

CAULFIELD CONTACT

A monthly publication produced by Caulfield Council for the residents of this City.

Thursday, May 29
Vol. 13, No. 5

Czechoslovakian born sculptor, Vladimir Gottwald is seen here working on the finer details of a recent bust.

Caulfield residents will have an opportunity to see more of his work at an exhibition to be held at the Caulfield Arts Centre later in June. (More details page 4).

The exhibition will be complemented by a display of oils and watercolours.

ROAD TREATMENTS TO GO AHEAD

There has been positive resident response to traffic management proposals for the area bounded by Corrigin, Murrumbena, North and Koornang Roads.

Numbers of residents confirmed their approval in written submissions to the Council and numerous telephone calls.

The treatment that has been planned for this area is designed to slow down the traffic that uses the through roads as a short-cut to the east of the city. It may also have the effect of reducing the numbers of vehicles that use this route.

Residents were asked for comments on the Council's proposed scheme for traffic management in the area. The treatments that will be implemented include splitter islands at the exit points into Koornang and Murrumbena Roads, and other treatments such as slow points and channelised intersections along Corrigin Road, Moonya Road, Rosanna Street, Oakleigh Road and Leila Road.

This scheme was agreed to by Councillors at a recent meeting of the Environment and Community Development Committee as part of a city-wide study of traffic management and is the first to be implemented.

A Nursing Home by the skin of our teeth?

The City of Caulfield may be among the last to receive Federal approval in principle for the building of a nursing home.

A recent review of aged residential and domiciliary care by the Commonwealth government indicates the new policy direction.

The government's aim is to direct resources to the people in greatest need. It proposes that aged and disabled people be supported in their own homes for as long as possible in their own communities. This may mean that there will be less Government funding directed towards the building of nursing homes.

It is likely that the focus will be directed towards the building of hostels and, over time, both nursing homes and hostels will take increasingly frail clientele. Many people who today would be admitted to a nursing home will in future be placed in hostels.

Since the introduction of nursing home benefits in 1963, there has been a doubling of the number of beds available. The emphasis will now be on the provision of support services to people in their own homes. Residential care will be available only when these support systems no longer meet their needs and will also ideally promote rehabilitation.

The Caulfield Council endorses the general thrust of this review particularly as it already provides numerous domiciliary programs. It will however urge the government to maintain the standard of care to current nursing home patients. It will also request that subsidies for hostel care of the frail aged be adequate and that funds be made available for modifications to hostels not currently suitable for the care of frail residents.

Note:

Intending applicants for the proposed Nursing Home are advised that the Council is not yet ready to establish an admission waiting list.

It is too early to accept names for such a list because the approval is still only 'in principle'. There is still much work to be done before concrete plans can be made.

More Meetings

Post Office site still under discussion

The Planning Appeals Board convened recently to hear the case for and against the development of the old Elsternwick Post Office site.

The Ministry for Planning and Environment initiated proceedings with a call for an adjournment until the matter has been dealt with by the Historic Buildings Council. This proposal was supported by the objectors.

The Council's legal representative put a strong case for the planning matter to be dealt with quite separately from the historical aspects of the site. But the Board decided to adjourn the hearing until July, when it will be heard at the Caulfield City Hall.

In bringing down this decision the Chairman advised that the deferment was not an excuse for delay but that, in his view, it should speed up the processes.

The Historic Buildings Council hearing will be held on June 18. At this meeting it will be determined whether the old Post Office building is worthy of preservation.

The adjournment hearing of the Planning Appeals Board will be held in the Council Chamber at the Caulfield City Hall between 10.00am and 4.00pm on Tuesday and Wednesday, July 8 and 9, 1986.

Whilst the hearing will be open to the public, only those people who joined in the appeal at the last hearing will be able to speak.

Other Caulfield Projects

Elsternwick Supermarket

This matter has been deferred to allow further discussions with representatives of residents, traders and developers.

Comments both for and against the development have been received. Neighbouring residents are concerned with the impact the supermarket may have on the residential amenity of the area. Traders agree that a development of this nature is essential for the future of Elsternwick.

It is anticipated that the issue will proceed to the June cycle of Council meetings for a decision.

Arts Centre Relocation

Architects have been briefed to prepare detailed plans for the construction of a mezzanine floor in the City Hall.

Hawthorn Road Shops

Following approval of this project, Architects Fredman and Malina have been briefed on the design and construction aspects of the building.

Recent approval of special borrowing for the project will facilitate early completion.

FIRE PROTECTION FOR PAVILION

It is not surprising that the devastating fires at sporting fixtures in Europe last year prompted our own local fire brigade to look into the safety of all similar spectator accommodation. All V.F.A. grounds were included in this study and the Bricker Pavilion at Princes Park was also assessed.

Following a preliminary report from the Metropolitan Fire Brigade in June last year a number of recommendations have already been implemented. These included upgrading of the numbers and types of fire extinguishers available and modifications to doors and furniture.

