SPECIAL EDITION

DECEMBER 1987

New residential codes threaten Caulfield

Caulfield will lose its identity, character and appeal if the State Government has its way and introduces the new Residential Development Provisions.

LOCAL CONTROLS WILL BE ERODED

The decision to invest in a home of your own is one of the biggest you will make. The proposals released by the Ministry of Planning and Environment will not only threaten this investment but also your quality of life.

NO PERMIT CONTROL — NO PROTECTION

The side stepping of Council Planning Codes will mean that the standard of future developments will be lowered.

The greatest impact will be felt from such things as:

- Substandard sites — sites of 300m<sup>2</sup> (3,230ft<sup>2</sup>) to 400m<sup>2</sup> (4,300ft<sup>2</sup>) will be allowed.
- No consultation — in many instances no planning permit will be required so no consultation will be necessary with neighbouring property owners.
- Less daylight — neighbouring developments may create overshadowing of existing dwellings with no forum for objection.
- Carparking — there has been insufficient allowance for cars to be accommodated.

- Landscaping — reduced requirements for landscaped areas where there is multi-unit development.
- Privacy — neighbouring properties of two-storey developments are at risk of overlooking.
- Building bulk — there will be no protection against visual intrusion and the erection of large buildings on small sites. Some houses may even be built up to the boundary lines.
- Quality and design — since there is no permit control there is no discretion allowed to ensure a high standard of design.
- Streetscaping — there is no protection against minimum setbacks. Whole streets could change their appearance.

YOU CAN HELP

The task force established to review residential development controls will make its recommendations to the Government but the proposed changes may not be debated in Parliament. It is possible that they will be introduced by regulation and therefore not open to public scrutiny.

If these proposals are adopted the Council will lose its ability to protect you and your environment.

The Council has forwarded a submission to the Secretary for Planning and Environment objecting in the strongest terms to the threatened destruction of the present residential character of Caulfield.

You can help your Council in this fight by speaking out now.

We need your support

"The Council is unwilling to sit back and be told what to do in its own municipality. The proposed Residential Development Provisions disregard Caulfield's own planning strategies and the rights of our citizens are being eroded by State Government bureaucracy". —

The Caulfield Council is angry at State Government meddling. The release of the draft Residential Development Provisions of Victoria (which sets out state wide standards for residential development) sounds the death-knell for local planning. The Council will no longer be able to control developments that are sub-standard for this City.

NO CONSULTATION

This stage has been reached without proper consultation with Local Government. It is only now that input is being sought and very little time has been allowed for submissions to be prepared. It is of great concern to the Council that such an important document has been rushed through like this with such little scope for comment.

There needs to be public input — after all the new Residential Development Provisions will affect residents and their lifestyle. No one wants to see their way of life carelessly treated by bureaucrats who are ignorant of the specific needs of the citizens of our City.

THE RESIDENTIAL DEVELOPMENT PROVISIONS

The Residential Development Provisions are proposing 'as of right' permits to develop land in residential zones. This means that the Caulfield Council will have little or no control over inappropriate development.

- Sub-standard subdivisions with reduced allotment sizes will be introduced.

Mayor.*

- General standards have been lowered to conform with those used in the more densely populated suburbs.

WHO SHOULD MAKE THE DECISIONS

Provisions such as these destroy the traditional role of Local Government. The Council has a better knowledge of community needs and is far more competent to make proper decisions affecting the well being of the municipality.

Many of the Council's own residential standards are found in these new provisions but flexibility is necessary in meeting particular needs. The rigid new Residential Development Provisions would prevent the Council from upgrading the code to meet the wishes of Caulfield residents.

Your Council considers this issue to be so vital that we have brought out this special edition to keep you informed. "We need your action and support so that the Council can protect your rights."

STATE GOVERNMENT SAVINGS AT CAULFIELD'S COST

The State Government has become concerned at the decreasing affordability of housing for lower and middle income groups. These new provisions have been designed to lower design standards and so provide cheaper more accessible housing.

There has also been a population drift to the outskirts of the metropolitan area and the existing urban infrastructure is therefore under utilised. The Government is unwilling to meet the costs of developing new facilities in the outer areas and with the new regulations is encouraging a return to the inner suburbs.

Caulfield is already a well established municipality with a supporting infrastructure and a style and character that residents have come to expect and appreciate. The Council is not prepared to lower its standards to support the Government in this cost saving exercise.

NOT FOR LOAN HOCKEY PITCH REJECTED

A monthly publication produced by Caulfield Council for the residents of the City

NOT FOR LOAN CAULFIELD CONTACT

Vol. 14, No. 11, Thursday, Dec. 10, 1987

At a packed meeting of Council's Policy and Environment Committee this month, the construction of a synthetic Hockey pitch in any of Caulfield's Parks was overwhelmingly rejected.

Inability to find a suitable site and lack of funds were the two major reasons put forward for the rejection of the synthetic pitch.

The proposal was for a fenced, synthetic surface Hockey pitch for the use of the TEMC Hockey Club, and which could double as a tennis facility or netball centre.

Council was also being asked to provide funding to the value of $150,000 over a period of three years.

Cr Martens pointed out that the TEMC Hockey club already had a field in Caulfield that was sufficient to allow them to become a top Hockey side, and Council simply did not have the money to supply them with another one.

"It is as if they are driving a Holden and want a Rolls Royce — and we just don't have it in our kitty," she said.

The debate over the proposal has been ongoing for some months now, as various sites around Caulfield were considered and eventually rejected.

Many residents were concerned that the pitch would be developed in Caulfield Park.

Mr Hogan, a resident of the area cited the night hockey games at Waverley, when, he claimed, the surrounding area was "lit up like daylight". He was also concerned that the siting of the pitch in Caulfield Park would involve the removal of several trees.

