CAROLS BY CANDLELIGHT

Children join in the Annual City of Caulfield presentation of Carols by Candlelight.

There is something special about candlelight at Christmas. And it was a very special time as people young and old joined together to sing, once again, those favourite old Christmas carols.

The weather wasn't as kind as it could've been and the program had to be transferred from Caulfield Park to the Town Hall.

But spirits weren't dampened as the City of Caulfield Band accompanied the singing. Also featured in the program were the Caulfield City Choir, the Melbourne Youth Choir and the traditional folk harmony of the Goshawk Sings.

The Council offices will be closed over the Christmas/New Year period on Monday, 24th December, Tuesday, 25th December, Wednesday, 26th December, Monday, 31st December and Tuesday, 1st January, 1980.

CITIZENS ADVICE BUREAU

WILL ALMA — Magician

Will Alma, at the age of 75, has devoted his lifetime to magic and magicians.

He is a second generation magician and has encompassed every aspect of the art.

Will started his magical career against his parents' wishes by giving a performance at a Malvern church concert in December, 1918. Afterwards he joined a concert party and worked to improve his act.

From 1926 through to 1931 he toured the Victorian country towns with his own complete illusion show. The venture was most successful until the impact of travelling 'talkies' forced most vaudeville shows off the road.

The picture people "tied up" halls, thus making it almost impossible to book in. Not only that, but the manner in which the public flocked to this new form of entertainment made it foolish for "live" shows to compete.

Returning to Melbourne, Will turned his attention to the manufacture of high-class magical equipment and thus the highly respected Alma Magical Company was established.

From a shaky start the new venture steadily flourished as the dependability and quality of the products became known.

To own a piece of Alma equipment today is to have a cherished possession. The design and finish is of the highest order. Each piece has been made to ensure the requirements of a professional entertainer, by a magical craftsman who, through personal experience, knew just what was required of a magic prop.

Many well known magicians became his clients and Will can relate interesting experiences regarding some of his many patrons: Danta, Chefalo, Nicola, Chang, Lyle, Clark, Erickson, Piddington, Duval, Rooklyn and Levante to mention a few.

Whilst engaged in the manufacturing side of magic he continued to perform at social and vaudeville engagements. He holds the distinction of being the first vaudeville artist to travel by aeroplane to fulfil a variety engagement, flying from Melbourne to Hobart in order to do so.

He joined Levante for his Australian and New Zealand tour of "How's Tricks" as technical adviser and technician and after went to the Tivoli Theatre, working under the direction of Wallace Parnell. He remained with this management for three years.

After performing at U.S.O. shows for American army personnel in Queensland he returned to Melbourne and joined the Fuller-Carroll Circuit until ill-health forced a retirement.

When his strength returned, so did his interest in resuming cabaret appearances. Billed as the Suave Society Conjurer, he appeared at Melbourne's top hotels, a highlight of which was 25 weeks at the Chevron Cabaret.

In 1966, on a tour sponsored by the Australian Government, he performed in North Borneo, Hong Kong, Tokyo, Korea and Manila. In Korea a temperature of 36 degrees below zero was encountered, and his equipment had to be thawed out for the performances.

Will Alma has always been generous with his time and expertise. He has given many lectures and demonstrations and in his discussions he stimulated interest by performing, and then analysing, numerous tricks.

He has always aimed to improve the standard of magic, especially in its presentation. His generosity has extended beyond the bounds of Victoria, and the fraternities of Brisbane, Sydney and Adelaide have all been appreciative of his advice and gifts to them.

But Will is not only known to Australians. In 1954 he was elected a Member of the Magic Circle (London), and in 1958 was made a Gold Star Member of the Inner Magic Circle — the highest honour awarded by the magic fraternity.

Will Alma as audiences knew him.

Magic is fun for everyone

Fascinated children visit the 'W. G. Alma Conjuring Collection' on display until January 25, 1980 at the State Library.

