

CAULFIELD CONTACT

A monthly publication produced by Caulfield Council for the residents of this area.

Wednesday, November 6, 1985
Vol. 12, No. 10.

Oh boy! . . . Fish!

When children from St. Anthony's Primary School in Glenhuntly visited Heathlands, one of Caulfield Council's hostels for the aged, they soon discovered there was a fish pond in the garden.

The children were visiting the hostel residents to help them celebrate Victoria's 150th birthday. Dressed in period costume, including braces and pantaloons, the children were entertained by Kooka the Burra who was there to remind them of next year's Caulfield Festival, and sing a few songs with them.

Once the formalities were over, it didn't take long for the children to discover the fish pond in the courtyard and they were soon out there observing the antics of its occupants.

A More Convenient Way to Pay Rates

All Banks Will Accept Caulfield Rate Payments This Year

For some people it is quite a chore to come to the City Offices to pay their rates. It may be that transport is a problem or that a trip such as this just doesn't fit into a busy schedule.

Council has tried to overcome some of these problems by arranging for rate payments to be made at any bank whether or not an account is held there.

The rate notice, which incorporates a bank deposit slip, can be taken to any bank. The National Australia Bank will not charge a transfer fee, others may. Details on the deposit slip should be completed and the bank will stamp and return the notice as a receipt.

Payments through the mail should still be sent to the City offices but if ratepayers prefer to use the normal channels the cashier is still able to receive rate payments.

The first rate instalment will not be received at the banks after December 31, 1985 and full payments should be deposited by April 10, 1986.

New Rate Base

The Council, this year, has tried to address the inequities that existed in the rating system and to bridge the gap between the rates paid by units and flats and those paid by other residential properties. To do this it has changed from 50/50 Net Annual Value and Site Value to 100% N.A.V.

Whilst the average rate increase is only 8.8% the new rate base will cause overall charges, for individual properties, to vary throughout the City. There is an increase in rate revenue of 9.5%.

The budget for 1984/85 was particularly tight and the Council did not have the benefit of any substantial surplus being carried forward. The next year's budget, in the main, provides for the continuation of the same levels of service but allows for greater emphasis on urban design and programs for the young people of the City.

One of the abnormal items of expenditure for 1985/86 relates to the lease of the 'Big Bins'. It was unreasonable to expect the garbage charge to absorb the entire costs and it has therefore increased only minimally from $64 to $72 per annum. This represents an increase of 12.5% and the rest of the costs will be absorbed by the overall Council budget.

The budget documents are available for public viewing from the Negotiations continue

The Caulfield Council recognises the need to provide a cost-efficient garbage collection service and is constantly seeking ways to improve collection methods. The current move is towards greater productivity involving additional mechanical help. This will help reduce the labour force needed and has generated concern amongst the garbage collectors.

Talks continue to be conducted with the Unions, Arbitration Commission and the workers involved. The Council would like to reassure residents, however, that it will do everything within its power to maintain the waste management program while discussions are taking place.

Appeal for Brothel Permit Upheld

Council's Decision Over-ruled by Board

An application for a permit to operate a brothel in South Caulfield, previously refused by Council, was recently upheld by the Planning Appeals Board.

The owner of the brothel applied for a permit to operate her premises on December 20, 1984 following the State Government legislation introducing the need for Brothels to have Town Planning Permits.

The Council requested additional information be supplied by the applicant including a police check to determine whether she had ever been convicted on a drug-related or serious indictable offence.

The Council received 151 objections to the proposal and decided to refuse the application on planning grounds. It determined that the proposed use was not appropriate for the land having regard to its proximity to residential uses and its effect on the amenity of the locality.

The objectors to the permit cited many reasons for not approving the permit, some of which were claimed by the Applicant to be based on moral, rather than planning grounds.

The grounds of appeal by the applicant stated that because the premises are within a commercial zone it would not cause any greater nuisance in planning terms, than a shop or office. The use of a brothel, she said, is a necessity to many people. Without this service other people could be placed in danger of sexual assault.

Council Guidelines

The Council has a policy, "Guidelines on Brothels", which is based on "Guidelines on the Location of Brothels" prepared by the Ministry for Planning and Environment in 1984.

The Council stated, defending its decision to refuse the application, that the brothel did not adhere to the guidelines of this policy. There are residential properties immediately behind the site separated only by a three metre wide right-of-way and there are residential occupancies above shops in the nearby commercial area.

It was further stated that restaurants, milk bars and take-away food shops in the vicinity operate during the proposed hours of operation, the site is diagonally opposite the Glenhuntly Rehabilitation Centre and 20 metres from a tram stop used by school children.

Counsel for the Applicant stated that the premises had been in operation prior to the current legislation without previous complaint and that she had not been convicted of any offences.

Six proprietors and owners of premises in the vicinity of Glenhuntly Road she stated, indicated that they did not object to the proposed use.

The frontage of the brothel does not carry any advertisements and is not identified as such. The rear of the premises will provide access for the supervisor and the prostitutes working at the brothel, not to customers.

The Board in its written determination considered that the scale of operation and location comply sufficiently with the guidelines published by the Ministry for Planning and Environment.

It directed that the permit be issued subject to set conditions: the building should comply with the plans submitted; access to the site by customers be only through the doorway in Glenhuntly Road and the rear of the premises be fenced and a gate secured.

No more than three prostitutes will be permitted on the premises at any one time and they must be supervised; no advertising is to be displayed on the land without consent of the Council and the permit required renewal in three years' time. This extension would not be refused unless good cause were established.

Caulfield Author Launches Book

It took Caulfield author, Mr. A.E. Lawrence seven years to research the material for a book on irrigation in Australia that was launched last week.

'Taming the Wilderness' is a book describing the vast irrigation development at the turn of the century, and the life and times of the contractors involved with this development. The history of Australia is closely intertwined with the history of irrigation which has been so vital to the opening up and development of this vast continent. Four first-generation Australians, John, Samuel and Herbert Davies and their cousin, T.N. Flight, played a significant role in the story of irrigation in Victoria, New South Wales and Western Australia.