Residents were also concerned that there would be detrimental effects on the views and aesthetics of the Park, and that due to the need for the pitch to be fenced, a large slice of the park would be alienated from the general public.

Much of the emotional feeling of the meeting was diffused when it was realised that neither residents, nor the Hockey Club, nor the Council supported the development of the pitch in Caulfield Park.

Cr Bloom said that Council was very proud of Caulfield Park, and that it was well-used with 19 clubs fielding 36 teams, and that many of these would be affected by the locating of the pitch there.

While rejecting the siting of the pitch at Caulfield Park, he attempted to calm the feelings of the meeting by pointing out that "the only thing the Hockey Club has done is try to make better facilities for their members. They have acted properly up to date."

Mr Burchhardt, for the Hockey Club, said the pitch simply could not go ahead in Caulfield Park as, being Crown land, they could only get a lease for three years, and the bank would not give them a loan unless they could get a longer lease.

The debate then moved to considering East Caulfield Park, and the issue in general.

The main problems of this area were parking and traffic concerns, already a problem with the conjunction of Chisholm Institute of Technology, the race course and the existing facilities at the park, as well as the bottleneck at Railway Avenue and Dandenong Road.

Some residents then spoke against the project in principle. Mr Matthews said that Caulfield was one of the areas most deprived of open space already.

"With higher density residences, houses are being replaced by flats and units," he said. "People will have less 'private open space' such as back yards, and will therefore turn to public open space."

He also suggested that with Caulfield's older population, more emphasis should be placed on "passive" recreation and unstructured parks rather than sporting fields.

Many residents also expressed concern that if the Council had money to spare it should spend it on other things rather than a Hockey pitch.

Christmas Message from the Mayor and Council

It is Christmas time again, and, despite the flurry of last minute preparations, most of us look forward to a happy time over the next month or so, enjoying time with our families or perhaps having a holiday.

Christmas is known as a time of giving. There are those, however, who give of their most precious assets, their time and energy, all year round — Caulfield's volunteers.

This band of people offer their services in a diversity of areas — delivering Meals-on-Wheels, working in the Citizens Advice Bureau, serving as voluntary workers in Opportunity Shops to raise money, working on Hospital Auxiliaries and in many other ways. Their work is unpaid and, for the most part, unacknowledged, but these people can make the world of difference to the lives of others. They are the true "Quiet Achievers", taking payment only in the personal satisfaction of knowing they have done some good for someone else.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank all of you who volunteer your services, and to assure you that your work is well appreciated in this city.

Perhaps others, after enjoying a pleasant Christmas, might make a New Year's resolution to help out in a similar way.

It has been an interesting year in Caulfield, as some major projects come closer to completion and others enter the pipeline. The Arts Complex will be operational early in the New Year, and next year should be a very exciting time for the Arts in Caulfield. The Council office development in Hawthorn Road is finished, and soon to be let.

The Nursing Home, a project dear to many hearts, has progressed to the stage where design has been approved and construction should commence in March 1988, with the building being completed later in the year.

Submissions of interest for extension of office space at the City Hall are currently being considered by the Council.

With all these developments, Council continues to provide high quality of services — the libraries, health services, social services, basic engineering works, and the day-to-day efforts to ensure that the City is well-planned and looked after, a place where people can lead full and satisfying lives, whatever their age or status.

We wish all residents a safe and happy Christmas and the best of health and good fortune for the New Year.

Wasp Season

residents, and has general information on the problem. It also has a video available for screening to interested groups which outlines the life cycle and control methods regarding European Wasps. For information ring the Council's Health Department on 524 3333.

Car Parking Ratios

The Tribunal has upheld a Council decision that new developments on office sites must allow car parking provisions for increased floor space. An applicant appealed against Council's directive to provide additional car parks on the ground that some of the original floor space was reduced — however car parks had not been provided for this space as it was developed before Council's current car parking provisions! It was decided that Council could not be expected to give credit for car parks that had not been provided in the first place, so the applicant was directed to comply with the car parking provisions Council had imposed.

As the weather warms up, our old friends the European wasps will soon be with us again. Don't get complacent, and remember in particular to check drink containers. Never drink directly from a can or bottle outdoors, as wasps have been known to crawl into cans and, upon being swallowed, sting the victim causing intense pain and possible choking.

Our Health and Legislation Department has organised a Pest Control firm to provide treatment at a reasonable charge to

Caulfield Festival

Following the retirement of ex-Councillors Ford and Gillard and the change in staff structure at the City Hall, vacancies appeared on the board of Caulfield Festival Ltd. Cr Martens and the Director of Human Services, Barry Boyle, have been nominated as directors of Caulfield Festival Ltd., and Crs Anderson and Barrett have been nominated as members.

Special Accommodation Houses

Council does not forget those older people and others in Special Accommodation Houses around Caulfield. A survey was carried out by the Health Department to check the standards of these houses, and provide an overview with respect to caregiving facilities, hygiene and structural standards. Of the ones visited, these criteria were all found to be satisfactory.

Council Development

The Hawthorn Road Development is completed, and according to those who have viewed the building it is an admirable asset to the Council. It will be an excellent means of income for the Council once it is let, as well as an attractive and modern addition to the Caulfield Shopping Centre area.

No to Sky Sign

Council has again rejected an application for a sky sign, this time in North Rd, Ormond. Because these signs are, by definition, large and intrusive into the landscape, Council believes they have to be looked at very carefully, even when they are in non-residential areas.

It was felt that this sign would create visual disorder and clutter in this group of shops and, moreover, would tend to dominate the landscape for quite some distance around. The proposal was, therefore, rejected.

Tubs To Go?

Those portable tubs of trees and flowers dotted around our shopping centre may soon be going altogether. Council has estimated that the cost of maintaining them far outweighs their visual impact, and the need to tend them is stretching valuable resources.

