A monthly publication produced by Caulfield Council for the residents of this City

Wednesday, March 26, 1986
Vol. 13, No. 3.

No change to Offices till amalgamations complete

The newly formed Economic Development Committee of Caulfield has agreed that Caulfield Council offices are sub-standard.

"But," said City Manager, Doug Aylen, "we can do nothing to alleviate the problem until Caulfield's future in the restructuring of local government is assured." He said that even though there are ongoing discussions with the City of Malvern as to the possibility of the two municipalities amalgamating nothing has yet been finalised.

"It would be irresponsible for the Council to consider any extensive alterations to the Council offices at this time."

These comments followed the recent release of the Caulfield Council's economic development proposals which recognise the need to upgrade the office accommodation at the City Hall in the relatively near future.

Inadequate working conditions at the City Hall are not conducive to efficient operations.

No consensus - Planning Brief rejected

LIBRARIES

Local residents clashed with parents and administration at the Sholem Aleichem College, in Elsternwick, at the March meeting of the Policy and Resources Committee of the Caulfield Council.

Under discussion was the fourth, revised submission of a Planning Brief for that school. Numerous objections have been received from residents of the area who oppose any further development of this site. The public gallery, on this occasion, was full to overflowing and it was not possible to achieve any form of compromise.

Among the objections put forward were the alleged traffic problems being caused when the children are dropped off and picked up each day. Residents complained that the school had little sympathy for the area; noise and disruption are considered unreasonable and the architectural style and landscaping is felt to be out of character with the surrounding homes.

It was also suggested that because Caulfield is so well endowed with educational institutions that consideration should be given to possible rationalisation of schools by the Education Department.

Representatives from the school answered some of these allegations. To alleviate some of the traffic congestion a mini bus is being used to transport a small number of children. It has also been stated that the school will not go beyond Year 8 - an increase of 50 pupils from 210 to 290.

The development is to be extended by two classes with other buildings for a library and supporting facilities.

Parents pointed out that 90% of the students were Caulfield residents and that the school fulfilled a community need for that particular style of education.

In addressing the problem the committee sought consensus or compromise from both parties but this was not forthcoming. Because of this the Planning Brief was rejected.

But the school is still able to apply for permission to make its alterations through the Executive Services Committee. Each application will be assessed on its merit.

A Planning Brief was requested by the Council to ensure that it had some knowledge of the direction the school was heading when considering any proposals. In the past the planning brief process has been quite successful and it would also have given some insight to residents of the area.

They would know what to expect with future developments of the school.

Neighbourhood Watch — six new areas proposed

Two Neighbourhood Watch meetings are being held in the Caulfield City hall on April 7 and April 8 at 7.30 pm both nights.

The meetings are being organised by Sgt. Ferry of the Elsternwick Police Station. The April 7 meeting is to form three new areas. The first is bounded by Alma to Dandenong Roads between Orrong and Kooyong, the second between Kooyong and Hawthorn Roads from Glenhuntly to Balaclava Roads and the third between Hawthorn and Kooyong from Glenhuntly to North Roads.

The meeting on April 8 is to form another three areas in the area bounded by Kooyong Road to Nepean Highway and Glenhuntly Road to North Road.

Interested persons are invited to attend the meeting. Support must come from residents within the area for the program to be established.

So please show your interest and concern by coming along to initiate more Neighbourhood Watch areas which have proven so successful in other parts of Caulfield.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letters To The Editor

Letters to the Editor are invited on any issue of local concern. Do you want to voice an opinion, raise an issue or ask a question on a local matter?

Letters should be kept as short as possible, typed or neatly hand written. A name, address and telephone number must be supplied but are not necessarily for publication. Anonymous letters will not be considered.

Address letters to: The Editor, Caulfield Contact, P.O. Box 42, SOUTH CAULFIELD. 3162.

Congratulations!

Madam,

The Caulfield City Choir wishes to extend to Caulfield Contact the very warmest congratulations on the achievement of one hundred editions and, also, on the very interesting presentation of that 100th publication.

We of the choir are very appreciative of the generous facilities available through Caulfield Contact providing us, as it does, a means of reaching all the residents of Caulfield with details of our performances and progress and also to learn information concerning all the other interesting activities taking place in our City.

Such a public facility, in which all can share, must inevitably result in a closer-knit community.

We congratulate the editors on the achievements to date and wish them well for many more successful publications.

Dorothy Stanley-Lowe, Caulfield City Choir.

Development Edition

Madam,

May I take this opportunity to say I was very pleased and relieved that Council had a change of attitude and made their plans for the Caulfield community public and therefore give residents and ratepayers the opportunity to comment on the matters raised. I am sure the Council is aware that it cannot expect constructive criticism until more detailed information is available.

At face value this 100th color picture edition points to a practical future development, and it is hoped this edition will be followed up with another supplement with full details of results of a feasibility study and revenues required to bring this plan into reality.

I would like to state that I am rather confused about the repeated savings of $300,000 for each of the several projects listed and I trust that these figures are not "entrepreneurial" which, according to the Australian Pocket Oxford Dictionary means "Entrepreneur; person who takes risk of profit or loss". Surely the Council will not do this at a time of high interest rates and any savings to residents in the form of rates would be doubtful!

Congratulations!
Veronika Martens, Murrumbidgee.

Historical Society Thanks

Madam,

Thank you most sincerely for the publicity you have so willingly given to the activities of the Caulfield Historical Society, in Caulfield Contact and for your complete co-operation at all times.

We would also like to place on record our appreciation to the Caulfield City Council for their total support during the many years this Society has been in existence.

The co-operation and friendly advice we have received from yourself, your staff and members of the City Council has been, and is, most sincerely appreciated.

Congratulations, also, to Caulfield Contact for reaching the grand old age of one hundred editions, and ten years of service to the citizens of Caulfield.

R. Ballantyne,
Hon. Secretary,
Caulfield Historical Society.

Post Office Site

Madam,

Reading Caulfield Contact one gets the strong impression that the Council had already decided to demolish the old Post Office and redevelop the site. So perhaps any further comment and suggestions are futile. However, for what they are worth, here is one new resident's point of view and suggestions.

1. I agree the present Staniland Grove Library is inadequate and inconvenient. The difficult entrance and access makes use of it impossible for many.

2. In my opinion though, the old Post Office in Glenhuntly Road, Elsternwick should be preserved and renovated. The State Bank seems to be repairing and renovating their old building nearby. I believe the Council should do the same with the old Post Office.

3. I suggest building the new library and infant welfare centre on the existing Staniland Grove site. Certainly it should not be built on the Post Office site on Glenhuntly Road, this adding to the problems of traffic congestion there.

4. The old Elsternwick Post Office should be retained and renovated as an example of a building of the past and use found for it less intense and busy than that of a Library and Infant Welfare Centre. Glenhuntly Road, Elsternwick is architecturally and aesthetically soulless so old buildings such as the former Post Office are needed to give some character to the streetscape.

