A PLACE TO PLAY

In 1972 a group of concerned parents requiring a community service, met to discuss the needs of parents.

It was felt that single mothers and those living in apartments needed new surroundings for their children to play in.

The group approached the parish of St. Anthony's Glenhuntly and permission was obtained to use the small hall and adjoining playground for playgroup activities.

Playgroups involve parents from all walks of life who come together with a common interest - the welfare of their children.

St. Anthony's playgroup is open Monday to Friday, 10am-12 noon and families can attend on one permanent day a week but can also 'visit' on one other day of the week.

Through playgroup activities children discover new experiences, self-confidence and more ways to find out about the world around them.

Grandparents and older people are welcome. Playgroups are safe friendly places and are not meant to be highly organised pre-school educational experiences. Mothers (and sometimes fathers) can find new local friends, develop a sense of belonging and gather new ideas for extra fun at home with their children.

Toys, equipment and literature are kept up to date and in plentiful supply to cater for everyone's needs. The playground is designed especially for toddlers to four year olds and mothers share the constant supervision of outside play.

For further information on St. Anthony's Playgroup contact Mrs. Y. Bannon, telephone 211 1737. For other playgroups in the city of Caulfield contact Ann Gowers at the Town Hall on, 524 3333.

PERHAPS WE NEED A TRAFFIC STUDY . . .

ANNUAL MEETING

The ninth annual meeting of the Caulfield Citizens' Advice Bureau will be held at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, September 26th in the balcony room of the Town Hall, Glen Eira Road, Caulfield.

A full report of the Bureau's activities will be presented, along with the annual financial statements. Elections for members of the management committee will also take place.

Guest speaker will be Mr Peter

Negropontis, Migrant Welfare Officer for the City of Oakleigh, who will speak on his experience in working among migrant people in the local community.

A 'cuppa' will be provided and all interested citizens are warmly invited to attend.

Further information is available from the C.A.B. office, telephone 524 3200 between 10 a.m. - 3 p.m. and 7 p.m. - 9 p.m. Monday to Friday.

Investigation into Safety Belts

With the full support of ROSTA and the Commonwealth Department of Transport the Psychology Department of the Royal Melbourne Institute of Technology is attempting to investigate the major beliefs of drivers regarding the use of safety belts.

This project will be the first one ever to ask the user to state fully what he or she believes. Seven earlier surveys merely asked participants to rank factors the researcher had thought to be important.

In order to carry out an interview that is longer than usual the investigators will ask car drivers to be interviewed a little later in the driver's home.

A sample of about 100 people will be required in the metropolitan area so if you are approached by an investigator one Saturday morning whilst out shopping, your co-operation in this task would be greatly appreciated.

Are you a tenant?

If so, you might be interested to know that a meeting is being held on September 19th at 8 p.m. at 18 Steele Street, South Caulfield to establish a Tenants' Union in Caulfield.

1979 Census figures show that almost half the dwellings in Caulfield are rented. There are 23,490 private tenants in the municipality.

The emphasis in Australian society has always been on home ownership. But fewer and fewer Australians can afford to own their own home. The Tenants Union of Victoria believes that tenants must unite to win the right to decent housing, and to improve their status.

Promised new legislation for tenants has not been passed, and apparently is now being rewritten after pressure from the Real Estate and Stock Institute, and landlord lobbies. Tenants must fight to have their side of the story heard.

The Tenants Union of Victoria is sponsoring the establishment of a branch in Caulfield which will be involved in the state-wide struggle for a better deal for tenants, and will also look at ways in which Caulfield Council could be involved in the housing field.

For further information please contact Jay McLellan on 578 7833 or Margaret Merrilees on 534 1394.

WE ARE CURRENTLY COMPILING OUR COMMUNITY RESOURCE GUIDE FOR 1980. IF ANY GROUPS OR COMMUNITY ORGANISATIONS WISH TO HAVE THEIR DETAILS INCLUDED OR UPDATED WOULD THEY PLEASE CONTACT HELEN CARBERY AT THE TOWN HALL ON 524 3333 BEFORE MONDAY 24TH SEPTEMBER, 1979.

Caulfield Voluntary Workers Shop

The Caulfield Voluntary Workers Shop, now in its 22nd year of operation, has raised a creditable $268,000 as well as donating clothes and furniture to needy persons.

The first hot boxes were donated to Meals on Wheels in 1957.