Recently Will Alma retired from magic. He has donated his extensive collection of magicana to the Victorian State Library and it will be known as the 'W. G. Alma Conjuring Collection'.

This unique aggregation consists of over 1700 magic books, 7000 magazines, 800 photographs, innumerable programs, posters, catalogues and scrap-books and a collection of selected conjuring apparatus including a number of illusion models that have been built to scale from blueprints.

The pieces of apparatus and illusion models are individually boxed and include working instructions. The estimated value of the entire collection is nearly $50,000.

Will is now working harder than ever to ensure that everything in the collection is kept in first class order. He is cataloguing and indexing all the items and to prevent loss has bound the valuable magazines in their respective volumes.

He has compiled files on the prominent magicians of the past, complete with biographical details, photographs and other relevant matter and his poster collection has been mounted and preserved by the Library staff.

All of this points to a mammoth task undertaken in order to help future generations who will have cause to thank this Master Magician for his painstaking work. With first class references on every aspect of the art of magic in Australia since the theatre first came to Victoria, future researchers will have a much easier task.

Children and adults alike will delight in this State Library Exhibition. The display of Will's collection is in the Queen's Hall; it will continue until January 25, 1980 and is open to everyone.

Queen's Hall is located on the first floor of the Swanston Street building. This section of the State Library houses the art, music and performing arts collections.

A visit to the State Library will pleasantly fill a day of the school holidays.

We Were Wrong

In the report from Cyril Kennedy M.L.C. for Waverley Province in last month's 'Contact' he was incorrectly quoted.

The last paragraph should read: "As a member of my party's committee on local government, I am delighted that Caulfield Council, one of the State's leading municipalities, is at last receiving due recognition for its well known practical interest in public transport."

We apologise for the error.

Unemployment Report

The Committee which co-ordinated the Unemployment Forum held at the Caulfield Institute of Technology has submitted for Council's consideration a report on the Forum.

Mr Hampstead, co-ordinator of the study, in speaking about the report, advised that the Committee considered that what evolved from the Forum were ongoing proposals.

The report is to be referred to the Council's Principal Officers Management Team for further consideration, keeping in mind the recommendations contained in the report.

Mr Hampstead and all the others involved in the study and presentation of the report are to be congratulated on their efforts.

The report is being released for public comment and will be available from the Town Hall.

YARRA TOASTMISTRESS CLUB

Do you lack confidence?
Can you put your thoughts into words?

Toastmistress is an international organisation whose program helps women to develop poise, and to speak fluently and confidently.

This cheerful group of women welcomes anyone who goes watery at the knees at the thought of addressing a group, and provides a varied program in all types of impromptu and prepared speaking. Their motto is "To use our language with grace and facility."

Committee procedures and responsibilities of holding office are part of an entertaining program — so if you have something to say, but lack the know-how, come along to 'Yarra' at the corner of Dandenong Road and Glenferrie Street, Malvern on the second and fourth Monday of each month at 8 p.m.

For further information contact Kaye Smyth on 509 5982 or Effie Parish on 523 7712.

HELP PLAN CARNEGIE

Caulfield Council is currently undertaking a study of the Carnegie neighbourhood. This is the second in a series of such studies — the first was of the Orrong/Balaclava area and is now completed.

A summary of the results of the Carnegie Shopping Centre study is now available. Enquiries should be directed to Jan Urquhart or Sonia Bittelmann of the Planning Department. Telephone 524 3291.

Your Views Sought

The planners need help in understanding the needs and problems of the area. A randomly selected group of residents will be interviewed at length but the views of all people are sought.

News from Council

Flying of National Flags

The Council may, upon request, fly the flag of any ethnic group or organisation with representation in the City of Caulfield.

Provided that the nation is recognised and acknowledged for diplomatic purposes by the Australian Government its flag will be flown under certain conditions.

The organisation must, during January of each year, make its request, specifying the occasion, and the day and provide evidence of recognition by the Australian Government.

