Discrimination to end at Racecourse

That famous "ParLOUR Code" at Caulfield Racecourse is in the process of being completely revised as a result of the movement for women from August 1 after discriminatory rules were removed from the rule book.

Women will soon have the right to become full members of the Racecourse, a privilege previously only allowed to men.

The decision was made by the Council which supports the change in the rules of the Victorian Amateur Turf Club. The suggestion was put to the members of the club who voted in favor of allowing women to become members.

The battle isn't over yet! To become a member a person has to be nominated and seconded by a person already a member of the Racecourse.

Waiting Time

There is a fifteen month waiting period to become a provisional member, then there is another four or five years before you can become a full member.

Provisional members are not entitled to vote, and they do not have access to the members' area on Cup Day.

But it seems it's worth the wait. Members, after paying their $100 entrance fee, are entitled to a personal medalion, two guest tickets, car-parking space and, of course, their own special section with a bar and a table.

Amusement Parlor Code put to the test

There has been an upsurge in the popularity of amusement parlors with the emphasis changing from pinball to video machines.

At a local level this trend has caused growing concern for the possible negative social affects these amusement centres may be having on young people.

As a result of a study completed in 1980 the Council has developed a code of regulations to ensure that amusement parlors in the City of Caulfield meet adequate standards.

This code has certainly been put to the test of late. At a meeting of the Executive Services Committee earlier this month, two amusement parlors were under discussion and two others were facing prosecution.

Each was considered on its own merits and measured against the standards required by the Amusement Parlor Code.

The first application was to renovate a vacant building to accommodate 20 amusement machines and a pool table. The area is zoned Service Business but is adjacent to some residents' properties and close to schools.

It was first advertised by a previous applicant in July 1981; 259 objections were lodged and the permit was refused. This fresh application received 27 objections, a list of 80 signatures and letters to the principal and parents' club of the Caulfield Primary School.

Caulfield's Amusement Parlor Code does not allow for such developments in close proximity to schools or residential areas and the application therefore was refused.

A second application was for the review of a permit issued in July 1981, subject to certain conditions. These conditions related to the hours of opening and the original permit was for 12 months only, with the Council to review the decision after this time.

The year has elapsed and all conditions have been met. Request was also made for an extension to the opening hours.

It appears that the premises have been well run and no complaints have been received over the 12 months of operation. The parlor is located in a non-retail area and, having regard to the midnight closing of similar establishments, an extension of hours of operation was considered reasonable. A permit for a further 12 months of operation was approved because the code has been complied with.

If a parlor operates without a permit or does not comply with the conditions laid down when the permit is issued, then the business is liable for prosecution. Two such cases have recently been listed in Caulfield.

Planning Appeals Upheld

When the Council refuses to issue a permit to an applicant he has the right to appeal to the Planning Appeals Tribunal to have the decision reversed.

Two such appeals have recently been upheld by the board.

The decision to allow the Stratia subdivision of an existing brick pad prompted a Council request for review of its Stratia Subdivision Policy.

The applicant was unable to appeal to be upheld concerned extensions to a Panel Busting Workshop.

The Council felt these extensions would only consolidate the existing non-conforming use of the property and prejudice the proper development of the area.

The Board, however, considered the extensions would in no way aggravate the situation but would serve only to make working conditions more comfortable.

Details of application to the Board are outlined on the back of the notice of refusal but queries may be directed to the Town Planning section at the Town Hall. Telephone 574 3323.

Accommodation with "protection"

Madam, I do not know Miss Kete had to read her letter in the recent Contact, with interest and with regret.

At the same time it is disappointing to read the editorial comment on her letter, with its mention of "low rental housing accommodation". Miss Payne has described, clearly and accurately, the hopes of many elderly residents, the worries of many more.

We are not hoping for low rental accommodation but we are hoping for accommodation which is meaningful, not just to be rented, but to be owned and maintained.