The final report from the M.F.B. recommends the installation of an independent fire water main and two fire hydrant connections.

This type of equipment was not installed when the building was erected in 1968 but with changes in regulations, extensions to other pavilions in more recent years have included fire mains.

The works will begin immediately and are estimated to cost $17,500.

Army to exercise Freedom of Entry

The Third Ordnance Services Unit of the Australian Army will exercise its right of Freedom of Entry to the City of Caulfield on Sunday, July 13.

The last time the Unit exercised this right, three years ago, local residents were treated to an exciting spectacle.

After a short ceremony in Caulfield Park commencing at 11.30 am, the Unit will march down Hawthorn Road, to the corner of Glen Eira Road, where it will be "challenged" by the City Marshal.

After declaring its right to the Freedom of the City, the Unit will then turn right into Glen Eira Road, where the salute will be taken by the Mayor.

The Unit will then turn left into the Hartley Avenue car park, where the parade is dismissed.

The occasion is part of the tradition of the City and should not be missed!

Letters To The Editor

Letters to the Editor are invited on any issue of local concern. Do you want to voice an opinion, raise an issue or ask a question on a local matter?

Letters should be kept as short as possible, typed or neatly hand written. A name, address and telephone number must be supplied but are not necessarily for publication. Anonymous letters will not be considered.

Address letters to: The Editor, Caulfield Contact, P.O. Box 42, SOUTH CAULFIELD. 3162.

Madam,

I should like to support John Vincent's letter (in the last edition of Caulfield Contact), concerning the need to heat the pool in the Munro Avenue complex.

There does not appear to be a heated public pool in the whole municipality. Yet the area has a high percentage of elderly residents, many of whom would greatly benefit from the year-round regular exercise such a pool would provide.

I urge other residents who support this view to write to Council.

Mrs M. Spottiswood
Murrumbena

Madam,

So, the research on motorists' behaviour found that elderly people are amongst the culprits on the roads... I suspect that the complaints came from young impatient drivers.

Often old people these days are very much dependent on their car for communication with the world and "getting out of the house". Now, these people are to be subjected to further tests and undue stress situations.

I wonder whether a simple note slipped in with their renewed licence or registration, suggesting: "If you are a slow driver keep strictly to the left", would just be sufficient to clear the roads for young and daring drivers.

Red Shield Door Knock Appeal on again!

The annual Red Shield Door Knock Appeal is being held on Sunday, July 6.

A hardworking local committee has been playing its part to ensure that this year the Salvation Army will achieve its goal of $1.5 million throughout the Melbourne Metropolitan area.

Services provided by the Salvation Army include Lyndon Lodge, a home for twelve teenage boys in Hawthorn, in a program seen as giving these youngsters a stepping stone to independent life in the community.

1986 International Year of Peace or is it

In truth, I wonder what degree of consideration world leaders are really giving to maintaining peace, resolving conflict and encouraging each other to consider non-violent solutions in this, the International Year of Peace. It makes one wonder, does it not, especially after the events in the past few weeks.

Javier Perel De Cuellar, the secretary of the United Nations recently made the following statement "There is no wonderful peace recipe for an instant peace, but with faith in the future and confidence in the human spirit, we must embark on a dynamic, persevering and systematic crusade which will lead us, step by step to peace".

The first step is the one that concerns the Youth Council, because if the cooks don't find the right recipe very soon, we are all going to end up well and truly stewed.

Focussing our attention on positive issues is one small way of raising awareness of the real needs and one small but solid building block upon which we can build some hope.

In a year designated the International Year of Peace and yet already so filled with acts of terrorism and aggression we need all the small building blocks we can possibly find. This building block is Caulfield Youth Council contribution.

We intend to organise a Youth Art exhibition to be held in September 1986. The title of the exhibition will be "Reflections and Future of Peace". Students, employed and unemployed young people are invited to enter their art works in this exhibition. Art works can be in any form or medium. The artists and their work will form the basis of a video which will be sent to world leaders to encourage them to find peaceful solutions to conflict.

Through the exhibition the Youth Council hopes to raise peoples awareness and understanding of living in a non violent world.

Further information can be obtained from Lyn Hye, Youth Development Officer by phoning 524 3333.

Caulfield Youth Council

The next meeting will be held on Thursday May 29 at 7.30 pm in the Staff House behind the City Hall.

Face-lift for Glenhuntly Station

Glenhuntly Station is to be completely rebuilt, as part of the State Government's $72 million metropolitan station upgrading program.

The Glenhuntly program will see the demolition of the century old station buildings, which will be replaced by a modern station complex, similar to the design of Boronia Station, which was opened last year.

The project, which will cost $385,000 will feature a comfortable centrally heated waiting room and ticket booking office.

Glenhuntly is one of a number of stations on the Caulfield to Moorabbin section of the Frankston line to be rebuilt or significantly upgraded as part of the installation of a third rail track on this section of the line.