The author, son-in-law of John Davies, has told the story against the background of the gold rushes and the many ups and downs of the history of the day. It is a story full of human interest, hard living and hard work, a story of success for one family and for Australia.

The publication is a factual, personal, first hand narrative bringing to light a period of Australian history mostly forgotten and largely unrecorded. Emphasis is given to the period from 1860 to 1915 and beyond, which heralded an era of unprecedented expansion and development.

The book is well illustrated with rare photographs of the Pipeline in Western Australia, the Goulburn Valley Irrigation Scheme, and the Murrumbidgee Main Northern Canal.

Eighty-six-year-old Mr. Lawrence was born in Tai Tapu, New Zealand and has lived with his wife Alice Davies, in Caulfield for 40 years. Apart from writing 'Taming the Wilderness', Mr. Lawrence was responsible for the design of the traffic island at the junction of Alma, Hawthorn and Dandenong Roads, a scene of many accidents, some fatal, until the erection of the island.

There are only 1,000 copies of the book printed and at $10 per copy are excellent value.

The Caulfield Baby Health Centres Ladies Committee recently raised over $700 for the Pain Management Centre at the Royal Southern Memorial Hospital.

The money was raised at an annual card luncheon held by the Mayoress, Mrs. Irene Blair.

Council Managers Lead in Local Government

Have you ever wanted to put a face to the voice at the end of the telephone? Not only is Caulfield a leader among councils for innovative services and facilities, but its staff are among some of the best in local government.

Caulfield's Manager of Community Development, Mr. John Wise, recently obtained a Master of Arts in Social Work for his thesis on levels of frailty amongst elderly in Caulfield.

The findings of his thesis are being incorporated in planning for aged care hostel facilities.

John, who has been at Caulfield for nine years, holds a Diploma of Technology in Community Work, a Diploma in Theology and is the President of the Municipal Community Services Association.

His activities also extend to State Committees including the Premier's Working Party on Aged Services, the State Services Transfer Committee and the TAFE Board Community Services Advisory Committee.

The Manager of Administration, Mrs. Elizabeth Loftus, was the first female metropolitan Town Clerk in Victoria and will be lecturing in Local Government Law at RMIT in 1986.

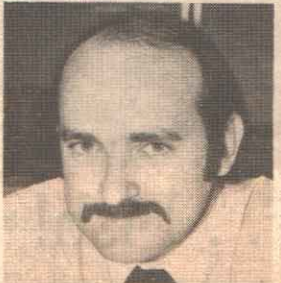

She has conducted seminars for Councillors and local Government officers in law and has been at Caulfield for four years.

Elizabeth has a Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Law with Honours, Bachelor of Commerce and a Bachelor of Business in Local Government where she won the Local Government Law Prize.

The Manager of Finance and Planning, Mr. Bryan Payne, commenced at Caulfield 18 months ago. He lectured in Senior Management at the Canberra College of Advanced Education for two years and will be conducting another course during 1986.

Bryan has addressed Councillor courses conducted by the Municipal Association of Victoria and spoke on Program Budgeting at a seminar conducted by Arthur Young and Associates.

Bryan is a Fellow of the Australian Society of Accountants; Associate of the Institute of Chartered Secretaries and Administrators; Associate of the Institute of Municipal Management; Associate of the Australian Institute of Management and the local government representative on the Australian Society of Accountants Government Committee. He is also President of the Local Government Accountants Group and is on the Committee on the Introduction of Fire Levying to Local Government. in the hostels; whether their circumstances have changed and approximately when they would be ready to take up residence.

News from Council

Judging by the public interest and the large number of applications considered it would seem that this municipality continues to be thought of as a desirable area for residential development.

Wines to be Sampled

It is the normal procedure for Health Surveyors to regularly purchase samples of foodstuffs for analysis. If these samples do not comply with prescribed standards the manufacturer will be prosecuted.

Following the instances of contaminated Austrian wines being confiscated municipalities will now conduct wine sampling as part of their regular food sampling program.

By the way, samples are sent away for chemical testing and analysis!

Special Parking

Melbourne Grammar School has requested Council assistance with control of parking during its fair being held this month. Angle parking has been approved on the understanding, that the cost of providing signs, road furniture and policing by Council officers be met by the school.

The angle parking in Orrong Road will still allow two single lanes of traffic to pass and with Council supervision and clear marking safe conditions will be maintained.

A New Direction in Recreation

Caulfield's older residents can no longer complain of being neglected as far as recreation programs are concerned. In the past emphasis has been on activities for younger children but the Council now has an Over 50's Swimming Program, Dance Program and Walkabout Program.

The Swimming Program is now self-supporting and a learn to swim activity is planned for 1986. An average of 27 people get together for a dance at Curraweena Hall each week and the Walkabout trips to local parks and places of interest got off to a good start last month.

If you want further information contact the Recreation Officer for the Elderly, Carolyn Clark on 524 3333.

Dancer Sought

Funding has been requested to employ a dancer-in-residence for 12 months to link the various dance activities of the area.

An experimental dance group would be established joining together all dance interests into a larger Caulfield Performing Association. The aim would be to prepare a major dance spectacle for the 1986 Caulfield Festival.

Park Use by Schools

Caulfield's parks, over the years, have frequently been used by the schools of the municipality. Some of them have free use, others pay.

These inequities have been alleviated by requiring all schools to formally apply for use of the parks. They will continue to have free use unless it is considered to be extensive. Where a charge is levied on schools for the use of Council sporting facilities it should reflect the 'social benefit' to the participants.

Arts Centre Barbecue

NOVEMBER 19 — All tutors, staff and students of the Caulfield Arts Centre are invited to a barbecue at 5.00 p.m. in the Arts Centre gardens. B.Y.O. food, family, friends and fun. Barbecues and drinks provided. Enquiries Tel. 524 3277.

Medical Centre

The Council has approved an application by the Edelsten Group to establish a medical centre in Caulfield.

A good deal of community interest has been shown in the centre which will be established in Dandenong Road.