We need protection from the vagaries of private tenancy. The type of accommodation which is described as "low rental housing accommodation" is one which is affordable not because we are unwilling to pay for maintenance, but because we cannot afford the cost of living in a house to which we own the freehold. We cannot or will not supervise the work of maintenance and repairs which is necessary for a satisfactory standard.

Weekend Trading

Madam, I note the view of the Carnegie Chamber of Commerce and Industry against weekend trading (27/5). However, I have no purpose in not sharing the major concerns of the Carnegie and elsewhere in the metropolitan area.

Certainly they are not shared by many of the residents in Caulfield.

The Age poll 29% showed 74% of the population in favor of weekend trading, by small stores - already a feature in all states.

By the weekend of the 3rd and 4th July I collected over 19,000 signatures - the vast majority of the Caulfield residents - in favor of weekend trading and a subcommittee was formed.

At present goods are freely available from any country centre beyond 32 kilometres of the L.P.O.D., and from Eltham, Waverley, Sandringham and St Kilda.

In addition there are the numerous used goods markets and garage sales that proliferate throughout the metropolitan area.

Already any shop is able to open 24 hours a day from midnight Sunday until 1.00 p.m. on Monday. We could extend these hours, and perhaps even have a shopper in residence who can supervise the work of maintenance, so that we need not be afraid of finding people to do the work of maintenance, nor can we supervise the work of repairs ourselves.

The new Logo accurately, the needs and described, clearly and sensibly helps to give us greater confidence in this area.

"Just a thought"

by Ian Brain

Ian Brain is a Caulfield City Council's Sales Officer. He is also involved in the Caulfield Fete. He has planned for later this year and it will be known among young people in Caulfield at a "person concerned about the "multi-use room" problem that exists in our society.

Sitting outside the "Heart and Soul Cafe" a local venue for young people, 21-year-old Michael Lindsay from Harvest House contemplated his navel.

He is an intelligent young man who, like many of his friends is facing an uncertain future. What are the lessons of good work skills, and is gifted in his personal economics, he has a problem. He is unemployed.

From this, I can see that as an individual, I share the unemployment problem with the rest of the community, and more importantly, I can do something to do my little bit to help, in concert with many of our playing our part, to help ease our employment problem.

There are many young people (male or female) who share Michael’s difficulty of being unemployed. The former tend to lump them all together and call them ‘the unemployment problem.’

Despite the Chamber’s comments, you are able to see your solicitor or counsellor at an affordable fee. To "Contact", provide sound feedback for both suitcases.

The papers, the politicians and the public are interested about the community’s unemployment problem.

They berate each other, and look for reasons of themselves about doing something, as we can as a community do something about the unemployment problem.

It is unemployment really the employment issue, most of the individual - up to the individual's ability, and to a special interest, and the pressure driving the social electorate.

However, there is demonstrated demand for skill training in the simplest terms, if we are going to get anywhere.

It is not too late, the assistance is there, we must do something.

Looking After Leisure

Last month Caulfield Contact studied the Design and Engineering sections of the Operations Department. This month Contact looks at "Looking after Leisure" in the Swimming Pool and the Recreation Centre.

Swimming Pool

The Caulfield City Council operates the Swimming Pool at Koornang Park in Munroe Street. The Pool can be found behind the Council offices and is open to the public for a fee. Both adults and children enjoy swimming in the Pool, which is equipped with a lifeguard, showers, and change rooms.

Recreation Centre

The Recreation Centre at 9-11 Munroe Street is supervised by Ian Bram and staffed by permanent and part-time staff. The Centre provides services for the general public, including a gymnasium, a basketball court, and other sporting facilities.

Caulfield Festival Progress Report

We all should have our diaries marked for November 27 through to December 5 for a series of festivals and events in the Caulfield area.

Caulfield Festival - November 27 to December 5

This festival is a celebration of local talent and community spirit. There will be a range of events including music, art, and cultural performances. Contact 1300 655 668 for more information.

Special School Shows its Musical Talents

Thirty-one students from a Special School will make Caulfield proud when they participate in the Music Festival in August. The Festival will be held on August 3 at the Caulfield Town Hall.

