Australia Day Breakfast... a First in the New Complex

Caulfield's Australia Day Breakfast went off without a hitch in the new Arts Complex, which was finished just in time to accommodate the three hundred and fifty guests who attended.

It is fair to say no-one went home unimpressed with the new venue, with its elegant pillars, magnificent roof and fine stage and seating areas.

"It has been quite an uplift for us - in fact we are eleven feet higher than we were last year" said the Mayor, Cr. Campbell, referring to the Mezzanine floor installed in the old Town Hall to create the upper reception area where the breakfast was held.

He commented that the building was still in need of a few finishing touches, but went on to point out the new facilities that would be available.

"Immediately below us is a gallery which, as well as becoming the home of the City's prestigious Permanent Art Collection, will be available for Art Exhibitions. The Gallery will be opened on March 6 this year.

"As well we have a Theatre which will be made available for public meetings, lecture and the like.

Sculpture Garden
"In addition we have a beautiful Sculpture Garden on the corner of Hawthorn and Glen Eira Roads which will be the site for the recently commissioned sculpture by Mr. Dan Wolmerring."

The Mayor thanked those who had attended, and said that their generosity had allowed the Council to make a contribution of $6,000 to the Nursing Home Fund.

After presenting the Citizen of the Year and Young Citizen of the Year Awards to Irene Capek and Elisse Baitz, he introduced the Guest Speaker, Greg Denning, Professor of History at the University of Melbourne, to speak on the topic "Southern Cross - a Celebration."

Professor Denning spoke about the history of the Southern Cross, the origins of its name, and the different meanings it had to different people, as well as speaking about Australia Day and Australian history.

The Australia Day Breakfast was the first function to be held in the new Complex - finished just in the nick of time. This perspective shows the view from the tables at the back, looking towards the stage.

Young Citizen of the Year went to Elisse Baitz, who at sixteen years of age has already devoted a lot of time to her community.

In presenting the award, the Mayor said cited some of her activities. "In those relatively short number of years she has been involved in numerous activities including organizing and promoting a disco to raise money for charities, cooking and serving meals at Hostels, voluntarily working with her church, serving at the altar on Sundays, and is an enthusiastic member of the Youth Group," he said.

Elisse is also a Girl Guide, and has been granted the highest reward in the Guiding movement by being made a Queen's Guide.

She was not expecting the award, and was caught unprepared.

"I know my parents won't believe this, but I am at a loss for words" she said, but went on to thank everyone involved.

Bus Action

Some Bus Drivers have been cheating on their routes through Gardenvale, zipping down Lantana St. when they were running a bit late. Residents have tired of it, though, as their street is not on the bus route and this practice was seen as dangerous. In December a petition was sent to Council requesting that traffic works be implemented to stop this.

It has proved unnecessary to implement any major road works, though, as discussion with the MTA and subsequent warnings to the drivers that they must stick to their routes, seem to have been heeded. Residents were urged to take the registration number of bus drivers using the unauthorized route, and to report them so individual drivers can be tackled on the issue.

Happy Birthday

The Metropolitan Municipal Association celebrated its second birthday recently. The Association acts as an advocate lobbyist group for Local Government and a forum for debate on major Metropolitan issues.

During its short history it has been involved in various working parties including those on Library issues, Local Laws and financial relationships between State and Local Government. It addresses issues of concern to those in Local Government including library funding, the Liquor Control bills, road funding, WorkCare and the Residential Development Provisions. Happy Birthday MMA!

MMPS AM 506

What is MMPS AM506? Well might you ask. It is actually a Ministerial Amendment which has been gazetted, stating that any dwelling over two storeys requires a Town Planning permit prior to commencement.

The amendment will provide the Council with greater control over these developments and will affect the way in which those applications are dealt with.

Voting Papers

Thinking of running for Council? Well it appears that from now on you will not be at a disadvantage if your name happens to be Zzygy. Currently candidates are listed on the ballot paper in alphabetical order, but there are hints in the wind that the regulations may be changed to mean that names on the voting paper will be selected by ballot. It is not official yet, but there seems to be strong support for the change.

ERP!

Did you know that the population of Caulfield is actually declining? Figures recently released by the Australian Bureau of Statistics show the 1986 Estimated Resident Population (ERP) of Caulfield was 70,565 as of June 30, 1986. This is a fall of about 2,200 people, or 3% since the last census in 1981. When the full details of the count and their implications for Caulfield are known, we will let you know.

A New Face

Caulfield has a new Town Planner, replacing Cindy Wilson. His name is Andrew Rodda, he has a Bachelor of Applied Science in Planning from RMIT and has been employed in Local Government for 7 years. He has come to us from the City of Kew. Welcome aboard Andrew.

Road Inventory

Caulfield will soon be able to maintain and improve its roads in a much more systematic manner, thanks to a scheme which will provide an updated Road Inventory for the entire Municipality.

The scheme will take the form of a CEP project, involving the employment of 4 people through the local CES Office for 24 weeks, gathering physical data through site visit and measurement of all streets within the Municipality. The data will then be entered on a specially developed computer program, and will then be available to assist in planning and enquiries relating to the road system.

The second stage of the program involves technically evaluating the condition of the streets to establish priorities for future works. Caulfield will get an up-to-date account of the condition of our roads, and those employed will gain valuable experience in gathering data and computer use.

