

Work on Kitchen to Start Soon

A monthly publication produced by Caulfield Council for the residents of this City

CAULFIELD CONTACT

Vol. 11, No. 5
Wednesday, May 30, 1984

Caulfield Council's Meals-on-Wheels service is poised to enter a new era. As one of the first municipalities to introduce this program for provision of meals to the elderly, the Caulfield service has outgrown its present kitchen facilities.

With such a rapidly ageing population, the City's Meals-on-Wheel's program has become the biggest in Australia and has grown from 150 meals per week in the early days, to the 700 meals per day which are currently being prepared under completely inadequate conditions.

With the funding for the new kitchen finally approved, changes to the old library building in Truganini Road are ready to commence. This larger site will allow greater flexibility in the provision of meals and the service will be expanded to provide meals seven days a week for all those who need them. The supply of weekend meals at the present time is limited to cases of extreme need only.

New Technology

The new kitchen has been designed for modern food production and enables greater economy of scale, variety in menus and better hygiene.

It will have the ability, at a later date, to take advantage of the latest cook-chill method for food preparation but will still use conventional cooking methods for the time being.

The volunteers, whose task it is to deliver the meals each day, will have better facilities and the lot of all those who work in the service will be greatly improved.

The Gladys E. Machin Centre in Cedar Street will still be used as a Dining Centre and older residents are reminded that they can join their friends there for lunch every day just as they have in the past.

A Debt of Gratitude

The City of Caulfield owes a debt of gratitude to Gladys Machin and her vision in post-war days. The City's Meals-on-Wheels activities grew from a service to the elderly, with no one to care for them, to today's highly successful enterprise. Gladys Machin and her band of workers used to work from a shopfront before the Elderly Citizens Club was built, and then the preparation of the meals became an integral part of that Club's activities.

It was later taken over by the Council but although the old kitchen has been modified many times, it is no longer able to meet the demands of Caulfield's ageing population.

It is with some sadness therefore that the Meals-on-Wheels people leave the old facilities but look forward to providing an even better service at the new premises.

Chisholm's New Committee

Chisholm Institute's Council has adopted a proposal to establish a standing committee with the Caulfield City Council and will investigate similar arrangements with Frankston, Malvern and other local councils.

The Chisholm/Caulfield Committee will consider:

- Caulfield Campus site development;
- planning of traffic

flows around the Caulfield campus;

- joint action to resolve car parking problems;
- development and fostering of relationships between the Institute and the surrounding community in Caulfield;
- Institute/Council co-operation in providing services.

The standing committee will comprise four members of each council and will meet at least four times a year.

Senior Citizens' Resource Guide

The Senior Citizens' Resource Guide is currently in the process of being updated for a new edition later in the year.

If there are any changes to your group or if you know of a group or organisation that should be in the Senior Citizens' Resource Guide please contact Sonja King on 524 3259 or write to "Senior Citizens' Resource Guide", Caulfield City Council, P.O. Box 42, South Caulfield, 3162.

Councillor Resigns

Caulfield West Ward Councillor, Russell McKimm, announced his resignation at a Council Meeting on Tuesday, May 22.

Mr. McKimm was elected in 1980 and was due to retire in 1985. He was Chairman of the Environment and Community Development Committee during '83/'84.

Extraordinary Election for West Ward

Mr. McKimm's retirement means that an extraordinary election will be held on June 23 in the West Ward only, to fill his position.

Nominations for the position close on Monday, June 4. These must be given to the Returning Officer or his Deputy between the hours of 10.00 am-4.00 pm. Any person may stand for election to the Council provided they are listed on the voters' roll.

A nomination form can be obtained from the City Hall and it must be signed by at least ten people enrolled on the voter's roll, for the ward in which the candidate is being nominated. Once completed the form must be lodged with the Returning Officer, who is also the City Manager, together with a deposit of $100, in cash or by bank cheque.

The City Manager will be able to advise of the requirements of the Local Government Act in conducting your campaign.

Voting

Following the introduction of adult franchise for Council elections, it is now compulsory for all residents of the City over the age of 18 years to vote.

The State Electoral Offices supply the Council with a voters' roll containing the names of all persons eligible to vote, and the Council prepares a second voters' roll consisting of owners and occupiers of property not resident in the municipality together with the names of non-naturalised persons and company nominees who have applied to be enrolled.