All is not lost, however. Council is giving shopkeepers the option of keeping the pots outside their shops — provided they are willing to maintain them. Shopkeepers are being asked if they are prepared to water and weed the planter tubs, and if so they will remain there. Otherwise the tubs will be removed to the Council nursery.

Stephen Who?

There must be some strange link between the name Stephen and a profession in Building. Caulfield citizens ringing our Building Department will have to be very specific. If you want to speak to Stephen, the Assistant Building Surveyor, you will need to know whether you mean Stephen Rosendale or Stephen Mead. Unless of course you mean the Building Inspector, in which case you really want Stephen Harkin. If all else fails you can always complain to the boss — Planning Manager Stephen Head...

Opportunity Shop Thanks

Madam,
 The Carnegie Elderly Citizens' Opportunity Shop in Rosstown Rd, Carnegie opened in March 1961. Since that time over $290,000 has been raised as clear profit.

The ladies at the shop wish to say "thank you" to the Council for their continued collection of goods and to the citizens of Caulfield who willingly donate and bring their goods to the shop.

A sincere "thanks" and appreciation to all involved in the work. We are now working for the Nursing Home and have given $103,000 so far, which is included in the total amount above. A happy Christmas to all. The shop will close on Christmas Eve and open on January 21st 1988.

Council Responsible

Madam,
 "Council rate revenue has had to be increased by 33% purely to accommodate increased government charges and reduced grants" (Caulfield Contact Vol.14, No.10, 9/11/87).

My rate notice stated: "33% of the rate revenue increase arises from government increases in charges and funding cuts".

Sloppy journalism or a calculated exercise to distract attention from the fact that the Council is responsible for 67% of the increase?

Caulfield S.E.N. wins Award

Mrs Lynette Morgan with the original Nancy Harle.

Caulfield Hospital Nurse, Mrs Lynette Morgan, was presented with the Nancy Harle Award for State Enrolled Nurses on November 9, making her the first metropolitan S.E.N. to be honoured with this award.

The award, instituted in 1984, recognises her caring attitude, ability to understand, and professionalism. It was judged on her year's work as well as 2,000 word essay.

The win is quite a coup for Caulfield, as previous awards have all gone to nurses in country hospitals.

Christmas Watch

"Don't get robbed around Christmas" is the message from Cr Friedmann, concerned that some Neighbourhood Watch programs are starting to lag.

"Christmas time is traditionally a thieves' paradise," said the Councillor. "With so many people away on holidays, Neighbourhood Watch is more important now than ever."

Cr Friedmann used the example of Neighbourhood Watch area H50, bordered by Koornang Rd, Leila Rd, Royal Pde and Lyons St, which, she said, is badly in need of some "new blood".

Zone leaders are needed for Oakleigh, Lillimur, Ulupna and Grange Roads, and people need to show more interest generally, particularly as the crime rate in that area is growing.

Caulfield's Nursing Home is edging away from being just an ideal, and closer to being a reality, as concept plans are finalised and applications readied for submission to the Ministry of Planning.

"The architects are now addressing the more detailed aspects of the proposal, and an application is about to be made for a Town Planning permit," said Human Services Director Barry Boyle.

A great deal of thought and planning has gone into the design of the Nursing Home, with a serious philosophy incorporated into the design.

The philosophy includes the belief that residents should be encouraged to retain as much independence as possible, balanced with the necessary support. Integration between residents of the home, their families and the community is to be encouraged, and as far as possible residents will be urged to express choice and have influence over what goes on around them.

The main aim in the design of the Home is to achieve a "homelike" environment, as opposed to a foreign or institutionalized atmosphere which can be disorientating for someone used to life in their own home.

Architects Clarke and Kidd have also found that staff in such homes can needlessly engage in tasks that residents are capable of performing on their own, thus doubling up on work load and reducing the resident's sense of his or her own worth.

In short, the architects have worked on the principles that "the residents should be regarded with respect and as having a high cultural value", the environment should "encourage and foster individuality and enable the resident to maintain his or her identity" and the design should "compensate for diminished abilities while still allowing for some challenges and risk-taking".

The optimum design should produce a homelike scale and character to the place while maintaining staff efficiency.

To these ends, the building will feature separate rooms but with access to a common administrative and service area. (See plan.)

Nursing Home Progressing

Works Get Bonus

Despite the large amount of glamorous, interesting and innovative projects that Council is involved in nowadays, the basic "Roads, Rates and Rubbish" function has not been overlooked.

Increased amounts of money have been given to some of the areas that residents are most concerned about at a 'grass roots' level — namely, tree pruning, street lighting, public toilets and road and footpath maintenance.

TREE PRUNING

While tree pruning is provided for in the budget, Council is finding that resources are stretched to the limit clearing trees from SEC lines, under Council's new obligations.

Additional funds are being provided to ensure that Council will be able to ensure adequate pruning for safety.

STREET LIGHTING

The recurring problem of residents complaining that street lighting is inadequate has been examined carefully, with several options being considered. Options such as removal of trees, increased number of lights, or installation of stronger lights have been considered, but there have been problems with resident acceptance or prohibitive costs.

Council is therefore providing additional funds for pruning of trees in particularly bad areas.

PUBLIC TOILETS

Concern has been expressed that some toilet blocks around Caulfield are becoming famous for "undesirable behaviour", and money has been set aside to try to counter this.

Toilet blocks where problems have occurred with vandals or loiterers will be made lockable, and will remain locked from late afternoon to the following morning. Being locked overnight should ensure problems are reduced.

ROAD AND FOOTPATH MAINTENANCE

Additional funds are being spent on shaping and re-asphalting some of the worst roads around Caulfield, particularly where maintenance works are urgently needed, where traffic volumes are high and where alternative funding is unlikely to come for some years. Roads under consideration for the scheme are Glenhantly Road within Glenhantly Shopping Centre, the Glen Eira Road/Bambra Road intersection, Murrumbidgee Road near the railway line and Kooyong Road near Dandenong Road.

