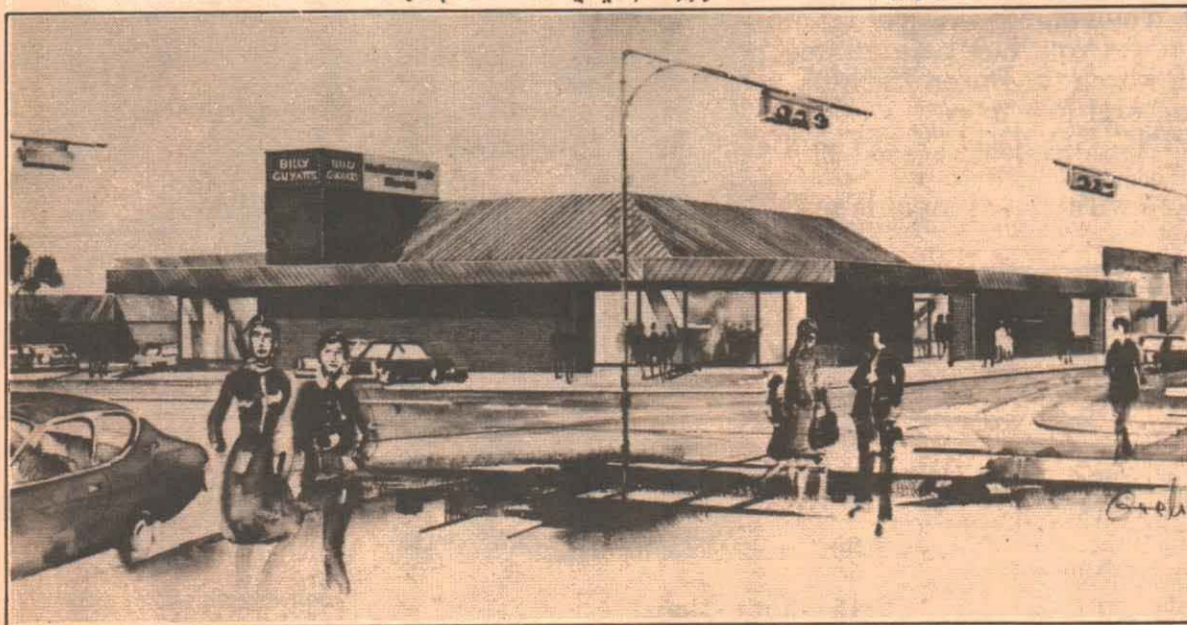

1. Hark! the herald angels sing
Glory to the new-born King.
Peace on earth, and mercy mild,
God and sinners reconciled,
Joyful, all ye nations, rise.
Join the triumph of the skies,
With the angelic host proclaim,
"Christ is born in Bethlehem"
Hark! the herald angels sing
Glory to the new-born King.

2. Christ, by highest Heaven adored,
Christ, the everlasting Lord,
Late in time, behold Him come,
Offspring of a Virgin's womb.
Veiled in flesh the God head see!
Hail, the Incarnate Deity!
Pleased as Man with men to dwell,
Jesus, our Emmanuel.
Hark! the herald angels sing
Glory to the new-born King.

3. Hail the heaven-born Prince of Peace!
Hail the Son of righteousness!
Light and life to all He brings,
Risen with healing in His wings.
Mild He lays His glory by,
Born that man no more may die.
Born to raise the sons of earth,
Born to give them second birth.
Hark! the herald angels sing
Glory to the new-born King.

BOWLING CLUB BURNS

Fire destroyed Caulfield Park Bowling Club on Sunday November 20 at 5 a.m. The fire occurred just two months after the Conservatory, also located in Caulfield Park, was destroyed. Spokesman for the bowling club, John McDougall said "We lost everything, all trophies, honours boards and records. Fortunately I had the first six minute books at home, I was working on our club's history, and they are all that remains." Photograph by Bruce Dinan shows firemen at work amongst the rubble.

PROTECT YOUR HOME

Are you inviting a burglar into your home?