5. Who is the anonymous "noted and respected expert specialising in building quality" mentioned in Caulfield Contact? His name, qualifications and details on his experience should be published so the public can judge. Also his report in full so we can see whether you have printed extracts out of context.

Finally, it seems to me regrettable that the whole slant and tone of articles and reports in Caulfield Contact are directed at justifying the demolition of the Post Office. The Council seems to be far from open-minded on the issue. It surely is unfair to depict the proposed new building in such glowing and glossy illustration while contrasting it with an old black and white photograph of Elsternwick's former Post Office. Let's have an illustration on a refurbished former Post Office contrasted with the proposed new building so we can better judge.

Bruce Tanner,
Elsternwick.

Post Office Again

Madam,

I am very upset about the proposal by the Caulfield City Council to demolish the Elsternwick Post Office and replace it with a three storey concrete block.

It would be a great loss to the charm and character of the area to destroy such an architecturally beautiful building which is part of Elsternwick's early history.

Especially today when more and more people appreciate the old beautiful buildings of our past and the trend towards restoration and preservation of the Australian heritage.

Walter Kay,
Elsternwick.

Road problems

Madam,

During my childhood I holidayed here with my grandmother.

The tradespeople made their deliveries by horse drawn vehicles along the cobble-stoned right-of-way. Those cobble-stones are still there for us to bump along on in our cars.

I hope that some day, before I go to my last rest, I will be able to drive along a decent car entrance.

News from Council

Traffic Petition

Petitioners in a section of Oakleigh Road between Grange and Koornang Roads have been advised that the isolated implementations of traffic control measures is inappropriate.

Oakleigh Road is a collector road carrying some 2,200 vehicles per day. Its function is to distribute traffic between the arterial roads and the local street system.

This section is part of Local Area No. 42 and assessment of the extensive traffic data already collected has given it a high priority for the implementation of traffic management measures in the new financial year.

Tree Planting

For many years now the Council has been looking at the possibility of organising a streetscaping programme for the City.

Caulfield's newly appointed Urban Planner is investigating the implementation of a self-help tree planting scheme as a means of making our streets more attractive.

The project is still under discussion but when more information becomes available the details will be well publicised.

Hawthorn Road Buildings to go Ahead

The Ministry of Planning and Environment has verbally advised the Council that is application for the proposed offices and shop at 342-346 Hawthorn Road, South Caulfield has been approved.

The permit will be received by the Council by March 14th this year. The conditions of the permit are standard and no amendments to the plan are required.

The Council's architects, Fredman and Malina, have been advised to draw up plans and specifications for tender.

Council not Happy with Bill

The Local Government (General Amendment) Bill discusses (among other things) the right of Councils to enter into contracts with private organisations.

In the light of Caulfield's recent Economic Development Strategies the Council would like to be involved in entrepreneurial activities without all these 'strings' that are presently attached.

The Council, therefore, will be writing to the Minister for Local Government expressing concern that the Bill does not satisfactorily extend the powers in this area.

Fringe Benefits Tax

The Council has been approached by the Victorian Automobile Chamber of Commerce regarding the Fringe Benefit Tax. The V.A.C.C. is particularly concerned with the application of this tax to employer provided vehicles when these are used by employees for private use.

The V.A.C.C. advises that approximately 17% of government revenue is raised by motor vehicle purchases and operation. The proposal to tax the private use of employer owned vehicles will see this percentage further increased.

In addition to objecting to this increase the V.A.C.C. raises concern at the way the tax has been portrayed as one which the 'bosses will pay' when in actual fact the consumer, or in the case of Local Government, the rate payer, will ultimately carry the burden.

M.M.B.W. Amendment

An amendment to the MMBW Planning Scheme proposes to change the definition of 'dwelling' and 'residential building' to allow shared houses to be established as of right, in residential zones.

Over the past few years the Melbourne Metropolitan Planning Scheme has been amended to allow 'community residential units' (a residence for up to six unrelated people, either disabled or under the control of the Department of Community Welfare Services) and 'womens' refuges (temporary accommodation for up to six women and their dependants) without requiring a Town Planning Permit.

The purpose of this amendment is to allow people who are unrelated to live together without first obtaining a Town Planning Permit. It introduces a new definition of dwellings to cover all households of unrelated persons.

Where more than 10 habitable rooms are involved the use would fall within the new definition of 'residential building' for which a permit is required.

New Building Surveyor

Geoff Milner, Deputy Building Surveyor, has been appointed to the position of Building Surveyor. Geoff, in addition to being a qualified building surveyor is also a qualified structural engineer, and has been acting as Building Surveyor since late December.

Budget Looks Good

Although the Council's latest Budget report shows a net operating surplus of $206,000 for the year to date most of the variance detailed should adjust to budget during the remainder of the year. Close scrutiny will be given to any variations which do not come into line by the half yearly mark.

Resident comment sought in traffic control

As a result of Caulfield's Local Area Traffic Management Study the Council has recommended that priority be given to Area No. 43 — the area bounded by Koornang, Coorigil, Murrumbena and North Roads.

The streets in this area are being used as a short cut to the east and the speeds which have been monitored are well in excess of the limits for a residential area.

Details of a comprehensive traffic management plan are being circulated to residents of the area. They are being given an opportunity to provide the Council with their comments and to make further submissions.

The item was discussed following the presentation of a report at a recent meeting of Council's Environment and Community Development Committee. A number of residents were present and they expressed their gratitude to the Council for tackling this particular problem and including the community in the discussions.

Detailed plans of the various traffic control measures associated with the proposals are available for inspection, along with the relevant traffic data, at the City offices, 9 am-4 pm Monday to Friday.

Further information may be obtained from the Councils Traffic Engineer on 524 3324.

Written comments received before April 11, 1986 will be documented for consideration by the Council's Environment and Community Development Committee.

Crossing for South Caulfield

A pedestrian operated signal crossing is to be installed in Kooyong Road, just north of its intersection with Clarence Street in South Caulfield.

The Rev. Joyner of St. Catherine's Church, which is located at the intersection, along with South Caulfield citizens, have been constantly lobbying for improvement in pedestrian safety at the intersection since 1982. In the 1970s there had also been prior attempts to have a crossing installed at the intersection.

It has been a long campaign but at last there will be improvement for pedestrians in South Caulfield.

Caulfield Council and the Road Traffic Authority hope to have the crossing installed in the coming months.

The intersection of Kooyong Road and Clarence Street can be difficult for motorists because of several bus stops and turning buses at the intersection. Despite this some motorists obviously consider Kooyong Road in South Caulfield to be some sort of speedway.

There is no doubt the crossing will improve road safety for pedestrian traffic in the area which is particularly heavy because of the bus stops for three different bus lines, the St. Catherine's Church, several homes for the elderly and as well its usage by children attending schools in the general vicinity.

What a Ball!

Senior Citizens Week was celebrated in Caulfield with a number of events held around the City. The highlight of the week was a Tea Dance at the City Hall with special guest Reg Gorman. Senior Citizens danced the afternoon away to the Foxtrot, Waltz, Pride of Erin, Evening Three Step and many other dances.