ONE FROM THE HEART!

Breaking the Barriers

The City of Caulfield has a new Developmental Child Care Worker, Margo Anderson. Margo's job is "to promote and support opportunities for the integration of pre-school aged children with disabilities into children's services in the Caulfield municipality," including Family Day Care, Children's playgroups, Recreation and Arts programs, creches and occasional care.

Margo will ensure special equipment is available for the children involved in these programs, provide support and assistance for all children with disabilities, and provide support and training for staff caring for these children.

It is a position made possible by funds provided by the Commonwealth Department of Community Services.

The number of children in the program at present is six with direct contact with Integration Aides. There are a few others in care not requiring one-to-one workers.

Some of the children will be moving on to other agencies and schools in 1988 and their places will be taken by others already waiting for care.

"An issue of constant concern," said Margo, "is the supply of equipment. Special chairs, walking and standing frames etc. are incredibly costly and often children go without these items because there is no money to buy them.

I would appreciate anyone contacting me if they have any special needs equipment that they no longer use. The service would be able to place them in the centres with a child who would develop greatly if given the opportunity.

"Hopefully, one day people with disabilities will be accepted as vital members of our society, giving from their great store of skills and abilities. This program endeavours to 'break down the barriers' at pre-school level."

Margo was previously Director of a Child Care Centre in the inner suburbs for six and a half years, and has worked mainly with families. Given the complexities of people and their needs, that job gave her wide experience in the subject.

In her spare time Margo relaxes by making hats and playing golf.

Naturestrip Parking

With the end of the winter months, our senior By-Laws officers report the increase in numbers of cars parking on naturestrips.

Again we remind residents that this practice is covered by State Road Traffic regulations and Council is bound by law to issue parking infringement notices and to prosecute if residents fail to obey the regulations.

Apart from its illegality, parking on naturestrips can ruin the grass and spoil the appearance of these bits of greenery, which also serve practical purposes that residents may not realise.

They provide a safety barrier between pedestrians on the footpaths and vehicles on the roads, and provide access to public utilities such as water mains, gas mains and underground drainage systems.

Parking on naturestrips results in damage to kerbs and drainage channels, obstruction and possible danger to pedestrians, and can damage underground services.

Council also receives many complaints from people about cars parking on their naturestrips, turning them from pleasant bits of green into bare brown patches or mud puddles.

So please take that extra bit of time to park safely and legally, even if it means walking a little extra.

Bicentennial Snippets

The amount of Bicentennial projects going on around Australia is staggering. Most people know about the Tall Ships project and some of the more glamorous events, but here are a few events that might be of interest to you, though being less well known:

- An international Girl Guides camp is being organised for 1988, and is expected to attract some 5000 girl guides and leaders from all around the world. A representative said she was confident of getting representatives from every continent to turn up at Cataract Park, south of Sydney for the April camp.

- An oral history program will be broadcast on the ABC, with a three-minute spot for every day of 1988 recounting an event that happened on that day. The series will include a wide range of subjects and chronology, including talking to a woman who was present when an earthquake destroyed a small Western Australian town in 1968, a clerk present during the time of the sacking of Gough Whitlam, and the actress who played "Jedda".

- Hervey Bay in Queensland will host the World Smiling Championships in May 1988, with prizes to go out in categories such as Best Smile and Loudest Laugh. Frown Inspectors will patrol the streets to ensure everyone is smiling, with fines for frowns to go to charity. The sponsor, naturally enough, is Macleans.

Labassa Gets Funding

Historic Caulfield mansion "Labassa" is to be part of the Bicentennial project "A Gift to the Nation" aimed at restoring or redeveloping thirteen heritage sites across Australia.

The project has recently received $1.6 million in sponsorship from the giant Amatil manufacturing group, and it is described as the largest community-based heritage program ever undertaken in this country.

Twelve domestic and commercial buildings, including Labassa, will be renovated or improved, plus a sculpture by Norman Lindsay. Amatil's chairman, Dean Wills, said "Amatil believes that our Bicentennial celebrations must provide a tangible benefit for future generations."

"Our heritage should be preserved for the benefit and enjoyment of those Australians who come after us."

Labassa has been part of Caulfield's heritage since the 1870s and was purchased by the National Trust in 1982.

Local School Wins Garden Award

Grade Six children who helped in the project.

St Anthony's School in Carnegie has received a "Garden State" award for its efforts in refurbishing the school grounds, replacing the asphalt with flower beds and an adventure playground.

"Each grade in the school had their own flower bed, which they had to look after, and the whole school worked together to make the adventure playground," said Suzie McInerney (Grade Six), one of the organisers of the venture. The School won the award for the 'Most Improved' in their section, and are now competing against twelve other finalists for the most improved school garden in Victoria.

For the work that the children could not do themselves, they applied for and received a C.E.P. grant for three workers to put up barbecue tables and build the playground equipment.

The Grade Six children put in the submission for the Garden State Award, and showed the judges around when they paid a visit.

SHELFORD GIRLS GIVE UNIFORMS FOR MOZAMBIQUE

Shelford Girls' Grammar School is a long way from strife-torn Mozambique, but the girls of the school were able to help their counterparts in Africa in a very real way when they presented school uniforms they no longer needed to Community Aid Abroad's project for Mozambique.

Community Aid Abroad is collecting clothing and are particularly in need of clothing and uniforms for school children who have lost everything in bandit attacks on their school.

"Of the fourteen schools in our district, eight have been attacked in the last few weeks. Bandits burn the schools, killing the teachers and kidnapping the children. Often the children lose everything," said James Denman of Community Aid Abroad.

