Performers wanted for Sounds of Glen Eira 2015

Do you play in a band or are you a soloist? Do you double-up as a duo, love playing acoustic, jazz and rock or just belting out some amazing vocals? We want you for Sounds of Glen Eira 2015.

This is your opportunity to perform to a live audience and show it what you've got.

Performers will be selected by Glen Eira City Council's Youth Leadership Team to play at the event on Friday 18 September at the Bentleigh McKinnon Youth Centre, Higgins Road, Bentleigh.

Selected performers will be in the running to win two full-days recording in Youth Services Plugged In music recording studio, with a professional sound engineer who will record, mix and master your tracks.

One of the finalists will be selected to perform in January 2016 at Council's Party in the Park event — Under the Stars.

On the night, members of the public will also be able to have their say and register a vote for the People's Choice Award.

Popular ska/punk band The Kujo Kings were runners up in 2014.

High school friends and Glen Eira residents Wes (singer/guitarist) and Josh (bass guitarist) formed the band, along with Hughie (drums), in 2010. Ellie (trombone), Iva (flute) and Nathan (trumpet) make up the rest of the band, which has a fan base Australia-wide.

Since forming five years ago, The Kujo Kings have released two, six-track EPs; one, two-track single; and a live DVD.

The band has performed at pubs; clubs; warehouses; weddings; boats; parks; festivals; halls — and even dusty old bookstores.

The Kujo Kings also have a number of interstate performances under their belts, including the 2015 Summer of Ska tour, where they played in five states/territories in two weeks.

Wes told Glen Eira News having played a number of shows in Melbourne and interstate, the band found it odd that they had not played in their local area or for a younger crowd — and for that reason, the band entered last year's competition.

"There's a big interest in music by youth and councils do a lot of fantastic work putting on shows where young people can explore live music in a safe environment," Wes said.

"I can honestly say if it wasn't for all-age and under 18 events, Battle of the Bands and upcoming artist showcases, we wouldn't have been as inspired to do what we've done."

The Kujo Kings were selected to play at Party in the Park — Under the Stars this year and Wes said it was an awesome experience.

"The quality of the artists we shared the stage with was inspiring, the staff and volunteers were a joy to work with, and the picnickers and dancing families fed our on-stage vibes," Wes said.

"It was a pleasure to perform to such a big community of supportive people whom we share our neighbourhoods with."

To enter Sounds of Glen Eira 2015, bring or send your demo CD along with contact details and a musician or band bio to the Youth Information Centre, 86 Robert Street, Bentleigh, by 4.30pm on Friday 21 August.

Sounds of Glen Eira 2015 is a fully supervised drug, alcohol and smoke-free event and everyone is welcome to come along.

For further information or to receive a copy of Sounds of Glen Eira 2015 terms and conditions, contact Youth Services on 9524 3676 or email youthservices@gleneira.vic.gov.au

Annual Budget 2015–16

Mayor's column

Glen Eira City Council's 2015-16 Annual Budget was adopted at a Special Council Meeting on Tuesday 23 June.

This financial year, $32.1 million has been allocated for various projects including: public open space; recreation; shopping centres; roads; drains; footpaths; the care of children, youth and people with disabilities; and environmental initiatives.

Average rates and charges for 2015-16 will be $1,538 per property, excluding the Fire Services Property Levy. This equates to $1.87 per person, per day.

Council would like to thank all residents who contributed to the Budget process during public meetings. All submissions and comments were considered when deciding the final Budget.

Further information about the 2015-16 Annual Budget can be found in a special feature on page eight and nine.

The Level Crossing Removal Authority (LXRA) has established a Stakeholder Liaison Group (SLG) to provide local input into the removal of level crossings at North Road, McKinnon Road and Centre Road.

The SLG will be chaired by Member for Bentleigh Nick Staikos MP and will include representatives from the LXRA, the project delivery team, Council and local stakeholders.

Meetings will be held monthly and will conclude upon completion of the level crossing removals.