Caulfield's books balance with $80 to spare

At a time when Council efficiency and spending are under close scrutiny the Caulfield Council is happy to announce that it is looking 'squeaky clean'.

Because Council amalgamations are being discussed at length, in all Local Government quarters, many Municipalities are feeling quite vulnerable. It seems that initial concerns have been with the ability of Councils to balance their books.

The auditor has now submitted his report on the Caulfield Council accounts for the year ended September 30, 1985. It is an extremely good report and shows a surplus of $80 being carried forward into the current year.

A feature of Caulfield's accounting system is the ability to confidently establish programs for the following year and to identify the funds required. The rate is struck accordingly and the funds raised (along with loans etc.) should be sufficient to meet these commitments. Tight budgetary performance reviews throughout the year have produced excellent results.

Caulfield has had a good year and looks forward to even better things in '86

Heritage Week in April

The City of Caulfield is participating in the National Trust's Heritage Week this year with a major exhibition in the City Hall on April 19 and 20.

The exhibition promises to be very exciting with everything from collectors items and period clothing to olden-days household goods and antique cameras.

Many community groups and organisations are teaming together to put on an exhibition that will remind us of our heritage and provide an insight into Caulfield as it was.

The City of Caulfield Band will put on a special performance in the City hall at 1.00 pm on Sunday, April 20. Come along and listen to some music while you browse among the displays or sit down to a cup of tea or coffee.

Special displays will be put on by the Little Company of Mary Hospital and Caulfield Hospital. An old ether machine will remind some of how it used to be!

The Brighton Philatelic Society and the Australian Card Collectors Society will be setting up interesting displays of historical stamps and cards respectively.

If you haven't yet seen Kerry Gavin's craft work on the history of Murrumbidgee or the wonderful Caul-field Quilt then the exhibition will be the time and place to see both at once.

The Clan Cameron will be there to help you find out whether you may be a descendant of a Cameron and what this means to you.

The Girl Guides are supplying uniforms from days gone by.

There will be a display from the Caulfield Library Service who are working on a special booklist and display of books concerned with our heritage. Find out how to renovate that Edwardian house, how to repair old furniture and how to look up your family tree.

The City of Caulfield will also provide a display of old rate books, artifacts and other interesting information.

While you're in the City hall why not have a look at our "Mayoral Gallery", photographs of our past Mayors.

Now for "Something Completely Different"

An unusual program of chamber music and theatre will make its Australian debut in Melbourne on Friday, April 18 and Saturday, April 19 at the Caulfield Arts Centre.

Called "Something Completely Different", the performance features piano trios by Clara Schumann (1843), Rebecca Clarke (1920) and Germaine Tailleferre (1978) together with readings taken from diaries, letters and articles relating to women as musicians. This combination of music and words was originated in the United States where it has been presented to enthusiastic audiences.

Rosalie Heller, the pianist of the original American group has been visiting Australia working to reproduce the program with musicians in Melbourne and Adelaide.

In Melbourne she will be joined by Ruth Pearl (violin) and Annette Martin (cello). All have had extensive careers as chamber musicians in many cities of the world. Sally Boyd, the narrator, is very active in the Melbourne music scene.

The narration in turn is amusing, ironic and sometimes painful, often joyous and touches on the struggle to obtain a musical education, the difficulties of balancing family and career, the pleasures of making music and finally being accepted as professionals. But the focal point is the fresh and powerful works which will leave listeners exhilarated.

Following the concert the audience will be invited on stage for a glass of wine and to meet the performers.

A special young people's performance will be given on Monday, April 21. Tickets for this are $2.

Tickets for other performances are $7 and $5. Call Merren Ricketson or Sally Boyd at the Centre on 524 3277 for information and bookings.

What's On?

There will also be a display of ceramics made by the Boyd family in the 40s and 50s at their Murrumbidgee studio. Other craft and historical groups are contributing to the project as well. Plan a visit over Easter!

Painting with wool

Our city is one of talented artists and craftspeople. Among the many potters, painters and drawers is Hanna Haspel, costume designer, wool "painter" and tapestry artist.

Hanna stands out because of her uniqueness, her international success and her ability to create myth, magic and vibrance in her works.

A Caulfield resident since 1940, Hanna started life in Vienna, Austria in 1920. She studied at the Art and Craft Academy in Vienna and since then has spent her life dedicated to creative pursuits. She studied fashion design in Paris and worked for a famous fashion house before marrying in Vienna. Hanna and her husband escaped from Hitler in 1938 by moving to Australia.

In Australia she worked as a fashion illustrator for the Argus and for Melbourne's fashion trade. Hanna commented that fashion in Australia at this time had its restrictions. "I wasn't allowed to use my own designs — I had to follow European and American trends." Instead of being influenced by the Australian climate and way of life Hanna found she spent her days copying overseas trends.

Hanna spent time travelling overseas, gaining inspiration for her new work — wool paintings. When she tells of her travels to the South Pacific it is easy to see where the Polynesian influence in her wool paintings originated from. The almond eyes and bright colors are indicative of the naive art style used by Pacific artists.

"I fell in love with the style, created some pieces for myself in a more sophisticated style which were promptly bought by a visitor one day."

In 1979 the Wool Corporation commissioned Hanna to produce some works for them, using wool. "It is the only fibre I use, apart from a little lurex for sparkle. It has a beautiful texture and comes in such glowing vivid colors."

Color that is too garish in oils can be recaptured in the vitality of wool, says the Wool Corporation's description of Hanna's work and its product.

In the first week of display by the Wool Corporation, over 80% of Hanna's work was sold and more works commissioned.

Her wool paintings are created on hessian frames and feature, as well as Polynesian, biblical themes and illustrations from myth and legend. Hanna uses gros point stitching although she pleads ignorance of formal embroidery terms. "I don't know what my stitches are called, I just do them."

She works eight hours a day solidly and each work can take six to 10 weeks to complete. Her works sell for anything from $500 to $1,000.

Three years ago Hanna was commissioned to design the costumes for a children's opera on Pinocchio by the Italians and English. The commission was part of a joint grant from both nations and the opera is being held in Florence in 1987. Previously, she designed costumes for Sleeping Beauty.

Currently overseas to supervise the costume making, Hanna says she hopes to start on an exhibition of her wool paintings when she returns. "I would also like to experiment with a new medium — hand-stitched appliques in felt."