Community Aid Abroad earlier this year sent over 350 bales of used clothing to Inhambane Province in Mozambique. Over a quarter of a million items have now been distributed, making an enormous difference to the lives of Mozambicans who had been reduced to wearing rags or going naked.

Shelford Girls hand over old uniforms to James Denman.

The Mozambique provincial government has urgently requested more clothing for neighbouring provinces.

CAA is collecting light and medium weight clothing for men, women and children — dresses, skirts, trousers, shirts, jackets, T-shirts and sweaters. Also needed are blankets and towels in good condition, and needles and thread.

CAA is also appealing for funds which will be used to supply cabbage and ground nut seeds and farming tools.

Sixty-five dollars supplies a displaced family with an emergency kit of a hoe, machete, axe, jerry cans, pots, spoons, mugs, basins and buckets.

School children wanting to donate uniforms they no longer need, or anyone with other clothing to give, can contact CAA on (03) 419 7111.

Talking To The Top

Helen Dobson and Nadine Grinblat.

The Kilvington Baptist Girls' Grammar School Debating Team of Helen Dobson, Nadine Grinblat and Jodie McVernon were runners-up in the A Grade State Final of the Debating Association of Victoria Schools' Competition held in October.

Kilvington and Carey Grammar debated the topic "That the West has no future" with Kilvington presenting the negative argument.

Each student was awarded points for their ability to present valid arguments, the rebuttal of the opposition's arguments, organisation of their debating material, and the delivery and presentation of their oratorical performance.

In a closely fought competition, two of the three adjudicators awarded the debate to Carey Grammar. Kilvington has participated in the State Competition for the last five years, and in that time has produced a number of undefeated teams, with more than one representative being chosen for the State team.

Kilvington also won a trophy for overall best results in the Benthleigh Rotary Club's Public Speaking Competition.

Year 10 student Carolyn Andrew won first prize and a $700 cheque for her speech on the given topic 'Not fit to print'. Louise Stanley was equal first in the Year 11 section, when she capably spoke on 'Why Australia needs to celebrate the Bicentenary' and was presented with a cheque for $650. Both girls had less than six minutes to prepare their speeches.

Louise Stanley, competing also in the 'short notice' speech, used her three minutes' preparation time well, to present her given topic 'Television is fattening', earning for her school $400.

Prize money won by Kilvington will be used to further the school's excellent educational achievements.

A SECOND CHANCE TO STUDY

Would you like to enrol in a science or engineering course, but feel your background in maths, physics or chemistry isn't adequate?

Perhaps you work in the fields of science or engineering and are thinking of gaining a formal qualification? Or maybe you have changed career direction and now find you don't have the correct prerequisites to gain entry into a degree course?

If you relate to any of these situations, Chisholm Institute of Technology would like to give you a second chance to study. The Division of Mathematics and Environmental Sciences and the Division of Engineering and Industrial Technology of the Faculty of Technology are offering a six-week course for people interested in enrolling in the Bachelor of Applied Science (Multi-Discipline) or one of the Bachelor of Engineering degree courses.

The six-week Special Entry course will cover appropriate areas from mathematics, physics, chemistry and engineering. Successful participants of the course will be eligible for normal entry into the degrees mentioned above.

The course will run between November 30 and December 18, 1987 and February 1 to February 19, 1988 on both the Caulfield and Frankston campuses subject to demand. You can enrol in the Special Entry course if you have passed at least Year 11 Mathematics and undertaken a Year 12 course of study or equivalent.

Further information and details on the degree courses can be obtained by telephoning 573 2050 (Applied Science) or 573 2113 (Engineering).

Youth Video Project

A group of Year Eleven Caulfield Secondary College students have worked with Express Australia to learn the basic skills of video making, at workshops funded by Caulfield City Council and Caulfield Youth Council.

The workshops have resulted in a video made by youth, for youth and about youth. Approximately ten minutes long, it covers the facilities and activities available to young people in Caul-field, plus interviews with local youth, a local teacher, a youth worker and a policeman.

The video is an example of what skills can be gained from a ten week workshop, and is a valuable source on the views of young people in Caulfield in 1987.

If anyone wishes to view the video at the Caulfield Resource Centre, contact the Youth Development Officer on 524 3333.

Carnegie

The 'Mini Gala Day' organised by the ladies was a great success and over 200 players took part in the two 'fills' of 12 ends — the numerous stalls were well stocked and over $3,200 was added to the club funds.

One item donated for the event was a 'quart' milk bottle dated 1884 and also embossed in the glass was a man milking the proverbial cow and the name 'Thatcher's Dairy' — perhaps someone may recall the name?

The No.2 Pennant team skippered by Frank Meo with Bill Cornthwaite, Byron McDonnell and Stan Smith recently scored the 'elusive' 8 against Highbury's No.2 team.

Among events on the agenda for December are 'Mixed Fours' on Sunday 6 at 1.30pm, 'Twilight Triples' at 6.00pm on Wednesday 9 and the 'Barbecue' at 12.00 noon on Sunday 13.

Caulfield Central RSL

The flags were flying high after the pennant games on November 14 with all four male teams winning and the new ladies' section undefeated after eight rounds (including one bye). For the men it was the best result so far this season after only a moderately successful opening season.

The men's Open Fours on Cup Day was won by M. Spitalnic, G. Morison, R. Cheeseman and L. Yates from a Lilydale Four.

The ladies held their President's Guest Day on October 22 with the VLBA Vice-President Gwen Nicholson as guest of honor. A delightful luncheon and a game of bowls were enjoyed by all. The ladies also worked in conjunction with the men in what proved to be a highly successful champagne breakfast hosted by Frank Higgins and Peter Carkeek.

Also on the social side were two Gaiety Nights which drew maximum attendances and provided lots of entertainment.

Free coaching continues for new bowlers, male or female with ladies triples being played on the fourth Friday of each month. Visitors welcome.