Finally, nominations for Council's Student Achievement Awards are now open.

The Awards were developed to recognise and encourage outstanding achievement by local secondary school students.

Council has written to secondary school principals inviting them to nominate one student per secondary year level.

Nominations for the Awards close Friday 7 August.

Positive Ageing in Glen Eira Strategy 2015-2020

Glen Eira City Council is developing an Ageing Strategy focused on positive ageing to support our growing older adult population aged 60 and beyond.

This Strategy builds on Council's first ageing strategy — Glen Eira Ageing Strategy 2010-2015 which made significant achievements in building a community that values and includes older adults.

Council will be seeking feedback from the community during August. Listening posts where community members will have the opportunity to tell us what they think are the key issues for older adults in Glen Eira will be held in Glen Eira libraries.

- Bentleigh Library: Thursday 20 August, 12.30pm-2pm;
- Carnegie Library: Monday 24 August, 11.30am-1pm;
- Caulfield Library: Tuesday 25 August, 1.30pm-3pm; and
- Elsternwick Library: Wednesday 26 August, 12.30pm-2pm;

You can also submit your feedback via an online forum at www.haveyoursaygleneira.com.au or by downloading a feedback form from Council's website: www.gleneira.vic.gov.au

Alternatively, you can email your comments to mail@gleneira.vic.gov.au or post them to:

100th anniversary of the Battle of Lone Pine

Part of the broader August Offensive to end the stalemate at Gallipoli, the Battle of Lone Pine was a diversion to draw Ottoman reserves away from the main assaults at Chunuk Bair, Sari Bair and Hill 971.

It has gone down in history as one of the most brutal ever to be fought by Australians in any war.

On 6 August 1915, the 1st Australian Brigade rose from their concealed positions and quickly entered the main Ottoman trenches.

A four day battle followed, characterised not by artillery fire, but by fierce hand-to-hand combat. Fought within the dark labyrinth of tunnels and log-covered trenches, the battle area was roughly the size of two football fields.

After four days, numerous counterattacks and fresh reinforcements on both sides, the Ottomans pulled back and the Ernest BEADLE 1915, Australian War Memorial, PO9766.001.

Australians took control.

Although considered a rare tactical success amidst the broader failure of the Gallipoli campaign, the human cost was horrific. Six Australian battalions reported more than 2,000 casualties, whilst Ottoman losses were estimated at 7,000.¹

Bodies crowded the trenches and open ground. It was almost impossible for soldiers to move without stepping on the dead.

Official war correspondent Charles Bean later noted that 'the only respect which could be paid them was to avoid treading on their faces'.²

Reports of fatalities soon reached home with local families left devastated. Thomas Beath of Caulfield North was fatally wounded on 7 August. For Annie and George Beath, the battle had taken their only son.

Ernest Beadle, a carpenter from Brighton East, was first reported missing on 8 August whilst serving with the 7th Battalion.

With no known grave, his name is commemorated by a plaque at the Lone Pine Memorial, Turkey.

Others managed to cheat death in spite of considerable odds. John Cornell of Caulfield suffered horrific injuries to his face and neck as part of the 1st Brigade, whilst Ernest Brighton of Elsternwick was left unable to walk. Prior to the initial Australian charge, the Ottomans had cut down all but one of the local Aleppo pines to cover their trenches.

T.P Bennett, Solider at Lone Pine, 1915.

The last tree was obliterated during the battle; however pine cones retrieved by two soldiers were brought back to Australia.

To commemorate the 100th anniversary of the Gallipoli campaign, Glen Eira City Council planted an Aleppo pine in Caulfield Park (pictured above).

The tree was propagated from seeds collected from the Lone Pine at the Australian War Memorial.

In front of the pine is a plaque to those from this district who gave their lives in the Great War.

Speaking up for our City

Advertised planning applications now online

Glen Eira City Council advertises many planning permit applications to provide anyone who may be affected by the granting of the permit an opportunity to lodge a submission.