Donations have been made to all projects in Caulfield including the construction of the Caulfield Senior Citizens Club and the Caulfield Community Centre. The Geriatric Ward and Hostel at Caulfield Hospital and the Royal Southern Memorial Hospital have also benefited through the work of these volunteers.

$1,000 a month is paid to Caulfield Council to aid the homes for the aged.

All Caulfield auxiliaries working for various hospitals are also given assistance.

A special thanks is extended to the citizens of Caulfield for their continued support in providing goods for the voluntary workers shop.

The Early Planning for Retirement - Caulfield Group - will hold its first Annual General Meeting on Thursday September 20th at 8.00pm at the Caulfield R.S.L. in Hawthorn Road.

GO GET 'EM JAYCEES

Being a progressive bunch, and looking for new members, Caulfield Jaycees have decided to 'Go Get 'Em'.

Terry Leith, Jaycee spokesman, announced a public meeting to introduce and explain the Jaycee organisation, its aims and activities. The meeting will be held at Caulfield Central R.S.L., starting at 8 p.m. on Thursday September 13th.

Terry said "Jaycees believe we have a greater opportunity to offer young people a chance to develop and advance both themselves and Australia".

Everyone qualifies to join Jaycees. You don't need wealth, social status, or an Oxford degree. Just a desire to do better and be better at your own thing, a general zest and enthusiasm for fulfilment in life.

This meeting we hope will get the Jaycee message across to young people. We are so convinced the opportunity is too good to miss that we will pick up and return home anyone with transport difficulties — we'll, 'Go get 'em!'

If you're 18 to 40, looking for a progressive, exciting personal development group, give the Jaycees a call.

Contact Terry Leith, B.H. 267 5522, A.H. 211 5105, or Ian Lemaistre, B.H. 647 3221, A.H. 690 1739, for further information.

PRESENTATION TO COUNCIL

Mr. T. Mita, representing a group of Japanese men visiting Melbourne for an Interflora Seminar, presented His Worship the Mayor with a ceramic pot "The Jomon Pottery". The ceramic is an exact replica of a 5000 year old style of Japanese pottery and was fired using the same ancient methods.

It will remain as part of the Council's permanent art collection.

LEGACY

This year, Legacy-in-Victoria Week will commence on September 2nd with the annual badge appeal being conducted on Friday September 7th.

Funds raised go to assist Legacy in providing their voluntary service to the widows of ex-servicemen and their children. Legacy has been operating for 56 years and although the number of children under its care is diminishing, the number of widows continues to increase — in Victoria alone 25,000 widows and 3,600 children receive assistance.

In 1979, Legacy in Victoria will spend $1,177,550: target figures for this year's appeal are $318,950 for Victoria and $145,000 for Melbourne.

Aid to families is rendered in many ways — by counselling of widows and their children, in education by financial and tutorial assistance, in employment for dependent children by counselling and liaison with industry, in welfare by financial assistance and advice, in housing by financial assistance and advice on repairs/maintenance and liaison with War Service Homes Corporation and general welfare by sponsoring of widows' clubs, trips and outings, indoors bowls and card afternoons.

Your support is needed to enable Legacy to continue this valuable community work.

ARCHITECTURAL ADVISORY SERVICE

If you are renovating, or have problems with extensions to your home then maybe you need some advice from a qualified architect.

The Citizens Advice Bureau sponsors such a service and an architect is available, by appointment, through the C.A.B. on Wednesdays between 7 p.m. and 9 p.m.

He will offer advice on all architectural problems or maybe refer clients to other areas such as drafting services, where their needs will be best met.

The architect will give advice in areas such as costing (approx.), uniform building regulations covering ventilation, lighting, plumbing, distances from fences, existing buildings, drains, foundations etc.

Advice will be given as to building techniques (whether to use brick or timber), re-blocking foundations, water proofing leaking roofs, acoustic techniques, materials and overall design.

The C.A.B. can be contacted Monday to Friday between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. and 7 p.m. and 9 p.m. at the Town Hall on 524 3200.

The advice that the architect offers is free so if you have any problems why not ring for an appointment.

Education is a continuing process and the life of the school and that of the community can, and should be, integrated.

Whilst it is recognized that not all educational needs are academic, recreational or cultural, these form a reasonable base on which to build.

To this end Caulfield City Council is co-operating with Murrumbena High School in presenting a program of sharing, learning and participation.

