HOSTEL PROJECT C His Worship the

Mayor of Caulfield, Cr M. R. Blair, J.P., of-ficially signified the commencement of work on the Ames Avenue Hostel for the Aged at a "Sod Turning" Ceremony on Sunday, 23rd March. The Ames Avenue

Hostel is a project of the Caulfield City Council aimed at providing supportive residential care for elderly residents of the City who are unable to cope with independent living.

The Hostel will comprise 50 individual bedsitting rooms, each with its own en-suite facility and, while not a nursing home, supervisory staff will be on duty 24 hours a day to provide assistance as required.

Priority for placement is being given to past or current residents of the City of Caulfield. Final plans for the Hostel are available at the Town Hall and if you are interested in entering the Ames Avenue Hostel at some time in the future, or require further information, please contact the Social Development Department on 524 3333.

HISTORICAL ECOGNI

The Caulfield Historical Society has recently made application to the Historical Building Preservation Council for Trinity Congregational Church in Grange Road, Glenhuntly to be added to the Council's Register of Historical buildings.

This Church which has been described as "timber building of American character" was first built by early Methodists in South Melbourne during 1885, and later moved in two pieces, by horse-drawn wagons to its present site in Glenhuntly.

It was officially opened for services on October 16, 1909. The land for the Church in Grange Road was purchased through a gift of 100 pounds by Mr G. Mercy.

The Church has operated for Congregational worship until recently, recently, when they amalgamated with the Methodists and Presbyterians to form the Uniting Church of Australia. The building was recently classified by the National Trust.

The Caulfield Historical Society meets on the third Wednesday of each month, in the upstairs staff room at the Town Hall and new members are always welcome.

Further information regarding the activities of the Society may be obtained from Mrs F. Campbell phone 523 9228 or Mr R. Ballantyne on 578 3145.

At the official commencement of the Ames Avenue Hostel Project, the Mayor of Caulfield, Cr. Max Blair gets down to work. Mayor's Secretary Mr Perc Burdeu holds the jacket while the Mayor breaks the soil and plants a tree to mark the occa-

STAN MARKS — Caulfield Journalist

Did you know that it wasn't really Captain Cook who discovered Australia? According to Stan Marks a Caulfield Journalist, Montague Mouse, travelling in Captain Cook's pocket tugged on the Captain's sleeve and pointed out Point Hicks as they were passing.

Most history books and school teachers leave Montague out of the story of Australia's beginnings, but the many children who have listened to the long-playing record of Montague's travels, written by Stan, are no longer unenlightened. They have heard that when the rum was being rationed out to the sailors Montague only got fruit juice - well you don't give a mouse rum - particularly Montague. They have heard of the important role he played in Australia's early days.

Absurd you may say. But what a good way to teach children the heritage of their country. And children are important to Stan. He has written many stories about, or for children. These include three books in a British series one of which has been translated and published in Danish and another in Hebrew.

'Animal Olympics' inspired by visit to Melbourne Zoo is a delightful tale of the trials and tribulations of the runners in the animal mile. It is popular with many young children and is il-lustrated by Jeff Hook.

Stan Marks is married and has lived in Caulfield for 18 years. He was born in London, but has been in Australia from the age of two and feels that Australia has a lot to offer. It is an uncluttered country in a very cluttered world. "But I wonder how long we can maintain what we have", says Stan.

One of the most satisfying things that he feels he has done is "selling Australia". At present in work with the Australian Tourist Commission, Stan is involved in their makers. volved in their publications, films, and publicity, liaising between the six offices throughout the world.

With his love of Australia it is not surprising to find another string to Stan's bow. He has written about the Melbourne he loves and grew up in.

"50 years of achievement" looks at the history of the Elwood Scout Troop and "Is she fair dinkum" is a biography of his wife, much of which is set in Caulfield.