Parents and friends of the students are welcome to attend and support the students as they showcase their musical talents.

News from Council

Park Improvements

The Caulfield City Council is working on improvements to parks in the area. The Council is looking to improve facilities and make the parks more accessible to the public.

M.M.B. Amendment

The Amendment Act 183 to the M.M.B. Planning Scheme includes the rezoning of land in the vicinity of the Carnegie Shopping Centre. The new planning scheme is aimed at promoting commercial development in the area.

Permit Values Up

Permit values for various activities in the area have increased, reflecting the rising cost of living and the need for better financial support for the Council.

Waste Management Award

A three day national conference on Waste Management is being held in Melbourne this year. The conference is aimed at promoting best practices in waste management and reducing the environmental impact of waste.

Redan Road Problems

A joint letter signed by 150 residents of the Redan Road area, recently circulated by the Council. The letter requested improvement for the vehicular and pedestrian safety at the intersection of Redan and Balaclava Road.

Building Permits

Building Permits issued in June this year were 159, which is 13% less than the 1981 peak. Building permits issued in June ranged between $6,700 and $17,200.

Caulfield Festival — Photographic Projects

If you own a camera and love taking shots of people in action, then the Caulfield Festival Photographic Project is for you.

The Festival, to be held from November 27 through to December 5, should provide plenty of scope for all sorts of good subjects, ranging from candid shots to general events and crowd scenes.

The project is being arranged by the Community Arts Officer, Miss Merryn Carter, in conjunction with local camera clubs. Several meetings have already been held to discuss the idea, and now the group is up to the stage where they need to recruit more keen photographers.

A meeting of all interested camera club members and all other local interested people, is being held at 8 p.m. on Friday, August 13, in the Murrumbeena Community House, 166 Murrumbeena Road, Murrumbeena. The emphasis in this project is not on people who are already brilliant photographers, although there are quite a few of those around Caulfield who will be participating, but on those who would like the opportunity to practise their picture taking ability with the camera.

The project will be tackled by several small working teams, so every Festival event will be covered. Black and white, print film and color slides will be accepted.

The end result, apart from being great fun and a good way to see festival events well, hopefully will provide Caulfield with a high quality and comprehensive record of the first local festival, could be the future publicity, as illustrations in Council booklets, and as an art exhibition in local venues, throughout 1983.

For more information on the meeting to be held on August 13, or more information on the photographic project and the festival in general, contact the Community Arts Officer, Miss Merryn Carter, on 524 3277 or 524 3287.

East Ward
Kevin Zervos

East Ward is the forgotten Ward and it is time we did something about it.

I have lived in Caulfield all my life and was brought up in Carnegie where my parents were shopkeepers in Kooyong Road. I attended Carnegie State School and participated in various sporting and community organisations.

As a solicitor with town planning and environmental interests I understand the complexities of Council and therefore have more to offer in representing your interests. While President and Secretary of the Caulfield Progress Association I assisted many residents with their problems.

I have the backing of the East Ward Action Group, Murrumbeena Residents’ Progress Association and Caulfield Progress Association and proudly plant to offer more in tune with Nina Scott of Prahran, phone 250 3090.

The project is being tackled by holding a “Back to Caulfield” night of September 30 for all ex-Caulfield students.

This is a good opportunity to meet with old friends and talk over old times.

Greeks Night

On October 2 the Committee is holding a Caulfield Greek Night for the community to see a little of Greek culture.

Money raised from all these projects will be spent on what the students feel school needs or would like to see.

Details on the activities will be in future additions of Caulfield Contact.

High Schools New Committee

Caulfield High School has elected a new Projects Committee to handle fund-raising for the school.

The Committee consists of 6 parents, 4 teachers and 4 students as well as other voluntary helpers.

The first project the Committee is undertaking is to hold a week of activities during October.

From October 4 to 8, each class will run activities such as guessing competitions, games, dances, etc.

The week will end on October 9 with a fine raffle drawn at the Mothers’ Club with a major raffle prize being drawn on the day.