The program will commence in the week of September 24 and enrolments will close Wednesday September 19.

Kilvington Scores Again

Kilvington students compete in the Southern District Sports Association. In the recently completed netball competition, all three titles were won by Kilvington teams. This, the School is very proud of.

But of great interest too, were the following statistics, that in the last 25 years Kilvington's seniors, intermediates and juniors have won these titles 12, 17 and 14 times respectively, and that since 1958 Mrs Dot Walke, the Sportsmistress, has been the successful coach in 8, 15, and 13 of these respective wins. Mrs Walke has scored again!

'Scores' is the word — whether it be musical or sporting. The girls of Kilvington Baptist Girls' Grammar School in Ormond will be using their scores for three nights in August for their Musical Evening in Dalton Hall, Kilvington.

Gilbert and Sullivan's "Trial by Jury" will be one of the features. The girls have now built up a fine reputation in this game. "Joseph and his Amazing Technicolour Dreamcoat" by Rice and Webber will also be presented, along with other choral and instrumental items.

This follows the recent resoundingly successful production of "The Other Cinderella" staged during July.

His office is open to serve constituents five days a week and at any other time by appointment.

Mr Kennedy and his wife Jan, a midwifery sister at Waverley Private Hospital, have a long interest in the district.

There are seven thousand residents of the City of Caulfield living in Waverley Province in the area bounded by Murrumbena, North, Poath and Dandenong Roads.

He has been elected to three party committees to study legislation affecting local government, police and emergency services and education.

He has also been appointed to the Joint Parliamentary Library Committee which is vital to Parliamentarians' research.

He is president of the state-wide Free Education Movement, Patron of Clayton Bowls Club and a member of the Commonwealth Parliamentary Association.

Caught in a Vacuum

Do you remember grandmother used to sprinkle tea-leaves over her carpets, then with a straw broom sweep carefully — and, in theory anyway, take up all dirt and dust along with the damp leaves.

So, we should all give thanks to a talented young American engineer called Murray Spangler. Around the turn of this century, this unfortunate young man had to give up his work because he developed a bad cough.

The only job he could find was as a janitor. But sweeping rooms and corridors raised so much dust, his cough was worse than ever. He realized he would have to give up this job too, unless he could find an answer.

Using his engineer's brain, he experimented with a wooden box, a small electric motor, a length of hose, a bag and a broom handle. When he started it up and pushed it along the corridor in front of him, the dust was sucked up like magic. He'd hit upon the first vacuum cleaner!

Murray was so pleased with his gadget, he couldn't resist showing it to an enterprising friend called Hoover. When put on the market, the machine was a great success, but poor Murray Spangler didn't live to see his full triumph, he died of asthma while still a young man.

One man's misfortune turned out to be a blessing to millions of housewives all over the world.

COUNCIL LOAN

His Worship, the Mayor of Caulfield, Councillor M. R. Blair, J.P., announced that the Commonwealth Savings Bank has made a loan of $154,495 to the City of Caulfield.

The money will be used for roads, footpaths and channel modernisation in the on-going capital works program aimed at complete overhaul of these assets.

Cr. Blair said "population growth and community development had brought increased problems to Council and other local bodies. A high degree of organisation and large sums of money are needed to provide and maintain essential services to the community.

The continued help of the Commonwealth Savings Bank, which has always been deeply concerned with local progress, is greatly appreciated by my Council."

MEETING

The Children's Services Resource Group will meet at Oaktree House, 256 Hawthorn Road, Caulfield on Wednesday, September 12 at 7.30 p.m. All welcome.

Activity Ideas from the Caulfield Toddlers' Playgroup

Mums, all you need is a paper plate, coloured paper, some cotton wool, newspaper and paste.

Have your toddlers cut out shapes for eyes, eyelashes, nose and mouth. Help him if he is too little. Paste them on the dull side of the plate to make a funny face. He could even have a moustache or a beard and you could also use some of the cottonwool for his ears.

Your toddler can then cut long, thin strips of newspaper for the hair. This will keep him busy for ages. Then paste them all over the head. Hey presto! A funny face which is guaranteed to delight the child.

If you have any noodles in the house, use them for threading. Your children can make lovely necklaces, bracelets etc. The noodles can be coloured with food dyes and a shoelace or a piece of string with sticky tape around the end makes a safe threading device.