Just launched, is Stan's 8th book, "St Kilda Sketchbook". While sections of the community are heavily critical of the area Stan sees St Kilda as one of the more progressive and independent areas of 'Marvelous Melbourne'. "It has long had a reputation as a fun centre among locals, interstate visitors and even inter-national travellers", says Stan "and is one of Australia's most cosmopolitan areas.' With artist Bill Brodie, Stan has captured the St. Kilda of Yesterday and Today, providing interesting reading for people who know the area well or who have merely made a fleeting

Other books he is working on include a Sketchbook on Malvern and Armadale and one which will be of great interest to many - "Melbourne for Kids" a family guide to Melbourne.

When asked why he writes

Stan's reply was:

"It's a challenge. Ever since I was 10 years old I have been saying — I'll show you, I'll show you all. And I've been showing them all ever since." all ever since.'

In his earlier years he worked for the Ballarat Courier, the Melbourne Herald, newspapers in U.K. and Canada and for some time was the New York correspondent for Sydney papers and magazines.

Stan was an originator of the Commonwealth Arts Festival and his ideas on youth brought him a coveted invitation to the White House Conference on Youth.

The newly formed Caulfield The newly formed Cauffield Theatre Group used one of Stan Marks' plays in its first workshop and play-reading. It served to show him, he felt, that it was no good, so he rewrote it and the play
"Thunder on Anzac Grove" is now with The Melbourne

Writing for the theatre is no new phenomenon for Stan. Many years ago, he came third, with Patrick Tennyson, well known radio commentator and journalist, in a Queensland Drama Society Competition. The prize-winning play "The Common Man at U.N.O" is in-dicative of Stan's social awareness. It is about an every day, ordinary man who stood up in the United Nations to ask if the people there were worried about the world, the common people, or merely concerned with personal power.

"We need to understand each other", says Stan, "Beyond the personal level even municipalities must understand one another — we are, after all, part of one city. If we can't achieve this, how can we hope for under-standing within the State, the Country or the World. There have been wars since the dawn of history. When is it all going to stop?"

When looking at his achievements Stan is quite philosophical. Whilst he feels that his travels and writings are aimed at fostering understanding between people it is difficult to gauge any real achievements in this area.

"What really has one done?"

Stan has many ideas for the future, "Tve got ideas I will never use, I mess around and waste time, I am a T.V. addict, I will never run out of ideas.

Caulfield is proud to have Stan Marks as a resident and is proud of his achievements.

Congratulations and good wishes for the future.

Volunteer Helpers

Do you have some spare time when you could visit a sick or lonely person in your neighbourhood?

Could you sometimes help by shopping for such a person? Could you sometimes provide transport to take a frail or elderly person shopping or to an important appointment?

If you can help in any of these ways, the Caulfield Citizens' Advice Bureau would like to hear from you.

Volunteers are needed from all parts of Caulfield, but particularly in the North Caulfield and Elsternwick areas.

If you would like more information or if you can join our team of voluntary helpers, please phone the Bureau at 524 3200 or call at the Bureau Office at the rear of the Caulfield Town Hall, between 10.00 a.m. and 3.00 p.m. or 7.00 - 9.00 p.m. Monday to Friday.

nterpreters Needed

How is your Pushtu? If you are fluent in this or one of 27 other languages, you may be able to get part-time work with the Telephone Interpreter Service in Melbourne.

The 24-hour multilingual in-formation and referral service needs part-time interpreters fluent in at least one of the following languages, as well as English.

Albanian, Armenian, Bulgarian, Bengali, Burmese, Cambodian, Chinese, Estonian, Flemish, Hebrew, Hindi, Indonesian, Korean, Latvian, Lithuanian, Macedonian, Nepalese, Persian, Pushtu (Afghan), Punjabi, Portuguese, Rumanian, Russian, Tamil, Tagalog (Filipino), Ukrainian, Urdu and Yiddish.

The interpreters selected will join a team of more than 400 other "on call" interpreters in Melbourne.

The minimum requirement for successful appointees is Level 2 accreditation by the National Accreditation Authority for Translators and Interpreters (NAATI).

Applications should be made to: The Officer-in-Charge, Telephone Interpreter Service, Department of Immigration and Ethnic Affairs, Commonwealth Centre, corner Spring and La Trobe Street, Melbourne, Victoria 3000. Inquirers can telephone Melbourne 669 2533.