Signs Rejected

An animated purple neon sign that was erected on the Dandenong Rd. sign of Darby's Hotel was ordered to be removed at the last meeting of Council. The sign had been erected without the necessary Planning Permits and an application was then submitted. Council, though, found that the appearance

Another request for a Sky Sign was also rejected. The application was for a 6m x 3m sign to be placed 6m above ground level. It would be floodlit and would display various promotional advertisements. It was again rejected on the grounds that it would dominate the skyline, and create visual clutter in the neighbourhood.

Decisions Upheld

Council's refusal to grant a particular permit, and the conditions it placed on other permits, were upheld at the Planning Appeals Tribunal recently.

Council had previously refused to allow the premises in Hawthorn Rd. to put up four flagpoles. The applicant appealed but the Tribunal found in agreement with the Council, that firstly the poles would serve no purpose as they would be largely obscured by existing tree growth. If they were visible, it found that their appearance would be "unacceptable". They would have created an intrusion into the vicinity with no apparent benefit.

Council had also put conditions relating to the owner not parking his vehicles in nearby streets, though it deleted a condition that restricted the increase in floor area for retail use. There were several other disputed conditions, and generally the Tribunal upheld the spirit of Council's decisions, though some were altered slightly or deleted.

Parking Restrictions

A petition was received from residents of Rusden St. requesting that parking restrictions be enforced in that street. Cars parked permanently every day of the week were causing inconvenience to residents who wanted to park briefly outside their houses, and also to visitors. Council contacted all the residents of Rusden St. and examined conditions, and agreed to put 3 hour parking restrictions in the street.

Tram Saga Continues

Despite all protests, the duplication of the tram tracks in Truganini Rd. seems likely to go ahead. A letter was received from the Minister for Transport indicating that the duplication was to proceed, against the wishes of Council and most residents.

Council has replied to the letter expressing grave concern regarding the lack of adequate pavement width, and stating that all costs relating to the road widening works, relocation of services, and reinstatement of naturestrips and trees are to be fully met by the Metropolitan Transit Authority.

Health Inspections

Did you know that one of the functions of our Health Department is to inspect food sold in shops to ensure that it is healthy, fresh and complies to the basic standards for that item?

Council has prosecuted some shop owners for having falsely labelled products, for having produce not up to scratch - for example mince meat with the wrong percentages of fat - and for other offences. All part of the job of keeping Caulfield Healthy.

Traffic Infringements

What do you suppose is the most common traffic infringement? It is actually outstaying your welcome in a specific-time parking zone. 503 people were caught in a month, according to the latest figures.

A close second to this was 384 for standing in No Standing Zones. 37 people were booked for parking on reservations, 27 for opposite double lines, and 11 for parking to close to an intersection. So, be warned - if you park illegally you are very likely to get caught.

Medical Officer

Caulfield's new Medical Officer of Health is Dr. Mark Faigan, who is replacing the late Dr. G. Stillwell.

Madam,

The President of Elsternwick (Bowling) Club, Mr. Ray Payne, recently called on the Federal Minister for Goldstein, Mr. Ian MacPhee, to press for the Australian Broadcasting Commission to review its decision to terminate the Jack High television series.

Members of our Club also request Caulfield Council to take the matter up through the appropriate channels with Prime Minister Hawke and State Premier Cain to endeavour to persuade the ABC that this series is a great stimulus to the sport of lawn bowls and of great interest to viewers unable to participate through age or disability.

There are over 500,000 active players in Australia and a viewing audience estimated to be around two million therefore it is hard to understand the ABC's decision and we request the government to use all in its power to persuade the ABC to rethink their decision.

TALL SHIPS - FROM CAULFIELD'S POINT OF VIEW

Some people will do anything to get a glimpse of the Tall Ships...Intrepid photographer Mr. Solomon mounted the CIT Tower to snap this photo of the ships in the bay. Who said the Ships couldn't come to Caulfield?

A Model of Safety Awareness

Caulfield Senior Traffic and By-Laws Officer Reg Dixon has combined his hobby of making model railways with his job, to produce a Road Safety Model which will help children understand important traffic issues.

The model, which features houses, schools, a school crossing, and working traffic lights, took Reg just a couple of days to build, using materials such as cardboard, plastic, dowlings and green felt.

With it, children can see the hazards of walking to school or to the park in a normal street. Matchbox cars and electric traffic lights add to the attraction.

Reg uses it, in conjunction with a 15 minute video, assorted books and literature, and a talk, to educate children on where it is safe to play, how to cross the road, the use of school crossings and other aspects of road safety.

If any teachers in Caulfield are interested in having Reg talk to the children, please ring the Council on 524 3333.

Cobb & Co. Comes to Caulfield

Caulfield again echoed to the clatter of a coach and horses when the Bicentennial Cobb and Co. Coach arrived at the City Hall on Australia Day. The visit was part of the 4,000km Bicentennial Stage Coach Run between Melbourne and Cairns, to commemorate the achievements of Cobb & Co.

In 1870 the Company was harnessing 6,000 horses a day, covering 47,000km a week, through a vast network of routes covering the entire continent. The last Cobb and Co. coach ran in 1924.