The 'Christmas Party' commences at 7.30pm on Saturday 19th and 'Mixed Fours' — Club selected — will commence at 1.30pm on the 26th and 27th.

Free tuition, with bowls provided, can always be arranged for those interested and single entries and visitors are most welcome — just ring the Club on 578 7131.

Caulfield Park

Lady President and Guest Day was held on November 19. Sherries were served to greet members and guests from many clubs. Clubrooms took on a visual air of Spring with a beautiful floral adornment by Alma. Even the hot blustery weather couldn't take away from the friendly camaraderie of the day.

A "ditch to ditch" preceded the game followed by a delicious lunch. President Palma addressed a warm welcome to all and especially thanking her committee for their able support. Guests were honoured with small mementoes. Finally cards were fanned for very enviable trophies completing a most enjoyable day.

Meet the Selectors Dinner will be held on December 10 for men pennant players. This event was introduced last year and proved a popular and useful exercise. An opportunity for some to get some straight answers to some curly questions. But otherwise to enjoy a meal and talk shop.

CPBC mourns sadly the passing of Win Fraser, a member for 24 years. Win was our very first lady Club Champion. She was ardently involved in Club general and match committees. As a greatly respected super-veteran, Win was honoured in rolling the first Jack for this current season. She thoroughly enjoyed her bowls, playing pennant to the very last. Her warm smile and kindly dispositions were special endearments of this very gentle lady.

Elsternwick Park

Our Sunday Nominated Games on the second Sunday (Mixed or All Ladies Triples) and fourth Sunday (Mixed or All Ladies Fours) are proving very popular this season and many members and visitors remain to enjoy the hospitality of our friendly Club.

Melbourne Cup Day was celebrated in grand style with the "Chicken and Champagne" lunch, i.e. chicken sandwiches and Spumante, after which players were provided with "Play Money" to tackle the resident bookmakers "Honest Chris" and "True Blue Don". June Cameron won the special prize donated by Ted and Irene Martin for the most successful punter with a daring plunge on the Cup winner which left the bookmakers lamenting.

Vice-Presidents Lyn Ackland and Cec. Hayes entertained Club members and friends at a Sunday game on a beautiful Spring afternoon and all enjoyed their hospitality.

Bowlers are reminded that bookings are now being taken for our popular Gala Day on Sunday February 7. The rinks are filling rapidly so please contact manager Connie Nolan (Ph. 531 5212) as soon as possible, stating which you prefer — 9.30am or 11.00am.

Glenhuntly

This small friendly club, renowned for years for its excellent green, is so far enjoying a more successful season in the metropolitan pennant competitions than was the case last season. Social activities are again proving popular events in the syllabus and entries are being taken for the Christmas Party on Monday December 21. Mixed Fours will start at 5.00pm and at 6.30pm drinks will be available prior to dinner.

The club still has vacancies for men and women members and three qualified coaches are available to teach new bowlers. Ralph Goodwin on 578 6493 will supply any further information required. Learners are welcome to try the sport without first being required to join the club.

Murrumbidgee Park

Murrumbidgee Park bowling members welcomed guests at their Interclub Day, sponsored by Moorabbin Toyota. Mr Philip Wortham presented Toyota winning coupons to winners — K. Dargavel, P. Voigt, T. Hamilton, J. Kreiger. Monthly B1 Pennant Winners Cups were presented by Moorabbin Toyota to highest score team, M. Davidson, R. Shorter, N. Arnell, A. Higgins for October 1987.

Coming events: Nominated Mixed Pairs December 6; Inter Club Mixed Fours 12.30pm. Sponsored by Moorabbin Toyota December 9; Ladies Gala Day sponsored by G.B. Paints December 11; Christmas party (pm) December 12; Mixed Fours or Triples December 13; Men's Triples sponsored by J. & A. Attward December 20; Ladies Christmas Social Day 12.30pm December 22.

Wishing all the Seasons Greetings and good health in 1988.

Elsternwick District

The Tournament Committee held a Mixed Tournament on Sunday November 1, with trophies sponsored by Niblick Bowling Shoes. Greens were in excellent condition. Home-made scones and cakes were made by Club Ladies and everyone had a great day. President Eric Jarman presented winning trophies — Niblick Shoes — to Skipper Bill Mills and his team after a hard day's battle in the heat.

Focus on . . . Caulfield South

Caulfield South is the shopping centre nearest to the City Hall — so if your favourite Town Planner or Rate Collector is not available around lunchtime, this could be the place to start looking.

Luckily for us this stretch of Glenhuntly Road, running from Kooyong Road to just over Hawthorn Road, contains a lot of pleasant lunch places around Caulfield South.

For those who can't wait to get back to their desks, there is a good supply of takeaway food — the Indonesian Takeaway at 807 is a find, with all sorts of tasty hot dishes on display, competing with the Singapore Satay next door at 809 which offers takeaways, Singapore style. Jeans Place, at 765, is a pleasant little venue which serves fresh, made-to-order sandwiches and rolls to take away or to eat at one of the small tables located in the shop. Top Tucker, just down the road, also provides takeaway with Fried Rice, Chicken Balls, and rolls and sandwiches featuring

The El Samar Coffee Lounge, near the corner of Hawthorn and Glenhuntly Rds, can supply you with not only coffee but such tasties as Bacon and Eggs on Toast, Hamburgers, Chicken and Souvlaki.

On the opposite corner, Brumby's bread kitchen provides fresh rolls, bread, cakes and croissants for those who might prefer to construct their own lunches.

Why not top up a fresh Brumby's roll with some goodies from either the Connoisseur's Delicatessen, at 614 — pates, liverwurst, bagels with avocado, asparagus, salad; or the Weinstar at 805 which can supply you with dips, gefilte fish, vege or beef burgers or chicken schnitzels.