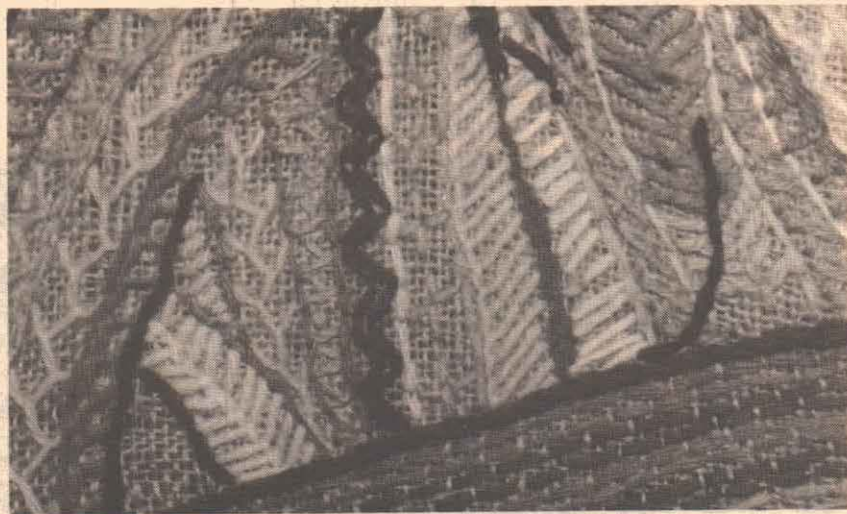

Apart from her work Hanna also enjoys ceramics ("very much an amateur"), languages and, of course, travel. She has also been known to help out granddaughters when they are in school plays — "a wonderful camel's head it was too," says Hanna, showing photos.

When Hanna returns, she will hopefully provide Caulfield with an exhibition of her work, an exhibition that will put a little myth into everyone's lives.

Caulfield Festival

The first meeting of the Caulfield Festival Management Committee was held on 19th March, 1986. The meeting was held to elect a new Committee of Management for the 1986 Caulfield Festival and to develop an outline of the nine day festival to be held from 28th November to 7th December, 1986.

As a response to the success of past Festivals and the ever growing community interest it was decided that the 1986 Festival would continue to reflect the wide and varied interests of the Caulfield community.

The Committee members plan to provide an extensive range of events and activities during this year's Festival and the members are looking for community involvement. Should you or your group have any suggestions or ideas for the Festival please call Liz Clay or Susan Barlow-Clifton on 524 3333. Your ideas will be welcomed.

Caulfield's kosher kitchen — plaque for contributor

With the affixing of mezzuzot by Rabbi Abaranok,
the first Kosher Kitchen to be attached to a public hospital in Australia, was officially opened at the Royal Southern

Memorial Hospital
on December 18, 1977.

As far back as 1950

when the hospital was just a concept and plans and guidelines were being established, the feasibility of including a kosher kitchen was discussed and it was decided that when the hospital was built and functioning the matter would again be considered.

It was not until April 1973 when the new kitchens at the hospital were completed, leaving the old diet kitchen area and equipment vacant that plans were drawn up in consultation with members of the Jewish community and Kitchen

Planning Committee
was formed.

The kitchen is actually two separate kitchens for preparation of meat and dairy foods separately.

According to Jewish dietary law, foods containing meat must never come in contact with dairy foods during preparation, cooking and eating.

The kitchens are under the Rabbinical supervision of Rabbi Abaranok or the Mizrachi congregation and religious supervisor, Mr. O. Weiss.

The kitchens produce meals for both the Royal Southern
Memorial Hospital and Caulfield Hospital. But its main purpose is to provide Kosher Meals on Wheels which are delivered by volunteers to areas throughout Melbourne.

Today, an average of 80 meals a day are prepared. Since its inception in 1977

200,000 meals have been sent out from the hospital.

The kitchens cost $61,200 and were subsidized by the State Government for $45,333. The difference was raised by the Jewish community who have continued contributing to the work of the kitchen.

Over the years they have contributed both financially and with volunteers to the maintenance of the kitchen.
Two very generous contributors have been
Mrs. Dora Berkowitz
and the Kosher Meals
on Wheels Association of Victoria.

In recognition of Mrs. Berkowitz's generosity a plaque was unveiled at the kitchen
recently. Mrs.
Berkowitz has donated $12,000 to the Kitchen through funding to the hospital.

Left, Cr. Patience, from the R.S.M.H.
Board of Management thanks Mrs.
Berkowitz for her donation with a posy.

Library transformation takes place

Large bright posters, beanbags and mobiles have transformed the Junior Library at the Caulfield branch into a reading wonderland for children.

A relaxed and informal atmosphere is the aim of the Children's Services Officer, Cherryl Dart. Cherryl has been working with Caulfield Library Service for two months and was previously employed at Mornington Library.

She is very involved with the Junior Library and can be seen in action every afternoon, ready to assist with project material or recommending a book for a good read.

Storytime

Every Tuesday morning between 11 and 11.30 am, enjoy a cup of coffee and a quiet moment while the children participate in stories, songs and activities. This is aimed at pre-schoolers but don't hesitate to bring older brothers and sisters along during school holidays.

Activity hour

Between 4 and 5 pm every Thursday the Junior Library becomes a construction site for the inventors and craftsmen of the future. The children are busy making anything from spaceships to puppets to spooky monsters. This is a free activity and is open to all children.

Parenting collection

has been extended to include the Parenting collection. This collection includes books relating to pregnancy, the role of the father, nutrition, birthnames and helping children deal with death, sex, relationships and everyday events.

It is housed in the right-hand corner and is great for browsing while the children are making their selections.

If you visit the library during the day, don't be alarmed by the number of children present. It may be one of the many schools visiting. Just join in the fun.

Computer Competition at Library

The Caulfield Library Service recognises the growing interest in computers by all ages of the community.

To encourage the usage of computers as a learning tool as well as a means of entertainment, the Caulfield Library Service is running a programming competition for young adult library members.

The author must be between 13 and 19 years old and be a member of the library.

Proof of age must be provided.

All entries must be submitted to a branch of the library by June 30, 1986.

There are no guidelines for subject matter, however the following points are to be considered in judging:

original, user friendly useful and display efficiency in coding, use of graphics where applicable and provide detailed instructions.

Fun, health and fitness program for young women

In today's life-style, health and fitness are often overlooked for the whirl and burl and modern living.

Health and fitness encompasses personal, social, emotional and environmental factors, where traditionally, especially the health are looked towards finding cures for illness.

Throughout our lives we are required to adjust to new factors, but probably never as dramatically as during adolescence. Youth is also a time of social and emotional uncertainty during which critical decisions must be made that will shape the rest of life.

Health and fitness covers a very wide range of topics relevant to youth. These include sexuality, relationships, physical and emotional developments, self-defence, family planning, drugs, alcohol, obesity, AIDS etc.

The Caulfield City Council in conjunction with the Youth Council have organised a program for young women in Caulfield covering important health and fitness issues.

The program will be run over six weeks at Caulfield High School on Tuesday evenings in the meeting room at 7.00 pm beginning on April 8.

Program Plan

Tuesday, April 8
Health and Nutrition — Films and fun and general discussion.

Tuesday, April 15
Health and Nutrition — Speakers and films on diet, sensible eating and other health issues.

Tuesday, April 22
Family Planning — Family planning education unit, speakers and films.