The Council considers that the property is in a suitable location. It is a commercial area, on a main road and therefore no loss of amenity to the area would result from a 24 hour operation.

The Town Planning Permit has been approved subject to certain standard conditions and a stipulation that no more than eight medical practitioners should consult from the premises at any one time.

Committee Kept Busy

The Executive Services Committee continues to be well attended and month by month deals with as many as 60 items.

It is this Committee which handles the granting of Town Planning and Building Permits and other legislative matters.

Council and Committee Meeting Dates Council — November 12 and December 10.

Executive Services — November 25.
Environment and Community Development — November 26.
Policy and Resources — December 3.
The meeting cycle finishes in December and will commence again in February 1986.

Do You Know this Mayor?

Is it Edward Charles Murphy, Mayor of Caulfield in 1913? A collection of photographs of Mayors of Caulfield is being assembled and hung in the clock tower entrance of the City Hall.

As you can imagine the work of assembling this collection has become a mammoth task and once again the Council is seeking your help.

If you are a friend or relative of a past Mayor of Caulfield we would be extremely grateful if you could assist in acquiring a photograph for us to copy.

Perhaps you have a Mayoral photograph tucked away in a bottom drawer somewhere. Could you please check for us?

This particular photograph was found, unnamed, in a shattered frame underneath the City Hall. A number of other named photos were also found and gave us a good start to the collection.

All care will be taken with any pictures received and even if they are in poor condition we will be able to restore the copies to their original states.

The work of searching out this pictorial record will soon be aided by the involvement of the Caulfield Historical Society who have offered their assistance.

The completed project will be a reminder of the service that past Mayors of Caulfield have given to the community and will form a part of Caulfield's heritage.

Funding of Fire Services

throughout the State.

This charge would raise 80% of the net recurrent expenditure of the fire authorities in Victoria.

Funding at present is dependent on the levy which is raised on insurance policies and contributions from State Government and local Councils. The responsible people who insure their premises, therefore, are subsidising those who do not.

This is the inequitable situation which the working party has sought to overcome.

The proposed funding system will be a vast improvement on the existing situation. It will spread the cost of fire and emergency services more evenly as a whole and substantially reduce the cost to individual policy holders. The Council will not be required to pay the high levy previously required.

Disadvantages

The financial disadvantages to the Council will be in actual work involved in collecting the funds and pursuing any bad debts that occur.

Another problem, from the Council's point of view, will be the ill-feeling generated in the community when the charges appear on rate notices. Residents may not realise that the extra amount is not actually a Council charge.

To explain the situation would take a major publicity campaign by the State Government and local councils.

In this city the fire levy would probably be about 18% of a person's rate bill.

There would, of course, be a significant reduction in insurance premiums for those who have policies and assurance would need to be sought from insurance companies that there would be no increases in their charges. But those who have no such insurance will face substantial increases.

A working party on funding alternatives for fire and emergency services in Victoria was established by the Minister for Police and Emergency Services in October last year and has produced its final report.

It has recommended that municipalities be invited to become agents for the Metropolitan Fire Brigade and the Country Fire Authority in the levying and collection of a charge on all rateable and non-rateable non-Government properties

Book News

Halley's Comet

Halley's Comet is very much in the news at the Caulfield Library Service, judging by the amount of people interested in information. The Further Adventures of Halley's Comet by John Calvin Batchelor is a fictional attempt to preview the action. This book is described as "a swashbuckling adventure that combines the trappings of chivalry, costume drama and science fiction with a good bit of factual astrophysics".

New Fiction

RAINSONG by Phyllis Whitney. When popular singer Ricky Sands dies of a drug overdose, it is assumed that he committed suicide. His wife Hollis can't understand why, and as she tries to reconstruct the last days of his life, she finds more questions than answers.

Accepting an invitation to visit Windtop, an old mansion in the former whaling town of Cold Spring Harbor, Hollis hopes to find some peace in which to rebuild her life. There, however, she feels Ricky's presence even stronger and finds her answers to the questions surrounding his death.

But the price is high and she soon finds herself involved in a frightening ordeal. Phyllis Whitney fans and others who enjoy a good mystery story will enjoy this, her latest book, and its realistic characters.

NIGHT AT THE CARN (AND OTHER STORIES) by A.L. Rowse. It seemed strange that after the beautiful old West Country house burned to the ground, one of the few items to survive the fire was a Victorian wax doll. The story behind the doll is even stranger though, as it was given to a daughter of the family who lived there, to replace the illegitimate baby that was taken from her.

After she died, the childless woman who slept in the room, where the doll was kept, told of hearing a baby cry in the night. This is just one of the stories in the collection by Mr. Rowse. Most are set in his native Cornwall and have an air of brooding mystery about them. The author has a good understanding of human nature, which makes his stories very readable.

SILVER WINGS SANTIAGO BLUE by Janet Dailey. Known for her romantic novels, such as those of the Calder saga, Janet Dailey has written this novel of romance and adventure set during World War II. Drawing on her own experiences as a pilot and those of WWII women pilots, she tells the story of four very different women who go to Texas to train for the WASPs — Women Airforce Service Pilots.

Each has to fight her own battle for recognition and respect from male pilots, friends and family, besides learning to fly. The book celebrates the courage of women who pursue their goals through great difficulties and the censure of society of the day, in order to achieve their silver wings of an army pilot.

CHILDREN OF TENDER YEARS by Ted Allbeury. Jake Malik's return to Germany for a routine assignment is made very difficult because of his childhood memories of years spent in Auschwitz. Now, 30 years after the horror of a German death camp, he must work with a young German policeman to discover the truth behind rumours of a group of fanatics.

What they find is a group of Israelis and Germans who have come up with their own bizarre answer to the Russian threat. Jake also finds himself falling deeply in love with Lisa, the young policeman's sister, and this eventually causes a great conflict with his instinctive hatred of anything German.

He comes to a point in his life where he must choose those things that he loves and cares about most, which means a battle with his conscience and his emotions.

Birthday Wishes

There are few Councillors who can boast of being both Mayor and Mayoress in their local Government career.