By the way noodles in an old plastic bottle can make a wonderful musical instrument.

Homemaking Activities

As part of our welfare services to the community, the Relief Society of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints extends an invitation to all women to attend the homemaking activities held on the second Tuesday of each month until October.

These activities commence at 10.30 a.m. and are free of charge. They are designed to teach and encourage skills in quilting, macrame, rug making, flower arrangements, cake decoration and toy making.

Those participating will be required to purchase the materials that they use. A nursery is provided for mothers with small children.

On the third Tuesday of each month mother education classes are held for all women with instruction and ample opportunity for discussion in the subjects of: being better mothers, understanding children of all ages, coping with problems in the modern home and other worthwhile subjects.

The Relief Society provides many other courses of study such as cultural refinement, as well as many opportunities to be involved in compassionate work like helping the sick and needy.

A world-wide organisation for women, the Society was founded in 1842 at Nauvoo, Illinois, for the betterment and development of women everywhere.

The Caulfield Branch of the Relief Society meets at 5 Hawthorn Road, Caulfield and the current President is Mrs D. Adams, telephone 509 7571.

Local Athletes Compete in Veteran Games

Recently a number of local athletes participated in the World Veteran Games in Hanover, West Germany. The Australian contingent put up some excellent performances with many gold medals and world records to their credit.

Three well known members of the Glenhantly Athletic Clubs to compete were Hans Meiselbach who was third in the 50-54 years 400 metres hurdles, Mrs. Leslie Foley, second (50-54 years) javelin, second 4x100m relay and Duncan McKinnon Park Committee of Management Chairman, Roy Foley fourth (60-64 years) hammer throw.

Congratulations to each of these athletes on their fine performances.

With the next World Veteran Games to be held in Christchurch, New Zealand, in 1981, it is hoped a very large contingent of Glenhantly athletes will be competing with equal success.

PARK MANAGEMENT MEETING

Notice is hereby given of the Annual General Meeting of the Duncan McKinnon Park Committee of Management. This meeting is to be held in the park pavilion on the evening of Wednesday October 24th commencing at 7.45pm. Business will include the election of five (5) citizen representatives and ratification of club delegates. Members of the public are welcome to attend.

THE COMPUTER FUTURE

The post-war era has seen a second industrial revolution - a revolution brought about by the computer.

Today more than ever computers lie at the heart of government and commerce. They affect almost every aspect of our daily life, from computer controlled traffic lights to the marking of examination papers. Whether we like it or not we will come to depend on these machines more and more.

Computers in the home — joy to the housewife

Dr. Brian Smith, Principal of R.M.I.T. will speak at the 4th Thursday Luncheon Club of the Friends of Rippon Lea, on the developments we can expect in computers and their uses, and how we will see a greater use of computers in the home. The group will be meeting on September 20, 12.30pm, in the ballroom at Rippon Lea, at a cost of $5 per head.

Prior to his appointment as Principal, Dr. Smith was Dean of the Faculty of Engineering at R.M.I.T.

Before entering the educational field he was involved with the use of computers for automation and control of industrial processes. He is optimistic about the outcome of the computer revolution, believing that the introduction of computers into the home will follow the same beneficial development as other technological advances like the use of electricity and plastics.

His talk will cover some forecasts of the 'computer home' in which the housewife will be able to telephone the automatic cooker to say she will be late and where the garden sprinklers allow for weather changes.

For further information contact Mrs. Toni Kerr, on 818 6698.

Funds for Caulfield Hospital

The sum of $7,500 has been donated to Caulfield Hospital from the Beckworth Court Pastoral Co. Pty. Ltd., which is wholly owned by the William Buckland Foundation, through the Trustees Executors and Agency Co. Ltd., towards the cost of furnishings and landscaping required for the new 30 bed hostel unit which has been established in the grounds of the hospital.

This will be of great assistance in helping the hospital to furnish and equip this important development for the care of the aged in the community. The hospital is grateful for this large donation.

Community Health Centre Moves Premises

The Chadstone Community Health Centre has been functioning from the Chadstone Shopping Centre for the past four years but from SEPTEMBER 17TH THEY WILL BEGIN OPERATION FROM 568 NEERIM ROAD, HUGHESDALE, (CORNER POATH ROAD).

Within the City of Caulfield the Centre provides services for residents of Carnegie, Murrumbeena, Glenhantly and East Caulfield.