The coach trek commenced with an Australia Day colonial breakfast at the Melbourne Town Hall and departed with 12 passengers for St. Kilda at 11.00 am. After a reception at the St. Kilda Town Hall the coach proceeded to Caulfield City Hall, arriving at 1.00 pm for a Mayoral reception.

The Caulfield coaching party of 12 children was chosen by the Community Policing Squad and sponsored by Caulfield's three hosteleries - Darby's Hotel, Rosstown Hotel and the London Tavern.

Two members of the Community Policing Squad escorted the coach to its next destination at the City of Waverley Municipal Offices. Fares are charged for the passengers on each leg on the journey and coach rides for the public will be available during the trek. Money raised goes to cancer research. The stage coach will travel 50km a day. The final destination for the Australia Day leg of the journey was Dandenong. The coach then proceeded into Gippsland along the Princes Highway and will visit 120 major cities and towns, including Brisbane for Expo '88.

Organisers of the trek, Neville and Elayne Lindley of Maryborough, Queensland, restored the coach being used in 1975 and have spent several years planning the epic trek with a group of sponsors.

The Caulfield visit was organised by the Caulfield Bicentennial Community Committee and was the second activity in Caulfield's Bicentennial Program, which commenced with the Australia Day Breakfast.

The Cobb and Co. coach visit has a special significance for Caulfield as Labassa, Caulfield's historic mansion was built by Cobb and Co.'s Australian founder and is being restored as a Bicentennial Project, with funding from AMATIL, the giant manufacturing corporation.

A WRITER FOR THE COMMUNITY

Caulfield has its own Writer in the Community. Commencing late February John Irving will be organising readings and workshops as well as being available for individual consultations.

The author of "Moonstricken", a book of poetry, "In Our Time", an oral history, and the play "Meals on Wheels", John is currently at work on a novel entitled "This and Other Rooms" to be published early this year.

Married with two young children, John currently juggles his writing time with community writing jobs and caring for his children. He is well known for the long running poetry readings he organizes with Mal Morgan at La Mama Theatre in Carlton and his extensive work with creative writing groups throughout Victoria.

His period at Caulfield promises to be an eventful one. He will be resourcing and expanding the writers workshop group initiated by the Caulfield Library Service, organising community readings and a two day seminar covering many facets of writing as well as exploring publication opportunities with local writers.

For those who are new to the workshop situation or feel that they would like to join in a creative writing class, John has organised classes for new writers and those who think they would like to write but are not sure how to begin. These will be held at the Caulfield City Hall on eight consecutive Thursdays commencing March 16. An afternoon or evening session is available. Cost is $40.00 or $20.00 concession. Details and enrolment forms are available by phoning Barry Scott on 524 3357. Anyone wanting to arrange to meet with John at this stage to discuss their writing should ring Barry Scott, Community Services Librarian on 524 3357.

KOOKING UP A STORM

Those people who have been holding their breath and existing on a diet of bread and water will be pleased to know that Kooka's Kook Up will be starting again in March 1988.

What is Kooka's Kook Up? It is a fun approach to learning how to cook the basic survival food for those adults, particularly men, who may in the latter part of their life be left alone and only then realise that they cannot cook adequate meals for themselves.

If you think you fall into this group of people who need to learn new skills but have never taken the opportunity, and possibly feel a bit embarrassed, come along.

Contact Ruth Whittingham or Lorraine Le Clerc on 524 3333 for further information.

Adult Literacy

In 1976 a Sydney study found 3.4 per cent of native English speakers unable to read or write at a simple level. 43.3 per cent of the non-English migrant population also failed at this level.

Julie Wurf, the co-ordinator of the Caulfield Adult Literacy Group which was established in August 1986, currently has 15 tutors helping adults with their reading and writing. The group hopes that this support will help those with poor literacy skills communicate more effectively in society.

Working out of the Elsternwick Library has enabled contact with a wider cross-section of the community.

In 1988 the group will be running its first Volunteer Tutor Training Course. Volunteers undertake 8, 3-hour training sessions and are matched with a student at the end of this time.

If you are interested in becoming a volunteer literacy tutor contact Julie Wurf on 211 1426 or John Sloss on 25 4534.

Caulfield History Workbook to be Published

In almost every family there circulates stories about exotic ancestors - an unjustly accused convict, a famous actress, perhaps a Russian Duke. Even failing this, there are few people who can honestly say they have no curiosity at all about their forbears.

Researching family histories is increasingly popular, and with Bicentennial fever reaching a peak there are bound to be even greater numbers checking up on those old family rumours. To meet both the current and anticipated demand, Caulfield Council will be publishing a workbook with step-by-step instructions about how to trace your family's past.

The book has been compiled by Marijke Van Driel, from an idea by Caulfield Librarians Gladys Villati and Jim Badger (now Manager Cultural Services). Mrs. Villati had noticed that people were constantly coming to the Library looking for information on how to go about researching their family history. They generally did not want to read great textbooks on the subject, but were looking for simple information on how to get started.

"People live in smaller families now, and have a need to get back in touch with their roots" said author Marijke Van Driel.

Marijke is rather surprised to find herself in the position of about to be having a book published - she has never written a book before, nor had she previously worked in genealogy. She responded to a need for a researcher for a project for the Caulfield Library.