You could then round off your meal (and your figure!) with a Homemade Cake from 619 — perhaps a Lemon Bun, a Cinnamon Roll or a Cheesecake Slice.

As a final indulgence, try an imported chocolate or two from the Nutshell at 779.

Caulfield South is, however, not just for lunchtimes. There is a generous sprinkling of restaurants along the strip.

If you feel like gorging on Fish and Chips after a strenuous workout at the Rec Centre, the Chip shop at 827 should satisfy you — and they promise their burgers are homemade and pure beef.

Pizza fanciers are catered for by either the Caulfield Pizza Restaurant at 620, which serves lasagne, ravioli and spaghetti as well, or the Caprice Pizza at 768 which also has a variety of pasta dishes including spaghetti with Napoli, Matriciana or Napoli sauce.

For Chinese food, there is the Golden Unicorn at 340 Hawthorn Road which offers a mainly takeaway service with a couple of tables for sit-down dinners or, more up-market, The Orient BYO at 682 Glenhuntly which features delicacies such as Seafood Cocktails as well as a cheap lunch takeaway offer.

From there on, there is a mixed bag of international flavours. Elisar at 829 offers Lebanese food — Tabouleh, dips, Shish Kebabs, Vine Leaves. Next door is Blue Suede Shoes, which provides food with an American flavour as well as live entertainment. Rockos at 764 provides a steakhouse or grill-type menu.

Grewal's Restaurant at 680 is, believe it or not, an Indian place, with unusual delicacies such as Boneless Rabbit Curry, and Spinach and Chicken Curry advertised, as well as standard Indian dishes.

There are also Fat Bob's, a late-night cafe-style restaurant, and Toto's Pizza, both of which have been reviewed previously in this column.

A QUICK VISIT TO MEXICO

Mexican Restaurants, a rarity a few years ago, are now springing up like mushrooms around the suburbs. It is inevitable that Caulfield should get its share as well, and Mexico City at 273 Glenhuntly Road is a fine example of this type of cuisine.

The restaurant is small, with a casual, homely feel about it. The walls are soft pink, decorated with the mandatory Mexican rugs and artefacts, and the service on the night we ate there was efficient and very friendly.

The food is standard Mexican fare — there are a variety of dips for entree, and main courses comprising selections of tacos, tostadas and other delights.

Like most Mexican food, as we know it, the food is not necessarily chilli-hot, but spicy and tasty with an emphasis on beans and cheese.

For entree we were tempted by the guacomole dip, that smooth texture of avocados, lemon juice and spices, but decided to have the best of both worlds by choosing Nachos Supreme. This is a pile of corn chips melted with cheese and covered in guacomole, sour cream and chilli sauce — representing the green, white and red of the Mexican flag.

For $8.50 it was a bargain, as one serve is ample between two, or even more people.

Being used to Mexican food, I knew that after a Nachos Supreme I couldn't fit much more in, so for mains I simply had a single Tostada Supreme at $3.50. This is a crisp, flat shell piled high with beef, beans, sour cream, lettuce, tomato and cheese and I found it quite sufficient for a main course, after the substantial entree. To accompany it I had a fresh, crisp salad served with honey and lemon dressing, very refreshing.

My companion was not so squeamish, though, and went the whole hog (so to speak) with a Combinacion. This is a good order for those unfamiliar with Mexican food, offering a selection of Mexican dishes. There is an enchilada, which is a soft pancake wrapped around a mixture of beef, beans, salad and cheese, a taquito which is like a miniature rolled up taco, a tamale, a soft roll of corn dough encasing a meat filling, and a serving of frijoles (beans). All this for $9.50.

There was a large selection of other main courses to choose from, with a list of specials including seafood and avocado. There is Mexican chicken for poultry fanciers, vegetarians were well catered for with their own menu, and there is a selection of "side dishes" such as my Tostada or single Tacos, from which you can select your own meal.

There are Mexican or plain salads, and drinks include a soft punch, to wash down the chillies.

We couldn't fit desserts in, though they were available, but we had a nice finish to the meal with a Mexican Coffee — coffee mixed with Kahlua and topped with whipped cream.

For a completely satisfying meal and delightful service, the total cost was just under $30.00, for two people. Buenos Noches, amigos!

NEIGHBOURHOOD PARTY

Area H46 gets together with local policemen for the street party.

On November 22, H46 Neighbourhood Watch group held their second annual street party, and once again the sun shone dutifully, ensuring a delightful outdoors environment and thus the potential for a most enjoyable BBQ lunch.

However, the H46 organising committee's objective was not merely to provide a pleasant Sunday afternoon, but also to further the aims on which the NHW programme is based, by fostering greater interaction and communication between neighbours to support a community-based crime prevention program which in co-operation with the police will minimise preventable crime in that area, particularly burglary.

Bearing in mind that Melbourne 'enjoys' a higher percentage of burglaries than any American city other than New York, it becomes obvious that the success of NHW program is essential.

Maintaining the residents' interest is not always easy — many NHW areas have complained that there is a tendency amongst some to believe an NHW gate plate ensures protection. That, regrettably, is a fallacy.

Crime prevention is a journey, not a destination. It requires continued effort, as well as appropriate deterrents within the premises.

To enable H46 to offer its members improved ideas, the area co-ordinator Joy Steward plans to attend a Crime Prevention Seminar in Canberra. In the meantime, she believes that the street party was a clear indication of the extent of community support and commitment which presently exists in that area.

The three major elements of any community were there — Caulfield Council as represented by the Mayoress, Mrs Felicitie Campbell and Cr Sandy Anderson, Sgt Ron Mosely, the "H" division Police Co-ordinator and his Caulfield Liaison Officer, Const. Greg Broom, and the residents themselves. Furthermore, the traders of the area had generously donated goods to provide a beautiful hamper which helped raise funds for the continued work of the group.