Tuesday, April 29

Tuesday, May 6

Baha'is launch international effort for peace

Representatives of the Baha'i Faith presented a proposed plan for world peace to the Mayor, Cr. Max Blair recently.

In a world wide effort, Baha'is in 150 countries and territories are presenting the plan to their governments and community leaders.

The plan, entitled "The Promise of World Peace", was released by the Universal House of Justice, the world administrative head of the faith in response to the increasing urgency for world peace.

The plan calls for an International Forum of all governments to consider the world's agonising problems. A major recommendation of the document is for the United Nations to call a meeting of the representatives from all countries to establish a new framework for international relations.

Coping with a drug problem

from some people who've been through it

If you have found evidence — or even have a vague suspicion someone close to you may have a drug problem, we know how you feel.

We know well what it is like to be alone with this problem. We remember the feelings of panic and frustration that resulted from this discovery. We in Families Anonymous have shared this experience too.

For a while some of us tried to ignore our suspicions. We were too afraid to examine the situation more closely because what would we do if we found that what we feared was really true?

As the drug user's problems became worse, our frantic attempts to help only led to his becoming more hostile and rebellious, which left us still more upset and desperate. At times we felt resentful and depressed at the degree to which our own lives were being affected by another person's problems.

In the Families

Anonymous program, we learned that the drug user's illness affects the lives of everyone close to him and that we too needed help. We discovered many of our efforts to control or change the situation were often unintentionally enabling or encouraging this person to continue a self-destructive pattern.

It has been a great relief to learn more effective ways of coping with this situation, while at the same time gaining some peace-of-mind, hope, and help for a better way to live.

Many times the drug user is simply not ready or willing to stop "using" but we have learned there is much we can do to avoid standing in the way of his recovery. For the user seeking help, drug recovery programs are available. However, Families

Families Anonymous is a free self-help program for those concerned about drug abuse and behavioural problems of a relative or friend. Completely anonymous, non-professional and non-religious. Not connected with any hospital or agency.

Anonymous is designed for us — the parent, spouse, child or other emotionally involved relative or friend.

We use first names only, as this is an anonymous program. No dues or fees are required. The weekly meetings are held regularly throughout the year, and attendance is welcomed without prior arrangements. You will not be urged to participate in the group discussions, but may join in and ask questions if you wish. We do understand how you feel.

Meetings are held at the Mount Street Neighbourhood House, Panoramic Grove, Mount Waverley on Thursday nights from 8 pm. Enquiries to Janice on 232 7309 or Claire on 578 9600. A local group can be set up if there is enough interest.

Off street car parking study

A study document investigating off street car parking is under discussion by the Caulfield Council.

The study covers three distinct sub-areas: car parking ratios, cash-in-lieu procedures, and separate rate schemes.

In respect of car parking ratios, i.e. the required amount of car parking to be provided on site by developers, it is suggested that Council adopt the procedures now contained in the Melbourne Metropolitan Planning Scheme with some minor variations to suit local conditions.

It is suggested that the Council avail itself of these proposed car parking ratios to provide some incentive for development to occur in certain areas, development in specified areas may be encouraged through requiring slightly less car parking to be provided on site.

Changes to the existing cash-in-lieu procedures are designed in part to assist and further attract commercial development to certain parts of the municipality as well as remove some of the more contentious elements of the existing procedures.

The suggested changes to the separate scheme are quite significant. Whilst Council will still encourage and assist traders to establish separate rate scheme car parks, it is argued that Council should move away from the current practice of subsidising schemes through financing the construction cost to a system where traders and owners meet the full cost.

No decision on the study has been made at this stage. It is anticipated that it will be further considered in conjunction with the commercial strategy, which is currently being prepared and should be considered by Council by May or June of this year.

Parking in commercial areas is a constant problem — particularly in Elsternwick.

Foster Care needs more families

Foster Care South East has been operating for over one year now and during that time has attracted over 30 families to the program.

However, all families need holidays and time to themselves, so Foster Care are in need of new families for children requiring care.

They would be keen to hear from anyone who is interested in fostering, whether it be for very short periods such as over weekends or for more challenging periods such as 12 months.

Families who are willing to take brothers and sisters, teenagers, or any children for periods of time up to 12 months have been in particular demand of late.

At the moment Foster Care urgently needs families for the following children.

'Andrew' is an attractive 10 year old boy who needs a family who would be willing to care for him until he is able to live independently. Andrew's mother is unable to care for him due to health problems, but would like to have regular contact.

Andrew is tall and slim with an olive complexion and a warm smile. He has an appealing, pleasant personality and particularly enjoys football. Andrew is anxious to be moved to a family where he knows that he will be remaining permanently as he has had several moves. He particularly would like to have a foster father as he has never known his own father.

'Kap' is a good looking 10 year old boy whose parents are Anglo-Indian. Kap is living in a family group home and sees his parents and younger sister twice a month. He has made great strides in his development during the last 18 months and would like to live in a 'normal' family.

Many people have been assisting his parents and it is hoped they can resume caring for him in one to two years time. Kap is about to start grade five this year and he particularly enjoys going to cubs.

'Nicky' is nearly seven years old. He suffered severe physical maltreatment from his step father when he was a baby which caused him to develop a number of behavioural problems. His mother cares greatly for him but was unable to cope with his behaviour.

Since being in care, Nicky's behaviour has greatly improved. He needs a special family who can give him a lot of individual love and care. Nicky will need care for about 12 months.

'Mark' is nearly two years old. He has brown hair, blue eyes and a bright smile. Mark's parents care for him very much but because of health problems are unable to look after him. They would want to have regular contact with him. Mark is a cautious, sensitive little boy. He is very alert and learns rapidly in new situations.

Mark had spent many months in a children's home. He needs a gentle, caring family who will be able to help him reach his full potential. One of Mark's parents has a Jewish background.

If you are interested in fostering or would like more information, please contact Joanna, Jill or Tamara, or come along to an information evening on Thursday, April 17 at 7.30 pm at the Chadstone Community Health Centre, 568 Neerim Road, Hughesdale.

Liaison officer for high school

Caulfield High School recently appointed a Community Liaison Officer, Ms. Carol Hankinson, to increase parent and community participation in the school.

Carol will be responsible for regular newsletters to parents, to support existing parent groups and welcome new parents, encourage students to be active in decision making and to allow the local community to see what good things are happening at the school.

A recent information night for parents saw approximately 270 adults attending to talk with teachers and discuss their child's curriculum.

Carol invites all parents to the school at any time and encourages parents to participate in school life. This ranges from School Council to using computers.

The invitation extends to any community groups or individuals that would like to visit the school.

Carol's hours are Tuesday and Thursday from 8.30 am-4.30 pm and Friday from 9 am-12 noon. Call in to the school at 76 Booran Road or telephone 211 7838.

Enquiry Day — It's for You

Where:

Caulfield Library, Maple Street, South Caulfield.

When:

Wednesday, April 23 from 10 am to 6 pm.