When the new track goes into operation, two lines will be used for morning peak services to the city, and in the evening peak period, two lines to Frankston will be used.

The new station should be finished by the end of the year.

Neighbourhood Watch to go ahead

Two Neighbourhood Watch areas are to be set up in Glenhuntly, following an effective campaign for their introduction, by local residents.

Area One is bounded by Lyons Street, Koornang Road, Leila Road and Grange Road.

Area Two is bounded by Lyons Street, Koornang Road, North Road and Grange Road.

A public meeting of all residents in these two areas will be held on Monday, June 16, at 7.30 pm in the City Hall. Invitations will be sent to each household.

In the areas in which the Neighbourhood Watch Program has been introduced in Victoria, house burglaries have been reduced by an average of 45% and crime generally by an average of 30%.

The program concentrates on alerting people as to how to improve the security of their homes and on being aware of possible criminal activity.

Congratulations

You may not be aware, but should you be about to celebrate your 100th birthday, or, with your spouse, your diamond wedding anniversary, there are a few people who would like to say 'congratulations!'

The Queen, the Prime Minister, the Governor General, the State Governor and the Premier would like to know if there is a celebration in the offing.

If you fall into one of these categories, or have a friend or relative who does, please let your local Member of Parliament know, so that the appropriate congratulatory messages can be sent.

Media fitness personality Liane Scurrah launched a cookbook compiled by students at Cato College, in May.

The cookbook which features more than 150 recipes contributed by students, parents and staff, is on sale for $10.00.

OPEN GOVERNMENT

Have you ever wanted to know what goes on at a Council meeting?

Agendas may be obtained from the City Offices each Friday prior to Council and Committee meetings. They may also be viewed at any one of the three libraries in the City.

Residents may be interested to know that everyone who has a known interest in any item coming up for discussion at a committee meeting receives a personal invitation to attend. This allows all parties to address the committees and put their points of view.

Meeting dates for June

Executive Services Committee	Monday June 2 8pm
Environment and Community Development Committee	Tuesday June 3 8pm
Economic Development Com	Tuesday June 10 5pm
Policy & Resources Committee	Tuesday June 10 8pm
Council	Tuesday June 17 8pm

All enquiries should be directed to the Chief Clerk, Doug Evans, on 524 3333.

Disabled Rehabilitation Centre

Permission has been granted and a notice of determination will be issued for the establishment of a rehabilitation centre in Balacava Road.

The centre will provide assistance to disabled people and include sponsorship for improved job opportunities, therapy programs, counselling services and the provision of aids and appliances. It will cater to some 300 disabled people per year.

Objections from residents included the possibility of parking problems and the inconvenience that might be caused.

However the Council considered the proposal to be a worthwhile project, but in granting approval, conditions were applied in the event of weekend or evening use.

Roofing decision deferred

Nearby residents have expressed concern at the proposal to build a roof over an Elsternwick timberyard. No change in the use of the area is planned. But the roof will provide protection of materials and more comfortable conditions for the public and staff.

Objections include the possibility of fire risk, reduction of sunlight, wind and rubbish problems, increased noise and others.

The item came up for discussion at recent meetings of the Executive Services and Policy and Resources Committees and has been deferred for further discussion.

A change of name

Following the resignation of Brian Logan, Mr Neil Arbuthnot has been appointed to the position formerly known as 'Manager Operations'. He will now be known as 'Manager Engineering and Development' — a title change which more closely describes the position.

Mr Arbuthnot is a qualified Civil Engineer with a Municipal Engineers' Certificate and a Graduate Diploma in Local Government Management. He will commence work for Caulfield in June.

News from Council

No more cardboard please

The fluctuations that exist in the paper industry have caused present supply to far exceed demand for waste paper.

Australian Paper Manufacturers have conducted a waste paper and cardboard collection service in the City of Caulfield since 1982 and since that time an average of 1,100 tonnes has been collected each year.

But they now advise that cardboard will no longer be collected. A.P.M. has expressed disappointment in this decision because of the general need to increase recycling levels within the community.

The collection of waste paper will continue.

Disabled Parking

Up to now disabled drivers have been disadvantaged when it has come to parking in the Ormond shopping area.

But the situation will be eased with the establishment of a parking bay for the disabled in the Katantra Rd carpark opposite the Ormond railway station.

A new face

Caulfield builders can expect a new face to greet them at the City Offices. Tom Govorcin has been appointed Deputy Building Surveyor following the promotion of Geoff Milner.

Tom is a qualified Building Surveyor with qualifications also as a Building Inspector, Scaffolding Inspector and Architectural Draughtsman.

He was previously employed by the Broadmeadows and Melbourne City Councils and his arrival has brought this section to full strength for the first time in many months.

Nepean Highway Lighting

The section of Nepean Highway between Glenhuntly Rd and McMillan St, is one of the few remaining areas where the lighting has not been upgraded to keep pace with recent roadworks.

