

Council Angry at Government

CAULFIELD CONTACT

A monthly publication produced by Caulfield Council for the residents of this City.

Vol. 12, No. 5

Cutbacks

Councillor Emil Braun and Caulfield's City Manager, Doug Ayles, recently attended an emergency meeting called by the Municipal Association of Victoria to discuss the Local Government share of personal income tax.

Over 400 representatives from approximately 200 Councils across the State attended the meeting. Examples of how reduced grants would affect Councils and their communities were given.

The Federal Secretary of the Municipal Employees Union spoke in support of the retention of the General Revenue Sharing System to ensure that jobs were maintained.

Several motions were reaffirmed at the meeting:

- Local government has a non-negotiable right to a share of National Income Tax,
- Property rates are an inappropriate source of income for all local services,
- An inquiry into local government finance should endeavour to improve general revenue sharing arrangements,
- The Commonwealth Government should await a report from such an inquiry before making any alterations to local government funding.

Caulfield Concerned

The Mayor of Caulfield, Cr. Brian Rudzki, said that the Council will look to all available methods of absorbing any reduction in funds. This may even include resource sharing with other Councils.

The cuts however could still lead to a review of Council services and consideration of levying extra rates to compensate.

Cr. Rudzki said, "Responsible forward planning by local councils will be thwarted by changes to tax sharing arrangements. Councils have previously been guaranteed 2% of personal income tax."

He said that the Federal Government with its reduction in 1985/86 will cause uncertainty about the level of grants in following years.

Camping for a Cause

While Caulfield has no formal camping grounds, residents in the Murrumbidgee area recently made use of the Outer Circle Railway land to prove a point.

They were out to show that this beautiful tract of land is worth preserving. The State Government would like to raise revenue by selling this land.

A group formed to preserve the area has approached local members of parliament in an attempt to convince the government that the land is worth retaining.

The Council would also like to see this land retained but is in no position to purchase it from the State Government.

Discussions are being held with the Ministry of Transport, Department of Management and Budget, Ministry for Planning and Environment and the M.M.B.W. regarding the Transport Ministry's desire to sell the land.

A joint approach by Camberwell, Kew, Malvern and Caulfield Councils will be to the Minister for Conservation, Forests and Lands. This Ministry has a policy favouring linear parks and plays an active role in their provision.

The Councils consider that the Outer Circle Railway land in the four cities is suitable for such a park.

Cycling the Old Fashioned Way

When you've had a love affair with bicycles since the age of 11, then you would probably ride anything once.

Harry Clarke is the founder of the Vintage Cycle Club of Victoria and actually rides this Penny Farthing more than you'd think.

He says it creates a lot of interest when he does ride one of his old fashioned bikes around the streets of Caulfield.

Back around the turn of the century, a penny farthing would have cost about 15 pounds, when the average person earned two shillings a week which is the equivalent nowadays to buying a Porsche.

The Vintage Cycle Club has 25 members in Victoria and 15 Interstate. They often attend fetes and festivals and would be keen to appear with their vintage bikes at similar functions in Caulfield.

Harry says he has 103 cycles in his home, many are "in the attic". If you would like to see some of Harry's and other collectors' vintage cycles, the Club is holding a sell, buy and swap day at St. Mary's Church Hall, Glen Eira Road on Saturday, June 22 from 9.00 am - 5.00 pm. Enquiries telephone 527 5759.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Council — Watch Your Budget Too

Madam,
Caulfield's Mayor, Cr Brian Rudzki, and now other Metropolitan Councils and Shires, would justifiably not be happy about reduced Federal Government grants.

However, the overriding idea to counter the deficits and interest payments of Federal — and State — Governments requires cutting their expenditure.

If this necessity is adhered to, it would follow that Council watch their budget too, without loss of service and "variation" in rates.

(Since 1975, my rates "varied" to 200%).

We must all be conscious of the weak Australian dollar — and inflation!

A. Feil,
Elsternwick.

Correction

In the last edition of Caulfield Contact, in a letter from Don Dunstan, President of the Caulfield Progress Association, a mistake was made with a sentence. It should have read "Any action Council can take to minimise inconvenience to residents arising from the inconsiderate use of incinerators is to be welcomed." The word maximise was used instead of minimise.

Auxiliary Says Goodbye

The Queen Victoria Medical Centre's Caulfield Auxiliary said its final farewells last Thursday when members met for the last time after 61 years of service.

The Auxiliary was established in 1924 when what was then the Queen Victoria Memorial Hospital, first sought help from community groups.

The Auxiliary recruited members from the Caulfield area with the Mayoress as patron.

Over the 61 years of service to the Hospital the Auxiliary has given magnificent support to the centre. Fund raising over the years has included the Annual Caulfield Racecourse collection in September, regular card parties, street stalls and the annual Christmas dinner card party at the Caulfield City Hall. The Auxiliary has also taken part in the various appeals and functions organised by the Centre.

The success of all their activities has enabled a long list of items to be purchased for the hospital — air conditioners, telescope, oxygen analyser, cardiac monitor and much other equipment. Without the Auxiliary these items could not have been bought at the time they were most needed.

The Caulfield Auxiliary's final donation — $2,300 — will be used to buy more medical equipment. This time it will be a photo therapy radiometer to help to continue to provide the quality care in our neo-natal Intensive Care Unit.

Also two Ivax Poles for the Ivac Infusion Pumps which were previously bought by the Auxiliary, will be donated.

Long Service Medals

At the last meeting Mrs Margaret Hamer, President of the Medical Centre's Board of Management, presented the 12 members of the Auxiliary with long service medals.