The only persons for whom it is not compulsory to vote are the owners of property within the City who live outside the City.

An information leaflet will be distributed to all West Ward properties prior to the Election.

If for any reason you are unable to vote on election day, a postal voting service will enable votes to be cast either personally prior to the election, or by post. A fine of $20 applies for failure to vote.

Remember: An election is being held in the West Ward only, due to the resignation of ex-councillor McKimm.

Heritage Week Madam,

On behalf of the Caulfield Historical Society, I must express appreciation to both you and Mr. Bernie Carroll, Records Officer of the City of Caulfield, for organising the excellent exhibition of historical artifacts, records and photos which were on view to the public at the City Hall from April 13 to 15 during Heritage Week.

This display, which is believed to have been the first of its kind conducted by this City, entailed a tremendous amount of planning, physical and mental endeavour by both yourself and Bernie. The members of this Society congratulate you both on the result of your efforts.

May I also express our sincere thanks to the members of all those other organisations, local schools, churches, garden clubs, Caulfield's Parks and Gardens staff, Playing Card Association, Caulfield City Council, whose contributions to the exhibition helped make it the success it undoubtedly was.

The floor staff of the City Hall also played a large part, mostly unnoticed, in helping to bring the Heritage of Caulfield to the public. A very sincere "thank you" from the Caulfield Historical Society for the complete co-operation and assistance received from all those people involved.

This Society was privileged to have been associated with Heritage Week 1984 in Caulfield.

Hon. Secretary,

Society.

Theatre Company

On behalf of the President, Committee and members of the Elwood Theatre Company, I wish to extend our grateful and sincere thanks to you for your help and support over the last year.

As with most amateur theatre groups, we operate with very limited financial resources, and depend heavily on the assistance you give us to bring in new audiences, and remind old friends of our current production.

Though our finances are limited, the enthusiasm of our members is unbounded, and our success is due in large part to their unstinting efforts, hard work and co-operation. They do whatever is needed; you will see them on-stage one time, then showing you to your seat or serving your supper at the next show. It is this ongoing spirit of working together, and love of the theatre that binds us together, and is the mainstay of amateur theatre.

From profits made, with your assistance, through the year, we were able to make donations to "SHARE", Cardiac Support Group, Share-a-Life C.F. Association, Bernie Bird Appeal, St. Vincent de Paul Society and, of course, the 3AW Ash Wednesday Bush Fire Appeal.

With your continued support we hope to consolidate our own resources and equipment, improve our theatre for the comfort of patrons, and go on making donations to those in need.

Beryl Bolam,
Elwood Theatre Company.

Volunteers Needed for Red Shield Appeal

The Salvation Army are involved in many helping situations and this story, told by one of its Captains, is only one of many.

Recently, a Salvation Army Officer's phone rang with a call from a family who had just moved into a flat but too late to have the power connected.

When the Captain called a little later the flat was cold and dark. A 12-months-old baby was asleep in a suitcase, wrapped in old clothes and another child about three years old was asleep in an open cupboard at the end of the passageway. The flat had no furniture except for built-in cupboards.

The Salvation Army were able to supply comfortable beds and warm blankets for the family.

Through the Red Shield Appeal on Sunday, July 1, the Salvation Army will be able to help other such families in need.

Already many schools, clubs, church groups and individual people have volunteered to help. If you can give two hours to assist on Doorknock Sunday, please telephone Cr. Jack Campbell on 523 9228 or Ted Tanner (M.P. for Caulfield) on 523 9197.

Language grants to local schools

Labor MP for Henty, Joan Child, recently announced details of grants to a number of non-government schools in the Caulfield area.

The grants, which have been made under the "English as a Second Language Program" are designed to develop and improve the competence in English of students from non-English speaking backgrounds.

The local schools to receive grants are

Yeshiva College: $26,400; Sholem Aleichem College: $10,200; Yavneh College: $1,800; Beth Rivkah Ladies College: $24,900 and Caulfield Grammar School: $23,400.

JOB CREATING

Kerry Clarke and Virginia McNally are two of nine people employed under the Caulfield Municipal Job Creation and Training Program funded jointly by Council and the Ministry of Employment and Training.

they gain experience in and understanding of what is required to work in the Municipal sector; on-the-job training and outside courses if they desire them.