The group must either supply the flag or pay for the cost of its hiring and preference will be given to the flying of the flag on the appropriate national or founding day of the nation concerned.

Carnegie Shopping Centre

A meeting between members of the Carnegie Traders, Chamber of Commerce and planners from the Council is planned for Thursday, January 10 at the Town Hall at 6.30 p.m.

Improvements and plans for the centre will be discussed and an audio-visual on the subject will be presented.

The work on the shopping centre forms a part of the overall study of the Carnegie neighbourhood and residents are asked to submit ideas and needs they may have.

Setbacks from Street Alignments

It has been recommended that Council use discretionary control over reduced building setbacks. If an applicant wishes to take advantage of the flexibility of this policy he must demonstrate to the Council satisfaction that the design of the building or structure is of such a standard that a reduced setback is warranted.

To encourage off street car parking and if there is no other practical solution, well designed carports can be located closer to the street without detracting from the amenity of the area.

For new housing developments Council will be prepared to consider a variation in setbacks to encourage a more interesting streetscape.

Orrong/Balaclava

To reduce the amount of traffic that uses Orrong Crescent as a shortcut in peak times right-turning traffic will be prohibited from entering Orrong Crescent off the Inkerman Road intersection during the hours of 7.30 a.m. to 9 a.m. and at the Alma Road intersection during the hours of 4.30 p.m. to 6 p.m. This will apply from Monday to Friday for a trial period of two months.

During this period regular traffic monitoring studies will be undertaken to ascertain the effect of the prohibition and the police will be strictly enforcing it.

Neerim/Glenhuntly Roads Railway Crossings

The Minister of Transport, the Hon. R. R. Maclellan has advised Council that grade separation proposals for the rail level crossings at Glenhuntly and Neerim Roads will not proceed.

Mr Maclellan has taken note of the conclusions arrived at by Council's consultants, in particular the possible replacement of the existing railway gates with boom barriers, together with the construction of a roundabout in Neerim Road and has directed that investigation and design of these proposals go ahead.

Improvement works of these rail crossings should commence in the near future and it appears that VicRail could install boom barriers during 1981.

Council will be required to provide for one third of the cost of the works and will press the Government for a special allocation of funds from the Country Roads Board to put towards its share of the costs.

Support to Families in Special Need

As a result of the 15% increase in the fees to be charged at Council's Child Minding Centres some families may be placed in positions of hardship.

Council has recommended that an amount not exceeding $2500 will be set aside from the Child Care Reserve, for the financial year 1979/80, to subsidise families in special need attending child care centres.

Open Committee Meetings

Council's Executive Services and Permits Committee Meetings are open to the public and questions or comments on agenda items are permitted.

To overcome the problems of repetition, applicants or objectors are invited to submit a written presentation of comments or criticisms to be given at the meeting. This would ensure carefully prepared presentations and be less time-consuming.

The open committee meeting policy of Council has proved to be both successful in operation and useful in content. It reinforces Council's attitude towards resident participation and has received acclaim from resident and outside observer alike.

If you have an interest in the Carnegie area, please fill out the questionnaire below and return it to the Town Hall as soon as possible.

SENATOR GUILFOYLE IN HENTY

Compassion and efficiency in welfare delivery was the theme of Senator Margaret Guilfoyle when speaking recently to 150 local people in St. Giles Uniting Church Hall, Murrumbidgee.

As Federal Minister for Social Security, Senator Guilfoyle was delivering the fourth Max Fox Address. This annual event was established by the present Member for Henty, Mr Ken Aldred, as a tribute to his predecessor, Cr. Max Fox.

"In order to meet the objectives of providing both an efficient and a sensitive service", Senator Guilfoyle pointed out, "the Government has greatly increased resources to upgrade the Department's operations, and introduced new mechanisms to improve communication with the public."

Senator Guilfoyle indicated that one of the most important new approaches was regionalisation and upgrading of the Department's offices.