Who:

You, and from 2-5 pm, Jim Badger, Co-ordinator of Library Services and Carol Harry, Community Liaison Officer of the City of Caulfield will join the Reference and Information Librarian, Gladys Vallati and other senior staff members in an effort to respond to your enquiries.

A cup of tea or coffee will be served from 3-4 pm.

The Real Reason

The real reason for an Enquiry Day is the fact that many patrons have been hesitant to enter the glassed off Reference Section because they think it's only for students.

It is an area for quiet work but whether you are checking the current value of stamps, identifying a silver mark, seeking a quotation, checking the biographical details on a famous person or preparing an assignment for school is immaterial.

The Reference and Information Librarian is always pleased to assist library visitors to find the answer to their query. It doesn't matter whether it takes a few minutes or whether, after searching resources in the library, it is necessary to go to a larger or more specialised library.

Don't think that your question is too simple or too complex. Questions in the past have included:

- From a three-year-old, I want the book about a duck.
- A list of music, songs and dances mentioned in the works of Charles Dickens.
- How to remove crustaceans from shells so that the shells might be polished.
- Who or what were "Gallowglasses" and what is the origin of the word.
- Names of breeds of ducks.
- Technical, historical, scientific, medical and literary topics covering the whole range of knowledge.

Top: Reference Librarian, Gladys Vallati, helps student, Lana Messer, select books for an art assignment. Above: the Reference section is for all ages.

Roadwork — Road safety for primary schools

Statistics show that young children, either as passengers, pedestrians or cyclists, are more likely to die or be injured as a result of traffic accidents than from any other single cause.

Roadwork, a primary school traffic safety kit is a resource for classroom teachers for teaching traffic safety from Prep to Year 6 level in all primary schools in Victoria. It contains meaningful classroom and real world experiences.

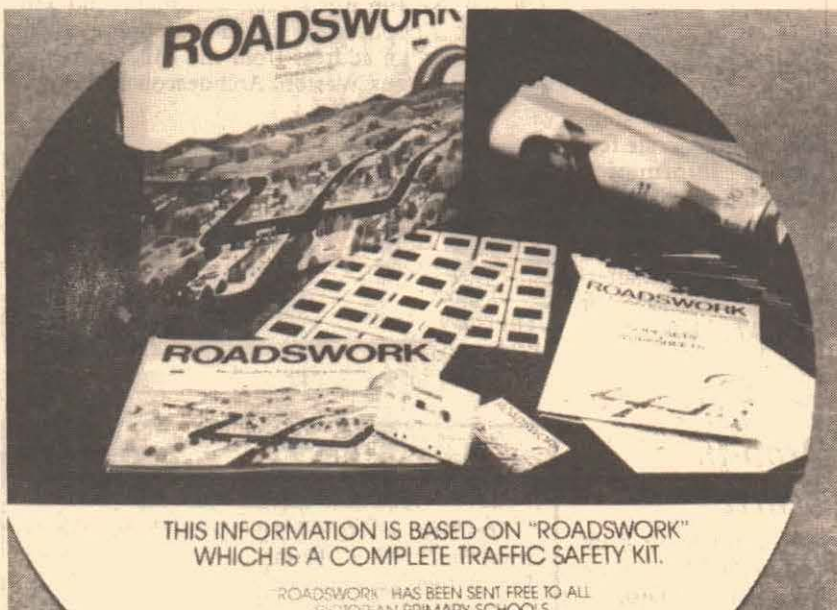

The kit consists of a Teachers Resource Guide, prepared worksheets, discussion prints, slides and an audio cassette. It covers pedestrian education for the young and has sections on passenger safety and basic road user patterns. The program involves students in practical learning situations.

The material has been structured to cater for different levels of ability. The kit was sent to all primary schools in 1982 and is supported by teacher consultants, seconded from the Ministry for Education.

Consultants are available to school staff and parent groups to discuss all aspects of teaching Traffic Safety Education at primary school level.

Services include in-service programs, curriculum days and half days, school staff meeting discussions, school council discussions, assistance to individual classroom teachers, talks to parents and friends groups and the provision of resource materials.

Consultants call on schools throughout the metropolitan area as well as the country regions of Victoria.

Parents and teachers who wish to use the services of a consultant or learn more about Traffic Safety Education should contact their school, their child's classroom teacher or the Roadworks team at The Road Traffic Authority, 854 Glenferrie Road, Hawthorn, 3122, telephone 810 2666.

New Course at technical school

Caulfield Junior Technical School commenced a Year 12 course in Wood and Metal Work skills this year. Along with the Creative Crafts and Marketing course it has given a Year 12 level of mixed aged people.

According to Year 12 Co-ordinator, Tonia Glassborow, the adults in the class find it stimulating to go back to school to learn in a friendly, helpful environment without the pressure of examinations. Young people also benefit from working with people who come from different backgrounds and are very keen to learn.

"This kind of class gives a taste of the social conditions that young people experience when they commence work, and help them to relate more easily to other people besides their peers," said Tonia.

"Our courses are interest based, so they suit people who are art/craft inclined or interested in practical workshops. We could take more students for the full-time courses, but also we are delighted to be able to offer this year, room in these classes to people who want only a term or a year in a single subject area."

Hobbyists interested in this new possibility will find the very low fee per term exceedingly inexpensive and very tempting compared to other courses.

Subjects include textiles, metalcraft, woodcraft, ceramics, communication skills, marketing, computer studies, calligraphy, printmaking, drawing, woodwork, sheet-metal/plumbing, engineering workshop, graphic communication and basic photography.

Anyone who is interested could obtain information from Tonia Glassborow on 211 5766 during school hours.

History at Caulfield Grammar School

In an historic ceremony, more than 500 students in Years 11 and 12 at Caulfield Grammar, met with their Wheelers Hill campus to see the 25 elected students sworn in as members of the school committee.

The ceremony marked the "coming of age" of the co-educational Wheelers Hill Campus, which this year has Year 12 students for the first time.

The headmaster, Rev. Angus Holmes, inducted firstly the captains of the two campuses, Hamish Worsley, 17 of Holbrook, N.S.W. (Caulfield Campus captain) and Shaun James, 17 of Wheelers Hill (Wheelers Hill captain).

Deputy headmaster, Mr. Vic Allen introduced the Committee stressing that service to others forms the basis of leadership.

Only students who have served the school previously in some other capacity are eligible to stand for office at Caulfield Grammar.

Following the induction, members of the committee signed the school's leader's book and received their ties and braid.

Caulfield Grammar now has Year 12 students at both of the senior campuses enabling prospective parents to choose a boy's only, or co-educational, environment.

Above: The 25 elected students from the Wheeler's Hill and Caulfield campuses of Caulfield Grammar School get together with Headmaster, the Rev. Angus Holmes at their induction ceremony.

Red Cross Calling

Penfriends for Peace

Goldstein MP, Ian Macphie has written to all school principals in his electorate seeking their support in encouraging their students to participate in the concept of Penfriends for Peace.