The S.E.C. has forwarded to the Council, its proposals for lighting this section of the Highway. As it is a declared state highway, the lighting costs will be shared by the Road Construction Authority, the S.E.C. and the Councils involved.

The works will involve the installation of new poles to mount a total of 27 new, high pressure sodium lights. Existing timber poles, brackets, wiring and substandard lights will be removed.

Costs to Caulfield are calculated to be around $11,000 with an increase in the annual tariff of approximately $1000.

Caulfield Awards

Chisholm Institute of Technology, has announced the recipients of the City of Caulfield awards for 1985.

Mr M.P. Edwardson is currently in the second year of a Bachelor of Arts and Mr T.H. Wilkinson in the second year of a Bachelor of Applied Science in Computing.

Both have achieved excellent results for their first year's work and so have received the City's recognition.

National Awards

The Federal Minister for Local Government, is to present awards to municipalities who have demonstrated innovation in the industry.

Caulfield has made ten submissions in a variety of areas. They include staff training, community information, program budgeting, economic development policies and others.

It will be interesting to see if Caulfield's name is on the list when the winners are announced later this year.

Valuation Date

The Acting Valuer General has advised the Council that the Minister for Property and Services has now formally fixed June 30, 1986 as the date at which the value of all rateable property in the municipality will be assessed.

The General Valuation is due to be returned by October 1, 1988.

A chance to talk

Caulfield was privileged to have the company of State Minister for Local Government, The Hon. Jim Simmonds, M.P. at the May meeting of the Council.

It was an opportunity for both councillors and staff to discuss with him, at first hand, some of the issues that concern them.

Right Way for Rights-of-Way

The Council procedure for the closure of rights-of-way has recently come in for some criticism. A review of the policy was therefore called for by the Environment and Community Development Committee of the Council.

In recent cases property owners have lodged formal objections to a discontinuance because they have been unhappy with a proposed division of land rather than the closure itself.

To avoid this situation the Council has approved a number of changes to the procedure for implementing the closure of rights-of-way.

In future the Council will, when initially considering closure, adopt a "preferred" proposal for distribution of the land. Objections relating to both the discontinuance and the division of land will then be heard simultaneously in open committee.

Both objectors and occupiers of disputed sections of land will also be required to provide full details of their claims prior to any public discussion.

Off the Shelf

News from the Caulfield Library Service

Meet The Author:

Our series of free readings, with a chance to meet the author, is off and running. These special evenings are held on a Thursday in the Caulfield Library, Maple Street, Caulfield Sth., at 7.30pm. Meet Maria Lewitt and Chester Eagle on June 12th; Barry Dickens and Kommines on June 19th; and Carmel Bird and Gerald Murnane on June 26th.

Morning Tea and Music:

The Elsternwick Library will be alive to the sound of music, thanks to the Caulfield City Choir, on Wednesday, June 18th at 10.30am. Morning tea will be provided.

Come along, enjoy the music and meet library staff.

Rear access to the library, with only a small number of steps, is available to those of you who might have difficulty negotiating the library's main staircase.

Computers — Everything You Wanted To Know, But Were Afraid To Ask:

Di Inchley will conduct this free two hour seminar at the Elsternwick Library on Thursday, July 3rd. Afternoon tea and child-care will be available, but enrolment is essential.

Enrolment forms will be available at the libraries from June 26th or by phoning Barry Scott on 524 3357.

Computer Programming Competition:

Computer buffs aged between thirteen and nineteen are invited to enter this competition. Brochures are available from the libraries. Entries must be in by June 30th.

New Books:

TAPESTRY OF SPIES: By Stephen Hunter

From the author of "The Second Saladin" comes a gripping new thriller which brings to life the horror and terror of the Spanish Civil War.

THE BOURNE SUPREMACY: By Robert Ludlum

Against the steamy background of Hong Kong, China and the West, Ludlum sets a compelling story of a man haunted by violence.

I'LL TAKE MANHATTAN: By Judith Krantz

Maxi Amberville is bold, brash, and bad. At twenty-nine she's already enjoyed three husbands. When her uncle threatens to sabotage her late father's fashion magazine Maxi demands total control.

The important lessons Maxi learns about family allegiance, the publishing industry and especially love, make Krantz's fourth novel a moving story on par with 'Scruples' and 'Mistral's Daughter'.

MEMOIRS OF MANY IN ONE: By Patrick White

This remarkable new novel purports to be edited by White. The novel is formed from the memoirs of a fictional character, a lady with an odd sounding name — Alex Xenophon Demirjian Gray, and is a re-enactment of her life. We see Alex in many guises — as Sister Benedict, who leads the frailest member of her order into the bush, there to learn the source of good news, as Dolly Formosa, an actress in a theatrical tour of outback Australia, and as a suburban housewife. Outrageous, funny, and at times moving, Memoirs of Many in One is an unusual yet entertaining novel from Australia's award winning writer.