But Caulfield is fortunate to have had Mrs Gladys Machin in both these roles and she had a significant impact on the development of the welfare services of the City.

'Glad', as she is more commonly known, turned 90 last month and celebrated the occasion with a number of Councillors, relatives and friends.

There are not too many people either, who can say they have spent 72 years improving the lot of others. Mrs Machin, who was a nurse during the First World War, was saddened by the plight of those coming home from the war and the older people who no longer had sons to care for them.

In the 1920s she worked at the Caulfield Repatriation Hospital and became the first President of the Caulfield Ladies R.S.L.

A similar situation existed after the Second World War and led Mrs Machin to establish, with a small committee of ladies, a senior citizens club for the lonely older people of Caulfield.

For forty-two years she was State President of the Caulfield Branch of the Soldiers, Sailors and Airmens Mothers Association.

The shop, originally used for the elderly citizens club she had established became too small. With 1000 pounds, borrowed from the bank, two single-fronted shops in Glenhantly Road were purchased in 1953.

As Mayor, in 1955, Glad started the Meals-on-Wheels program. There was no Government subsidy in those days and 24 volunteers produced and delivered 20 meals a day at two shillings a time to those who could not cater for themselves.

A little later, Mrs Machin started working for the young people of the community and a committee was formed which raised funds for a youth centre to be built. The building that is now the Caulfield Recreation Centre was opened in 1958.

When she was again Mayor in 1959 she approached the Council for a block of land in Cedar Street. The Council was forthcoming and the present club was duly built.

To continue raising funds for these and other projects the Voluntary Workers Shop was established. Seven of the original 24 ladies involved still work for the City in this way.

In 1978 a committee was also formed to raise money to build a geriatric block at Caulfield Hospital.

Earlier this year, Glad Machin received the Council's award for 'Citizen of the Year' which was presented at the Australia Day Breakfast. She has confided to close friends that this award holds more significance to her than either the M.B.E. or O.B.E. presented to her by the Queen.

The Council and residents of the City of Caulfield owe a debt of thanks to this gracious lady and wish her good health for years to come.

Top, the Mayor, Cr Max Blair, gives Mrs Machin a helping hand cutting her cake while Mrs Blair looks on. Right, in her early days.

No Secrecy in Elsternwick

A small number of Elsternwick residents have accused the Council of a 'cover-up' in its redevelopment proposals for the Post Office site in Riddell Parade.

Site plan to save $300,000

CAULFIELD Council will save more than $300,000 developing the Elsternwick Post Office site in conjunction with a Melbourne-based design and construction group.

CAULFIELD Council will save more than $300,000 when it develops the old Elsternwick Post Office site for a library and infant welfare centre.

Cr Blair said providing these facilities in this ideal location at no cost to ratepayers could quite reasonably be described as the ideal solution.

Ratepayers win in redevelopment

The Council has applied resources to the analysis of development ideas and opportunities in the City of Caulfield, including the best use of Council-owned properties.

Plans of the original redevelopment were on display in the Elsternwick Library until the new discussions superseded the renovation proposal.

Council originally had plans to renovate the old building for use as a shopfront library and infant welfare centre. But when tenders for the construction works were received it became obvious that the costs involved were far in excess of the Council's estimates and budgetary provisions.

Plans of the original redevelopment were on display in the Elsternwick Library until the new discussions superseded the renovation proposal.

At the time of the later articles the Mayor, in his statements to the local media was able to be more specific.

The Proposal

The City of Caulfield, in conjunction with the Consulere Group of Companies proposes to completely redevelop the existing Post Office site and provide accommodation for a mix of community services and private office development.

The building will comprise three levels of floor space together with a basement car park. The ground floor will accommodate the Elsternwick Branch Library and Infant Welfare Centre.

The upper floor office space, when sold, would fund the total construction of the building and provide a modern, efficient community facility at no cost to Caulfield ratepayers.

The Opposition

The Council has received four written objections to this proposal and a local newspaper has carried an article which is critical of the Council's plans to demolish the Post Office.

The building has no heritage classification and it is curious that there has been no mention of its merits until a new development has been proposed. In the opinion of the Council it does not represent a unique style of architecture or have any historic worth.

It is clear, once again, that in this instance the voices of a few have been raised against the best interests of the majority of the community.

One only has to look inside the building to see the economic constraints it would place on the Council were it to be used as originally proposed. It would have cost the Council $300,000 of ratepayers' money if it had gone ahead with the original plans.

The new concept demonstrates the ability of the Council to efficiently manage its finances and continue as a leader in the provision of community facilities.

The building has no heritage classification and it is curious that

Home Help Seminar

A seminar will be held on November 20 from 9.30 a.m. to 12.30 p.m. at the City Hall to discuss the implications arising from H.A.C.C. (Home and Community Care) funding for the provision of home help to the disabled.

In particular, the specific home help service will be discussed. Organisations dealing with the disabled in Caulfield will be invited to send two representatives to the seminar.

Further information and invitations may be obtained from the Senior Domiciliary Care Officer, Nerreida Graham, telephone 524 3333.

"Let's Wrap It Up" - Party In The Park

Victoria's 150th Closing Celebration

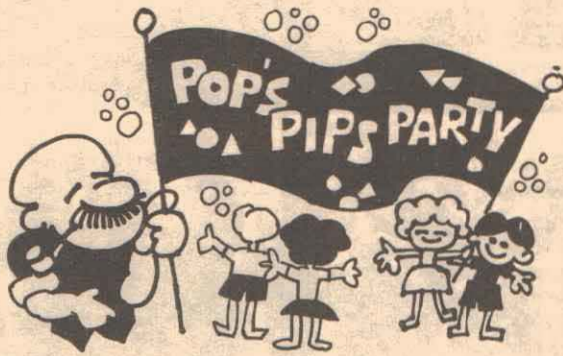

Caulfield City Council is celebrating the end of the Vic 150th Birthday Anniversary with a "Let's Wrap It Up" party in Caulfield Park on November 10, 1985 between 12.00 noon and 5.00 p.m.