In all, 49 people are employed by Council on job creation and generation schemes. All were previously unemployed for twelve months or more, some have already left for other jobs and some will move on to permanent positions as and when they become vacant.

This scheme involves teams undertaking projects around the City as part of the Council's workforce. In doing so,

A Chance to See a Unique Exhibition

A Croatian Naive Art Exhibition will be shown for the first time in Australia and the Caulfield Arts Centre, 441 Inkerman Rd., North Caulfield is the venue for the display.

The exhibition features original art works by well-known Croatian artists from the collection of the Gallery of Naive Art in Zagreb.

The exhibition is being shown in Melbourne as part of the 1984 Croatian Day's festivities and is sponsored by the Migrant Centre of Croatia.

History of Naive Art

Naive art in Yugoslavia began in 1931 with the exhibition of a group of academic painters, sculptors and architects when the public got its first chance to see the works of peasant-painters Ivan Generalic and Franjo Mraz.

The orientation of the group was towards art that would serve the needs of the people, contribute to the improvement of their cultural standards and be understood and appreciated by ordinary people.

In 1936 Generalic, Mraz and Mirko Virius opened an exhibition of their works at the Ulrich Gallery in Zagreb. The show was organised by the painters themselves and they were probably the first group of organised naive artists in the world.

The museum's aim was to foster and promote the reputation of Yugoslav naive art at home and abroad. This recognition has stimulated the opening of local galleries in different centres of naive art.

Naive art is best described as recording the past (even when their stories are of the present), and contains elements of legends, tales and myths. It is a simple, unaffected, innocent explanation of life.

After World War Two naive art gradually established itself as a modern trend and became firmly established after 1952 and earned international recognition in 1970.

The peasant cultural society of Croatia, "Seljacka Sloga", helped establish a permanent exhibition of everything created by peasant painters and sculptors. The exhibition opened on November 1, 1952 and soon became the world's first museum specialising in naive art, changing its name to the Gallery of Naive Art.

The exhibition opens on Friday, June 15 until June 27. Gallery hours are Monday to Friday 10.00 am-5.00 pm and Saturday and Sunday 1.00 pm-6.00 pm.

Donation: Adults $2.00, children $1.00, family $4.00. $1.50 — pensioners, students, Social Security benefits.

Caulfield Festival '84

Six months to go until the 1984 Caulfield Festival gets under way on November 24 until December 2.

An energetic management committee has formed with a program and publicity sub-committee structure.

The group meets regularly on the second Thursday in the month in the Staff House, at the rear of the City Offices. All are welcome to attend so if you have any ideas or want to help with the Festival why not come along to the next meeting on June 14 at 7.30 pm. Any enquiries to Ian Brain on 524 3315 or leave a message with Tania.

Residential Care in Caulfield

The Caulfield Council provides various types of care and accommodation for elderly residents of Caulfield.

Hostels

There are three hostels within the municipality — Camden Court, Freeman St., South Caulfield; Heathlands, Hawthorn Rd., North Caulfield and Rosstown Court, Ames Ave., Murrumbeena. Each hostel has approximately 50 residents and staff are in attendance 24 hours a day.

Independent Low-Rental Flats

These flats are available to both single and married residents of Caulfield who have not owned property. The flats consist of bed/sitting rooms with separate bathrooms and kitchens and are located in Curraweena Rd., South Caulfield and Belsize Ave., Carnegie.

Accommodation in the hostels is provided in motel style with all meals, heavy cleaning and laundry attended to. While residents are encouraged to remain as independent as possible, assistance with showering, dressing, personal laundry, as well as other supportive services is provided if needed.

Outings and activities are organised both in the hostels and between the hostels and flats by the activities officer and a committee of residents.

Respite Care

Respite Care is available for periods from one to four weeks in the hostels, to provide assistance to elderly residents or care-givers within the City of Caulfield.

For information regarding assessment procedures for intending residents and financial aspects of these types of accommodation please telephone the Residential Care section on 524 3333.