A special review

Ten year old Hilary Badger has just read the latest book by popular children's author, Robin Klein.

Here is Hilary's review of "Halfway across the Galaxy and Turn Left".

HALFWAY ACROSS THE GALAXY AND TURN LEFT: By Robin Klein

This is a humorous story about a family exiled on Earth after Father plays around with the lottery system back on planet Zyrgon.

The Jacksons (this is their Earth name), encounter many situations that many residents of planet Earth would take for granted, and comment on them through different eyes.

Qwk, the youngest member, has been nominated for a full professorship back in Zyrgon. Dosis, the startlingly beautiful teenager, is waiting to be auditioned for the Cosmic Flyers. X, the family organiser feels she doesn't fit in; mere organising talents are nothing in comparison to intelligence and beauty.

The children's first encounter with school is a trying, but funny experience. Aunt Hecla, the outrageous, unconventional Aunt, visits the Jacksons, bringing with her Zeppy, who is a Zyrgonese Hiybred Antelope. He chews holes in the Jacksons family home.

When some of X's acquaintances from school come to visit they are surprised to see the touches that Renee (the mother) has added to the home.

The Jacksons' stay on Earth is worth reading and will be particularly appealing to readers aged 10-14.

The programme will include the Quantz Concerto for Flute in G Major; Mozart's Overture to the Marriage of Figaro and works by Ravel.

Tickets, at $7.00 and $4.00 will be available at the door.

For further information, please ring 523 8255 or 481 6531.

Australian born pianist, Lisa Moore will give a recital at 3.15pm in the Arts Centre on Sunday, June 15th.

Lisa, who completed her formal musical studies at Illinois University, took second prize at the Rockefeller Music Competition at Carnegie Hall, in 1981. Music critics both at home and abroad have described her ability as variously "first rate", "brilliant" and "a stunning virtuoso pianist".

Each year, Ms Moore travels home to Australia to perform concerts of both contemporary and traditional works.

Her Caulfield concert will include works by Beethoven, Brahms, Schumann, Ford, Albright and Ives.

Enquiries and bookings can be made at the Arts Centre.

"Harcourt Landscape" is the title of this unusual photograph by landscape photographer, Ted Terry.

You've no excuse for staying indoors this month.

We've a full program of exhibitions and concerts as well as a wide range of classes for young and old.

Enrol now!

There's still time to enrol in any of the many classes being conducted during Second Term at the Arts Centre.

All classes start in the week beginning June 10th (the Tuesday after the Queens Birthday holiday weekend).

from a range of countries including India, Spain and Italy. The course ends with a sit-down meal!

Kidstuff

After-school classes are held from 4pm to 6.30pm weekdays. Classes are also held all day Saturday.

Subjects offered include book illustration; multimedia art; private and group music lessons and dance and drama.

There are even special classes for pre-schoolers.

● Spinning — yes we do provide the spinning wheels!

● Tapestry, weaving.

● Speech and drama.

● Tai-chi.

● International cooking — this is a new class which looks at the cooking

EXHIBITIONS

Paintings

You've still a few days left in which to visit the Caulfield Arts Centre and see an unusual and visually challenging exhibition by local artist Jane Dennis.

Her work has been termed "bizarre, yet simple", with images from medieval masques and dances highlighting costume and atmosphere.

The exhibition closes on June 11.

Photography

Well known landscape photographer, Ted Terry, has prepared an exhibition of 100 prints which capture the beauty and strength of the Australian landscape.

At the opening of the exhibition, at 7.30pm on Wednesday, June 11th, Ted will give a slide presentation of his colour transparencies. An invitation is extended to all interested people, and refreshments will be served.

The exhibition will end on June 22nd.

Sculpture

Czechoslovakian born Vladimir Gottwald is hosting a wine and cheese opening for an exhibition of his work, at 2.00pm on Sunday, June 15th.

Gottwald, who has many awards including the highly regarded Warrigah Art Prize in Sydney in 1981, has been praised for his major contribution to the promotion of multiculturalism in Australian society.

After graduating from the National Conservatoire School in Ostrava, Gottwald gained practical experience in a ceramics factory where he sculpted porcelain figures.

His exhibition will be complemented by a display of oils and watercolours.

On our selection

The current exhibition of selections from the City of Caulfield Permanent Art Collection highlights oils and ceramics and closed on Sunday, June 7th.

Local poet wins international recognition

"International Year of Peace ... Insignificance", a poem by Geoffrey Parsons of Caulfield South, has been selected for inclusion in the international anthology 'Poets for Africa', to be published later this year.

"International Year of Peace ... Insignificance"

I reach out and touch nothing.
This nothingness becomes infinity
Stretching into a never ending void.

And where I stand — a small

Microscopic speck in an awesome universe —
My body feels lost and insignificant.