The Health Centre is concerned with many areas of need within the community. They provide counselling and home support services, give advice on family planning, health and welfare.

Professional people are on hand to help you. There are nurses and social workers, an occupational therapist, physiotherapist, dietician and helpful, friendly administrative staff.

Sometimes work is on an individual basis but other projects require a team approach. About 100 people of varied ages are involved as volunteers in the life of the Centre. These people extend the services that the staff offer by being available to help in the running of group activities, visiting, driving, minding children or shopping for those who are housebound.

New volunteers and ideas are always welcome. Groups that are conducted include a work centre for people unemployed because of disability, retirement or lack of opportunity.

An arthritis education program has been designed for people suffering from this complaint to learn more about their condition and how to live with it.

Social groups cater for the elderly who are isolated or Greek women who want to exchange views and interests. Parenting groups, relaxation groups, assertiveness training groups and many others help fulfill the needs of many people in the community.

Staff are interested in all aspects of health education and are available to speak to interested groups. Their topics are many and varied: diet, safety in the home, menopause, budgeting, are just some areas they will cover.

In response to the many requests to find sheltered accommodation for elderly people the Chadstone Community Health Centre has become aware of the dilemmas faced by the elderly and their families.

To highlight this problem a film "Home Sweet Home" is being shown at the Metro Malvern on Tuesday, September 25, 12.30 p.m. - 3.30 p.m. The program will include an opportunity to discuss the topic with a panel of concerned people. The cost is $1.50 and 75c for pensioners.

Should you have any queries about the film or any other of the activities at the Centre contact them on 568 2599 and ask for Faye Stanesby the Community Health Nurse.

'Pocket Park' and Roundabouts Recommended for Orrong/Balaclava Area

PLEASE COME AND VIEW AN EXHIBITION AND RESULTS OF THE NEIGHBOURHOOD STUDY AT THE TOWN HALL. COPIES OF THE REPORT ARE AVAILABLE FOR INSPECTION AND YOUR COMMENTS ARE WELCOMED. LET THE COUNCIL KNOW YOUR VIEWS.

The Orrong/Balaclava Neighbourhood Study prepared by Council staff and traffic experts has now been presented to Council. It recommends a number of actions which Council can take to improve the local area and, especially the traffic situation in Orrong Crescent.

For Orrong Crescent, the solution recommended is seen as the best overall compromise when the advice of traffic experts, the views of local residents and the costs of alternatives are all taken into account.

IT IS PROPOSED TO IMPLEMENT THIS SOLUTION IN STAGES AND, EACH STAGE, TRAFFIC FLOWS WILL BE MEASURED AND RESIDENTS' VIEWS SOUGHT.

Orrong Crescent:

STAGE 1 — Three roundabouts. These will slow traffic down and discourage through traffic from using Orrong Crescent as a short cut.

STAGE 2 — Right hand turn restrictions (from Alma Road and Inkerman Road). These will prevent dangerous through traffic from entering the area and will not cause too much inconvenience to local residents.

STAGE 3 — Diagonal Diverter Road Barrier. Stages 1 and 2 should solve the problem. However if residents still feel traffic is too heavy and are prepared to have their road closed, a full road closure could be implemented as a small park.

Other proposals

A number of other improvements are recommended in the study. These include:-

- Better off-street car parking in Alma Village Centre.
- A small 'pocket park' near Alma Village.
- Additional shops at Alma Village.
- Beautification of shopping centres and street planting.
- Landscaping of existing open spaces.
- Roundabout at corner of Wanda Road/Khartoum Street.
- Banning of a right turn from Dandenong Road into Wairora Road to prevent through traffic.

C.I.T. SEEKS ANSWERS

"People don't want to work...I've had a vacancy that I can't fill..."

How often have you heard statements like these? Is there any truth in them when unemployment figures continue to rise?

The Caulfield Institute of Technology is trying to find out by means of a questionnaire sent to 4,500 businesses located in the south-east region of the metropolitan area.

The object of the questionnaire is to find out what vacancies exist in the community and what type of skills employers are looking for.

Very little is known, statically, of the job vacancies registered with the Commonwealth employment Service that provides a picture of what industry and commerce need.

The same can be said of the profile of skills possessed by those registered as unemployed.

It is hoped that by getting a picture of the employer's requirements by locality, the phenomena of unfilled vacancies could be better understood, in times of high employment, and possibly a solution found.