New Caulfield Rotary

President Howie Dunlop of the Rotary Club of Caulfield congratulates Charter President, Geoff Oscar of the new Rotary Club of Caulfield-Rosstown.

Rotary International came to Caulfield first in 1962, when the Rotary Club of Caulfield was chartered. At Tudor Court on Tuesday, November 10, the latest addition to the Rotary family — the Rotary Club of Caulfield-Rosstown — was officially presented with its Charter by District Governor Ian Knight, personal representative of Rotary World President, Chuck Keller of California.

Personal greetings were sent by R.I. President Chuck, who pointed out that newly inducted Caulfield-Rosstown Rotarians joined more than 1,042,153 fellow members worldwide, serving in 23,203 Rotary Clubs in 161 nations.

The Mayoress of Caulfield, Mrs Felicitie Campbell, brought greetings from the Mayor, Cr Jack

Campbell, and the City of Caulfield. Council business prevented the Mayor attending. The Mayoress was joined in the official party by District Governor Ian, his wife Genny and other senior District Rotary International officers and their wives.

A large gathering of nearly 300 well-wishers, including Rotarians and wives from 34 Rotary Clubs from as far afield as Bendigo, greeted the induction of 22 charter members and their wives into the fellowship of Rotary, wished the new club well and congratulated former Caulfield Rotarian Geoff Oscar on his charter presidency.

Tribute was paid to President Howie Dunlop and the Rotary Club of Caulfield for the Club's farsighted action in creating the new club, which will help extend the community service and international projects undertaken in Caulfield over 25 years. Although small in number to start, the new club is most enthusiastic and plans to increase its membership quickly.

A happy night was complemented by a fine performance by the Gilbert and Sullivan Society Concert Party.

Both the Rotary Club of Caulfield and the Rotary Club of Caulfield-Rosstown meet weekly at the Alma Club in Wilks St, Caulfield. The former holds a luncheon meeting, the latter an evening meeting (6.30 for 6.45pm). Further information about Rotary in Caulfield can be obtained from President Howie Dunlop (211 3980) or President Geoff Oscar (592 4511).

RECREATION AND LEISURE

Caulfield Recreation Centre 30 Year Anniversary

Thirty years ago on November 3, 1957, the Caulfield Recreation Centre was officially opened by his worship the mayor at that time, Cr A.J. Sinclair. The building was erected to honor the citizens who served in both the first and second world wars. Today, the Recreation Centre is still fully operational and continues to offer a wide range of activities to the community.

The Recreation Centre, run by Caulfield Council, is a valuable asset to all Caulfield residents as it provides classes that cater for everyone, from twelve-month-old teeny tots to exercise classes for the over sixties.

If you are looking to get fit or improve your fitness through jazz ballet, yoga, tennis, or aerobics, then the Recreation Centre is the place for you.

The centre also offers lots of children's programs, including trampolining instruction, recreational and Olympic gymnastics, bounceball, tennis coaching, basketball, pre-school gymnastics and developmental (remedial) gym.

School Holidays

School holiday programs that operate from 8.00am until 5.30pm are ideal for the working parent, while allowing the child (4-12 years) to engage in fun, educational activities, and excursions to many venues around Melbourne.

During January the centre is offering a "Slumber Party" to the children involved in the holiday program.

The Recreation Centre is available for community groups to hire out for meetings and functions, and local schools/playgroups to use for their physical education programs and recreation activities.

The centre is here for you to use and become actively involved in — choose a class from:

Aerobics (beginners or intermediate), Over 40s Gentle Exercise Class, Over 60s Fitness Fun, Pre and Post Natal, Yoga Tennis Coaching, Jazz Ballet (adults and children), Judo, Tae-Kwon-Do, Over 40s Basketball and lots more.

If you're a kid, choose from trampoline, gymnastics, Judo, Tae-Kwon-Do, school holiday fun, etc.

Ripponlea Kitchens

The original kitchens of Ripponlea, a suite of six large, cool, stone-floored rooms in the basement, well equipped for their day and with many arched windows looking out onto the garden, will soon be open for public viewing.

Many restorations have been carried out to the drawing room, bedrooms, ballroom, main fernery, small conservatory and other rooms since the National Trust inherited Ripponlea in 1972, and the kitchens have always excited curiosity.

Visitors will now be able to see what it was like to work in a Victorian kitchen.

Ripponlea was built in 1868 for the Sargood family, Sir Frederick, his wife Marion and their eleven children. The house saw regular 'At Home' evenings with four to five hundred people attending, and the fortnightly Saturday evening 'glees' had professional musicians in attendance.

During the 1880s, Ripponlea grew from an imposing house of fifteen rooms to a vast mansion of thirty-three rooms set in forty-three acres of ornamental gardens with lake, lookout tower, archery house, tennis court, orchards, conservatories and, in the house, electric light. Ripponlea was an early user of this new facility and a resident electrician looked after its deficiencies.

Two more families of children played hide-and-seek in the big garden, the families of its third owner Melbourne businessman Benjamin Nathan and of his daughter Mrs Louisa Jones who inherited the property from him. Sir Thomas Bent, Victoria's Premier and Treasurer, who bought Ripponlea after the death of Sir Frederick Sargood, did not live there. He was a land speculator who cut up 20 acres for building blocks.

Renovations carried out by Mrs Jones included a Hollywood-style in-ground swimming pool on the site of the first ballroom and a new kitchen wing on the ground floor where there had been nurseries.

Ripponlea, 132 Hotham St, Elsternwick, is open daily from 10.00am to 5.00pm — Bus 602, stop 45, train to Elsternwick Station.

Nursery

Another new venture planned at Ripponlea is a working nursery, housing what will eventually be thousands of plants for sale to the public. The main emphasis will be on trees and plants that are found at Ripponlea, and the proceeds will all go back into the estate.