Everyone is welcome to come along, enjoy the free festivities and join in the arts, music and theatre activities. To help the party atmosphere, wear your most flamboyant, national, historical or hysterical clothing . . . or come and sit in the park, bring your knitting, the dog, the children, your lunch and hopefully bask in the sun.

What's on? The basic program looks like this:

- 12.00 noon - Ringing of bells all over Victoria - so BYO bell!
- 12.00 - 1.00 pm - Musical entertainment - various performers
- 1.00 - 1.30 pm - Baton twirlers' display
- 1.30 - 2.15 pm - Caulfield City Band - playing with their usual zest
- 2.15 pm - Presentation of the Caulfield Quilt to the Mayor, Cr. Max Blair
- 2.30 - 3.00 pm - Greg Temple's "Punch and Judy"
- 3.00 - 3.30 pm - Release of 150th balloons to synchronise across the state; The Floating Carpet - bring and fling your most colourful flowers to cover the lake; stilt walking, jugglers and dance performances

• 3.30 - 4.30 pm - Come and join the dancing to Bobsy Die Bush Band

Throughout the afternoon there will be strolling musicians, face painting, participatory games with Peter Lustig, building of a fibre and sound house, creation of a giant material bird and garland making. Play giant chess on the lawns, see works produced during Caulfield's Fibrecraft Project or entertain yourselves with the Energy Game made by Glenhantly Primary School students. See also some of the work and history that has arisen from the Murrumbidgee Historical Awareness Project.

Caulfield Croquet Club is having an afternoon of competition and social activity. Feel free to visit them and ask about the game.

While sampling refreshments by Caulfield Scouts and Guides watch out for the Mad Tea Party, the frustrated Tree Climber and the Olympic Swimmer going for a new record across Caulfield Lake - and much more. Should it rain, and of course we hope it does not, put on your gumboots and galoshes, BYO umbrella and we will do what we can under marquees!

It is all happening - so come and be there!!!

Contact number for enquiries Karen Paton or Liz Clay telephone 524 3333.

All the Fun of the Party

Above: children and adults all participated in the day by wearing period costume to suit the 150th theme. Some were a little overwhelmed but enjoyed themselves all the same.

To help celebrate Children's Week and Victoria's 150th birthday, children of the Council's Family Day Care Scheme and in the Child Care Centres, were invited along to a giant party in the City Hall.

They were visited by a very colorful dragon with the help of the children from Oakleigh Primary School, were entertained by clowns and participated in singing all their favourite songs.

After the show there was the party food - cup cakes, chocolate frogs, lollies, fairy bread, fruit juice and of course, balloons, streamers and all those party trimmings that make a day fun.

And there were some special visitors from Council's hostels for the aged, whom (we were told) enjoyed themselves as much as the children.

Facts and Fables About AIDS Seminar at City Hall

The controversial subject of AIDS is being dealt with at a free public meeting at 7.45 p.m. on November 27 at the Caulfield City hall, cnr. Glen Eira and Hawthorn Roads.

"Facts and Fables About AIDS" is the theme of the meeting organised by the Caulfield City Council and Ventereologist of the Health Department and Director of the Melbourne Communicable Diseases Centre, and Dr. Kathy McGrath, Associate Director of the Blood Bank.

The meeting was organised to give the public the opportunity to ask questions to clarify any points about AIDS of which they are unsure, and to voice their fears and apprehensions.

"We are not trying to say anything sensational. We just want to present the facts and to give the audience a chance to voice their fears and to have them allayed," says Dr. Bradford. Health workers, teachers and the general public are invited to attend. It is a subject which involves all the community regardless of age.

For further information contact Ms. Mary Hirsh, Health Education Co-ordinator, Community Care Centre Tel. 523 6666 or Mr. John Wise, Manager Community Development Tel. 524 3333.

One Day in October — the Caulfield Cup 1985

The Caulfield Cup is an important part of the Spring racing and a lead up to the Melbourne Cup. It is the time when Caulfield can definitely be thought of as being 'on the map'.

1. What a familiar sight the Carlton and United Breweries horse team has become when they sponsor and participate in community events.

2. Warming up for the next event.

3. It is a day that the whole family can enjoy.

4. First past the post — the winner of the Fosters Caulfield Cup was No. 14 Tristar.

5. Time to collect the winnings or drown your sorrows.

6. A jubilant jockey, Wayne Treloar, returns to the mounting yard.

7. Cooling down after the big race.

8. Nick Columb, managing owner of the winning horse receives the Fosters Caulfield Cup from Acting Governor of Victoria, Sir John Young

Traders Carnival for Carnegie and Glenhuntly

Koornang Road will again be the stage for the annual Carnegie Traders Association and Chamber of Commerce Carnival on November 15 and 16.

Friday, November 15 will see most of the retail stores participating in a "Sidewalk Sale" with products displayed on trestle tables on the pavement.

On the Saturday, Father Christmas, Air League Drum and Bugle Band performance and marching display, Fusion games, a rock band and much more.

The traders have permission to stay open until 3.00 p.m. on the Saturday and many attractions have been planned for the day.

These include continuous fashion parades, drawn at 2.30 p.m. on the corner of Jersey Parade and raffle tickets are free.

Kiddieland amusements will be available along the strip for the children and a wonderful day for shoppers is planned.

Longer Trading

Under a section of the Labour and Industry Act the Council may make application to the Minister requesting an extension of trading hours for special occasions.

This order, however, can only be made twice a year for any municipality.

The Glenhuntly Traders' Association intends to hold its Festival on Saturday, November 30 and has requested that the Council close Royal Avenue between Glenhuntly Road and the right of way and make application for the extensions of trading hours for the centre until 5.30 pm.

The Council has approved both of these applications and no more can be considered until next year.

Because of this situation the Council is recommending that in 1986 negotiations be undertaken with the relevant traders' associations to arrange two suitable dates for the City when extended trading hours can be co-ordinated.

Dancing the Day Away

The regular Monday afternoon ballroom dance for older people at Curraweena Hall, 10 Curraweena Road, South Caulfield has become very popular.