As a member of the human race producing
A world of supercilious importance,

I realise the stupidity man originates
By making war against his fellow man

For supremacy of a grains of sand
In the wonder of an infinite creation.

by Liz Clay, Community Arts Officer

The Murrumbeena Spinners formed in 1977, when three mothers from Murrumbeena Primary School decided to meet regularly to share their ideas and talents for spinning and weaving.

The group now has 30 members and meets monthly in different members' homes. The meeting includes a show table where members display a recent creation, and thus share new patterns and techniques.

A permanent spinning workshop is held at Murrumbeena House, 105 Murrumbeena Road, every Wednesday from 1-4pm. Anyone interested in their work, or in joining the group is welcome to come along.

For further information about the Murrumbeena Spinners, please ring 569 0193 or 211 2747.

Dancer in residence

The Caulfield Community Arts program has received a grant from the Australian Council Theatre and Community Arts Board to employ a dancer in residence for the community.

Local dancer Janice Burgess has been appointed to the position. Her first moves will be to contact local dance groups to try and link them together to set up workshops in dance, and to establish a new performing group for the area.

The aim is to build up a successful "Caulfield on the Move" project which will culminate in its involvement in the 1986 Festival.

If you're interested in the project, please ring Liz Clay on 524 3333.

CAULFIELD FESTIVAL

November 29 - December 7

Organisers are constantly on the lookout for ideas to include in the program, and which reflect the diversity of the Caulfield community.

Suggestions to date include:

- a multi-cultural food festival
- a beautiful garden competition
- a giant fun-run
- street parties
- a women writers' conference

- giant puppet performances
  - and a bush dance
- If you have an exciting or novel idea, or would like to be involved in organising any of the above activities, we'd like to hear from you. Ring: Liz Clay or Susan Clifton on 524 4263.

Note: The next Festival meeting will be held on June 18 at 7.30pm in the Balcony Room of the City Hall. (Sub committee will be formed to look at arts, education, leisure and recreation, publicity and programming).

Magical Man!

Eighty-two year old Will Alma of North Caulfield is truly an amazing man.

Son of a professional vaudeville magician, Will began his own career in 1918 at a Malvern church concert. After some years taking his show through Victorian country towns, he established the Alma Magical Company, and for the next fourteen years made items for nearly all the bigtime magicians touring Australia.

Over the years, he steadily acquired a collection of 2500 books on magic, 7000 magazines, 1200 photographs, 213 posters, scrap-books, programs and cassettes.

Then, only a few years ago, Will donated the whole collection to the State Library of Victoria. The collection, valued at over $90,000 provides first class references on every aspect of the art of magic in Australia.

Will would like to add to the collection. So if you have any magical items suitable for inclusion, please write to him, c/- The State Library of Victoria, 328 Swanston Street, Melbourne, 3000.

Caulfield & Carnegie Lions work together

Over 70 guests attended the City of Caulfield and Carnegie Lions Clubs Presentation Dinner which was held at the R.S.L. Recreation Centre, Rosanna Street, Carnegie on 20th May. It was held to honour Robert Fisher who is to represent Australia at the Julien C. Hyer Youth Camp at Lake Texoma, Texas and later at the Lions International Convention at New Orleans.

The aim of the Camp is to promote Peace and Understanding throughout the World. This year the Camp is open to English speaking young people from 40 nations.

The two representatives from Australia, Robert from Melbourne, and Miss Lee Bland from Sydney, leave for Los Angeles on 20th June where they will be hosted by Lions families and will make visits to Disneyland and other tourist centres.

A Youth Exchange programme was adopted by Lions Clubs International in 1962 which aimed at promoting World Peace and Understanding and since then, thousands of young people from Australia have been hosted by Lions families throughout the world — America, Denmark, Germany, Sweden, Canada, England, Japan and elsewhere.

Members of the

Caulfield Lions Club have hosted no less than 40 students and young people from overseas, and since 1973 the Club has sponsored fourteen from Caulfield.

After the American holiday, Robert will fly to England where he will be working on a farm before returning home just prior to Christmas. He commences studies at Monash University in 1987.

New computer book for school students

Computer master at Cato College, Neil Duncan, recently launched a book on computers for school children entitled 'Computer Awareness'.

The book introduces students to computer technology in simple terms, and assumes that both the student and the teacher have no prior knowledge of computing.

Each chapter is supported by exercises.

"As a result of the book, it is hoped that students will cope better with their own encounters with computers and perhaps may even look toward entering into further technical study," said Neil.

COMMUNITY ACCESS COMMUNITY ACCESS COMMUNITY ACCESS

HAVING DIFFICULTY WITH THE 3 "R"s?

If you're like 45 year old father and manager, John, and can't read, you're one of ten percent of Australia's adult population who have major illiteracy problems and Holmesglen College of TAFE can help you.

The College runs Adult Literacy and Numeracy programs, which train volunteer tutors to work with adults who want to improve their reading, writing and arithmetic skills.