Historic house to be sold

One of Caulfield’s older and more stately homes in good condition will go under the Auctioneer’s hammer later in the year.

“Bureel”, built around 1872, is a blue-stone mansion on grounds at 331 Kooyong Road, Elsternwick which originally covered 2 acres with a frontage to street of 40 ft.

It was first owned by prominent local citizens, Stephen of the same distinguished legal family and was valued in 1906 at 170 pounds.

Sold in 1882, “Bureel” passed through two more hands before being subdivided in 1907.

In 1920 Mary Neste bought “Bureel” and it remained in the Neste family until the present time.

Unlike some older homes, there is thought to have been little significant change done to the building for over 100 years.

The property is presently occupied by monthly basis by separate tenants, but with a change of ownership in September or October its future use will be open.

“Bureel” would make a magnificent home, surrounded by tennis courts, a swimming pool, pool, garage etc., or perhaps it could be used in an institutional sense, or as a gallery or restaurant.

“Bureel” is being auctioned by Biggen and Scott of Prahran, phone 51 9123 for details.

(Thanks to the Caulfield and Brighton Historical Society for use of this information.)

Caulfield High School’s Drama Group, this year, is presenting Shakespeare with a difference — the Bard’s Great Comedy, A Midsummer Night’s Dream as you’ve never seen it before.

A Greek king with a thick Italian accent, a baton twirling fairy, a donkey in love, a talking wall and a fairy queen more in tune with Nina Hagen and the Bee Gees than with Mendelsshon.

The story, of course, is very familiar and very simple when you work out all the combinations and permutations — star crossed lovers, rude mechanicals, a play within a play, foolish mortals, brawling fairies and happy endings galore.

For most of second term, 50 odd students have been Away going to the chapel and I want to go in Africa and getting their tongues around such tongue twisters as “the” and “thee”.

The finished effect, complete with smoke, strobes and colored lights will hit the boards at 7.45 p.m. on August 11, 12, 13 and 15 in the school hall.

The cost is $5.00 for adults, $1.00 for students. Tickets will be available at the door or by ringing the school on 211 7588.

Bottom (George Toudidakis) makes an ass of himself with Titania, Queen of the Fairies (Jenny Malinowski).

I have lived in Caulfield all my life and when I married we moved to Carnegie over 12 years ago. I have always been interested in the area for the last 8 years. I believe, being the only resident candidate in the forthcoming East Ward Council Election, I am more aware and closer to the situation of the residents than any opposition.

Mr. Richless, who is retiring for personal and business reasons, fully supports my nomination and I look forward to working with my other East Ward colleagues.

There is a noise and air pollution problem in the North Road area. I have pleaded myself to work on this situation until the problem is solved — I do not see that it is an election issue due to the fact that I will help fix the problem as a personal priority — Subject Closed.

To me there are other areas that are of interest to the residents that work hard to solve or promote.

1. Introduction of a Community Hall in the Murrumbeena area.
2. The early start to road works and expansion of Dandenong Road, so that the traffic moves swiftly but safely through the East Ward including the bottleneck at C.T.T. and Gladesville.
3. The upgrading of railway crossings and in particular the Neerim Road hand gates.
4. Entertainment and areas of recreation for the children and young unemployed.
5. Help and guidance to the elderly and a community spirit to bring the youth and elderly together.
6. The promotion of our excellent shopping centres.

I am also concerned about the ever increasing rates that we have to pay. As the founding member of the Board of Works Revaluation Association I have fought against MMBW rate rises.

My record speaks for itself. However, I need your vote to ensure the residents’ viewpoint is put, hence my nomination.

Ian Barklamb

Open day at the town hall turned out to be a great success. Residents were able to tour the new administration building, meet with their councillors and take in the displays.

Above: Audrey Cunningham and Beverley Whipp look over the Community Development Display.
Voting is compulsory

Saturday, August 7
8.00 a.m. to 8.00 p.m.

Penalty for not voting.

The law provides that a penalty of up to $20.00 may be imposed for failure to vote.