This encourages students to write to children in other countries who are of the same age but of widely differing backgrounds and cultures.

"Goldstein has over 10,000 primary and secondary school children and I believe that the establishment of pen pal links would be a positive way of contributing to the United Nations International Year of Peace," Mr. Macphie said.

"Penfriends for Peace would not only enhance students learning experiences, but would create new friends and lead to a greater tolerance and understanding of each other and their respective problems when they became adults.

Choir notches up milestone

On Tuesday, March 11, 1986, the Caulfield City Choir achieved a significant anniversary. Forty years ago, the first Roll Call of the then newly inaugurated "Caulfield Philharmonic Society" was held under the Conductorship of Mr. David Plummer.

Since then the Choir has been involved in many memorable performances, too numerous to enumerate here but sufficient to retain quite a following of dedicated supporters.

It is quite unique that this group has withstood the onslaught of time midst this era of many interesting activities, and significantly indicates that singing is a happy thing to do.

Apart from a change of name to "Caulfield City Choir", only four changes of Musical Director have occurred over this period which undoubtedly has had a very reassuring effect on membership.

This enthusiastic group of choristers is excited about such a special milestone in their history and intend to mark the occasion suitably. Due to the busy schedule, celebrations will not take place until the Choir's "Afternoon Tea Concert" in September.

A special program will be arranged and they look forward to having many past choristers with them on that occasion. As the date comes closer, more details will be announced in Caulfield Contact.

Meanwhile, the present Musical Director, Douglas Heywood, and choir members would welcome tuneful-voiced singers to their ranks. There are vacancies in all sections but they especially need Contraltos and male singers.

Interested persons should ring the Secretary, Mrs. Ruth Rose on 583 7317 for full particulars or just come along any Monday evening to the practice room and decide for yourself if you wish to be one of the happy choristers of the Caulfield City Choir.

Practices are held every Monday evening from 7.45-9.45 pm in St. Stephen's Uniting Church Hall, Balaclava Road (north side between Hawthorn and Kooyong Roads). A warm welcome awaits you.

Volunteers Needed

The Dame Mary Herring Centre of the Spastic Society of Victoria needs people interested in voluntary work with children and adults who have disabilities.

The Centre is located in Armadale at 2 Tower Court and is serviced by train and trams.

A variety of volunteer positions are available for programs held between 9.30 am and 3.30 pm. Several assistants are required for morning swimming programs. These volunteers, under the supervision of a physiotherapist, work one to one with a person with a disability.

Volunteers can also assist people with disabilities to develop life skills such as banking, shopping or using public transport or they can pursue interests in computers, photography, pottery or other leisure activities.

For further information, contact Stacey Apeitos on 20 1226.

SCIENCE FOR WOMEN

For women who didn't have any opportunity to study science at school or avoided studying science because they thought it was too hard, the Women Into Science Education (W.I.S.E.) programs have proven that science can be lots of fun.

Many women who missed out on science are now enjoying a second chance to study physical science and maths associated with physics and chemistry.

The W.I.S.E. programs which are run part-time one or two mornings a week during school hours, have given women the knowledge and confidence in their ability to study science at a higher level (eg. H.S.C. or T.O.P.). It has also helped them to develop an understanding of technology and scientific debates.

W.I.S.E. is the first course established which caters to the special needs of women returning to science study. Women of any age, with no science background or qualifications have taken part in W.I.S.E. and many have expanded their options for employment and cleared the pathway for a scientific career that was previously not available to them.

For more information on the course and enrolments, contact Christine on 573 2344.

MEDIA SKILLS FOR THE UNEMPLOYED

Unemployed people now have a chance to develop skills in radio, video and sound production as well as photography with the media course offered by Holmesglen College of TAFE.

The course is open to young people between 16 and 24 who have been out of work for six months out of the last nine months.

Students will gain experience by holding regular shows on 3CR; recording sessions for local music groups and bands, radio shows; producing video programs for community groups and so on.

If you would like to know more about the media course, contact Sharon Davey or Peter Davies on 567 1563.

A WAY-IN FOR EARLY SCHOOL LEAVERS

Many adults have lowered their chances of securing a job they wanted because they left school too early.

To encourage adults to return to study, Holmesglen has the "Way-in" program for anyone who has been out of school for some time.

The Way-in programs are free, have no prerequisites and there are no exams. To help students foster self-confidence, subjects such as English, Maths, Psychology, Sociology, Media Studies and so on are taught in a very relaxed and friendly atmosphere by teachers sensitive to the student's needs.

Vacancies are still available in the full-time Way-in General Studies course. People wishing to study one or two subjects part-time may combine with the full-time class.

Students can study eight hours a week and continue seeking part-time employment whilst receiving unemployment benefits.

Part-time evening Way-in programs are also available in Science and Business as well as General Studies in second semester this year.

If you think you left school too early and would like to have another go, please phone Jannine on 573 2422 for enrolments and course information.

School ice breaker for parents

Cato College recently helped parents get to know each other with an innovative ice-breaker function.

Cato's Principal, Mr. John Norman, said parents often suffered greater nervousness about making new friends than their children.

"With that in mind, a large garden party was held in our grounds at the beginning of term," he said.

"The parents had an opportunity to meet the staff and also make acquaintances with fellow parents.

"It turned out to be a major success and we are considering repeating it during the year."

Cato College, in Elsternwick, has more than 400 students and this year was the first time that boys were admitted to the senior school.

Ten boys in Year Seven have become "trailblazers" in the College which celebrates its 25 years as an independent school this year.

For the previous 30 years, it was part of the Methodist Ladies College and only permitted girls into the Senior School.

Back-To

The College will celebrate its anniversary in September with a back to school weekend and dinner for former students.

Former students and friends of the College interested in attending the dinner should contact Mr. Norman on 528 2522.

Captains Elected

Elsternwick girls Erika Peter (left) and Magda Karagiannakis were recently appointed Form Prefect and Sports Captain of Cato College, in Elsternwick.

Both girls are in their HSC year at the College which recorded a very successful pass rate last year.

More than one-third of the students received As and Bs and half received at least one A.

Drive for Fun

Are you bored with retirement, out of work or just looking for something rewarding to do?

The Caulfield Citizens Advice Bureau requires volunteers to drive the community buses on various outings.

Volunteers do not need an endorsed licence to drive the mini buses, just a friendly personality and a willingness to get along with others.

Elderly groups are taken on shopping trips, to day centres and on day trips to places of interest.

If you enjoy driving and would like to join a team of friendly volunteers then contact Yvonne Kay, Monday and Friday from 9 am-1 pm and on Wednesday from 12 noon to 4 pm. Yvonne can supply you with more information and answer any questions you may have.

Art Group Exhibition

The McKinnon Art Group Exhibition and sale of paintings is being held at Bayley House, 52 Middle Crescent, Brighton on April 11, 12 and 13.

Foster Care

Foster Care South East is still looking for families who can provide a wide variety of care. A particular need at the moment is for a family who could look after Peter and Cathy for about six months.