Although it is not possible to completely burglar-proof your home, you can take steps to protect your family and property by reducing the opportunities for a burglar to break in.

Foil the burglar

- Install mortice dead locks on outside doors.
- Install a security door chain and spy-hole.
- Keep doors and screen doors locked at all times.
- Provide outside illumination.
- Install automatic timer to turn on lights if you are out.
- Keep your garage locked.
- Don't leave a ladder or tools lying around.
- Don't leave your valuables lying around.
- Keep a record of all serial numbers of your property. Apply your own mark on all other items.
- Don't leave keys under the mat or in other obvious places. If keys are lost, change locks.
- If you are away from home cancel all deliveries, such as milk, newspapers, etc. Have a friend mow the lawn and sweep the paths once a week.
- Have your post office hold all mail until you return.
- Leave your shades and blinds as you normally do, closed blinds make an effective screen for the burglar.
- Buy merchandise only from bonafide dealers. Buying "bargains" on the street may mean you're buying stolen merchandise. Stop the burglar's sales outlet.

Don't be a victim

Help the police help you

KUI CENTRE SUCCEEDS

An average attendance of round 30 each week since 29th April has meant the Kui Centre has proved itself to be an on-going feature of the life of Caulfield - Glenhuntly area. The "cuppa" with biscuits and cheese has been welcomed by both men and women as has the opportunity to chat with old friends or to make new ones. A book exchange has benefited some, some have been glad of the free wool to make up at home, while others have got bargains from the Opportunity table.

Benefit has accrued not only to those who come, but also to less fortunate groups in the metropolis, such as St. Nicholas' Hospital, Kew Cottages and the Royal Women's Hospital.

Activities have included knitting 49 pair of booties (large size) for children who cannot use hot water bottles, 13 made-up rugs and dozens of squares for quilts, children's jumpers and items for babies' layettes. Tangled crepe bandages have been sorted and wound ready for use for lepers and old sheets torn up to make new rolls of bandage. Feeders have been cut and prepared for machining, and stamps have been cleaned and sorted ready for sale.

It has not been all work, however. One morning Mrs Dell Ford entertained us with Old English Ballads and Folk Songs. During his holidays, Mr George Stephens, a young art student, came twice — once to outline his course, and once to amplify this with a film. Miss O'Sullivan came another day and told us of the facilities available to us as citizens of Caulfield, Mrs Dorothy Evans brought along a car full of things to supplement her story of life in Japan, and one day a Kui member showed how she went about making bark paintings. Members also went one day by bus on a shopping spree to Doncaster Shopping town, and some went, another day, to the Trak Theatre.

In short "a good time has been had by all" and we feel we should like to share the Centre with other people in the area who may not yet have realised we are a "going concern". We warmly invite you to "drop in" any Friday morning, between 10.30 a.m. and noon, to St. David's Church Hall, cnr. El Nido Ave. and Grange Road. Our men would especially welcome other chaps to chat too.

COMMUNITY ACTIVITIES

Quota International Conference

The theme of the 14th Annual Conference of Quota International, held in October at the Melbourne Hilton, was "Reach to those in Need."

The mayor of Caulfield, Cr Geoff Patience was invited to open the conference. The arrival of the official guests was marked by a fanfare of trumpets from the Caulfield Citizens Band, and singing from the Camberwell High School girls choir. The girls held the flags of the 7 nations where Quota is represented.

At a dignified candle ceremony in the evening the District 32 was divided and part of it became District 38. The 38th District of Quota International incorporates clubs in Caulfield, Camberwell, Dandenong, Moorabbin, Warragul, Drouin, Frankston, Essendon, Perth, Nedlands.

Audrey Cunningham of the Caulfield Quota Club was installed as District Governor. Mrs Cunningham has been involved with Quota for the past ten years and has represented her Club internationally.

She has assisted in many areas of community life including meals-on-wheels, Heart and hospital appeals, and the Home Tutor Scheme.

• Audrey Cunningham

Shirley Walter also of Caulfield, was installed as District Secretary Treasurer.