The dance is a social afternoon of fun which offers the chance to meet new people. It is held from 1.30-3.30 p.m. and you don't have to be a great dancer to come along and join in.

Just call in on the Monday afternoon or telephone Recreation Officer for the Elderly, Carolyn Clark, on 524 3333 for more information.

Street Parties

At this time of year the Council is frequently requested to approve the holding of street parties and to close the various streets to traffic on these days.

If the residents of your street wish to hold such a party the Council will give favourable consideration to an application provided at least 75% of the residents in the street are in favour of the party and associated street closure.

When making an application to the Council it will be necessary to provide evidence of the support of the residents in the street. A form is available from the City Hall for signing, by the residents, to indicate this support.

It should be noted that at least a month's notice is required prior to the proposed date of the street party.

Tabs on Caulfield's famous

"Please could you tell me about famous people in Caulfield!" This is the plaintive cry often heard from students visiting the city offices in search of project material.

Developers approach the Council from time to time seeking advice on prominent people suitable for the naming of building projects.

• The Caulfield Local Artists Register as a Resource for All. The Register is a computer printout copy available for public access at the three Caulfield Libraries, Caulfield Arts Centre and CAB. The register contains already some 270 practising professional and amateur artists in all media — drama, visual, arts, crafts, music, puppetry etc.

If you were perhaps needing to contact a musician for a party, seeking out performers for home activities, seeking tuition, then you could look in the Register for suitable people. If you are an amateur or professional artist looking for others with similar interests, then you could perhaps contact a local person, form groups etc.

It is meant as a resource guide for anyone seeking out artists. So please use it. Updating is annual and the information provided has been recorded as provided. Caulfield Council is not responsible for the quality of registrant's work.

• Special Two Day Workshop — "Beautiful Gifts to Make for Christmas" with Elizabeth Haig. Learn how to make Victoria fabric picture frames, fabric covered boxes, note pads, Christmas door wreaths and decorations etc. It's on November 13 and 20 at the Caulfield Arts Centre, 441 Inkerman Rd, Caulfield. Phone 524 3277 for booking details.

• SOME DATES OF LOCAL INTEREST:
SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 10 — Caulfield's "Let's Wrap It Up" Party in the Park in Caulfield Park from 12 noon to 5 p.m. It's our birthday. Let's celebrate it! (article elsewhere this issue).

SUNDAY, DECEMBER 8 — Pre-Christmas Art and Produce Fair at Caulfield Arts Centre. Come and buy your Christmas goodies there and be supporting to local arts and crafts people.

SUNDAY, DECEMBER 15 — Carols by Candlelight in Caulfield Park by the lake. It may seem early notice, but I'd like to encourage as many residents, friends and families as possible to come along and enjoy the Christmas festivities.

• Artist in Schools Program — The A.I.S. program is part of the Victorian Education Department's plan to encourage schools to have professional artists (of all media) work with their students for 20 days in Term 2. Artists or schools interested in such a project should contact Robyn Challis, Rialto Tower, Education Department, 525 Collins St., Melbourne, telephone 341 4261. Submission date is November 29.

• CLAN — Local Artists Network — has now started social interaction nights at Caulfield Arts Centre on the last Thursday in each month. Meets 7.30 - 9.00 p.m. All artists welcome.

• Southern Community Broadcasters — Test Transmission on 3SCB 89.5 FM from November 24 to 30. Announcer/radio operator classes are available for anyone interested in becoming involved in the station. Contact Wally Marek Tel. 62 0961 (B) or 583 5887 (H).

The Farnarkeling Competition is proceeding well but more entries are needed for the next transmission. Why not come along and read your Farnarkeling limerick or tongue-twister on air. Some examples have included:

*"There once was a writer quite guileless
Who wanted his poem on the wireless
So he gathered his pen,
Said 'I'm off to FM'
On 89.5 you can dial us."
and "Now is the time to make a donation
In support of your local community station;
With a touch of panache
Rush along with your cash —
Four-forty-five-A, South Road's our location."*

Air Jamboree

Caulfield's Scouts recently participated in an international Jamboree of the Air with many scouts from all over the world.

The Jamboree of the Air involved scouts, with the assistance of amateur wireless operators, communicating with other scouts throughout the world on special frequencies.

From midnight Friday to midnight Sunday the scouts communicated by voice or, if they were familiar with it, morse code.

Caulfield District Scouts' J.O.T.A. was co-ordinated by Mr. Garnet Bowen of the Fourth Caulfield Scout group and was held in the Fifth Caulfield Scout Hall in Glenhuntly.

The wireless operators for the day were Len Atyed from Doncaster and Neil Packham from North Caulfield. Apart from Victorian contacts the scouts were able to communicate with other Scouts, Cubs, Guides, Brownies and Venturers from Tasmania, North Queensland, Canberra.

Using Morse Code they were also able to listen to Russia, England Walkie Talkies and an and Japan. ex-R.A.A.F. 1940

Other activities for the receiver. day included Army Field - Groups from Waverley, Mount Waverley, Telephones, Morse Code sets, Computers and Brighton, Monash and computer games. There Glenhuntly attended the was a display of old and Jamboree along with new radios, Crystal sets, scout officials.

Volunteer Centre Moves to Carnegie

The Volunteer Action Centre, previously of Black Rock, has moved to 6 Woorayl St., Carnegie.

The Centre aims to stimulate interest in volunteering, recruit and develop this resource and then place people in places they are needed most.

Since June, 1984 the Volunteer Action Centre has been running their volunteer Placement Service, which through Community Employment Program (CEP)
 funding employed a full-time Project Officer and Administration Officer.

In the 12 months that followed the appointments, over 200 volunteers were interviewed.
 Over 3000 non-profit organisations such as community health centres, hospitals, schools, rehabilitation centres,
 child care centres, counselling services and neighbourhood houses have benefited from the service.

Volunteers Needed

With the CEP funding finished, the placement service, now called the Volunteer Job Bank, is being maintained by a small team of trained Volunteer Placement Officers (VPO's) and office staff.