Mrs Nellie Smith and Mrs Joyce Bunny received medals for 50 years of service each; Mrs Dorothy Minnis for 40 years of service; Mesdames MacGowan, Cannon, Bone, Yorston, Bullen, Rothel, White and Scanlon for 20 years of service each and Mrs Rita Pritchard for 10 years of service.

A life governorship certificate was awarded to Mr Bill Marsh, who was not an Auxiliary member, in recognition of his work for the Auxiliary.

The Medical Centre would be pleased to see another Caulfield Auxiliary established in the area. Anyone who is interested in giving the hospital this fund raising support would be very welcome to call the Auxiliary Organiser, Mrs Maree Daley, telephone 665 5710.

Home Help for the Handicaped

Families who care for intellectually or physically handicapped children continually face the problem of having time to themselves.

The Council provides a limited service, in which trained staff are available to come into homes to care for these children.

This enables parents and others to participate in family or social outings or special occasions (weddings etc.).

Bookings need to be made well in advance because this is a very popular service. It is available weekdays, weeknights, Saturday or Sundays.

Any families who have recently moved into the City or have been here for some time can use this special service by telephoning the Domiciliary Care section of the Council on 524 3333.

Diabetes Institute First for Australia

The first Diabetes Institute in Australia will be opened on July 12 at 11am by the Governor General of Australia, Sir Ninian Stephen, at the Royal Southern Memorial Hospital.

The Institute is being set up specifically for research and treatment and is supported by the Lions International Clubs throughout Victoria.

The former Caulfield Hospital Nurses Home has undergone major renovations costing $300,000 which had been made possible by Lions International and a generous benefactor.

This amount has been matched by the hospital with the agreement of the Health Commission.

The Institute will house the Mow Diabetes Education Centre, named after the benefactor, Mr

Leon Mow, along with the World Health Organisation's Collaborating Centre for Diabetes which will provide a unique facility for education and care for diabetics.

Facilities such as these ensure that diabetics and their families in this State receive the best care possible. Diabetes costs approximately $150 million in Victoria.

The Royal Southern Memorial Hospital has an international reputation in education, research and care for diabetes.

What a Way to Bank!

It was a step back in time for the staff of the Glenhuntly Branch of the ANZ Bank last week. The bank was celebrating its 150th birthday along with Victoria.

Displays of old photographs and ledger books decorated the bank while staff learned what it was like to be a teller back in the old days.

Luckily, the service did not also take a step back in time. In fact, most customers were pleasantly suprised with the change of scenery.

IN BRIEF

Mother's Day in Hospital

Mother's Day in Caulfield's hospitals and nursing homes was made a little more enjoyable this year thanks to the generosity and thoughtfulness of the Caulfield Lions Club.

On Mother's Day this year the club distributed 500 small gifts of soap, perfume and tissues to mothers at Caulfield, Southern Memorial and Bethlehem hospitals, the Council's three hostels — Rosstown Court, Camden Court and Heathlands and to the Alexandra Private Nursing Home.

The gift giving first started last year. Following this year's success it will be repeated on an annual basis.

Tennis Classes

Tennis coaching classes for Juniors and Adults will begin on Sunday, June 2. Juniors at 9 am and Adults at 10.30 am at the courts on the corner of Neerim and Booran Rds., Glenhuntly. Enquiries contact Geoff Jones, telephone 783 9918.

Opportunity Shop Burnt

The Caulfield Voluntary Workers Shop in Hawthorn Road, South Caulfield was recently damaged by fire.

The upstairs section of the building was destroyed and the downstairs area was severely damaged by smoke and water.

Insurance accessors are currently investigating the building and its contents.

Lions Youth Exchange

Local youths could have a great opportunity to experience life in a different country and to increase their knowledge and international understanding if they enter the Lions Youth Exchange.

The Carnegie Lions Club will sponsor youths in a number of programs during the December/January school holidays to go to the USA, Canada, Germany, Netherlands, Austria, Switzerland, Great Britain, Italy, Denmark, Sweden, Finland, Norway, Japan, Indonesia, Malaysia, Singapore, South Africa and New Zealand.

Most programs are of six weeks duration and costs covered include air fares from Australia, insurance, internal travel in destination country, departure tax, stopovers where applicable in Los Angeles, Bangkok, Sydney etc. Overseas Lions Clubs arrange the host families for the youths.

Youths must be at least 16 years of age and under 22 at the date of departure with the exception of South Africa where the minimum age is 17.

Youths applying should have at least average academic ability and be able to speak to small groups overseas to tell them a little about Caulfield, Victoria and Australia.

Applications must be made in writing (with references) to the Secretary, Lions Club of Carnegie, P.O. Box 192, Carnegie 3163 before Friday, June 14 and an interview will be arranged.

WANTED

— One Car Owner

On December 8 last year this car was stolen from Maxwell Street in Caulfield and Brighton Police have been trying to locate the owner ever since.

Door knocks in the area and M.R.B. file searches have not revealed anything. If the owner of the car is not found soon, then it will be sold at public auction.

The car is a 1967 Valiant Sedan registration number JWT 660 and anyone who can help locate the owner can contact Constable Hughes at the Brighton Police Station, 7 Carpenter St., Brighton, telephone 592 7084.

New Policy for Streets

Caulfield's streets will soon be receiving more attention. Streetscaping is to receive a greater emphasis in the future and changes are being made to the Council's Corporate Plan to ensure that this policy continues.

The Council recognises the desirability of improving the visual character of residential areas and immediate steps are being taken to progressively adopt a street tree planting guide.