New Subsidy Arrangements for Hostels

Prior to January 1 this year, the Department of Social Security paid a $30 per week subsidy for all residents of Caulfield's hostels over the age of 80 years. Those under 80 years, but receiving personal care services, also receive a subsidy.

In last year's budget, however, changes to the system were announced and these subsidies were increased. A general subsidy of $10 per week is now payable in respect of all residents assessed as needing hostel care and for those with functional impairment, who receive a high degree of assistance with daily living, a sum of $40 per week is paid (in addition to the $10).

Whilst the funding now available for hostel care would appear to be higher than under the old formula, prospective residents must now be assessed by the Department of Social Security. Residents not approved may still be admitted, but no subsidy will be paid.

The intention of these new funding arrangements and amendments to the Aged or Disabled Persons Homes Act 1954, is to ensure that a greater emphasis is placed on the provision of care services for the frail aged and not just the provision of accommodation.

Fines for Unregistered Dogs

All dog registrations in the City of Caulfield were due on April 10, 1984 for the coming year.

Caulfield's Animal Control Officers are now inspecting premises where dogs have not been re-registered and a number of fines have already been issued.

If you have not registered your dog, do so now or you could incur fines as high as $96.00 plus costs. All enquiries to the Animal Control Officers at the City Offices on 524 3333.

sette recordings of the National Anthem and National Free issues are made to a wide range of non-profit community organisations.

Anyone wishing to enquire about the program can contact Mrs. Joan Child's office on 568 1322 or your Local Member of Parliament.

Free National Flags

Does your group need a national flag or a photo of the Queen for its club rooms? Why not take advantage of the Federal Government's program of free issue of the National Symbols.

The program involves a free issue of national flags, regal photographs, prints of the Commonwealth Coat of Arms and cas-

Caulfield's Day at the Races

For four years running now the Caulfield Council, in conjunction with the V.A.T.C., has conducted the running of the City of Caulfield Handicap.

The winner of Saturday's race was Bencreato and the Mayor of Caulfield, Cr. Dorothy Ford, is seen here presenting a silver tea service to the owner, Mrs. S. M. Laing.

The horse was trained by R. E. Laing and was ridden by jockey Michael Riley.

Also present at the presentation was Sir Rupert Clarke, President of the V.A.T.C. and his wife, Lady Clarke.

Changes to Transport Act

The Transport Act 1983 which came into operation on July 1, 1983 replaced a number of Acts, including the Road Traffic Act.

The Transport Act provides for regulations made under the replaced Act to continue in force until July 1, 1984 when they will be replaced by regulations made under the Transport Act.

The new regulations replaced by the Ministry of Transport include the following changes which will be operative from July 1, 1984.

1. A new section to prohibit the placement of flashing type lights except where such use is allowed by the regulations.

2. The length of a vehicle permitted to be parked in a residential area for a maximum period of one hour has been reduced from 7.5 metres to 6.0 metres.

Victoria's 150th Anniversary Program of Events

An interim program of 150th Anniversary events is now available from the Anniversary Office, 18th Floor, Collins Tower, 35 Collins St, Melbourne.

The program lists

some of the many events which will take place during the 150th year and only events with firm dates have been listed.

Two further programs will be published for the 150th year: the Official Program will be published in October 1984 and the Supplementary Program in April/May 1985.

If you require further information or would like your event listed in the Official Program please contact Kristine Whorlow on 663 1984 or 663 1985.

TIMELY PLANNING from the Municipal Journal, England

The Secretary of State, in a parliamentary answer, made the following statement.

"The government has decided that the case for a 'mid-term' census in 1986 in England, Wales and Scotland is not strong enough to justify the cost and burden on the public.

Planning will therefore proceed on the assumption that the next census will be in 1991."

News from Council

A Question of Funding

A request was recently received by the Council, from the Shire of Werribee, seeking support for its endeavours to maintain Werribee Park in its present state. Whilst the Council was sympathetic, it did not feel that Caulfield's intervention would be of any great benefit. Council members, however, felt that clarification of the State Government policy regarding the development and future funding of historical buildings and sites throughout Victoria was necessary.

The National Estate

The Minister of Planning and Environment has advised that funds are possibly available in 1984/85 for the development of a program aimed at enhancing the National Estate. The Council considers that part of the reservation between Neerim Road and the Murrumbeena Railway is of special significance because of its indigenous vegetation. It is the last such area remaining in Caulfield and because of its uniqueness, an application is to be made for a grant to preserve and develop it as an indigenous reserve. Application is also to be made to have the area placed on the Register of the National Estate.