In researching the need for the workbook, Marijke discovered that among all the genealogical texts, there was not one that had a real step-by-step approach. The Genealogical Society confirmed that there was a place for this type of book, and so the project went ahead.

It was originally going to be published "in-house" but approaches to publishers resulted in Viking

Author Marijke Van Driel

O'Neill, a subsidiary of Penguin, taking up the option.

"They want it to be distributed Australia wide" said Marijke "so I had to make it bigger, and do some more work on it." It is hoped it will be on the market by September.

The book will include fill-in sections on your own family tree, examples of how to write letters and information on who to contact.

"It will also make people think about what they want to achieve" said Marijke. "There are three sections, one that leads to filling in a complete pedigree chart, another on how to get details of the life and times of one particular ancestor, and a third on writing a complete family history - the third more or less combining the first two."

Marijke feels that if people are told where and how to start on a small scale, they will then have the confidence to go about a full history.

"The information is like bits of a jigsaw puzzle that you're putting together - and it can be a lifelong interest."

'MAMMACHECK'

A new programme 'Mammacheck' has recently been designed by the The Anti-Cancer Council of Victoria in conjunction with St Vincents hospital to teach women how to effectively examine their breasts for any lumps or changes that could be a sign of early breast cancer. Most lumps are not serious, but those few due to cancer can be treated most successfully if detected at an early stage.

Mammacheck is conducted in a small group by a specially trained educator and teaches a new method of Breast Self Examination (B.S.E.) which is easy to learn. Mammacheck takes about one hour and includes a video, a discussion and an opportunity to practice on themselves over their clothing and to examine a breast model which demonstrates what a breast lump feels like.

Mammacheck is now available at Chadstone (Paramedical) Community Health Centre 568 Neerim Rd., Hughesdale, Ph. 578 2599. They will be holding a demonstration session on Tuesday evening, February 23 1988 starting at 7 pm. This program can be taken to groups or organizations who wish to benefit from this health education measure. If you wish to attend the evening session or have a group of interested women who would like the program brought to them please telephone the centre to arrange a booking.

New Enterprise Incentive Scheme

There is a scheme available for unemployed people to receive assistance in starting their own business. Under the New Enterprise Incentive Scheme (NEIS), 120 positions will be available in Victoria for unemployed people who wish to establish and operate a small business.

Assistance is provided in the form of training, finance, income support and business advice to those businesses assessed as having the greatest chance of success.

The Scheme aims to help those unemployed people who have a 'business idea' which they would like to develop into a viable concern.

Applications for the Scheme will be open in early January until February 12, 1988. Application forms can be obtained from CES offices.

YOUR REPRESENTATIVES

Cr. Veronika Martens East Ward

Cr. Veronika Martens has only been on Council 18 months, but has already learnt a great deal about being a Councillor - mainly through talking and listening to the people of the Municipality.

"I am a people person" she said. "I gave an undertaking to stay in touch with residents and I have done that. I always talk to people, look at problems and keep residents informed of progress."

Cr. Martens is not in the workforce and so spends a lot of time in the Municipality, even listing Council work as her "hobby". When pressed, though, she admits to being a mad reader, enjoys travel when she can, and has an interest in the Arts.

She became interested in Council through a dispute over a factory near her house - so she knows what it is like to be 'on the other side'.

On Council, Cr. Martens is keen on 'bringing the City up to scratch'. She feels that the streets, kerbs and gutters need special attention, and that the safety of Caulfield residents requires tree pruning and good lighting in the streets.

Her other interest is in the need for more parks and gardens in Caulfield, but, as the Municipality is so established this is difficult. "In order to create Parks we have to buy expensive land and therein lies the problem."

As a Councillor she is proud of achievements such as the Nursing Home and the Arts Complex, but feels that Council could do more.

"I look at Council as a group of people who try to work in harmony for the good of residents, who will always listen to constructive criticism, but are often prevented from doing their best by destructive elements."

Cr. Geoff Patience South Ward

There is no doubt that Cr. Geoff Patience is a Caulfield man. His father founded a Toolmaking firm in Elsternwick, he himself was born in Gardenvale, he attended school at Caulfield State School and worked as a newsagent in Huntingdale. So there probably isn't much you can tell Geoff Patience about this City.

On Council, he is probably most well known for his involvement with the hostels and the Nursing Home, and currently serves as Chairman of the Nursing Home Appeal and General Committee. "I am most interested in the health and welfare of the Young and Aged" he said.

Cr. Patience's experience on Council is vast, having served eleven years as a Councillor, been Chairman of all the Committees, and Mayor in 1977/8, and 78/79.

Outside of Council, he devotes a lot of time to his work with Lions. As well as being a Charter Member, he has served in many offices in that organisation.