However, more volunteers and office staff are urgently required to maintain a high level of service in helping others to find their volunteer place in the community.

The Volunteer Job
 Bank maintains a file of volunteer vacancies all over Melbourne in areas such as child care, assisting professionals like occupational therapists or physiotherapists, entertaining, driving, friendly visiting, games and activities with the aged. The list also includes assisting and organising outings and camps, teaching craft and living skills to disabled children or adults and counselling and administration work in libraries, hospitals or offices.

The list of exciting jobs available is endless, and what's even better is that you can set your own hours.

The Volunteer Job
 Bank provides volunteers with the opportunity of attending a personal interview to discuss their needs, skills and interests and a chance to match these with volunteer vacancies in their local community.

Volunteering has many advantages and benefits for both the community and individuals. Some benefits include increased confidence and self-esteem, job satisfaction, an opportunity to meet new and interesting people, gain and maintain skills.

A Challenge

Volunteering can also provide work-related experiences for students and the unemployed and an opportunity to sample new experiences and challenges.

Volunteering shows
 others that you care about your community and are working to improve it.

Other Services

The Centre also offers a support network for volunteer co-ordinators, a newsletter that informs all members of the Centre's developments and activities, information in the form of a resource library, and a consultancy service which provides information on volunteer issues, placement services and procedures.

A new program that commenced in June 1985
 is the Student Community Involved Program (SCIP) which encourages students and schools to take an active part in meeting the needs of the community they live in.

Students undertake school-based community involvement/service programs and assist them by providing ideas, training for both students and teachers, resources in the form of kits, contacts and community links.

The program is a new and innovative part of the work of the Volunteer Action Centre and is the first of its kind in Victoria.

If you want to do more for yourself and your community start today by contacting the Volunteer Action Centre, 6
 Woorayl St., Carnegie,

Join the Club!

The Caulfield Central R.S.L. in Hawthorn Road has a chef that does more than cook.

Roger Steppings carves wonderful sculptures from ice that are the crowning glory of his buffets and dinners for special occasions.

Roger has been at Caulfield Central for over six months now and his meals, as well as his ice carvings, have earned the admiration of the members.

The club is currently conducting a membership drive and has a number of exciting events coming up for the festive season.

On Saturday, December 14 there is the bowling club Christmas Party which will be held in the main hall from 7.30-11.30 p.m. A three course meal is included.

The "Christmas Day" Sunday party on December 22 promises to be an extravaganza with music, dancing and singing with a full Christmas meal for $15 per head.

The party commences at 12 noon and goes until 4.00 p.m. A monster raffle will be drawn on this day.

The New Year's Eve Party is a three course meal with music, singing and dancing from 7.00 p.m. to 1.00 a.m. The cost is $12.50 per head so why not see the New Year in with the Club.

Regular Events

Apart from these special functions there are music, dancing and bistro meals every Saturday night.

Bingo is held every Tuesday night with "eyes down" at 8.00 p.m. Good prizes and a happy atmosphere assured.

If you would like to book for any of the above events contact Jim Ellis at the Club on 528 6088 or at home on 528 6860.

Memberships

The club is open to all citizens of Caulfield and surrounding suburbs on a social membership basis for $43 for 1986. This entitles use of all facilities.

The club has bowling, tennis, golf and billiards and a women's auxiliary. Meals are available for lunch (12 noon-2 p.m.) Tuesday to Saturday, and dinner (6.30-9 p.m.) on Friday and Saturday at very reasonable prices.

The hall and function rooms are available for hire for weddings, birthdays, engagements and office party functions. All functions can be catered for.

Above: Roger Steppings with a recent ice carving.

Clubs, organisations and associations are welcome to join and with 15 or more members, are eligible for discount membership of $30 for each member yearly.

There is plenty of off-street parking in the club grounds and new members are made most welcome. The club is at 167-169 Hawthorn Road, Caulfield. Enquiries can be directed to Jim Ellis, telephone 528 6088.

Changes to Child Protection Services

The Department of Community Services recently assumed responsibility for the Children's Protection Society.

The changes occurred following a number of reviews which identified deficiencies in children's protection services in the State. Spending in the area will be increased by $1.7 million to a total of $2.7 million.

Children's protection services in Victoria are now being conducted by the Department in close co-operation with the police.

Highway, Moorabbin, telephone 553 0711.

The unit is now fully operational and able to provide a full protective service, including investigation of reports of child abuse, consultation on cases and protective services and community and professional education on child abuse.

The unit is open from 8.45 a.m. to 5.00 p.m. Monday to Friday. Any emergency calls after hours should be directed to the Community Policing Squad by phoning D24 on 11444.

The child protection team consists of a Senior Child Protection Officer, a Senior Child Protection Worker, three Child Protection Workers and located on the third Administration floor, 1001 Nepean Officer.

Vandalism - Continuing Problem

There does not seem to be any justification in the story of the capture of Rome, by the Vandals, for the wilful destruction of public buildings which is implied by the word vandalism.

The word has passed into use to denote any wanton act performed against public and personal property without apparent rhyme or reason.

Caulfield residents have expressed concern at the apparent increase in vandalism in the city in recent months. The severity of damage to property increases in different areas at different times but can be attributed to a variety of social problems.

Although we shouldn't make excuses for this behaviour we can list a number of reasons: unemployment, broken homes, alcohol and drugs, wanting to be noticed, television and a ready availability of spray paint cans.

Discussions with the police failed to produce any readily identifiable causes for the increased vandalism in Caulfield.

Little imagination is shown in graffiti writing, in fact it shows some uniformity. The words 'Tubby and Chep' appear in many forms and media on walls from Prahran to Oakleigh. Trees for the length of the City are destroyed or damaged. This is not confined to parks or streets alone but can also occur in private gardens.

Broken windows and drain pipes, damaged doors, fixtures and fittings and graffiti writing affect Council buildings, sporting clubs and personal property alike.