A New Kerb and Channel Policy

The Council's Policy on Kerb and Channel Construction was recently considered in relation to the work being done in St. Georges Road.

The new policy, as a result of this discussion, allows where appropriate, for the herb and channel design to complement the character and streetscape of the street being reconstructed.

Staff Training

The newly formed Officer Staff Training Committee has commenced its activities and in due course will prepare a catalogue of formal training opportunities for staff. It will undertake regular orientation programs for new employees, and in co-operation with managers will approve attendances at conferences and seminars. Where necessary, special purpose in-house training programs will also be arranged with staff and include such subjects as: Use of the Computer, Working with the Dictation System, Caulfield's Records System, Council By-Laws, Local Government and its Functions, Working with the Public, Purchasing and Payment of Accounts and Preparation of Display and Printed Material. Staff's ideas relating to other course needs will also be taken into consideration.

User Pays

A general policy on charging for Council services was recently adopted. Where the user of a Council service is identifiable, they will be required to meet the cost of that service. The extent of public service and social benefit, however, will be taken into account in the assessment of costs.

Where a public service is rendered, there will be no charge. In some areas charges will be determined by the user's capacity to pay, while in other instances the user will be required to pay part or the total amount of the actual costs incurred.

Lauriston Trial

Following complaints from residents concerned with the installation of lights at Lauriston Tennis Club, the Council has recommended that the lights be operated on a six month trial basis only.

The Council's Environment and Community Development Committee has recommended that the lights be effectively baffled and not be used after 10.00 p.m. Use of the lights will be restricted to two nights a week and the courts will not be available for public use at night.

Use of the lighting will be continually monitored during the six month trial period and a further report will be submitted to the Committee at the conclusion of the trial.

Action Taken for Security of Children

A community awareness program, aimed to assist the security and safety of children, is the basis of a Safety House program now well under way in the South Caulfield area.

The program is due to the efforts of parents from Caulfield State School 773 and the Holy Cross Primary School.

The program was devised in the North Dandenong region in 1979 and is now successfully operating in many areas of Melbourne. The program aims to act as a deterrent to undesirable people coming into the neighbourhood and approaching children while they are in transit to and from school.

The program is simple. Houses are identified by the appropriate sign, well known to the children of the schools. All marked houses are constantly surveyed to ensure the identification has not been removed or placed on non-registered houses.

Parents have the option of instructing their children to run into one of these houses if they are in trouble. The householder has instructions to ring the police immediately.

Education of the children is of prime importance and teachers and police are educating the children. The police are visiting the schools as part of their normal safety awareness program.

The Safety House program will be officially commencing on June 18 in this area.

Social Security Office for Caulfield

A new Social Security Office.

A new Social Security office at 861-871 Dandenong Rd., East Caulfield was recently opened to cater for the large number of people in the area who previously travelled to the St. Kilda, Prahran or Oakleigh offices.

The Caulfield Office has a staff of 44 and is the 38th office to be opened in Victoria by the Department of Social Security.

The new office will serve the population of Caulfield East, East Malvern, North Caul-field, Caulfield, Murrumbeena, Carnegie and Glenhuntly.

The office is able to deal with all Social Security pensions, benefits and allowances.

A comprehensive social work service is available at the office and there are facilities to assist people in the area whose first language isn't English.

The office is specially designed to make it easily accessible for disabled people.

The telephone number of the new office is 572 1211 and the Postal Address is P.O. Box 147, Caulfield East, 3145.

Southern Community Broadcasters

The next general meeting of the Southern Broadcasters will be held on June 6 in the Community Room, Caulfield City Hall at 7.30 pm.

A further test transmission is planned for August 18-26 so it is important that all members and other citizens who support the concept of non-political and non-sectarian community access radio for the southern suburbs attend this meeting.

The Board of Management is anxious that the test program should be representative of as many service and community-based organisations as possible and would welcome program input from such bodies.

A cordial invitation is extended to representatives of such groups to attend the meeting and discuss their ideas with Wally Marek, Program Co-ordinator.