Budget Advisory Service

The Caulfield Community Service is pleased to introduce its newly established budget advisory

It has been formed in association with Caulfield Citizens' Advice Bureau which is a voluntary, non profit organization assisting local resi-

THE BUDGET ADVISORY SERVICE

- Aims to educate families to manage their own finances in-
- Works in conjunction with other local services e.g. Free Legal Service etc.
- Does not lend money
- It's free and confidential.

Clients are usually in substantial debt, but anyone who wishes to learn to manage their money may apply.

They are taught simple methods of budgeting and agree, upon seeking the help of the service, to be guided by its advice.

Whilst clients are still basically responsible for their own funds, advisers work with the family to devise a budget which incorporates payment of all their financial commitments and allows for saving.

These advisors are trained, reliable volunteers recruited from the local community. They are given instruction on the special needs of families in debt and regularly visit the family home.

Creditors are usually willing to accept small monthly payments from the Service's clients as there is every chance that these accounts will eventually be paid in full.

If you would like help or further information from the Budget Advisory Service, please phone 524 3272 at any time and leave your name, address or telephone number. You will then be contacted by an advisor from the Service.

"CHILDREN AT RISK"

Child Maltreatment Study Available

This Child Maltreatment Study was a project jointly sponsored and funded by the Caulfield City Council and the Caulfield Quota Club (which donated $2,500 towards the costs). It was initiated by the growing awareness by Council Welfare Staff of the incidence of child maltreat-

The purpose of the study was two-fold; first, to consider the predisposing factors involved in families who presented with child maltreatment problems and discussion of what preventative action might be taken; and second, to attempt to determine the attitude of professionals working within the community, towards recognition and prevention of child maltreatment.

The Study revealed, among other things, that parents who themselves were maltreated as children or who were deprived of adequate parenting, had not learn't positive parenting skills. Smaller families without sup-port from relatives or the community and those under social pressures like unemployment were found to be at great risk of maltreating their children.

The second aspect of the study included interviewing people in-volved in health, education, social work and related profes-

It was found that in most cases professional people were reluctant to admit to involvement in child maltreatment cases or they were not sufficiently aware of the problem to recognise it.

However, after further discussion, it was found that more than 75% of these people had been in contact with families with child abuse problems.

They also expressed a reluctance to take concrete action in many cases and were unclear about their own role in both the preventative and aftercare of children and families involved.

Friendships Develop Through Caring

A Vietnamese family from South Melbourne was invited to participate in the annual South Eastern Regional swimming sports of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latterday Saints and surprised and pleased everyone by winning several blue ribbons between them.

The younger members of the family have found new friends at the Caulfield Church Youth Group, which meets weekly at the church.

Mrs. Toni Kletecka women's leader of the group said that the boys were thrilled to be included in the sports, and enjoyed participating mainly because they felt accepted.

She added that they all attended local High Schools and work long hours at their studies trying to master the language and gain an education.

Dung who is a karate expert has offered to give tuition to the church boys while his sister Phuong is preparing to teach the young people how to cook a special Vietnamese dish.

The family have been hosted by a church family who first met them at the Springvale Hostel. Both families have developed strong bonds of friendship and have come to appreciate and understand one another.

Open Letter To The Citizens of Caulfield

Friends,

Since their admission to the V.F.A., the Caulfield Football Club has received scant recognition or support from the business houses or the citizens of Caulfield.

Our most comprehensive campaigns to stimulate local interest and enthusiasm, including a Mayoral Appeal conducted by my vice-president, Councillor Geoff. Patience, have achieved minimal results.

We strive hard to present a good image and to bring credit to the City of Caulfield. In 1973 we completed the Grand Slam winning premierships in Firsts, Seconds, and Thirds.

Since being promoted to First Division we were semi-finalists in 1976 and finished in fifth place last season.

The club provides healthy recreation for the youth of Caulfield. We sponsor a local Scout competition, we arrange for local primary schools to play curtain raisers to our senior games, and we also conduct coaching clinics for the local youngsters.