The Municipal Voter's Roll.

The names of people over the age of 18 years who own or rent property within the City of Caulfield, appear on the municipal voter's roll. The Municipal Roll is not prepared in the same manner as the State and Federal Government's Electoral roll. The names of most eligible residents are placed on the municipal roll without prior notification or requests for registration, from information received by the Council when property changes hands.

Who must vote?

VOTING IS NOT COMPULSORY FOR:
- owners of property within the City of Caulfield who live outside the City;
- people who are not natural born or naturalised subjects of Her Majesty.

NOTE: Multiple Property Owners will only be compelled to vote in the Ward in which they live but are also entitled to vote in any Ward in which they own property.

If you have any doubt as to your entitlement to vote call at the Town Hall, corner Glen Eira and Hawthorn Roads, Caulfield, or telephone 524 3333.

A POSTAL VOTING SERVICE is available for those unable to attend the polling booth on election day because of:
- absence from the Municipality during voting hours.
- illness or infirmity.
- conscientious objection against voting on the appointed day.
- caring for a sick or elderly person.
- your employer requires you to remain at work.

Application may be made for a postal vote and a special office has been set up at the Hawthorn Road entrance of the Town Hall. It will be open during normal office hours and to 8 p.m. on July 27, August 2-5. The office will close at 6 p.m. on August 6.

North Ward
Cr Joan Hardy

Married with a grown-up family, Cr Joan Hardy is a long time resident of Caulfield. She is a lecturer in social sciences at the Royal Melbourne Institute of Technology. In the mid '70s Caulfield Council needed changing. The Caulfield Progress Association led the movement for a truly representative Council. Caulfield Progress Association's Councillors like Joan Hardy, have worked to ensure that the Council is committed to open government and resident participation/policies of the Caulfield Progress Association. Caulfield is now widely recognised as effective and efficient.

Nevertheless, there are areas which need to be improved. Although North Ward residents have comparatively easy access to the Town Hall, they suffer from a lack of some other services. For instance, there is no centre for the elderly in the north and we need to examine whether we could use existing facilities for this purpose.

There are traffic problems in the north and we must continue to seek ways of resolving these problems for residents.

Being trained in the social sciences Joan has an excellent grounding in problem analysis and decision-making processes. This training is directly related to working on a Council and Cr Joan Hardy would like the opportunity to continue to strive to make Caulfield a good place to live in for all residents.

Margaret Goode

I am a trained nurse specialising in geriatrics and I have lived and owned a successful family business in Caulfield for over 30 years.

I have been an executive member of the Private Geriatrics Hospitals Association for 10 years and am a founder of the Elsternwick Day Care Centre, as well as an executive member of the Victorian Council on the Aged.

My experiences in running the Alexandra Nursing Home have made me very aware of the fact that in times of personal crisis, people of all ages need support, advice and practical help on a community level, therefore I feel I can offer considerable expertise in community welfare.
CHILDREN
The new Child Care Centre in King Street, Elwood, will be known as the "Little Kids" Contact Occasional Care Centre. The Centre will be held in the hall of the grounds of the St. John's Uniting Church in King Street, off Ormond Road, Caulfield, and will be offering free of charge for use by parents of young children in the Elsternwick area. The new centre began on July 7 and operates between 9.30 a.m. and 3.30 p.m. on Wednesdays, and 1.00-3.00 p.m. on Thursdays. Parents are invited to drop in and either stay or leave their children to be cared for by volunteers, while they free up their own interests or leisure.

PETs
Attention all owners of dogs, cats, birds, turtles or pets of any kind, a "Pet-Care - Pet Shop" evening is being held on Friday 1st at 8.30 p.m. at the Salvation Army Hall, 524 Toorak Road, Caulfield. This is a fair warning to pet owners to start thinking now and to get their animals into condition. It will be held on Sunday, December 5 at 1.00 p.m. in Caulfield Park. There are ribbons and prizes for the place getters and the entry fee is 50c. Entry forms can be obtained from Lisa on 524 3777.