A preliminary budget meeting to be held in July will discuss the extent of the Council's financial commitment to the project for the next financial year.

Projects to be considered include:

An architect to do the job

A landscape architect with skills in building design or planning should commence employment in the 1985/86 financial year to co-ordinate the works. There is no intention to replant the whole municipality but supplementary planting will be carried out when opportunities arise. This will usually occur with road reconstructions or street re-design.

Information for residents

The problem, for residents, of what tree to plant where, should be overcome by the publication of pamphlets and brochures. These will cover subjects such as: how to plant and maintain trees properly, which trees are best suited to private gardens, avoiding damage to drains, footpaths and buildings and information on trees that do not require excessive pruning.

Residents may be invited to become involved in naturestrip planting schemes and be provided with street trees and stakes.

The only requirement would be that residents agree to prepare the soil and plant and maintain them to the satisfaction of the Council.

By having a streetscaping policy and a tree planting guide the Council will be able to eliminate the planting of trees which are out of character with the general area. No longer will trees be planted in inconvenient situations and Parks and Gardens staff will be able to anticipate future tree stock needs.

M.M.B.W. Delegation

The Council has expressed a great deal of concern over many issues arising from the Deed of Delegation of responsibility to local Councils proposed by the M.M.B.W.

The Council has the responsibility of administering the M.M.B.W. Planning Scheme as far as issuing Town Planning Permits is concerned. The new system of delegation will make Councils the sole authority for receiving and determining all applications for permits.

The Mayor, in conjunction with Council officers, will prepare a response to the Board expressing its concern. These include:

- further clarification of the definition of 'Metropolitan use' to ensure that minor applications are not unduly delayed,
- the proposed power to direct Councils to issue certain permits,
- the need for Councils to have a right of appeal,

• the requirement of the Board to provide comment or direction within a specific time limit and thus avoid delays,

• further consideration of the enforcement role of the Board,

• the clarification of guidelines.

Whilst the basis of the Deed of Delegation is the streamlining of issuing of permits the Council is concerned that many procedures may be contrary to this intent and dictatorial in nature.

Land Rezoning Requests

Developers seeking rezoning have been advised in the past that it hasn't been appropriate for the Council to consider such developments in view of the Council's impending commercial strategy plan.

It had been suggested that land zonings for commercial development should be considered in the context of the city's overall strategy and that to consider 'ad hoc' matters may be contrary to final recommendations.

However it is likely to be approximately six months before completion of the first draft of the commercial strategy and it was considered that these requests could not be delayed for such a length of time.

The Council considered that action to expedite these requests should occur since delays, particularly in the current economic climate, may result in the abandonment of some worthwhile projects.

Through the adoption of this positive approach market forces can operate freely provided that basic planning standards are recognised. The only real interference by Council could occur through the offering of incentives which may not normally apply.

It is considered therefore that any minor rezoning requests should be considered on their individual merits. Any proposals should comply with the Council's accepted planning standards and in order to process current requests they will be referred to the recently constituted City Development Sub-committee.

Infant Welfare Centre Moves

The Carnegie Infant Welfare Service has moved from the Carnegie Resource Centre in Koornang Road to a new community house at 6 Jersey Parade, Carnegie.

The new location is just around the corner from Koornang Road and still close to the shopping centre.

The Sister in Charge at the centre is Sr. Margaret Lewis who can be contacted on 569 9912.

The Carnegie Playgroup, formerly the Glenhantly Playgroup is also enjoying the new venue and has vacancies for two year olds and over. For further information on the Playgroup contact Christina Robinson, telephone 211 3969.

News from Council

Attendance Centre

Although a number of objections were received the Council resolved to allow the establishment of an attendance centre in South Caulfield. In forming its recommendation the Council was mindful of the fact that no dangerous persons would be visiting the centre and that participants in the programs are carefully screened.

Activities to be conducted at the Centre include supervision of Community Service Orders and other community work programs, court advisory services and work with offenders released on probation or parole.

The centre will not operate later than 9.30 pm without consent from the responsible authority.

Support for Veteran

Mr Gus Theobald is being supported by the Glenhantly Athletic Club in his venture to travel to Italy in 1985 to attend the World Veterans Athletic Championships. The Club is trying to raise the $2,500 needed to cover the cost of air fares and the Council has agreed to a contribution of $50.

Mr Theobald has competed at the Glenhantly Club for over 50 years and is presently the world's number one walker in all age groups over 70.

Electoral Procedures Review

The State Government proposes to introduce triennial elections and proportional representation to local government elections.

A review committee comprising representatives of the Municipal Association of Victoria, the Institute of Municipal Management, the Local Government Department and others was established to undertake a full investigation into municipal electoral procedures. The committee has made 65 recommendations, most of which relate to routine administrative functions associated with conducting elections.

The Council has noted the report and reiterated its objection to triennial elections and the proposed proportional representation.

Brothel Permit Refused

A brothel application was recently refused at a meeting of the Executive Services Committee of the Council. A total of 151 objections to the proposal were received.

The view was formed in this instance that the land use was not appropriate, having regard to its proximity to residential uses and its effect on the amenity of the area.

The Council can only make a decision on Town Planning issues and cannot base its judgement on moral grounds.

Lights for Harleston Park

Several recent incidents of vandalism in Harleston Park have caused the Council to consider the installation of a system of public lighting.

The park provides a convenient pedestrian link between Allison and Seymour Roads and is well used.

Funding for the lights has been referred to the next budget.

Road Work Funding Concern

The Council is concerned with the availability of funds to enable roads to be constructed, re-constructed and maintained in proper condition.