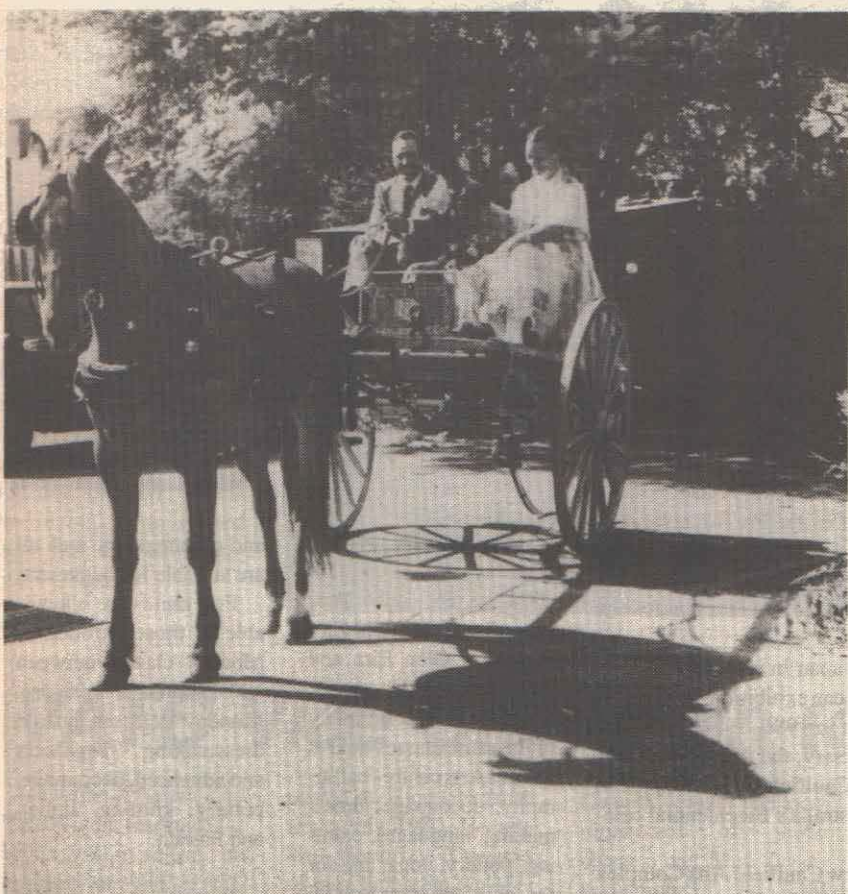

The Councillor's interest in Health issues extends to him being on the Board of the Royal Southern Memorial Hospital for nearly 10 years as Chairman of Community Care, and being a Life Governor of the Children's, Royal Melbourne, Austin, Prince Henry's Hospital and Royal Freemasons Hospital.

Cr. Patience is also interested in sport, being at various times President and player of Cricket, Football and Table Tennis Clubs, and currently Chairman of the Princes Park Committee of Management.

He has been married to Jean for 40 years this March, with 3 boys and 1 daughter, and 7 grandchildren, with many members of his family involved in Local Government areas.

"I believe that the Council must give the drive and leadership towards a clean and better City. The best is not good enough" the Councillor said.

The End of an era

Colourful Caulfield Character Bernie Dingle leaving our City for greener pastures - literally! Bernie, who is never seen without his horse and buggy, has been living here for many years, but now finds that he needs more room for his horses, so is moving, appropriately, to Dingley. Caulfield will miss the colourful site of the Dingle family trotting along our streets, but Bernie assures us that he will still be operating his buggy hire business and so will still be seen around the streets of Melbourne.

Focus on the Arts

Sculpting Caulfield's Vitality

Dan Wollmering is philosophical about any controversy that might arise from his sculpture, commissioned for the Bicentennial Sculpture Garden and due to be unveiled in November.

"Every time a public sculpture goes up there is controversy, and this is a healthy sign. It means that citizens are concerned and interested rather than apathetic. However I believe the mechanisms Council had in place - the Selection Committee and a lengthy process during which I'm sure many issues were scrutinized - have meant that the Council has come up with a good decision."

"A suburb with a strong sense of identity and energy should try to capture some sense of forward directions as well as past accomplishments."

Dan aims to present a sense of energy and spirit with his sculpture 'The Future Vitality of Caulfield.' "I'm thrilled to be working on such an important project" he said.

As to whether a classical piece would have been more appropriate, he says simply that there are already too many classical sculptures.

"It's like pulling out old photographs from the past" he said. "It has its place, but a suburb with a strong sense of identity and energy should try to capture some sense of forward direction as well as past accomplishments."

He cites Honolulu Airport, where, he says, sculptures immediately give visitors a feeling about the place, a sense of community. With "The Future Vitality of Caulfield" he hopes to give a visual clue to the neighbourhood.

The piece is to be displayed in the sculpture garden at the front of the City Hall.

"It is an ideal location for a sculpture, with good views from all sides.

Dan Wollmering in his studio at Pascoe Vale for this year which includes talks with Primary and Secondary schools and other interested community groups, and viewing of the sculpture in progress.

Another vital aspect of the plan is a "Time-Capsule" which will be installed with the sculpture and which will house items collected from community groups representing this year in Caulfield, to be opened in fifty years time. The items could include photographs, written observations and perhaps children's artwork. Dan is keen to hear from people in the community with ideas for this aspect of the project.

Dan studied Fine Arts in St. Paul Minnesota, and in 1975 starting teaching Art and Craft in secondary schools in Australia. He then went on to tutor in Art Education and Theory at the Phillip Institute, became Art Co-ordinator at Richmond TAFE, and currently lectures in Wood and Sculpture.

He has exhibited his work in several exhibitions including "Sculpture for Melbourne" at the Gryphon Gallery in Melbourne in 1986 and a solo exhibition in 1985 at Roar Studios in Fitzroy.