WERE YOU A MOHOWK?
Frank Robins of Gardenvale is searching for the former pilots and ground staff of the three Mohowk Squadrons — Nos. 6, 146 and 166 Fighter Squadrons of the Royal Air Force. They were part of Bomber Command in World War II from 1942 to 1944 and Frank thinks many of them were Australians. If any former Mohowk Squadron's Members or relatives of Mohowk Squadron's Association is keen to contact Frank Robins at 2/39 Gardenia Road, Gardenvale, still has the address of 92 people in the Squadron. So far he has traced about 200 names but only 35 addresses, and has a record of some of the men. Anyone wishing to assist Frank in research into the 5, 146 and 166 Squadrons could write to Frank Robins, 2/39 Gardenia Road, Gardenvale, 3185.

ACTIVITIES
The FUSION Community Centre at 101 Murrmurumbas Road, Murrumbeena, still has vacancies for the volunteers. Classes include leather work, relaxation, bike maintenance, children's clothes, sewing and pottery. There are no charges for any of the classes except for the bike maintenance class ($20.00 for a five-week course).

VOLUNTEERS
The Community Based Educational Resource is recruiting one or two workers, preferably with mentally handicapped children and their families and organisations in the area.

FRIENDSHIP CLUB
Two Caulfield people are opening a Friendship Agency for People of Dutch/German origin in Caulfield. The newly established Friendship Agency is open to men and women of any age group seeking genuine friendships.

The group plans of operating days and evenings, and English/Dutch and German will be spoken.

ANY INTEREST in joining this group, please ring 527 3850 for further details.

FETE
Any interested groups and organisations wishing to have a Fete at the Caulfield Malvern Library, anyone can book a stall on Fisher Street before September 7.

The new centre opened on July 7 and operates between 9.30 a.m. and 3.30 p.m. on Wednesdays, and 1.00-3.00 p.m. on Thursdays. Parents are invited to drop in and either stay or leave their children to be cared for by volunteers, while they free up their own interests or leisure.

The Resource needs a system in place for each play session on a roster basis, which at present stands at one week on, three weeks off, four weeks on, five weeks off.

FOR more information please contact Joy Clough on 624 3333, or the Children's Services Officer at the Town Hall on 524 3333.

Caulfield Schoolgirl in Victorian Championships

Sixteen year old Carol Trabinger, a student at Caulfield North, is the first beat of the Victorian Gymnastics Championships in Hardaway, more recently by gaining the highest marks for her level.

Carol, from Star of the Sea College, competed in three events of the three on July 4 beating many other competitors of varying ages from eight to eighteen.

In finals the following Sunday Carol went on to finish third and fourth despite an injured toe which she had been suffering from for some time. Carol got too old," says a pensively Carol, who only started quite happy to be competing at Level 6 andLevel 7.

Carol was chosen to compete at Level 6 and only one loss since then. Carol has entered three sessions at Level six and three convincing wins in finals the following Sunday.

"I had to run on the side of my foot and I was very nervous which didn't help matters," said Carol, who only started gymnastics four years ago and before that calisthenics. "I really wanted to start early enough," says Carol.

Carol is competing in the Eisteddfod Competition at Warrnambool on August 15. She is one day later in the year. "I'd like to keep competing at the State level for the time being," said Carol.

"When my friends found out I was competing at the State level for the time being," said Carol who is shy but never very nervous which others aren't so lucky to be.

"I'm not sure what will happen when I get older," said Carol who is shy but never very nervous which others aren't so lucky to be. Carol seems quite happy to be winning State Championships.

Contact was last school. This was a second week at the Caulfield Recreation Centre in Mayde Street and has the use of the hall at her school.

"The trouble is I'm too old," says a pensively Carol, who only started gymnastics four years ago and before that calisthenics. "I really wanted to start early enough," says Carol.

Club celebrates seventy-five years

One of the oldest football clubs in Melbourne is Caulfield. In 1925 they were celebrating its 75th anniversary.