Opposing us are powerful and commercially sponsored teams such as Prahran, Preston and Dandenong, whose local citizens support them to the hilt. Are these suburbs more affluent, more civic minded or better sports than the people of Caulfield — I think not!

There are many ways in which you may support your local senior football team. We conduct Bingo games at the Town Hall at 7.45 p.m. each Monday evening and also at 12 noon each Wednesday.

We would also welcome new faces at our games to encourage and support the loyal players who perform so well. I make this personal appeal to every Citizen of Caulfield to make 1980 the year of the Bear by completing and posting the application for membership, provided below.

A season ticket or tickets will be forwarded to you by return mail. Thanking you in anticipation. Yours sincerely,

News from Council

Federal Government Funding

One of the Caulfield Child Care Centres was chosen as part of a state wide survey conducted by Community Child Care to demonstrate the inadequacy of the present funding formula. The Office of Child Care (Department of Social Security) indicated that they are working on new funding arrangements and the survey was conducted to help pinpoint areas of difficulty experienced by centres under the existing funding arrangement.

If a new funding formula is agreed upon by the Federal Government it will greatly relieve the financial pressure on both the Centres and Local Government.

Mini-Park for Carnegie

It is hoped that this area will be well utilized by shoppers, workers and residents as a focal point of the centre.

New Roundabouts

Application has been made to RoSTA for approval to install roundabouts at the intersections of Almond and Sycamore Streets with Jasmine Street.

New Use for Metal Detectors

Parks and Gardens staff really weren't looking for gold in the Outer Circle Railway Reserve in Murrumbeena. They were hunting for the sprinkler valve outlets which weren't where people thought they were. Short of digging up the area it was thought that this would be the most efficient way of finding the nine points.

Full marks to the ingenuity of the staff, but it is a pity they didn't find a nice big nugget of gold as well.

Amusement Machines

Support is being given by Council to the City of Broadmeadows in its endeavours to have the Local Government Act amended with regard to amusement machines. It seeks to permit councils to ness a by law. permit councils to pass a by-law controlling installation of pin ball and similar type amusement machines within a municipality.

New Committee for Community Day

Caulfield Community Day, this year, is to be organised by a committee of representatives, from community groups. They will be charged with the major responsibility of organising the day and will work in conjunction with the Coursil with the Council.

It is time for community groups to give thought to their plans for involvement in this year's Community Day.

Plans for Arbour Day

The Rosanna Street Reserve will be the site for Arbour Day celebrations this year. Plans have been drawn up to provide for passive recreation in the area with attractive landscaping and planting.

Orrong/Balaclava Area

Following completion of a trial right turn entry ban into Orrong Crescent from Inkerman Road and Alma Road, a second trial has now been commenced.

Total bans on right turns have been implemented and three trial roundabouts have been constructed at the intersections of Orrong Crescent with Orrong Grove, Marlborough Street and Cobden Street. A fourth roun-dabout at Ercildoune Street is currently awaiting RoSTA approval.

Regional Animal Shelters

Council is supporting the R.S.P.C.A. principle of the development of regional animal shelters. ## TRIAL GARBAGE SYSTEM

One of the major responsibilities of the Caulfield City Council is to provide facilities for the collection and disposal of all garbage and unwanted material in the City.

Investigation into more efficient alternative methods are constantly being undertaken and to this end, a trial system is to be tested in the Elsternwick area at no cost to Council or ratepayers.

The trial will be carried out over a six-week period and will involve the use of large plastic bins which will be collected once a week.

The bins will be supplied to Council by the manufacturer who will cover any costs incurred These sturdy, 240 litre plastic bins, offer ease of mobility, sanitary tight fitting lids and offer resistance to dogs, flies and vandalism. The increased capacity of the bins provides for the disposal of large items of garbage and garden refuse along with normal household rubbish.

Residents of the Elsternwick area will be invited to join in this test and respond to Council with their views on the system.

Instead of a dirty unsightly mess . . .