Dan currently lives in Pascoe Vale with his wife Lisa, his daughter Candace and his dog Gruschenka.

CHOIR SEEKS YOUNG TALENT

The Conductor and Committee of the Caulfield City Choir Inc. extend a warm and sincere invitation to all interested persons to join this enthusiastic group of singers.

If you have a flexible, melodious voice and like to sing, why not become a member of this happy team? You are assured that practices are fun under the cheerful leadership of dynamic Douglas Heywood and the choir's dedicated and talented pianist Joan Shewan.

There are vacancies in all sections of the Choir and school-leavers and other young singers will be especially welcome.

An interesting programme, including familiar choral greats, has been planned for this year. No entrance fee is required. An Annual Subscription is levied at the Annual General Meeting (March of each year) which covers costs of rehearsals and all music.

Practices for 1988 will resume on Monday February 1, 1988, and thereafter each Monday evening, from 7.45pm - 9.45pm in the St. Stephen's Uniting Church Hall, Balaclava Rd. Caulfield.

You are welcome to "sit in" on a Monday night rehearsal to see and hear for yourself, and meet the other friendly members.

Should you require further information, the Choir's Secretary, Mrs. Margaret Glasson, will be delighted to answer your phone enquiry - 523 6523.

Art and Craft Classes

Duldig Exhibition

The Caulfield Arts Complex has been awarded a grant by the Australia Council for a major exhibition at its new gallery early next year.

The Complex, still under construction, is one of only two institutions in Victoria to receive an exhibition grant in the current round of allocations. The exhibition will feature the ceramic works of the well known sculptor Karl Duldig (1902-86) and his artist wife Slawa, who died in 1975.

The Duldigs, refugees from Vienna, were amongst the first in Australia to produce and market handmade pottery after the Second World War. Karl Duldig went on to master the art of ceramic sculpture, and executed several large commissions for public sites around Melbourne in the 1950's and 60's. His work is represented in the National Gallery of Victoria and the Karl Duldig, Vase Circa 1950, Earthenware.

Newcastle Regional Art Gallery.

The exhibition runs from early March, during the month-long Jewish Festival of Arts being held at exhibitions and performing arts venues around Melbourne.

A large ceramic mural by Karl Duldig titled "Adam and Eve" is currently being restored in preparation for its installation in the new Bicentennial Sculpture Garden outside the Arts Complex to coincide with the retrospective exhibition.

Ring Helen Bond at the the Arts Complex on 524 3333 for further details.

Japanese Art

An exhibition of the work of leading Japanese Artists and Craftsmen will be held at the Caulfield Arts Complex Gallery from April 16 to May 1, 1988.

The Exhibition will present for the first time in Australia the work of a representative group of contemporary Japanese artists and craftsmen. It will include metal craft, wood craft, lacquer ware, ceramics and textiles (tapestries and kimonos).

This will be a comprehensive display of the best Japanese arts and crafts, and the first integrated exhibition of its kind in Australia.

Japanese New Arts Crafts Association

The Japanese New Art Crafts Association was launched in June 1978 under the leadership of Master Artists: Yaichi Kusube (a cultural medal awardee), the late Rokube Kiyomizu (Member of the Japan Art Academy), and Yoshiyuki Chosa (Member of the Japan Art Academy). The objective of the Association is to create artistic objects of craftwork for modern living.

The Association represents Japan in international cultural exchanges. Its first overseas exhibition was held at the Hong Kong Museum of Art in 1986.

To celebrate its 10th Anniversary, the Association will hold its 1988 exhibition at the Caulfield Arts Complex in Melbourne, contributing to Australia's Bicentennial celebrations some 150 works.

The Exhibition is part of the new Caulfield Arts Complex Opening Program. The Prime Minister of Australia, the Hon. R.J. Hawke has been invited to open the Exhibition and at a social function on the same evening declare the Caulfield Arts Complex open.

Mr. Kawai, a Director of Japanese New Arts and Crafts, is visiting Melbourne in preparation for the April exhibition. He is meeting with the members of Japanese/Australian corporations and making contact with the Japanese community in Melbourne.

Semester 1 commences Monday February 15, 1988 at the new Arts Complex at Caulfield City Hall, crn. Glen Eira and Hawthorn Roads.

On offer will be many of the same classes held at the old Arts centre - calligraphy, decoupage, dressmaking, languages, painting, pottery, yoga, and for the children after school art, potter, drama, dance and music experience classes, plus a wide range of activities for preschoolers.

New classes include restoration/French polishing, pottery for the garden, and printmaking, and all are suitable for beginners.

Free child care is available to those enrolled in Monday classes between 10.00 am and 3.00 pm. Monday's classes include dressmaking - beginners and advanced, decoupage, pottery, knitting, Italian and French.

If you are interested in any of these activities please phone the Arts Complex on 524 3263 or 524 3299 for information or for a free brochure. Some activities are already full, but vacancies still exist.

Elsternwick RSL Remembers

On Saturday December 5, 1987 at 11.00 am, a short ceremony was conducted at the Caulfield RSL, 4 St. Georges Rd. Elsternwick to dedicate a plaque which was donated by the Military Historical Society in recognition of the Volunteer Defence Corp who served during 1940-41.