"As well as new offices", the Minister said, "regionalisation has involved upgrading the functions and accommodation of the network of existing offices. Your local office at Oakleigh is a case in point."

"In April the Oakleigh office moved into new premises to accommodate its staff which had been increased to allow complete local processing of all claims for benefits, pensions and allowances from local people. Prior to this change people sometimes had to travel to the city to settle outstanding claims."

Senator Guilfoyle concluded: "The inter-connections between welfare, public expenditures and the economy are often ignored."

"That is why there is a need to encourage a greater understanding of the welfare system through discussion and debate."

After Senator Guilfoyle's speech a lively question time was chaired by Mr Ray Peterson of Carnegie, Chairman of the Henty Electorate Committee of the Liberal Party.

As a mark of appreciation at the conclusion of the evening, Miss Faye McCormick of the Glenhantly Young Liberals presented Senator Guilfoyle with a sheaf of flowers.

1980 CLASSES

Enrolments will commence at 6.30pm on Wednesday February 6th for Caulfield Technical School's proposed TAFE classes for 1980.

Subjects include woodwork hobbies, art metal and welding, typing and driving skills (lectures).

For further details contact the Principal, Mr. R. L. Schlager, telephone 211 5766.

New Books

Listed below is a small selection of books recently added to the Caulfield/Malvern Regional Libraries.

Those which are not at your local library may be reserved and obtained on interlibrary loan.

Lady Blessington at Naples by M. G. Blessington. Lady Blessington presents a comprehensive and important picture of Naples, its society in the early nineteenth century and of the undying beauty of its neighbourhood, which cannot fail to interest and delight.

Blitzkrieg: from the rise of Hitler to the fall of Dunkirk by L. Deighton. An examination of the lightning war on the ground, but for which the Battle of Britain would never have been fought.

Australian plants for small gardens and containers by G. Elliot. A comprehensive and well-illustrated guide to the cultivation of Australian native plants.

A Hostage to Fortune by E. K. Gann. Ernest Gann, the famous novelist, pilot, sailor and film-maker has written an account of his own full and fascinating life.

Padre Padrone: the education of a shepherd by G. Ledda. The moving autobiographical story of furious opposition between man and nature, father and son.

Chopin by G. R. Marek. An impressive biography which reveals Chopin as a man of firm intellect and fiery passion and a musician of the highest order, who perfected his inspirations through constant, arduous revision.

Mathematical Games and Puzzles by T. Rice. This book, which is intended to stimulate an interest in mathematics for fun, includes puzzles, games, such as three dimensional noughts and crosses, and a section on mathematical tricks and illusions.

Barnardo by G. Wagner. Dr Barnardo, well known as the founder of the children's homes, has remained a shadowy figure in the history of social reform. This comprehensive biography, based on original material from the Barnardo archives, throws new light on his personality and work.

Home Help

Practical service and support is provided by Caulfield City Council's Home Help program for mothers with new babies. Emergency and post operative situations along with our elderly residents also receive care.

CAULFIELD COMMUNITY DAY

Street theatre, merry-go-rounds, clowns, new-games and face painting were the order of the day.

Once again Caulfield Community Day was a great success. Thanks are due to all those who participated.

Elderly Citizens Celebrate

The Ormond Elderly Citizens' Club held its end of year Christmas Party on November 26. Over 80 people attended including Cr Dorothy Ford, Ken Aldred, MP and Dr Gerard Vaughan, MP.

Guest speaker was Miss Jordan who showed slides of VicRail's trains.

The Club welcomes new members, both men and women, to join in their activities which include bowls, cards, billiards and outings.

If you would like to join this happy group you may contact the president, Mrs J. Smith, telephone 578 3655 or the club at 2 Newham Grove, Ormond, telephone 578 7653.

LACROSSE CHAMPS

Tennis Clinics

Tennis Clinics will be conducted at Glenhuntly Tennis Club commencing Monday, January 7th and at Elsternwick Park Tennis Centre commencing Monday, January 21st.