The Federal Government is being asked to reconsider its attitude towards the financing of work on arterial roads. The State Government will be asked for an assurance that road work funding will be maintained, in real terms, at the present level.

If necessary, emphasis should be given by the State Government to increasing funds for arterial roads to compensate for any deficiency announced by the Federal Government.

Bus Parking

During athletics meetings at the Duncan MacKinnon Reserve bus parking, in the past, has caused some congestion. This problem should be solved in the future by the provision of a bus parking area along the west side of Crosbie Street.

The booking officer of the reserve will instruct those using the facilities that this area has been reserved for use by buses and is the only site to be used.

Pedestrian Signals

Although sufficient pedestrians cross Glenhantly Road near Manchester Grove the number of vehicles falls short of the Road Traffic Authority guidelines. Approval of pedestrian operated signals to be installed in the area in the future is therefore unlikely.

The Council will, however, seek approval from the R.T.A. for the installation of these signals under a 1985/86 program. The extenuating circumstances existing in the area would be stressed and the lack of a pedestrian device in the Glenhantly shopping centre emphasised.

Uncovering Murrumbeena's History

Murrumbeena is under scrutiny! All will be revealed when historian and artist, Kerry Gavin, delves into the past of one of Caulfield's suburbs.

Kerry has been funded under a C.E.P. program through the Murrumbeena Community House Committee for six months. Her aim is to develop an awareness of Murrumbeena's history within the community and provide opportunities for present day residents to participate more strongly in their community.

Kerry is researching the history of the area and producing written and visual documentation of her findings. Part of this research involves working with community groups to create works of art relevant to the history of the area.

Kerry has come up with ideas for the art/craft aspect of the project. These may include the making of historical flags, reconstruction in miniature form of the shopping centre and railway station. Other ideas are illustrated historical maps and an illustrated time line and the making of life-size effigies of historically prominent figures.

Kerry has already been busy chatting to long-time residents of Murrumbeena and is interested in looking at old photos of the shopping centre, schools and railway station that anyone might have.

She would be pleased to hear from anyone who would like to become involved in the project and messages can be left with Liz Clay at the Caulfield City Offices on 524 3333.

In the meantime, if you happen to be in Murrumbeena in the next six months and see Kerry wandering around, stop and have a chat to her and find out what she's up to!

After School Program

A newly funded After School Program commenced on May 27 at the Caulfield Park Community House in Inkerman Road, North Caulfield.

The program is being funded by the Federal Government and will cater for Caulfield North Central and St. Aloysius Primary Schools. The program runs from 3.30 to 6.30 pm on school days and includes a walking escort service from each school to the house.

Vicki Louis and Denise Lynas have been employed to operate the program and have selected sport and art/craft materials and have circulated enrolment forms and publicity to the schools.

An Open House was held from May 27-31 for parents and children to visit and meet the staff.

Federal funding has provided only a limited amount of money for the purchase of equipment, so Denise and Vicki are anxious to receive donations of items that will extend the range of activities for the children and supplement what is purchased.

Any kind of cooking utensils (wooden spoons, bowls, pans, electric frying pan, rolling pins), reading materials including comics, books, old magazines for cutting and pasting, floor cushions, games and old clothes for dress-ups would be appreciated.

Donation boxes are at the school or you can deliver the items to the program during hours of operation. For further information contact Marilyn Godley at the City Offices, telephone 524 3333.

FOCUS ON THE ARTS

Caulfield Arts Centre
441 Inkerman Road,
North Caulfield, 3161.
Telephone: 524 3277.

June at the Arts Centre

Suzanne Avery was appointed the new administrator at the Centre and commenced work on May 20. Interested readers can visit the Centre and make themselves known to Suzanne. (Article on Suzanne next issue).

Painting and Screenprinting

Stephen Glover, the Technical Officer at the Centre, opens his first one-man exhibition on May 31 at 7.30pm.

The works in this exhibition were created in 1984 and 1985 and consist of oil and acrylic paintings and silkscreen prints. The works revolve around urban and human themes, maintaining a strong visual focus brought about by the thoughtful use of negative space. The exhibition runs until June 10.

Pastel and Paint

An exhibition with an oriental flavour entitled "Pastel and Paint" will open at the Arts Centre at 7.30pm on June 12. Artist Judy Antill, (pictured above) has been painting in Australia, U.K. and Europe for the past 13 years and she reflects a fascination with Oriental art with its economy of line.

The exhibition will include pastel 'interiors' and oils on paper of the artists favourite haunts along the Western District coastline where she lives. There will also be a collection of small oil 'panels' — travelling impressions of Australia and abroad. The exhibition runs until Friday, June 21.

Photographs

Showing with Judy Antill is photographer John Wilkins. The works are a selection of images largely taken over the last two years. They capture the more unusual view of things that appear in everyday travel. Many of the photographs are landscapes taken in the Western District.

John Wilkins uses hand coloring to enhance his subject matter, a technique learned from his father, Alex, who operated a photographic studio in Warrnambool for about 40 years.

The artist has exhibited widely since 1970 and is represented in a number of Public Collections including the National Gallery of Victoria, Art Bank and the Warrnambool and Horsham Regional Galleries. The exhibition runs until June 21.

Toorak Art Auctions

JUNE 18-20 — There will be another extensive art auction this month. Viewing begins June 18, 6-9pm and 10am-9pm June 19. Art auction at 11am, June 20. Large collection of Australian and European oils on display.

It's a Cover Up

Readers are reminded of the Curtains Project begun last month. Everyone is invited to submit squares so that Patchwork Curtains can be made as a lasting piece of community art.