VATC Vice Chairman to Retire

Victorian Amateur Turf Club Vice-Chairman, Ian Miller, will retire from his position on the VATC Committee on March 19, 1988, the date of his 72nd birthday.

Under VATC rules, a Committee Member must retire at the age of 72. Mr. Miller has been a Member of the VATC Committee since April 1961 and has served as Vice-Chairman since July 1980. He was also Honorary Treasurer of the Club from October 1979 to June 1984.

Announcing his intentions to retire, Mr. Miller said he had enjoyed his long association with the VATC and with racing, and had seen many changes in the industry in his 26 years as a VATC Committeeman. The most important of these changes had been the introduction of the TAB which began operating in Victoria just one month before Mr. Miller's election to the VATC Committee.

Mr. Miller said the administration of racing in the present day was so much more complex for both Club Committees and racing administrators, but he is confident the industry is in good hands.

An election to fill the vacancy left by Mr. Miller on the VATC Committee will be held at a Special General Meeting of the Club on Monday, March 21, 1988.

Caulfield Central RSL

With pennant competition in abeyance, the emphasis at present is on social games and club competitions with lots of social relaxation thrown in. Earlier in December the club sent a trio consisting of Nora Spear, Edie Ablett and Roy Stock to Alma to represent us at Alma's Diamond Jubilee celebrations. The triple won the runners-up prize, beaten only by an Alma triple captained by Ray Wakefield. Nora Spear is a first season bowler who joined our newly formed Ladies section this season.

The club competitions are almost completed with the men's singles championship to be fought out by Jack McIntosh and Les Carrick.

Coming events include the Lachie Brown triples (mixed) and the Diggers' Day Fours, both of which promise to be keenly contested.

The Legacy Pairs are to be decided on our rinks on February 4.

Carnegie

February will be a busy month for the Club with a 'Mini Gala Day' commencing at 11 am on Friday 5 and Roy Kerr's 'Masonic Day' on Sunday 7 at 10.30 am. Billy Guyatt's 'Invitation Day' is always popular and commences at 9.30am on Sunday 14 with 'Bill Reid's Day' of Nominated Mixed Fours at 1.30 pm on Sunday 21.

The 'Twilight Triples' (Men's and Ladies') on Wednesday 24 are of 18 ends followed by a light supper at 8.30pm and always enjoyable.

Our No. 3 Pennant team skippered by Ken McIver (aged 82) with George Chapman, Sam Courtney (our President) and Kevin McMahon recently scored the 'elusive' 8 against Oakleigh's No.3 team.

Visitors are always most welcome - just ring the Club on 578 7131.

Members were deeply shocked at the sudden and untimely passing of Sevyv Kramer, who held the highly responsible position of Hon. Secretary, and who was greatly respected and will be sadly missed. We also mourn the sad passing of fellow member David Grinwald.

Caulfield RSL

Our last two fund raising days were as usual each a great success. Charity Day raised $138, a good total for a small club. Gala Day was a bonanza with $1560 showing what a combined Club effort can achieve. President Pat Harte congratulated all her members on their hard work.

This year we had a "guest of honour", literally stealing the show - the prettiest little grey and white kitten, sitting beside the 'kitty', observing the bowling. When removed it sat in the ditch observing the game. We do like our Gala Day to be different.

Our Xmas Breakup Dinner was most enjoyable and well attended, with Phyl Greening winning our beautiful hamper.

Caulfield South

An official visit by the RVBA was held in November. President Neil Grimwood was pleased to welcome President Jack Lorenz and his committee. The Gordon Trevor Memorial Day held in December was as usual well attended. The winning rink was A.Kane, Y. Riach, A.Flower and D.Welsh of Murrumbena Park. Ladies President Day and Christmas party was a happy and festive occasion. This was followed by a Christmas Night function which was successfully organized with a Spit Roast Dinner, Music and Dancing. Excellent music was provided by Bernard Bartliff and his band. The Barbecue raffle was won by Ossie Horn.

Focus on...Elsternwick

If Caulfield has an equivalent to Prahran's Chapel St., St. Kilda's Acland St. or Carlton's Lygon St., Glenhuntly Rd. Elsternwick is it. Noisy, busy, multicultural and friendly, Elsternwick is a real heartland of Caulfield.

Being a long stretch full of restaurants, takeaways and eating places, I have divided it into segments to do it full justice. So, this month, we travel from Kooyong Rd. to Orrong Rd.

In fact, you don't have to travel anywhere to get a feed from this area. Ribs on the Run headquarters is located here, and for a mere phone call you can get cooked ribs and other delicacies delivered to your door.

Next to this, just to show how multicultural we really are, there is a Japanese grocer at 584 Glenhuntly Rd., specializing in "Do-it-yourself" Japanese food.

The Balaton and Scamper Inn are next, both of which have been reviewed in this column previously. I note, though, that the Balaton is under new management, and the Scamper Inn has a new menu (though many old favourites remain.)

Immediately next door at 572 is the Firebird which specializes in "Provincial Italian food cooked over natural firewood." Sounds interesting indeed.

To complete this section there is the self-explanatory Chicken Town (winner in the Best Name Award, closely followed by the Paradise Food Corner and the Temple Bells Curry Takeaway) and the Cake Factory at 548.

After this there is quite a gap (I do these things on foot you know) until the next part of Glenhuntly Rd., getting into Elsternwick proper, and passing on the way the Hopetoun Gardens.