The clinics, organised by Geoff Jones will cater for juniors and adults. If you are interested, further information may be obtained by contacting the Glenhuntly Tennis Club on 783 9918 or the Elsternwick Park Tennis Centre on 531 6328.

After going through the season undefeated, Caulfield Technical School's Lacrosse team were victors in the grand final played against Sunshine Tech.

Coach, Maggie Dickson, is proud of the boys' outstanding effort against the nine other secondary schools in the competition.

Four of the boys from the team are also members of the Victorian U.16 team which won the national championship.

Well done boys (and coach) and good luck next season.

Remember to look after your pets over the holiday season.

Life. Be in it
Energy-saving
Hints:

If you're cold, try putting on more clothes.

Rather than being a four-car family, become a one-car four-bike family.

Try taking home-made lunches to work and avoid fast foods.

Try mowing the lawn with a hand mower. It's good fun and good exercise.

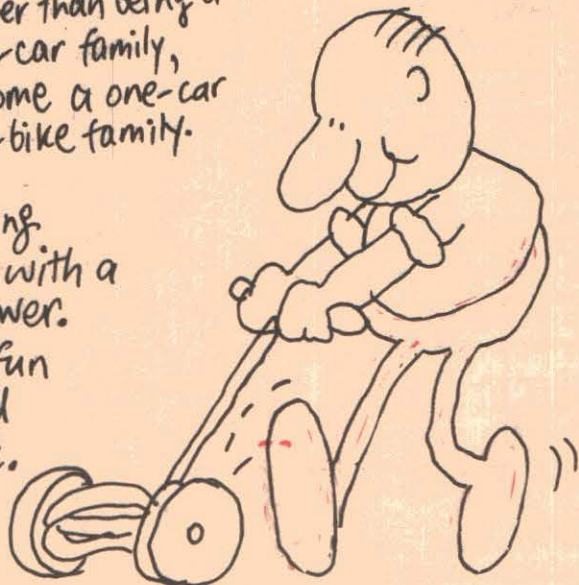

TABLE TENNIS CENTRE

The Caulfield Table Tennis and Leisure Centre has recently opened at 193 Balaclava Road (1st floor).

The Centre is open all day and goes through until midnight. Its aim is to foster table tennis as a sport in the Caulfield area.

It caters for beginners as well as professional table tennis players. Ladies' groups operate in the mornings and beginners are welcome. Dining facilities for patrons are available in pleasant surroundings and at reasonable prices.

Group or individual coaching is available and free coaching is offered to school groups and any school wishing to avail itself of this service or participate in inter-school table tennis competition is asked to contact the centre for further details.

A number of teams have been entered in the V.T.T.A. competition and vacancies still exist. So if you are interested in playing competition why not ring Lou Frydlander or Paul Bronstein on 527 2305.

Can you spare some flowers!

With Christmas just around the corner the staff at the Royal Southern Memorial Hospital is endeavouring to brighten up the wards and other rooms to create a festive atmosphere for the patients.

If you have any flowers you can spare from your garden for this purpose could you leave them at the reception desk at the Royal Southern Memorial Hospital, 260 Kooyong Road, Caulfield. Your assistance would be appreciated by patients and staff.

Be in it at the Caulfield Swimming Pool

Why not have a barbecue lunch or dinner at the pool, using one of the two electric barbecues which are available?

Or have a picnic on the lovely grassed area surrounding the pool. Kiosk facilities are available and the management and staff welcome you.

Swimming coaching is available at the pool after school from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. or from 9 a.m. to 12 noon during school holidays. The coach, Mr John Beddoe may be contacted at the pool on 211 8143 or a.h. on 592 6193.

ROAD CLOSURE

TEMPORARY CLOSURE OF MAPLE STREET
JANUARY 14TH TO 25TH BOTH INCLUSIVE

Notice is hereby given under Section 539A 2(d) of the Local Government Act of the intention to temporarily close Maple Street, Caulfield from January 14th to 25th, 1980.