The courses are designed around two-hour a week sessions, at a time to suit you and your individually selected tutor.

Or perhaps you know of someone who may be helped by such a program.

For further information, please ring Patti Wenn, at the College on 567 1555.

Tutors needed

If you would like to help the Holmesglen College of TAFE with its numeracy program, and can spare two hours a week, please ring either Dave on 567 1545 or the Secretary of the Compensatory Education Department on 567 1547.

Native Plants Society

If you're a lover of native plants, and would be prepared to join a group of dedicated plant-lovers, please note that nominations for the 1986-87 committee of the Caulfield and District Australian Plants Society will be called for at the June meeting.

The Society meets at 7.45pm on the first Tuesday of the month, at the hall on the corner of North Road and Tara Grove, Carnegie.

Activities include the production of an informative newsletter, and organising outings to a range of interesting venues such as the Melbourne Wildflower Show to be held on September 13 and 14.

For further information about the Society and its activities, contact the Secretary, Mrs Carol Booth, on 211 1425.

Federal funding

Labor MHR for Henty, Mrs Joan Child has announced Federal funding for local alternative residential care programs operated by the Victorian School for Deaf Children.

The funding package of $158,013, approved by Community Services Minister, Senator Don Grimes, represents reimbursement for the purchase of two group homes, one at Holloway St, Ormond, the other at Jasper Road, Bentleigh.

Each group home is established in a normal suburban setting and accommodates five children who had previously been living in institutional dormitory style centres.

Huntingdale Technical School is also to receive a $19,817 grant under the Community Employment Program to employ two people to work in the school's Student and Community Support Program.

Work will include updating and computerising records, and liaising with groups using the school for community purposes.

Another grant is to be made to the Caulfield Park House After School Program which will receive $7,122 under the Outside School Hours Care Program.

Kilvington School Tour

If you would like to join in a conducted tour of the Kilvington Baptist Girls Grammar School in Ormond, on Saturday, June 28th, please contact Mrs Roberts on 578 6231.

Senior staff will be present to talk with visitors.

Term Two at Fusion Community Centre

Activities planned for Term Two at Fusion Community Centre, 101 Murrumbidgee Rd, Murrumbidgee, include:

- musical appreciation for preschoolers (Wednesdays 10.30-11.30am)
- parenting workshops, and
- various craft and cookery classes.

Fees are only 50 cents a session, plus material costs. Regular monthly family film nights are held on the third Friday of the month at 7.30pm, and include such recent releases as Goonies, Jewel of the Nile and Burke & Wills.

Admission to these sessions is by donation. For further information on Fusion, or to book for any activity, please ring either Sandy or Kerry on 568 2427.

The Middle East today — a personal view

Mr Robert Smith, NSW Director of Churches of Christ Development and Education Department, and Sister Mary Lou Moorhead, General Secretary of the Victorian Council of Churches will tell of their experiences as part of an Australian Council of Churches delegation to the Middle East late last year.

The talk will be held at 7.30pm on Saturday June 28th, at The Caulfield Church of Christ, 206 Bamba Road, Caulfield.

If you are interested in the topic, please come along.

Caulfield Hospital welcomes volunteers

Red Cross volunteers play an important role in the life of Caulfield Hospital.

Each week, they stock a large trolley with books and magazines which they take around the wards, spending much valued time with individual patients.

If you can spare a day a week to help brighten the lives of the patients, please give Red Cross Field Officer, Lydia Jeffery a ring on 616 9804.

A playgroup with a difference...

The Montessori Playgroup, in South Caulfield, would welcome enquiries from intending members.

The Montessori method centres on activities which develop a child's intelligence, self-confidence, co-ordination, orderliness and powers of concentration.

The Playgroup caters for preschoolers from 18 months to four years and meets every Wednesday and Thursday from 9.30am to 11.30am at the Uniting Church Hall, corner Booran and North Roads, South Caulfield.

For further information, please ring Marjorie Barrett, on 527 8030.

"Encore" program for MAV members

Members of the Mastectomy Association of Victoria are eligible to join the Encore program, which is held on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month. The program consists of floor and pool exercises and games, followed by refreshments and an informal meeting.

For further information about Encore, ring the MAV secretary on 878 2090.

School cricketers win international match

Matthew Britten topscored with 92 runs in the Caulfield Grammar School victory in Sussex, England recently.

Matthew is one of 16 promising young cricketers at present on a 24 day tour of England.

The match was the first of eight the team will play while away.

Highlight of the trip to date was a visit to Lords where the Marylebone Cricket Club played host.

While at Lords, the team practised at the Indoor Cricket School, and toured the museum and long room.

Several members of the touring Caulfield Grammar School cricket team are pictured with coach, Rob Nicoll, just before departure.

Care to Croquet?

Croquet is a game with a long illustrious history.