If you have any enquiries about the meeting, or the Southern Broadcasters in general, telephone 557 8493 for further information.

Calling All Poets

The Southern Community Broadcasters will be including a poetry segment in their broadcasts and program co-ordinator for poetry, Kate Fagan, is keen to hear from all local poets in the Caulfield, Malvern, Brighton, Moorabbin, Oakleigh, Sandringham and Mordialloc areas.

Kate stresses that Community Radio is "your very own way of getting your poems to air" and whatever type of poetry you write she would like to hear from you.

Kate is also involved in a Children's Program for the broadcasts. She says,

"Children need to be motivated away from television and into something in which they can take an active part; radio is the ideal alternative."

Kate would like to hear from children who write poems, jokes, stories, riddles etc. The programs will be taped so the children and their parents will be able to listen to the broadcast. Kate would also like to hear from Kindergarten and Primary school teachers regarding programs made up by their individual classes.

Later in the year Kate will be visiting schools and kindergartens in the Caulfield area for your ideas.

If you have any enquiries regarding the Poetry or Children's Programs please write to Kate Fagan, Southern Community Broadcasters, P.O. Box 41, Bentleigh, 3204 or you can telephone Kate on 596 5657.

FIBRECRAFTS PROJECT FOR CAULFIELD

The Caulfield Fibrecrafts Project is under way in the City and the three artists involved are busy integrating their work in the community.

Anne Learmonth, Diana Stewart and Isabel Foster are all well-known in their fields and hope to soon be well-known among the residents of Caulfield.

Anne is spending one half day per week at each of the three Council Hostels for the Aged and a half day per week at either Murrumbena House or Caulfield Park House. Anne is showing her skills to residents of the hostels and the community and encouraging them to become involved.

Diana is working in local Caulfield schools two days a week making costumes and constructing model environments using threads and textiles.

Isabel is a Caulfield resident and is based at the Caulfield Arts Centre, 441 Inkerman Rd., North Caulfield on Mondays and Wednesdays.

Development of the Project

The project was developed out of a series of discussions with the Murrumbena

Spinners and Weavers group, the Caulfield Spinners, Council staff involved with the Aged and the Community Arts staff based at the Arts Centre.

It was decided that emphasis was to be placed on creating a range of activities at the neighbourhood level rather than relying on a centre-based program in one location.

Funding

Funding for the project was sought and gained from the Crafts Board of the Australia Council who made a grant of $16,400 towards the salaries of the three artists to work two days a week from March until December with various groups in the Caulfield community.

The Victorian Ministry for the Arts also gave a grant of $9,000 towards the Fibrecrafts project.

Sharing Skills

Through the Council's team of domiciliary care staff, who make regular home visits to people receiving home help, meals-on-wheels etc., people are being encouraged to share their fibrecrafts skills with others.

Transport will be provided for those who wish to join a group. Groups will be encouraged to meet in the Hostels, Arts Centre, private homes and Community Houses giving housebound elderly a chance to move around and meet others.

Project Ideas

During conversations with the developers of the project several ideas were discussed as suitable projects for the artists and interested residents.

One is to revive the skills of an earlier era such as tatting, lace making, drawn thread work, crochet in fine cotton, fine knitting etc. Younger people could be encouraged to learn from older people with these skills.

Another idea was to focus on the ways in which woman's role has changed, tracing the history and development of domestic crafts.

Clothing

The design and construction of clothing by participants to explore different methods of construction was another idea which could lead to a group regularly working in the area.

Basic spinning and weaving techniques could be taught and people encouraged to learn during skill sharing sessions and perhaps use the hostels as venues for their workshops, encouraging residents to participate.

Soft Sculpture

The project may also introduce people to the idea of fabric as a medium for large-scale sculpture such as life-size people.

As part of the Caulfield Festival, Diana Stewart will be involved in creating, with others, costumes and props for a locally written, produced and acted theatre production during the Festival.

If anyone is interested in the work of the three artists and would like to know more about the project, please contact Co-ordinator, Erica Wright on 524 3333.

Third Line for Railway

The State Government has announced a July start on the third railway line from Caulfield to Moorabbin.

The construction of the extra line on the Frankston line also means a new railway station at Glenhuntly and the upgrading of the Glenhuntly and Neerim Rds level crossings.