Squares should measure 12" by 12" including a 1/4" hem allowance. Squares submitted by late July will be shown in a mini exhibition although there is no deadline for completion of squares. Collage, patchwork, embroidery, applique and drawing onto material are some of the ideas offered so far. For more details contact Merren Ricketson, telephone 524 3277.

"School" of Ripponlea

JUNE 24-JULY 5 — Paintings on calico done by the students at Ripponlea Primary School can be seen from Monday, June 24 until Friday, July 5. The works are a series of self portraits painted by Year 5 and 6 students on metre lengths of calico using artist quality acrylics.

Centre Supporters

At the first meeting of this group the primary aim established was to extend community interest and involvement in the activities and facilities of the Arts Centre. A second meeting has been called on June 25 at 8.00 pm.

Everyone is invited to attend this meeting to show their support and share their ideas. If Caulfield is to develop a good community resource it is important that you or your group is represented. See you on the 25th.

Musical Afternoon

JUNE 30 — Musical afternoon. Various artists. Costs: $5 and $3. Telephone for bookings.

The Gallery will be closed on Saturday, June 22 and Sunday, June 23 and on Sunday, June 30 because of the musical afternoon.

Hospice Care Established in Caulfield

An Hospice Program for terminally ill people has been established in the Caulfield region by the sisters of the Little Company of Mary at Bethlehem Hospital

The much needed program is an outreach of the existing in-patient unit of 46 beds at Bethlehem Hospital.

The service aims to provide palliative care for people living at home with a terminal disease such as cancer.

It aims to care for the person's emotional, spiritual and environmental needs as well as any physical needs they may have.

Currently, there is a supervisor, Sister Mary Glowrey, and four specially trained registered nurses, operating the program.

Time Donated

Sister Glowrey's time has been donated by the Little Company of Mary at no costs to the hospital, while funding has been obtained for two of the nurses from Federal and State Governments.

The nurses provide daily nursing care 24 hours a day, seven days a week. An automatic phone-in for patients has been established so that help can easily be reached at any time of day or night.

The program is able to cater for a maximum of 20 families. At the moment there are 14 families using the service.

The only pre-requisites to using the hospice program are that the patient must have their own doctor who will guarantee medical care at any time.

Secondly, an appropriate care giver, either a spouse or close friend, must be living with or close to the patient.

The emphasis is on home care but a hospital bed is available for the patient at any time they want, or need, full medical care.

Family Participation

The home care allows the patient to stay in their home for as long as they want. Families can participate in the care, and are, in fact, trained to administer drugs when needed.

The program also allows the families to keep in close contact after the death of the patient. "We are available at any time, someone is always on call," says Sr Glowrey.

Response Good

Although the service only started at the end of February already the response from families involved has been very encouraging.

"Patients and their families are extremely grateful for the service and are pleased to be able to stay as long as they can," says Sr Glowrey.

The patients need to be in a supportive environment where the care they receive includes reassuring, advising and explaining. "They want to be in familiar surroundings in their last days, with their family around them," Sr Glowrey says.

New Masters Degrees at Chisholm

Chisholm's first Master's degrees by coursework are being launched this year in marketing and computing.

Previously Chisholm only offered Master's degrees by research and thesis.

Both degrees are unique offerings in their fields, developed to meet demand and plug holes in the current educational offerings around Australia.

The degrees will further enhance the Institute's reputation as a leader in business and technology education. The marketing Department of the David Syme Business School is probably the biggest centre of marketing expertise in tertiary education in Australia.

The shift into Master's by coursework is an important new direction for the whole school and will put Australian business people on an equal footing with their international competitors. In many countries a Master's degree is considered the basic qualification in business.

The next step for Chisholm is to develop similarly orientated courses in other business areas such as Banking and Finance and Accounting Information Systems.

The Master of Applied Science

(Computing) by coursework is a natural development for the Faculty of Technology and response to market need.

The accreditation of the Master's by coursework is a product of Chisholm's vision in developing professional education in computing as a specialisation and as recognition that Chisholm has been at the leading edge of tertiary education in computing since the early '60s.

While expert systems are in their infancy in Australia, the shortage of local expertise already is showing up and Chisholm will help fill this need with the new Master's degree in Computing.

The Caulfield Council has appointed two more Parking and By-Laws officers to work within the City of Caulfield.

Both Reg Ryan and Dave Astley previously worked at the Council Depot; Reg for 28 years and Dave for a more modest two and a half years. The men have had extensive training in the By-Laws of Caulfield and commenced on parking duties eight weeks ago.

By-Laws officers need to be familiar with the Dog Act 1970, the Litter Act 1964, the Transport Act 1983 and the Local Government Act 1958.

By-Laws By Gosh!

The service is restricted to a 10 kilometre radius from the Hospital and includes Caulfield, Prahran, Moorabbin, Sandringham, Malvern, Brighton and part of St Kilda.

Funding Needed

The Sisters are unable to pay for more staff to extend the program unless further funding can be obtained from the Government.

Very special volunteers are needed to help out with the program. "They would have to be sensitive to the family's needs and be a caring, patient person."

"The time left to our patients is sacred time. A volunteer would have to be chosen carefully. Their main responsibilities would be providing very important relief to the families when time is needed for shopping or appointments."

One problem facing the service is the lack of funds to buy basic equipment of everyday use. Bethlehem Hospital is providing administrative support free of charge and is backing the program as much as possible.

Unfortunately, with no budget, Sister Glowrey sees difficulties in extending the hospice program further.

If you know of someone who is in need of the service or if you are interested in volunteering telephone Sr Glowrey on 596 2853 between 8.00 am and 4.30 pm.