The temporary closure is being carried out for the Council Holiday Program at the Community Centre.

G. K. CALDER
CITY MANAGER

Caulfield Contact — Page 7

Caulfield Hospital

During his visit to Caulfield Hospital on November 19th, The Hon. W. A. Borthwick, M.P., Minister of Health inspected several of the wards and departments.

He saw the functioning of the Cardiac Unit and talked with several patients and staff about the latest techniques in cardiac rehabilitation. He was impressed with the success rate the unit is achieving in returning people to employment.

Mr Borthwick also saw several of the old wards and conceded that they were in very old condition. He stated that mental health and geriatric services were two areas that he considered should be given priority and that Caulfield Hospital was an example of what he has frequently said in the past.

Mr Borthwick said he would be doing everything possible to ensure that these areas received greater attention in the future as their development would ease the load on major acute hospitals.

Mr Borthwick also discussed developments in Caulfield Hospital with members of the Committee of Management and senior staff.

Mr. Borthwick seen chatting with the Director of Nursing, Miss Nan Pendergast, and the Manager, Mr. John Quine, in the Day Room of Ward 10.

CHRISTMAS FUNDRAISING

Mrs. Campbell collects her prize at the annual Christmas luncheon and card party for the Caulfield Auxiliary of the Queen Victoria Hospital. This hardworking group of ladies raised $612 on this occasion.

What to do!

If residents become aware of any dead animals left lying in the streets Council would appreciate being notified.

The Depot may be contacted on 524 3266 and someone will be sent to remove it. This service is also available after hours.

If the animal is injured you may contact the Lort Smith Animal Hospital in North Melbourne, telephone 328 3021.

The Hospital operates an animal ambulance for pets whose owners have no suitable transport to the hospital. A charge of $3 is made for this service.

Transport Information Centre.
Telephone 653 3611 for metropolitan information.

'Road Courtesy'

The Ormond-Caulfield Union of the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Victoria would like to urge all citizens to display "Road Courtesy" during the Christmas season.

There is one sure way to do this — celebrate certainly — but use only non-alcoholic beverages. There are many varieties like the recipe below and supermarkets and milk bars carry stocks of these pleasant tasting drinks.

GRAPE PUNCH

1 cup grape juice, fresh or bottled

1 cup lemon juice

1 cup orange juice

1/2 cup pineapple juice

Dissolve three quarters of a cup of sugar in two quarts of boiling water; cool, then add juices.

Serve icy cold.

Garnish with sultana grapes in season, or with lemon or orange slices.

Protect Your Home These Holidays

Are you inviting a burglar into your home?

Although it is not possible to completely burglar-proof your home, you can take steps to protect your family and property by reducing the opportunities for a burglar to break in.

FOIL THE BURGLAR

- Install mortice dead locks on outside doors.
- Install a security door chain and spy-hole.
- Keep doors and screen doors locked at all times.
- Provide outside illumination.
- Install automatic timer to turn on lights if you are out.
- Keep your garage locked.
- Don't leave a ladder or tools lying around.
- Don't leave your valuables lying around.
- Keep a record of all serial numbers of your property.
- Apply your own mark on all other items.
- Don't leave keys under the mat or in other obvious places.
- If keys are lost, change locks.
- If you are away from home cancel all deliveries, such as milk, newspapers, etc. Have a friend mow the lawn and sweep the paths once a week.
- Have your post office hold all mail until you return.
- Leave your shades and blinds as you normally do, closed blinds made an effective screen for the burglar.
- Buy merchandise only from bonafide dealers. Buying 'bargains' on the street may mean you're buying stolen merchandise. Stop the burglar's sales outlet.
- Don't be a victim.
- Help the police help you.
- Increase police patrol power by being observant and reporting suspicious persons loitering about your neighbourhood. If they are in a car, write down the registration number.
- FOR EMERGENCY POLICE AID CALL 662 0911 or 000.