Again there is a variety of national tastes represented here. The Sun Ah at 480 is good value Chinese food, eat in or take away. The Ile de France, though, specializes in exotic French dishes. Next door to this is Irama Malay restaurant which features goodies such as Gado Gado and good old Nasi Goreng. Further down the road is Liszt, with the emphasis on German food, hearty and filling.

The Empire of Cam has spread from that other shopping Mecca of Caulfield, Carnegie, to a new shop at 446 Glenhuntly Rd Elsternwick, offering the same delightful food.

Continuing the Middle Eastern mode, the Paradise Food Corner provides takeaway Hummous, Tabouli and Shish Tawook. With a name like that, how could they go wrong? Similarly with the Temple Bells Curry Takeaway at 431.

Pizza lovers can try either the Elsternwick Pizza at 448, which also serves things like Lasagne, Vol-au-Vents and sausages, or Mergellina at 480 B which deals out more traditional Italian variety.

Healthies are catered for the Thyme Health Foods at 432 with Veggie Pies, Salads, Smoothies and Frozen Yoghurt, and gourmets by the Gourmet Larder at 478 which will supply lunch yummys like Zucchini Slice and Salmon Patties and will cater for Pates, Dips and the like.

Goodies

The Golden Roast, a mouthwatering name, provides all your chicken needs as well as other hot goodies.

Having eaten your lunch, you obviously want to finish off with a sweet treat. You could be tempted by something from the Chocolate Warehouse at 440, or if you want to be really wicked try a tasty pastry from the French Delights Cake-shop at 433. Otherwise, this hot summer weather is perfect for a Dairy Bell ice-cream on the corner of Orrong and Glenhuntly Rds.

Orrong Road brings us to the end of this stretch of Elsternwick. Tune in next month as we venture beyond...

KARMIC PIZZAS

"Nostralis Wholemeal Vegetarian Pizza Food".
55 Hawthorn Rd.
Nth. Caulfield.
Ph: 528 4961

"Wholemeal pizzas are the only reality that can resolve the dilemma of our time...The ugliness and suffering about us have made us more appreciative of tenderness, beauty, grass, and good pizzas and trees."

So reads the menu at Nostralis, the only hippy pizza parlour in Caulfield, perhaps in the world. The menu also assures you that the pizzas are made only with organic wholemeal flour, fresh vegies, pure olive oil and cheese made from vegetable rennet. Who said pizzas were junk food?

A tiny place with a few real wooden tables and a brisk take-away trade, Nostralis is consistent to its theme, from the Neil Young and Joni Mitchell music to its refusal to sell anything as unhealthy as a fizzy soft drink. My friend ordered a Coke and was told 'We don't have that sort of thing here' - but with a smile.

Chastened, we ordered a banana smoothie and a fresh orange juice to go with our pizzas and were not disappointed. My smoothie was creamy and delicious with a suggestion of cinnamon.

Sort of the wholemeal version of a chocolate milkshake.

The pizzas were like nothing I have ever had before. There are no meat ones, so carnivores will be disappointed. But let's face it, the greasy salami or diced up "ham" you get on most pizzas is not usually a highlight of pizza-eating anyway.

Instead of meat, many of the pizzas come with a bean base - soya beans, pinto beans, even bangalore beans. Others come with 'just' vegetables.

We tried a Mexicana which had tomato, cheese, pinto beans, onion capsicum and chili, a mild but tasty combination, and a Vindaloo which had bangalore beans, peppers, cheese, tomato, onions, hot spices and (don't knock it til you've tried it) banana and sultana. Though not as hot as I generally like, which is a personal preference, the combination of flavours was unusual and delicious.

The bases really are wholemeal and just the right consistency, and the toppings are generous - when you see the way they lather on the vegetable rennet cheese you're mouth already starts to water.

(Rennet is the substance that is used in cheese-making. It usually comes from a calf's stomach.)

There were even more unusual flavours on the board. Would you believe a Mix Fruits pizza? Or a Ridotto with sultanas, onion, pineapple and olives? For the faint-hearted there were plainer varieties such as the Marguerita with tomato, cheese and herbs, or an Aussie (no bacon) or Mushroom pizza.

Perhaps you could start out with a compromise - the Corn Pizza sounded unusual but fairly safe with bean shoots, pineapple and corn, or a Mondo with bean shoots, capsicum, onion, pineapple and other goodies.

The service throughout was pleasant, and the atmosphere was low-key and quiet. There was a steady stream of what appeared to be takeaway customers, but the sit-down area is removed from the takeaway area.

A small pizza each at $5.40 was quite sufficient for a meal, but if you fancy it there was a delicious looking apple crumble for $2.00 for sweets.

They do have cappuccinos and tea for afterwards, but if you are still feeling healthy you can have caffeine-free caroccino or herbal tea for afters. Other drinks include apple juice, mineral water, and orange and pineapple juice.

Or you could, as someone not a hundred miles from this reviewer did, sneak over to the Milk Bar and buy a soft drink to guzzle in Caulfield Park.

family Dr. Paul Nelson, who is a dentist, his wife Jan and their two sons Matt, aged 10 and Geoff aged 7. She will attend North St. Paul High as one of 1,200 students studying their Year 9 - 12 certificates.