Interchange Need Help

The Interchange program for disabled children is being threatened with closure if ongoing financial assistance cannot be obtained from the Federal or State Governments.

The Southern Region of Interchange currently caters for only 15% of the 750 disabled children in this area due to their financial restrictions.

Before Interchange, the only alternative for parents in need of respite care was to place their child in institutional type care. Many families are unwilling or unable to use this type of care but with Interchange they can be assured of regular respite care in a secure family environment.

The Statewide Body of Interchange has forwarded a detailed funding submission to the Federal Minister for Community Services, and to the Victorian Minister for Health.

It is hoped that further funding can be made available to meet the needs of more than 40,000 Victorian families with disabled children.

Traffic Signal Remodelling — Dandenong and Koornang Road Intersection

The Council was advised in August, 1984 that this intersection was listed for investigation within the Accident Black Spot Program by the Road Traffic Authority.

Many of the accidents were considered to be primarily due to the need for improved pedestrian facilities at this location.

Following a subsequent on-site inspection by officers of the R.T.A., the Victoria Police, Malvern and Caulfield Councils the R.T.A. considered possible measures to improve safety at the intersection.

Plans include a full right-turn phase control for west bound vehicles in Dandenong Road turning into Darling Road and the facility for pedestrians to cross the highway in one cycle. (This will require changes to the pedestrian fencing on the central median strip).

The signalised control of left turns from service roads will be replaced by give-way controls. Raised reflective pavement markers will be installed within the intersection to improve delineation and pedestrian fences will be erected around the north-west and south-east kerb returns to guide pedestrians.

These works will all be fully funded by the road traffic authority.

COMMUNITY ACCESS

Piano Recital

Why not take the opportunity to hear one of our emerging pianists, Julie Haskell at the eighth Ida Doubleday Bequest Recital on Saturday, June 22 from 8 pm at St. George's Church Hall, 296 Glenferrie Rd., Malvern.

Julie Haskell began the piano at the age of four and gained her A. Mus. A. at 13 and also holds C.T.C.L. and F.T.C.L. At 15 she was the Victorian Keyboard winner of the ABC Instrumental and Vocal Competition.

She held a scholarship for seven years with the Australian College of Education Music Project and has performed on radio and television.

Below, Julie Haskell, will be performing on June 22.

Her studies took her to Paris and London and she is now studying with Theo Brains of the Royal Conservatorium in The Hague.

For her recital for the Music Lovers Society she will play a Schubert Sonata; selections from Romeo and Juliet by Prokofiev; Sonatina, 1905 by Ravel and Franz Liszt's Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2 in C sharp minor.

You are invited to join the artist at supper at the end of the program. There is wheelchair access. Admission at the door. $5 adults, $4 students and pensioners and children $1. Enquiries to 211 0850 or 890 2094.

Fundraiser for Community Groups

Community groups in the Caulfield, Malvern and Oakleigh areas are being offered the opportunity to take part in a community market inside the Caulfield Plaza Shopping Centre every Tuesday.

Chisholm Institute of Technology, which owns the Plaza, is providing trestle tables and chairs for up to 12 stalls in the covered mall within the plaza so the community groups can run fundraising stalls.

Interested groups will be able to run the stalls as a regular activity on a roster basis.

There will be no charge for the stalls — the only condition will be that stall holders remove any refuse and keep the area tidy.

Community groups interested in running stalls should telephone Mr Alan Hamstead at Chisholm on 573 2133.

Friends of Rippon Lea

If anyone is interested in becoming a member of the Friends of Rippon Lea and assist in guiding visitors and in the shop, please contact Mrs Joan Hare, telephone 523 8839. You must already be a member of the National Trust to join the Friends of Rippon Lea.

Calling all Dog Owners in Caulfield

Life. Be In It. is running a 'Lively Dog Competition' to show how dogs encourage us to exercise, play and be in it.

If your dog loves running, leaping, retrieving, swimming, frolicking with you, or with other animals, capture it with a photo, and win one of the 200 prizes offered including Kodak cameras, cartons of PAL dog food, Life. Be In It. jumpers and clocks.

Entry forms are available from libraries or vets in Caulfield, or ring Life. Be In It. telephone 240 8222 or drop in to City Square Information Office. Entries close June 14.

Occasional Care

An occasional care centre operates from Murrumbeena House, 105 Murrumbeena Rd., Murrumbeena on Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday from 9.30 am - 12.30 pm.

Parents are caring for children on a volunteer roster basis. For further information, telephone Julie Wurf on 211 1426 or drop in at the house during session times.

Term Two at Fusion

Fusion Community Centre is holding a range of activities for Term Two including basketry, aerobics, leatherwork, stretch sewing, bobbin lace, smocking and a kids club.

Special craft workshops will be held including padded picture frames, chocolate making, knitting techniques, applique and health food cookery.

If you feel more like a chat, come to community lunch on Tuesdays, the single parents group on Monday afternoons or Wednesday afternoon drop-in.

Browse in the resource library or stock up at the food co-operative. Childcare is provided with most activities — helpers are also needed. All enquiries telephone 568 2427.

Schools Music Festival

The ninth Southern Suburbs Music Festival sponsored by Ormond Community Aid Abroad is being held at the Caulfield City Hall from 7.30pm on June 24 and July 10.

The festival is held to aid self-help and emergency relief projects in drought stricken areas of Tigray and Eritrea (Africa) and in grossly deprived areas of Andhra Pradesh (India).

Excellent programs are assured with representatives of choral, instrumental and variety groups from 17 local primary and secondary schools, together with the renowned Southern Area Concert Band.