Playground equipment is a frequent target for vandals who break, burn or destroy it. The footbridge in Caulfield Park was the subject of an attack by vandals when they removed about one metre of decking. This left the area dangerous at night until remedial action could be taken.

Break-ins and bashing are often reported and all this at an annual cost to the public in general and the Council in particular.

It is hard to think of actions which can be taken that haven't been thought of before, tried and proved successful. Illuminating buildings is a proven method of deterring attacks but those located in the centre of large parks cannot be protected by this method.

Patrols by the police, on foot or by mobile vans, have helped to reduce personal attacks but they cannot be located on a permanent basis in any specific area.

People do not usually see vandals at work but perhaps the only way to combat the problem is for the public to mount a campaign similar to the very successful 'Neighbourhood Watch' program.

designed around a main interest area, rather than being a collection of isolated subjects.

The units offered in 'Creative Crafts and Marketing' are ceramics, metalcraft, textiles and woodcraft and marketing. Electives include calligraphy, printmaking, photography, research, music, physical education and work experience.

'Wood and Metalcraft Workshop Skills' will give exposure to woodwork techniques, engineering workshop practices, sheetmetal, welding and plumbing experience. Related studies can include graphic communication, communication skills and marketing.

Entry to the courses is open to any student who has completed a Year 11 course, any adult or retired person, or those unemployed or returning from the workforce.

Further information can be obtained from Year 12 Co-ordinator, Tonia Glassborow, on 211 5766.

A Class For All Ages

How often do you find a class ranging in ages from 16 to over 60 in a Melbourne classroom? At Caulfield Technical School in their Year 12 'Creative Crafts and Marketing' class, of course!

The mixed age class commenced this year and has proven an enriching class to teach and a stimulating experience for the school. Some adults enjoyed the class enough to return next year for further studies.

Two courses are being provided in 1986 at the school as an alternative to T.O.P. and H.S.C. courses for people who have an interest in crafts and for those interested in developing or improving workshop skills.

These Technical Year 12 courses are called 'Creative Crafts and Marketing' and 'Wood and Metal Workshop Skills'. Each course is

Success

From Provisional League to State League in five years!

Caulfield City Soccer Club capped a remarkable resurgence when it finished second in Victorian League Division One this year, winning a berth in the 1986 State League.

Caulfield was in its first season in Division One and its success this year was its fourth successive promotion — an achievement unrivalled in Victorian soccer for many, many years.

Caulfield's feat is all the more amazing when you consider that it lost its first four league games this season and was last on the Division One ladder — a position it only occupied though for one week.

Five years ago, no one could have envisaged Caulfield being in State League in 1986. It had just been relegated from the old Metropolitan Leagues into Provisional League Division One.

During this period, many people from inside and outside the club, contributed greatly to the resurgence.

Liaison with the City of Caulfield has culminated in Caulfield being allocated use of Princes Park as its home ground next season and plans have already been tabled for further improvement to that ground.

Caulfield takes pride in having eight junior teams and the juniors are an integral part of the club, which wants to promote a sound junior development policy as the basis for future success.

Coach is the key to success

Coach Takis Svingos, president George Theoharis, secretary George Zafiroopoulos and treasurer John Tzouvelis are the driving forces behind the club's success.

Svingos has been with Caulfield for four seasons and has guided the club to two championships and two runner-up spots, making him the most successful coach in the recent history of Victorian soccer.

"We all recognise and appreciate that the meteoric success of our club is due to his (Svingos's) coaching ability.

"Dedication to the game and persistence easily characterize Takis. He talks soccer all the time, he thinks about soccer and his wife reckons he even dreams about soccer."

So what is the secret of Svingos's success? "There is no secret," he said. "Obviously you have to know the game well but that alone isn't sufficient. Players are human beings who have their ups and downs and a coach must be able to read the mood of the team as a whole. He must set his aims and pursue them relentlessly. You have to give your all. In this way, your players give their all too."

Despite the club's success, Svingos and the committee still have many goals to attain. The first, is to consolidate Caulfield's new-found State League status and already the committee is working toward achieving that goal.

LEISURE LINES

by Lyn Nye, Youth Development Officer

I have been working with the City of Caulfield for the past few weeks after being appointed as Youth Development Officer. All staff have made me feel most welcome which has made settling in much easier.

My past work experience has been involved in Youth Work and program development. During 1981-82 I was a youth project officer with an innovative participation and consultation project. This project was implemented in Oakleigh and involved consulting with young people about their needs, then helping them to take appropriate action to fulfil those needs.

As funding for the position came to an end, I moved on to work as a Training Officer/Youth Worker for the Victorian Association of Youth Clubs.

This position entailed working around the state with volunteers and young people to establish appropriate services and programs for young people in their local communities.

It was also my role to provide these people with leadership training and the developing and broadening of their skills.

Prior to coming to Caulfield I was the Holiday Program Co-ordinator with the City of Oakleigh. This position included organising holiday and camping programs for both teenagers and primary school aged; establishing an after-school program and involvement in the local coffee shop/drop-in centre.

While with the City of Caulfield I intend to work closely with the Caulfield Youth Council and other youth groups to establish interesting and stimulating services for young people in Caulfield.

With assistance from the Youth Council I hope to organise programs in the following areas: computers, radio, performing arts, recreation, health, nutrition for young women, creative arts etc.

These programs will be for all young people to attend and become involved with issues that affect their lives.

As the needs of young people overlap with other sections of the community, youth are so often forgotten when planning facilities, services and making decisions.

For this reason a youth policy should be prepared for the City of Caulfield, thus making all citizens aware of the needs of young people.

An effective policy can only be implemented through consultation with, and participation of, young people.

A youth policy will give both the City and Youth Councils a solid basis from which appropriate services for young people can be established.

If young people wish to find out information on the Youth Council, they meet on the last Thursday of each month at 7.30 p.m. in the City Offices. Maybe some young people are interested in assisting with the Youth Policy or participating in establishing programs. If you are, please do not hesitate to contact me on 524 3333 or call into my office which is situated in Community Development at the City offices.

I look forward to meeting and chatting with young people in Caulfield.