An auxiliary refuse service which the Council provides is that for garden refuse. Until recently this had catered for other materials as well, but has had to be restricted back to the Council's original intention of providing an area within the City where residents could deposit grass cuttings and garden clipp-

Tipping charges for a car bootload of garden refuse or a plastic bag of clippings have remained constant at $1.00 and

The cost of trailer loads has been increased to $5.00 on the basis that the Council provides a once a year hard rubbish collection in which unburnable rubbish can be put out for collection. Given this service it is unlikely that a resident would have to use a trailer to dispose of garden refuse more than once or twice a year.

It was necessary to re-examine this service because of escalating costs (upwards of $60,000 per year) and lack of space for large amounts of material.

The Council provides tipping facilities in Heatherton Road by arrangement with the Oakleigh City Council for other materials.

Books

Listed below is a small selection of the books recently added to the Caulfield-Malvern Regional Libraries.

Those which are not at your local library may be reserved and obtained on inter-library loan.

Tomorrow's World looks to the Eighties: by M. Blakstad. An entertaining but thought-provoking guidebook to the 1980's, with information on advances in medicine, electronics, computers, telecommunications and the world's energy resources.

The Complete Book of Woodburning Stoves. by D. Ivins. The rising cost of fuel and the continuing energy crisis have prompted people to conserve fuel, and savings may be made by the use of woodburning stoves. This handbook discusses the factors involved in the selection, installation and maintenance of stoves, and the types of wood to be used.

Joe Wilson's Mates: 56 stores from the prose works of Henry Lawson.

The Rabin Memoirs: by Y. Ravin. In his facinating memoirs General Yitzhak Rabin reveals for the first time many important details of military and political significance about his country's war-torn history and its quest for peace, and he also comments on the re-cent Peace Treaty with Egypt.

A Screen of Time: a study of Luchino Visconti: By M. Stirling. A comprehensive study which describes the extraordinary range of Visconti's achievements in theatre, opera and film.

The Diaries of Ethel Turner, compiled by Philippa Poole. Ethel Turner's daughter has selected the most interesting events from the author's diaries, written between 1889 and 1930.

One-pot Cooking: By P. Westland. A rich and imaginative variety of one-pot recipes for crock pots, pressure cookers, steamers and casseroles.

THE LAST OF THE HORSE AND CART MEN RETIRES

After almost twenty eight years of service to the Caulfield City Council, Mr Allan Hutchinson has retired.

Twenty five years of his time in Caulfield has been spent on garbage collection. He has seen many changes in this time and remembers vividly, the days of the horse-drawn garbage carts.

Those were the days when it took all day to do the rounds, included lunch and tea breaks and you didn't return to the Depot until the round was finished and everything picked up. There was no sorting things out then: Allan maintains that this is still the best, most efficient way to collect garbage.

From horse-drawn vehicles Allan graduated to what was affectionately known as the "Trampy Truck". With this system the men had to climb into the garbage container and tramp down the garbage to get more in. Many were the sore toes and cut feet in those days.

Allan will not only be missed by his work mates, but also by many of his regular customers who came to know him as he did

Along the route, if someone needed a hand or had a job that needed doing, people knew that they could rely on Allan to help them when the round was

But he is not going to take his retirement laying down. Allan, a keen gardener, is going to help out around the grounds of a Caulfield Girls School and also teach the girls how to pot shrubs, grow seedlings and generally learn gardening skills.

Congratulations Allan, on your years of service, and best wishes for the future.

RDENERS

The Horticultural Department of Oakleigh Technical School, a major training centre for horticultural apprentices, will be open for inspection to the general public from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., on Sunday April 13.

The school is located on the corner of North and Poath Roads with the main entrance to the Horticultural Department at gate 3 in Poath Road.

The day will feature demonstrations and displays covering many aspects of the four trades: Gardening, Nursery, Landscape Gardening and Turf Management.

Youth Speak Gaulfield for Australia: Jaycees "CHANGING AUSTRALIA

Every pub philosopher can be heard giving his opinion of how to make Australia a better place to live. Their sometimes ill-founded speech-making almost always falls on nodding heads - but deaf ears.

Chariot of the Gods?