Tickets are available at participating schools and at the hall — adults $3 and students 50c.

Program

JUNE 24 — St. Anthony's (Glenhuntly), Caulfield Grammar School (Secondary and Primary), Star of the Sea (Gardenvale), McKinnon High School, Firbank Anglican School (Brighton) and St. Patrick's School (Murrumbena) and the Southern Area Concert Band.

JULY 10 — Holy Cross School (Caulfield South), Kilvington Baptist Girls Grammar School, Caulfield and Sandringham Technical Schools, West Bentleigh, Moorabbin Heights and Valkstone Primary Schools, Sacred Heart Girls College (Oakleigh), St. Joan of Arc School (Brighton) and St. Peter's School (East Bentleigh).

Deadline

The deadline for submission of copy for the next edition of Caulfield Contact is Wednesday, June 12. The paper will be published on Wednesday, June 26.

All articles and accompanying photographs should be submitted to the Contact office by that date. Write to P.O. Box 42, South Caulfield, 3162 or telephone in shorter items or notice of your event on 524 3259.

Caulfield Community Bus

The Caulfield Community Bus Co-ordinator, Yvonne Kay, will be available for bookings and enquiries on Monday and Friday between 9am and 1pm and on Wednesday between 12 noon and 4pm.

All enquiries and bookings should be made during these times.

Over 60's Gentle Exercise and Relaxation Class

A beginners class for the unfit, active older adult is being held at the Caulfield Fitness Centre at the Swimming Pool in Moira Avenue, Carnegie.

Classes are held on Tuesdays from 12 noon - 12.45 pm by a qualified instructor who leads the group through a series of gentle exercises and relaxation while seated and standing.

For more information contact the Fitness Centre on 572 1929.

Caulfield Library Service

These new books are available through the libraries of the Caulfield Library Service. The staff will assist you in locating any that may be of interest to you.

The Vietnam Experience — A five volume history of the Vietnam war tells not only what happened, but also illuminates the experience of war for those who fought it and opposed it, and those who directed it in the field and from distant capitals.

Mountbatten: the Official Biography — Philip Ziegler. A rounded, sympathetic and yet wholly undecieved portrait of the man and the many facets of his character . . . a man who, for all the glitter and gold, was nothing if not human.

Common Childhood Illnesses — Patricia Gilbert. What should you do when your child is ill? When should you call the doctor? This practical book describes the many common ailments that afflict children and its guidance and reassurance will be welcomed by all parents.

P.O.W.: Australians under Nippon — Hank Nelson. From 1942 to 1945 some 22,000 Australian service personnel became prisoners-of-war of the Japanese and only 14,000 survived. The story of those years is told in this book which is based on the award-winning ABC radio series of the same name.

The True Adventures of the Rolling Stones — Stanley Booth. Part history, part confession, it recreates for those who can remember, and reveals to those who can't, all the desperate exhilaration of the time when the Stones were at the peak of musical ability and flamboyant nastiness.

AIDS and Australia — Alister Brass. There is no cure for AIDS in this book, only up-to-date, factual and easily understood information on one of today's most vexing problems.

Every Occasion: the Guide to Modern Etiquette — Ita Buttrose. Social change and the evolution of a distinctly Australian lifestyle has made English and American classic guides quaint but useless for the modern discerning Australian. This book remedies that situation.

Some of your favourite authors have recently published new books. These are now available through any of the three libraries:

Catherine Cookson — Dinner of Herbs
Barbara Taylor Bradford — Hold the Dream
Danielle Steele — Family Album
Mario Puzo — The Sicilian
Cynthia Freeman — Illusion of Love

Wanted — Drivers and Jockeys

The City of Caulfield Meals on Wheels team requires more volunteer drivers and jockeys to help deliver meals to residents of Caulfield.

Drivers receive a petrol voucher for five litres of petrol everytime they go out and may have a free meal after the rounds are completed if they wish.

Why not join a friendly team of people — call in at 15 Truganini Rd., Carnegie or telephone June Bellote before 10 am on 524 3237 or after 10 am at 211 7044.

High School Reunion

Caulfield High School will be holding a reunion of ex-students and staff to celebrate its 25th birthday on Friday, July 26 at 8.00 pm in the school hall, 76 Booran Rd., Caulfield.

Cost $9.00 per person includes a hot supper, drinks and a "lucky" door prize.

To assist with catering, if possible, please confirm your booking by July 24. Either send a cheque and stamped, self-addressed envelope or telephone Jan Rankins or Brett Williams on 21 179 or 211 7838 during school hours.

New Resident's Kit

If you have just moved into the Caulfield Municipality and would like to know about Caulfield and its facilities, the City Offices have available a New Residents' Kit to answer all your queries.

If you have bought a property you should automatically receive a Kit in the mail. If you are renting a property please telephone Sonja King on 524 3259 for your Kit.

RECREATION AND LEISURE

On A Winning Streak

When your shelves can boast as many medals and trophies as young Karate champion, George Furio, then you know you are on a winning streak.

George, of Murrumbena, has been involved in Karate since the age of nine when he first saw the sport in action through the window of his family's flat in Prahran. There was a hall across the road where the local group was training.

Intrigued by the movements, George thought he might like to try the sport himself and joined the group for training.

Since that day he has never looked back and holds a formidable display of trophies won over several years.

George has won many titles in his junior grade — first in the 1983 National Junior Championships, second in the National Karate Championships 1984, first in the 1984 Victorian Championships, and a first this year in the coveted Senior Four Seasons 1985 competition. This does not include the many other titles he has fought and won.