Peter, 9, and Cathy, 7, are brother and sister. For most of their life they have been living with their single father. Lately he has not been able to cope with them but he wants to maintain regular contact.

Peter and Cathy have had many changes in their lives and they need to live in a secure family environment until they are able to return to their father. Contact Foster Care on 568 2599 if you can help.

Historical Society

In the last issue of Caulfield Contact, the Caulfield Historical Society provided a list of future meeting dates and guest speakers.

Unfortunately, the September 16 meeting has had a change of guest speaker. Instead of State Historian, Dr. Bernard Barrett, visitors will now hear Father Brosnan, former chaplain of Pentridge Prison for 37 years.

RECREATION AND LEISURE

Hockey club ready to go!

The T.E.M. Hockey Club awaits the beginning of the 1986 season with eager anticipation.

The season for senior men and women begins on Saturday, April 19 and for juniors on April 4 and April 5.

The Club, now known as the TEMC Lions, is one of Melbourne's premier clubs and has strong emphasis on providing hockey at all levels on a family basis.

The club actively encourages family participation through programs, Minkey and junior hockey as well as through senior men's and women's teams.

The seven Senior teams play at all levels from the top State League 1 through the competitive Pennant grades down to District level.

A policy of actively promoting promising younger players has had most successful results in recent years, with the State League 1 team, either playing off or finishing in the finals for the past three years. The same team also proudly boasts five consecutive indoor grand final flags to this year.

The Women's Division has made dramatic progress since its beginning in 1978. This year the top side will play in Melbourne League 2, the second top women's league in the State, following two successive promotions.

As with the policy of active encouragement of juniors, several girls have represented the State over past years, with two girls representing Victoria in Under 18 and Under 16 in 1985. The club has five women's teams, with room for players of every calibre.

The Junior Division emphasis on developing younger players is reflected in the existence of five boys' and three girls' teams. These teams are all coached by experienced senior players and enjoyed an outstanding 1985 season with three Grand Final flags.

The Under 13 A side also won their indoor hockey Grand Final. These teams are open to children aged from under 11 to 16 years of age.

Minkey (key word for Mini Hockey) sessions are conducted every Saturday morning between 10 and 11am at the Club's ground, Lord Reserve, Munro Avenue, Carnegie to introduce very young children to hockey. Ages vary from three to nine years and children are taught the basic skills of the game in a relaxed and easy-going atmosphere.

Further information can be obtained from the clubrooms on 211 6143 or Grant MacPhie on 569 5894. Grant can supply telephone numbers of other club members for the various teams.

RECREATION AND LEISURE

Can Caulfield afford a swimming pool?

It's that perennial problem. Municipal swimming pools can no longer pay their way and are becoming an increasing burden on rate-payers.

Attendances at the Caulfield pool during the 85/86 swimming season have been particularly low.

Some of these low figures can be blamed on the poor summer we have experienced (could we really call it a summer?) but it would seem that the high ownership of backyard pools is also having an effect on numbers.

Although low attendances have reduced the need for casual labour and steps have been taken to contain operating costs it seems that the problem will continue.

It may be the time for Caulfield to consider whether it can really afford to maintain a swimming pool. To cover and operate an indoor pool would be too costly and out of the question. Research indicates, anyway, that indoor pools still run at a loss.

The Council's dilemma — what to do now?

Fort for Fun

The City of Caulfield recently donated a pine log fort to the Glenhuntly Infant Welfare Centre playgroups.

Fathers of the children attending the playgroups installed the fort in the outside play area at the Centre.

Judging by the photograph it seems the fort is being enjoyed by all.

Recreation Centre starts a weight reduction club

"Lose weight the easy way" is a new ten-week course to be conducted at the Caulfield Recreation Centre.

Participants will be encouraged to lose those extra kilograms by learning about weight control and how to prepare tasty, nutritional meals which emphasise high fibre and low fat content.

Recipes and information on foods which give vitality, long life and assist in protecting the body from illness, will be provided.

Relaxation methods and education about how to include exercise and leisure activities into a busy lifestyle will form part of the course.

There will be a weekly weigh-in and a happy casual environment where everyone can enjoy losing weight together.

Carole Goldsmith, a local resident will lead the program. Carole is an employee fitness and leisure consultant, has worked in health and fitness promotion and has been consultant to business and government. She has studied and taught around the world, including Japan, USA, Canada, Germany and Australia.

Carole has spent many years studying healthy eating for vitality and effective ways of losing weight.

The "Lose Weight the Easy Way" course will begin on Wednesday, April 9 and will operate every Wednesday and Friday from 9.15 to 9.55 am. Membership of the ten-week course will cost $40.

For all enquiries and registration contact the Caulfield Recreation Centre, 6 Maple Street, South Caulfield on 524 3288 or 524 3298.

New Recreation Officer

Hello Everybody! Many of you will know that I have replaced Carolyn Clark who left the Council in February.

I have already met many of you while I was working as a volunteer — leading exercise classes at Heathlands, running "Music for Fun" at the Arts Centre and driving residents to lunches.

It is wonderful to be able to serve you further as the Recreation Officer for Older Adults. The best part of the job is that I already know the people I will be working with.

Also, I have been working hard to develop the program for Senior Citizens' Week and to continue the old programs which were in existence.

I look forward to meeting new faces in the future. Meanwhile, should you require any information about activities for older adults, contact me at the City Hall on 524 3333. Penny Paxman

Beechworth and the Comet

I recently spent a few days with my family at the historic gold mining town of Beechworth. (While we were there we encountered the only real summer days that we have had all year and we were nowhere near the Caulfield Swimming Pool.)

We really enjoyed our stay and were impressed by the care which has been taken to preserve historic buildings and streetscapes within the town.

The old hotels still have their original first floor verandahs, the deep stone gutters at the edges of the broad streets have been retained, the old stone buildings have been restored and the amount of 20th Century advertising has been kept to a minimum. Consequently, the town maintains a tangible link with its past.

Near the centre of the town the original town hall gardens have been beautifully maintained. The show piece was the superb avenue of North American Redwoods. The trees were taken to Beechworth by Baron von Mueller, who also established the Botanical Gardens here in Melbourne.

The Baron planted the trees in Beechworth only 20 years after the species was first discovered in North America, a tremendous achievement given the cumbersome and slow transportation links that had to be employed to carry them halfway around the world.

As with the other gold mining towns in Victoria, where human labour was almost exclusively employed, it is impossible not to marvel at the incredible physical effort that the prospectors invested to win the illusive gold from the earth and rock.

The entire area is now riddled with derelict mine shafts and the countryside is dotted with mounds of excavated soil. In fact, the entire landscape has been dramatically altered and remains a mute testament to their labour.

Beechworth is a beautiful spot and if you need any further inducements to visit the town, then I can assure you that it is also an ideal place from which to view Halley's comet. When we saw the comet it was low on the horizon and only visible after 5.00 am. However, the skies were crystal clear and the comet was clearly visible.