Caulfield Jaycees snapped up the winners trophy for the annual Port

Racing a thoroughbred painstakingly prepared custom built chariot, in the red and white colours of the City of Caulfield, the Jaycees of the Caulfield Chapter, took on all comers at the annual picnic day Chariot

After three exhausting 'test of fitness' circuits of the marked course, the local team romped home to win by 50 metres.

Next outing of the well-proven team will be on Good Friday, when the Jaycees will pull the same chariot from Caulfield to the Herald Office in the City, collecting donations along the way for the Royal Childrens Hospital Appeal.

Well, young people at secondary schools, who may later in life want to put their thoughts into practice have a chance to speak their mind in public to a listening audience. listening audience.
The Jaycees are conducting an Australia wide public speaking contest for secondary students called 'Youth Speak — For Australia'. The theme in 1980 is 'Changing Australia My Way', and almost anything goes within this theme.

Contestants are sought to represent secondary schools in the Caulfield area, and finals will be conducted to choose a representative from Caulfield to compete in the regional final, which will be a prestige event in Caulfield, organised by the Caulfield Jaycees.

Winners of each stage will receive prizes and trophies, and state finalists will be flown to Brisbane in September for the national final which will be televised nationally.

AFTER SCHOOL PROGRAMS

The Caulfield Community Centre, 6 Maple Street, Caulfield South, organise an After-School Program, Monday, Wednesday and Friday starting at 3.30 to 5.30 p.m.

During these times fully supervised activities are provided covering areas such as Art and Craft, Physical Education, General Games and Trampolining. Approximately once every three weeks the Centre arranges special activities such as cooking and

TENNIS COACHING

Is also available through the After-School Program. This enables all children to experience the game of tennis, and to learn the basic techniques and rules. As the coaching is part of the Program there is no extra charge.

Tennis coaching times are Wednesday and Friday from 4.00 to 5.00 p.m. and each Friday a competition is held for all children attending the Program.

The cost for the After-School Program is 30c each afternoon. The atmosphere is informal, and children are encouraged to participate, but not forced and are free to create their own games or take part in organised activities.

For further enquiries please contact Ron, Denise or Jenny at the Centre phone 524 3288 or 524 3298.

JUNIOR FITNESS TIMES

Any children interested in improving their level of fitness come along to the sessions. Supervised calisthenics and resistance training is available and the times are Wednesday, 6.00 p.m. Thursday 6.00 p.m. and Saturday 10.30 a.m.

DISCO FIT

Times are Monday 10.00 - 11.00 a.m., Thursday 6.00 - 7.00 p.m. and the fee is $2.00 casual. Disco fit is proving very popular for the young and not-so young. Monday sessions are now catering for the more mature

TENNIS COURTS

As from the 1st April both courts at the end of Brooklyn Avenue can be hired on a casual basis, one week in advance of the time of playing. Court charges are as follows: DAY HIRE — Senior $3.00, Junior $1.50.

EVENING HIRE - Senior $3.50, Junior $2.00.

ADULT FITNESS CLUB

Due to an excessive response for the facilities available at the Centre times for fitness programs have been altered slightly to cater for the demand. The times are as follows:

LADIES, Monday 8.00 p.m., Wednesday 8.00 p.m., Thursday 7.00 p.m. and Saturday 9.00

MEN, Monday 8.30 p.m., Wednesday 8.30 p.m. Thursday 7.30 p.m. and Saturday 9.00

The casual fee is $1.50.

Fitness sessions are preceded by a 30-minute warm-up calisthenic program followed by a supervised resistance and jogging training.

Both ladies and men can use this variable resistance unit as weights are simply altered by re-allocation of a pin.

This eliminates any danger of dropping weights and any unnatural posture movements sometimes inherent when lifting.

The Centre would also like to hear from anybody wishing to participate in an early morning (pre-work) exercise program that is being considered at the mo-

Sessions would operate from 6.30 a.m. to 8.15 a.m. The course would be designed to accommodate those unable to attend evening sessions. Emphasis would be placed on toning up muscles especially around the stomach and arms. Sessions would be mixed, numbers allowing and a simple breakfast would be supplied.

Anyone interested please ring the centre and leave your name and address.