George recently moved from the Junior to the Senior level where divisions are decided by weight. He feels it "won't be as easy" this year but says he should still do OK.

The Senior and Junior National Championships are being held in Perth during August and George is confident he can gain a placing in his 60 kilogram division.

The competition includes movements, called "Kata", and fighting called "Kumite". George must score well in both sections to win a placing.

He currently carries a brown belt with two black bars and the next step is that well known black belt, with its reputation of excellence.

Going for the black belt will involve Kata as well as an hour or so of Kumite against another who is also going for his black belt.

George is studying for his HSC at Murrumbena High School this year and has had trouble fitting in training with his studies. However, he has his sights set on the World Championships in Sydney next year. It will be the first time in 25 years of karate in Australia that the world titles will be held here and George is not one to let the chance go past.

George's enthusiasm for the sport has rubbed off on younger sister, Patti, 13, who has been training now for two years. Like George she has started well by winning the 1985 Kumite Under 14 championship.

The forthcoming trip to Perth will cost George about $400 and he is busy trying to raise money through raffles to help pay for his fare. If you are interested in seeing Karate in action then George has tickets for the Victorian championships in July which will be held at the Albert Park basketball stadium.

Naturally, George would also be pleased if a local business or individual would sponsor him for the Perth games. He can be contacted on 569 4983.

Training Our Future Champions

During the recent school holidays, the Caulfield Women's Lacrosse Association conducted clinics at the Recreation Centre for youngsters interested in learning the game.

Children were shown the basics of the game and participated in small competitions among themselves with a guiding hand from the women in the club.

For any parent or child interested in seeing the game at its best, be at Caulfield Park from June 2 to 8 to see the National Championships being held.

The Victorian team, including some players from the Caulfield Club, will be participating on June 2 at 1.00pm, June 3 at 10.30am and 3.00pm, June 4 at 1.30pm, June 6 at 1.00pm and June 7 at 10.30am.

During the championships an Australian team will be selected to play Great Britain in the forthcoming International Tour in Melbourne on July 22-28 at Albert Grounds, opposite Albert Park lake.

So, if your child participated in the Recreation Centre's school holiday program in May, why not take them along to see the game in action?

Further information can be obtained from Helen Imlach telephone 546 5401 or 898 1558 (BH).

Pre-Schoolers Gymnastics

Life. Be In It and the Chamford Academy of Dance and Gymnastics invite parents to bring along their pre-schoolers to try movement for toddlers on Tuesday, June 18.

Children between three and a half and five years can see a demonstration at 12 noon by the Chamford Tiny Tumblers on the latest movement exploration equipment.

Mini Marathon

The Annual Malvern Mini Marathon will be held on Sunday, August 4 from 9.00am and all interested participants are invited to enter now.

The 19 kilometre marathon will start and finish at the Malvern Town Hall, corner High Street and Glenferrie Road and will take in the Gardiners Creek area.

The demonstration will be followed by an explanation and children will be able to join in and try for themselves. Fully qualified instructors will be in attendance.

In case of wet weather, the gala room, behind the Life. Be In It's information centre in the city square will be used. So be in it — come along. Groups and individual children welcome. Enquiries to Jenny or Wilma telephone 240 8222.

The Marathon will be officially started by Herb Elliott and is organised by the Rotary Club of Malvern and the Malvern Harriers.

Entry forms can be obtained from the Malvern Mini Marathon, 268 Waverley Road, East Malvern, from Puma outlets and Action World or by telephoning 726 6695. Entry is $4.

Step Into... New Games!

Have you ever had fun playing Rum Sum Sum, Amoeba Run, Quack Quack or Prui? A two day intensive workshop is being held soon to introduce New Games — often called "co-operative" or "non-competitive" games.

The distinguishing feature of New Games is that they don't emphasize the result at the end of the game. New Games can be beneficially used by anyone who leads or is part of a group.

It's great fun and a good way of getting to know the best side of people first. Telephone Peter on 523 6960 for more information and registration. (Venue will be the Caulfield Arts Centre).

LEISURE LINES

by David Melvin,
Co-ordinator of Leisure
Services.

Figures produced by the Australian Bureau of Statistics highlight a number of significant factors regarding age distribution and population size in Caulfield. These factors have important implications for planners investigating the provision of leisure services within the municipality.

Population Size

Historically, Caulfield's population level remained at about 74,000 people until 1961. A significant population increase then occurred through to 1971 when the population reached a peak of 81,900.

This population increase co-incided with the period of the building boom in Melbourne, when a large number of flats were constructed in Caulfield.

Since the peak of 1971, the population of Caulfield has experienced a dramatic decline. The 1981 census demonstrated that the population dropped to a total of 72,800, which is lower than Caulfield's population was in 1961.

In addition, recent reports indicate that the population is likely to drop still further, before it levels out.

The declining population loss will reduce the number of leisure service consumers within the municipality. Similarly, the drop in the number of consumers will affect the number of leisure services provided by both the public and private sector.

Population Profile

An examination of the age structure of Caulfield's population reveals that it is markedly different to the Melbourne Statistical Average. In particular, Caulfield has:

- one third less children as a proportion of the population;
- one third less teenagers as a proportion of the population;
- there are more residents in the 20-29 year age bracket, than the Melbourne average; and
- Caulfield has almost twice the Melbourne average of people in the over 60's age group.

These factors will affect the demand for specific leisure activities. In particular, the very high percentage of people in the over 60's age group will influence the provision of specialized facilities and services suitable for the over 60's.

An in-depth analysis of demographic trends is therefore essential when planning the provision of new services and reviewing the value of existing services.