If you'd like to learn to play, the Elsternwick Croquet Club, next to the Hopetoun Gardens, Victoria Street, Elsternwick, would welcome your enquiries.

Just ring either Mrs M. Fagan on 523 8593, or Mrs L. Uglow, on 528 1028.

Scout leaders needed!

The 9th Caulfield Scout Group is in need of Scout Leaders between the age of 18 and 40 (male or female).

No prior knowledge of the Scout Movement is required, but an enthusiasm to help young boys, aged 8 to 14, to become self-reliant and self-sufficient individuals is essential.

If you're interested, please ring either Trevor Findlay on 568 6865 or Jeff Gross on 569 7398.

Linking children with older adults

Caulfield Library Services have developed an exciting program, in which every fortnight, five children from St Anthony's Primary School, meet with five older adults residing in Caulfield.

The aim of the program, which uses reading as its focus, is to give the participants the experience of living in an extended family.

"Both the children and adults get a real kick out of interacting with each other," Barry Scott, Caulfield Community Services Librarian said.

The adults, most of whom live at Heathlands Hostel, are paired with children, and are given the opportunity to help them by listening to them read.

"The primary aim of the project is social," Mr Scott said. "Its biggest achievement is the links that it establishes between old and young."

The program has been recorded as part of an entertaining and informative video on Council services for the elderly, which is to be released soon.

Youth Resource Centre project under way

Four local youngsters, employed under the Community Employment Program, commenced renovations on the Maple Street, South Caulfield property in mid April and hope to complete the job by mid October.

The Youth Resource Centre (upstairs) has been painted and carpeted. Tasks still to be done include building cupboards and shelving and renovating the small kitchen with two serveries, to function as a coffee shop.

Downstairs, in the recreation area, the toilets will be painted, and mirrors and cupboards added. The foyer including the offices will be repainted, and the hall floor resurfaced and relined.

Outside, the barbecue area is to be landscaped, providing an attractive, and much-needed facility.

Local young people are welcome to drop in to the Centre any time to see how the work is progressing. Ideas about activities and programs to be conducted at the Centre are also welcome.

Junior Basketball being planned

If you have a young member of your family interested in basketball, here is an ideal opportunity for them to 'get in on the ground floor'.

A basketball clinic for boys and girls of primary school age will be conducted at the Caulfield Recreation Centre in Maple St. It will be run under the jurisdiction of the Victorian Basketball Association and international coaches will be there to ensure that the youngsters receive the best available introduction to the game.

Parents will have the satisfaction of knowing that their children will be taught correctly and when they are sufficiently experienced a regular

Sunday afternoon competition will be organised.

The older boys and girls can also become referees. They will have the opportunity to attend an eight-week clinic being run at the same time as the basketball. At completion they will receive a certificate and badge and their names will be forwarded to the Basketball

In Our Prime

In last month's issue of Caulfield Contact I wrote about the newly established competitive court game for older adults called Pryme Ball. This month I would like to talk about the diverse range of recreational activities conducted by the Council for older adults and preview a new information video produced by the Council called In Our Prime.

Activities Programme

Caulfield Council's Recreation Officer for Older Adults, Penny Paxman, conducts a comprehensive range of recreational activities for Caulfield's older residents. The activities include a learn to swim programme that provides participants with the opportunity to learn to swim in a local heated swimming pool, exercise classes that promote physical fitness and muscle tone, a walking group that meets each month for an invigorating walk through the local parks and many other activities that cater for a wide variety of interests.

New Video

The activities have always proved to be extremely popular and it has been difficult to meet public demand. In order to address this shortfall the decision was made to produce an information video that would provide community groups with details of how to establish and run their own activities.

Funding for the film was obtained from the Department of Sport and Recreation and the Box Hill College of TAFE was commissioned to produce the video. The project, which took a number of months to develop and organise, has just been completed and the video is due for public release within the next few weeks.

The film provides an interesting overview of the wide range of recreation programmes conducted for older adults within Caulfield, including the comprehensive range of recreational activities provided by the Caulfield Library Service. The video also highlights the many benefits that can be obtained from such programmes, encourages community groups to develop their own programmes and provides detailed information on how they can be organised.

If you belong to a community group that would like to develop a recreation programme for older adults and you would like to see In Our Prime, then please contact the Recreation Officer for Older Adults, Penny Paxman on ph. 524 3333. The video is available for loan free of charge and it comes with a comprehensive set of notes that give useful information on how to develop recreation programmes for older adults.

Rover Scouts in novel Moomba Float

The two Rover Crews in Caulfield District — Hellsgate and Wingate Rovers combined with a group of Downs Syndrome youngsters from Janesfield Training Centre in Bundoora, to build an imaginative and colourful float for the 1986 Moomba Parade.

The float depicted scenes from 'Alice in Wonderland' and gained a well deserved Honorable Mention from the procession judges.

Local Rovers and children from the Janesfield Training Centre teamed well to create this novel Moomba Float.