The Toorak East Malvern Caulfield Hockey Club (T.E.C.H.C) was formed back in 1907 by a group of schoolboys who banded together and entered themselves in the Victorian Amateur Hockey Association competition.

In 1970 the Club merged with the Toorak Hockey Club and moved to new grounds at the R. C.C. Park which is more convenient and where it is still based.

Since the merger the club has grown dramatically and now fields Senior Men's, Senior Ladies' and Junior sides.

Celebrations

To celebrate 75 years of existence the Club has already held two functions - one, a match between a State League and a Selected State side at Lord Park; the other a celebratory dinner in the Caulfield Town Hall on July 10.

Past players met together to discuss old times on the field (and no doubt, off the field!) and listened to distinguished members of State and International Hockey Associations.

Old Fashioned Game

On August 1 the Club is holding its last function for the year at Lord Park in Carnegie. A game between past players of Toorak and East Malvern Hockey Clubs will be played according to the rules of yesteryear.

The match is being held in conjunction with the South District Carnival organised by T.E.M.C. on the same day. The match gets under way at 3.00 p.m. and a barbecue will be held following the day's games.

If anyone is interested in joining the Club or further details about Sunday please contact Clare Needham on 569 7299.

Bears make the four

Caulfield Football Club, wishing to the premiership flag after three convincing wins and only one loss since Contact was last published.

The Bears are four on the ladder and are aiming for the second spot by their sights on that flag.

After a slender loss to and后卫 (undisputed) the Bears went on to beat the Northcote (second place) by nearly 20 goals and also beat the Mordialloc in games away and at home.

The win against Northcote was Caulfield's best, for four years and made up for the thrilling Northcote gave them earlier in the season.

Junior Footy

The half-time junior games are proving popular with some schools sending in their players from Leslie Brown is organising them.

Caulfield will hold an under-13 team in a junior competition next year due to success.

So far four teams have been chosen in the junior game - East Malvern United, East Malvern United, and Ormond Primary Schools.

Players

Captain John Elzabeth is presently in good form as is Rod Morrison the sides only ruckman. The team is happy to see John Elzabeth back on their team. Andy Blake is proving to be a great asset to the team with his goal kicking.

Community Involvement

The Club is holding a beachball competition in Caulfield Plaza on August 10 (date to be confirmed).

Senior players are presently helping local clubs with their training and local schools.

Perhaps proof of the success is that Malvern United and South Caulfield/Murrumbeena are beating their opponents by 13 goals and 3 points respectively.

Bingo is really taking off now, Kilmarnock is being played 7.30 p.m. each Tuesday at the Elsternwick Hotel. The Prong is really taking off now, Kilmarnock is being played 7.30 p.m. each Tuesday at the Elsternwick Hotel. The disco also runs Sundays at the Hotel from 6.00-10.00 p.m.

New Sponsor

Dennis Mahoney Travel, Elsternwick, is the Bear's newest sponsor. He also sponsors two local church teams - St. Joseph's, Ormond Road, and Holy Cross, Glenhuntly Road, and a half-time match will be held between the two on August 15 at the Bear's last home game.

Caulfield will provide umbrellas for the under-13's match.

Cruise

Dennis Mahoney Travel in conjunction with the Sittimar Cruise, have given to the Club two weeks in the South Pacific, to do with what they like. It is likely that this two weeks will be raffled off or given away as a gate prize.

Any enquiries concerning Caulfield Football Club can be directed to Community Development Officer, Chris Pearce, on 526 8471.

Croquet

Interested in mild outdoor exercise? Croquet could be the answer you are looking for.

Join the local Croquet Club situated behind the bowling green in Victoria Street, Elsternwick. Croquet is inapassive, is lots of fun, and lessons are free. It is an interesting game and if you join now you will have the opportunity to see how the World Champions play in November when the International Two take place in Brighton.

Opening day for this season is on August 15 at 2.30 p.m. Further details can be obtained from Mrs H. Fletchers, on 523 6554 or Mrs B. Berdijk on 628 2415.