Glenhuntly Station in need of repair.

Works to finish by '85

Member of Parliament for Caulfield, Mr. Ted Tanner, announced recently that reconstruction of North Road between Hawthorn Road and the Nepean Highway is to be completed by the end of the year.

Mr. Tanner said, "South Caulfield residents will have a Christmas bonus — the complete reconstruction of North Road as a four-lane, divided highway with parking lane and grass verges."

"I am pleased that the project is at last coming to fruition and this much-needed improvement to both pedestrian safety, particularly that of children attending the Gardenvale Central School, and motor vehicle safety, is taking place."

The estimated cost of the project is $1,700,000 and is being funded through the Australian Bicentennial Road Development Program.

Construction of the Southern carriageway should be completed in July and all traffic will then be diverted onto it. It will operate on the same two-way basis, at present in use, until the northern carriageway is completed in December.

Kooyong Road will continue to remain open at North Road during the roadworks, but some side streets will be closed at North Road.

Vehicular access will be maintained to properties in North Road at all times.

Traffic light signals are to be installed at the North Road/Kooyong Road intersection and light signals at the pedestrian crossing near Landcox Street and at Hawthorn Road are to be remodelled.

The traffic light signals between Bambra Road and the Nepean Highway will be linked to co-ordinate traffic flow.

Said Mr. Tanner, "I am particularly pleased that landscaping of the reconstructed road including the planting of trees of 2-3 metres in height has been planned in consultation with the Caulfield City Council and will be undertaken in the nature strips and central median as the completion of the various stages of roadworks permits."

"I understand that the two species of trees to be planted are Ash and English Hawthorn." The landscaping proposals may be inspected at the Project Office at 6 Hansen St., East Brighton, telephone 592 2177.

Community Education Day

A ceremony to launch Community Education Day will be held in the Mayoress' Reception Room at the Caulfield City Hall on Tuesday, June 19 at 6.30 pm.

providers of community education initiatives in Caulfield to inform the residents of the opportunities available.

The goal of community education is a sharing, educative community with citizens involved in decisions which affect their lives. Such a community encourages people to meet their needs and desires through the mobilization of all available community resources.

The City of Caulfield has supported community education through the Caulfield Community Education Group.

The Council is encouraging each individual and organisation to become an active participant in the development of the spirit of community education.

In this way the network of support already established by the Community Education Group will be enhanced.

Caulfield Cyclist Breaks Another Record

Above, Caulfield's champion professional cyclist, Reg McVilly, notched up another record breaker last weekend when he beat the Melbourne to Canberra 1969 record by 8½ hours. "It was a tough ride. I've never seen so many hills," said Reg.

Professional Caulfield cyclist, Reg McVilly, has broken another Australian record with his Melbourne to Canberra 27½ hour run.

Last year Reg broke the Melbourne to Adelaide and Melbourne to Adelaide Return records and since then has had his sights set on the Canberra ride.

Reg left the Melbourne G.P.O. last Saturday in fine weather and made it to Canberra well under Vic Brown's 1969 record of 36 hours. (Vic Brown held 11 Australian records and two world records.)

Reg allowed himself one stop only, for two hours in Albury, and continued with the uphill ride to Canberra with a seven man back up crew of four drivers, two handlers and one official.

Training

Since January last year, Reg has clocked up 28,000 miles in training runs and record attempts. On average, he rides 500 miles a week, or 5-6 hours a day of cycling around Melbourne's suburbs.

Reg's favorite runs are down the Mornington Peninsula to Portsea and the hills of the Dandenongs. "I haven't stopped training since the Melbourne/Adelaide run," says Reg.

In a recent fitness test with Olympic athletes at the Footscray Institute of Technology, Reg was classed only 4% behind Robert De Castella in fitness, and ahead of most of the Olympic team going to Los Angeles.

During the Melbourne/Canberra ride Reg ate only high carbohydrate and high sugar foods such as bananas, oranges, rice and pasta to keep his energy level high.

Apart from the Melbourne/Adelaide record, Reg held the One Hour Record for 12 years. It was broken in April this year by a Mainline team-mate but Reg holds no grudges. "The record is there to be broken."