The questionnaires are being sent to businesses that employ more than ten people and it is urged that for the success of the project, they be completed and returned to CIT in the prepaid envelope as quickly as possible.

Further information on the project can be obtained from Alan Hamstead, at Caulfield Institute of Technology on 211 7722, ext. 133.

Anyone for Cricket?

Don't spend another summer wondering what to do on Saturday afternoons — get into your whites and play for a local cricket club. North Caulfield/Glenhuntly is the club anxious to use your talents.

The Club, based at Glenhuntly Reserve (behind the racecourse at the corner of Neerim and Booran Roads) is after men, women and boys.

North Caulfield/Glenhuntly — "The Devils" — last season fielded six men's sides (three playing on turf, the others on matting), three women's teams and an under 16 boys' side which, incidentally, won the premiership in its grade.

Practice is on Tuesday and Thursday after school and work at Glenhuntly Reserve, beginning on September 18. Just roll up and introduce yourself. Phone enquiries to club president, Paul Dobson on 654 3711 (B) or 527 4928 (AH). You'll not only enjoy playing, you'll have a great time socially" Paul says.

COMMUNITY PROJECT

Many of us, in today's world, have homes filled with various labour saving services. They look attractive in our kitchens and laundries but often we find that few really understand how to use these modern appliances to their best advantage.

Taylor's Discount Store of Glenhuntly Road in South Caulfield is providing facilities for individuals, groups and organisations to meet and learn from competent demonstrators the skills and techniques involved in running a modern home.

How many of us know how to save electricity or water?

How many of us know how to save the most important commodity to the busy housewife — time?

Groups are invited to spend a relaxing interesting hour of fun at the store. Each guest will leave with a small gift and refreshments will be provided.

Your organisation may like to use this opportunity to raise some funds and Susi Robin is happy to provide any further advice or information. She can be contacted on 528 3933 and will arrange a date and time for you.

KARATE CLASSES

It is a non-denominational, though Christian oriented, movement providing fun and fitness programmes including karate, gymnastics, camps and social functions. These are led by a team of qualified youth leaders, all black belt in karate.

Hopefully this can become a community venture involving both parents and children. For further particulars please contact Mrs Franklin on 527 5538 or Mrs Sarah on 211 9842.

YOUR LETTERS

Orrong Crescent
Madam, Re: BP Service Station, Orrong Crescent, North Caulfield.

As long time residents at the above address my family and I have suffered for many years from the cars blocking the footpath and dropping oil on to the footpath at the above service station (easily carried by feet on to our carpets).

Our joy at learning of the BP sale and rumours of a Council sponsored car park turned to horror when we learnt that the nuisance is to be continued with Council blessing in the form of a new owner with a planning permit from your council to continue.

This state of affairs is in direct contradiction of assurances given to residents by your Councillors, including Cr Max Blair, and your Town Planner that a permit would not pass to a new owner for such an obviously wrongly placed bowser, and in any case we all expected the car park.

Orrong Crescent residents have become accustomed to being badly treated by Council and to broken promises over the years, but this is too much.

When is a proper appraisal of the area going to be made and responsible action going to be taken to sort out the unworkable, unacceptable mess that at present exists at the north west end of Orrong Crescent?

These works were carried out without reference to the residents as was the removal of the beautiful avenue of oak trees which once graced the Crescent. Now we have had consultation and Council know the wishes of the residents, what do we find but an apparent disregard of their interests in the matter of the service station.

You will no doubt not be surprised that I propose to send a copy of this letter to the candidates for the next Council election and to the local newspapers.

Yours faithfully,
Robert Knott

Footnote: The recently completed neighbourhood study for this area incorporates extensive landscaping works which, if implemented, will include street planting at this Centre. This will also prevent the parking of vehicles adjoining this petrol filling station.

Meals-on-Wheels

Madam, Through the Caulfield Contact I would like to pay tribute to our meals-on-wheels.

The pioneers had warm hearts to think of such a wonderful social service which our Council has built upon year after year.

Workers in the kitchen send us tasty, nourishing meals at a low cost. Many of us would have to leave our homes if not for the honorary helpers who bring the meals so willingly to us.

When unable to greet a Helper at the door the meal is brought in to me with a kindly word and a cheerful smile.

Thank you,
Lilian Abbott, Carnegie.