Guest speaker at the conference was Senator Margaret Guilfoyle, Minister for Social Security.

"I was delighted that you have directed your conference discussions to three areas of need which are indicative of Australian Society," Senator Guilfoyle said.

"The fact that we have become a nation of migrants is not new, but we have had such a rapid intake of migrants that there is a significant section of Australia which has special needs as a "migrant" group."

"One of the great problems is the problem of language and custom and we have directed our efforts to giving services in languages, telephone interpreters, support English classes etc. — but none of us perhaps understand the isolation and loneliness that an individual migrant can have without family and without common background with people with whom they associate."

Other speakers at the conference were Joanna Waite, State co-ordinator of the Home Tutor Scheme who spoke on "The Migrant Woman and her problems," Mrs. I. B. Strahem whose subject was "The Problems of the Aging" and Peg Sitlington of the Children's Protection Society who spoke on "The Abused and Neglected child in our Community."

"Messiah" without frills

On 13 April 1742 Handel's "Messiah" was performed for the first time.

Since that date it has been played and sung by countless numbers of musicians, ranging from humble church choirs to the finest singers of each generation. It is a work of universal appeal, accessible because of its simplicity and tunefulness, yet profoundly moving to the most sophisticated audience.

The Caulfield City Choir is at present preparing this ever-popular work for its third and final presentation for 1977. The Choir has sung a broad range of music this year, from the parlour room ballads of Victorian England to the popular songs of Jerome Kern and George Gershwin. Now it turns to one of the greatest challenges in the choral repertoire.

Unfortunately, however, "Messiah", masterpiece that it is, has become a pillar of the English-singing world's music establishment, and Handel's original score has been expanded and inflated beyond its baroque dimensions. Well-intentioned but misguided editors, including no less than the composer Mozart, have adapted the work for the sound expectations of later generations, obscuring the clean, spare lines of the original.

This year's performance will redress these distortions and present the work with the modest forces used by the composer himself — an orchestra comprised mainly of strings and double reeds, organ continuo and a choir of 40.

"Messiah" will be performed, appropriately enough, in St Stephen's Uniting Church, Balaclava Road, North Caulfield at 8 p.m. on Tuesday 13 December. A fine line-up of soloists has been engaged for this important musical and religious event, including Joanne Haverly (soprano), Kerry Brown (contralto), William Sketchley (tenor) and Neil Christensen (baritone). John Atwell (organ) and an orchestra comprised mainly of Victorian College of the Arts music students, will provide the accompaniment. Admission is $2.50 for adults, $1 for students and pensioners.

This performance promises to be the highlight of the musical year in Caulfield. All enquiries should be directed to the Secretary, Mrs Dorothy Stanley-Low, Ph 29 3889.

AUSTRALIA WIDE INTEREST IN CERAMIC AWARD

The Walker Ceramic Award of $1,000 will be given to the top student of ceramics in Australia at an exhibition to be held at the Caulfield Arts Centre. The Award has attracted many interstate entries and so this is a unique opportunity for all to view and purchase the very best work that our talented students can produce.

Students are required to enter four pieces which are available for sale with the exception of one of the pieces submitted by the Award winner and acquired by Walker Ceramics.

Apart from the display of two hundred pieces entered for the Award, another section of the exhibition will be set aside so that students can sell other examples of their work. This really provides a wonderful opportunity for those interested in purchasing and collecting ceramics.

The Walker Ceramic Award will be judged by Kenneth Hood, Deputy Director of the National Gallery, Harold Hughan, an outstanding Australian potter and Felicity Abraham, Director of the Crafts Centre of the Crafts Council.

The purpose of the Award is to help launch on their careers, all talented full-time final year students of ceramics. It also provides an opportunity for the public to recognize the talent displayed by these young Australian artists.

This is the first time that such a generous award has been made available to students of ceramics and since it is to be held annually it will no doubt have a stimulating effect on Australian ceramics.

Exhibition dates are December 5-18. (Monday to Friday 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday 1 p.m. to 6 p.m.).