Sponsorship

Reg's sponsor, Dave Sanders of Mainline Cycles, Nepean Highway, Chelsea, built Reg's $2,000 bike with its titanium pedals and cranks. Titanium is a very light metal used in the construction of the space shuttles.

Mainline Cycles sponsored Reg in his Melbourne to Adelaide record run and will be sponsoring him in a later Sydney to Perth record attempt.

Reg is looking for a co-sponsor for the Sydney to Perth run as the attempt is likely to cost Mainline Cycles $10,000.

If you would like to sponsor a local sporting champion contact Dave Sanders at Mainline Sport Bicycle Retailers, 488 Nepean Highway, Chelsea on 772 6141.

A LEISURELY LOOK

by Max Binnington

Last year I mentioned the development of a body to be called a Regional Sports Assembly in this region.

In the last six months many steps have been taken in that direction and I felt it was time for an update and an indication as to where the R.S.A. fits in the scheme of things.

Many years ago the State Government agreed to a policy on the development of sport in Victoria. One of the key elements of the policy is the role of the State Sports Council — the Minister's Advisory Body on Sport.

It is to be made up of six political appointees, four Victorian Sport nominees and two Regional Sports Assemblies elected members.

The Minister for Youth, Sport and Recreation, Mr. Neil Trezise, wants his Sports Council to reflect the views of the sportspeople of Victoria and has encouraged the development of a format which will allow that to happen.

In March this year, the Premier, Mr. Cain, opened the first Congress at Melbourne University and the program was mainly an educative one. Future Congress participants will spend their time in discussion of vital issues to sport. In the meantime they should use their Sports Council representative to pursue their issues.

The R.S.A. for this area will be a "three-in-one". The Yarra South Area Sports Assembly will cover Southern suburbs, inner Eastern and inner urban regions. Each of these will have their own Assembly which will be able to respond to local needs.

What will it offer your Club?

The Yarra South Area Sports Assembly is now a fully constituted body with an office and executive director, John Patterson, who may be contacted on 529 2074.

The next step is broad public consultation to give sporting clubs, local councils, schools and any interested bodies or individuals the opportunity to discuss the development prior to incorporation.

The emphasis is on sport at the "grass roots" level. I would strongly urge all local clubs to attend the meetings which will be held over the next few months to discuss the Assembly.

I'm sure you will see value in being a member. The better the representation, the more effectively we can deal with important issues to sport such as women in sport, modified rules, parents and junior sport, sport for the disabled and many more.

Apart from a wide range of computer facilities, photocopying and basic administration advice, the Assembly will be able to provide information through handouts or training courses in such areas as incorporation, insurance, workers compensation, budgeting or anything else the member organisations wish to provide.

For large organisations such as local government or schools, it will offer access to information developed by other sporting bodies throughout the State. It will provide a forum for discussion between providers of resources and the users on a local and regional basis.

As a Regional Sports Assembly representative on the State Sports Council, I hope many Caulfield clubs and schools join the Yarra South Area Sports Assembly so that I can truly represent their point of view to the Minister.

Caulfield Lacrosse Club

The Caulfield Lacrosse Club was formed in 1909 and ever since its inception has played every Saturday on the main oval at Caulfield Park during the months April to September.

The Club is affiliated with the Victorian Amateur Lacrosse Association and competes in State League, Division 1, Under 19, Under 16, Under 14 and Under 12 competition.

Over the last five years the Club has won many junior premier-ships, but haven't been quite as successful in the senior ranks. With the gradual promotion of juniors through the sections to the senior teams, the Club is becoming a threat to the two top teams and expect to play in a Grand Final very shortly.

With the advent of juniors progressing over the years the Club needs to recruit on an annual basis to keep the Club in the strong position it is now in. The Club has some 50 senior players over 18 and 60 junior members under 18.

Lacrosse offers many opportunities for juniors to learn, play and compete at Club level as well as interstate championships and, every four years,

World Championships.

The Club has excellent facilities at Caulfield Park, for example, oval lighting for night training and one of the best changing rooms in the competition.

With the exception of one or two, all the Lacrosse players in the teams were born and bred within Caulfield's boundaries. If anyone is interested in learning to play lacrosse please contact President, Bob Stahmer, 6 Colin Street, North Caulfield, 3161.