As well as the details of the application itself, there are plans and other relevant documentation that can be viewed by the public during the advertising period.

Residents are now able to view advertised plans on Council's website. Prior to plans being available on Council's website: www.gleneira.vic.gov.au interested parties had to attend Council and view the hard copies of the plans/documentation.

Whilst viewing the plans at Glen Eira Town Hall is still an available option, having the ability to view the plans online is beneficial to those who may not be able to get to Council.

Engaging our community

2015 Aquatics & Recreation Victoria Awards

Glen Eira Sports and Aquatic Centre (GESAC) has won the Customer Service Team Award and Personal Trainer Award at the 2015 Aquatics & Recreation Victoria Awards.

The Customer Service Team Award recognises excellence and commitment of a team to a facility. Brady Daw won the Personal Trainer Award. The judges said that Brady was an excellent trainer, with high levels of technical knowledge and customer service.

Carnegie Swim Centre was also successful, winning the Facility Management Award — Seasonal. In accepting the Award, YMCA Victoria Area Manager Mike Dean thanked Council for the work it had done to ensure the facility was maintained at a high standard.

Fifth Annual Communities Working Together Conference

Connecting with Community

Tuesday 11 August 2015. Caulfield Park Pavilion. Balaclava Road, Caulfield

The Communities Working Together Conference is an excellent opportunity for Glen Eira community groups and organisations to come together and connect in a way that mutually benefits the diverse and important community work we all do in the City of Glen Eira. This year's Conference will focus on how we build connections with community as well as provide the opportunity to do so.

- Connect with other people in the community.
- Be motivated by the success of other local community groups.
- Be encouraged by participating in activities that help to answer questions about connecting within your community.

Bookings close Tuesday 4 August. Cost: $15 per attendee.

Glen Eira Mothers' Support

Adjusting to motherhood is one of the biggest transitions women can make.

Yet we often don't speak about how difficult it can be.

If you are a mum with a baby under 12 months old and feeling overwhelmed, sad, worried, not enjoying your baby as you expected, or just feel you need some extra support, Glen Eira Mothers' Support (GEMS) might be a group for you.

GEMS is offered weekly for an eight week period and meets at Glen Huntly Maternal and Child Health Centre, corner of Royal and Rosedale Avenues, Glen Huntly.

For further information about the program, speak to your maternal and child health nurse or contact Council's Maternal and Child Health Service on 9524 3403.

Learning-2-Learn

A tutoring service delivered by qualified special education teachers

Learning-2-Learn is a tutoring service that caters specifically to students that have learning difficulties and/or who are struggling to meet mainstream curriculum demands for a range of reasons.

We work together with you, the parent, to identify your child's strengths and weaknesses. Once goals are identified, we will develop a program tailored to meet the specific needs of your child. Lessons (maximum of four students) run once a week for an hour.

Focus areas include:

- literacy development;
- primary numeracy development study skills;
- study skills (test/exam preparations);
- organisational skills/time management;
- text type writing;
- essay writing; and
- curriculum/homework support.

Sustainability community presentations

Glen Eira City Council will host two free community presentations in September.

Comfort and efficiency in your home

Tuesday 8 September

7pm-9pm

Carnegie Library — first floor, Boyd Room, 7 Shepparson Avenue, Carnegie

Australian households are responsible for 20 per cent of our total greenhouse gas emissions.

Heating and cooling, running appliances, lights and hot water systems are the main uses of energy and the biggest greenhouse gas emitters around the home.

By making a few changes to your home, you can considerably reduce your energy bills and make your home more comfortable.

Alternative Technology Association's Michael O'Connell will share tips to reduce your bills, improve your comfort and provide the biggest return on your investment.

Come along and learn about:

- insulation;
- draught-proofing;
- appliances;
- lighting;
- glazing; and
- the Australian Greenhouse calculator.

The buzz on backyard bees

Tuesday 29 September

7pm-9pm

Glen Eira Town Hall — Theatrette, corner Glen Eira and Hawthorn Roads, Caulfield

Would you like to be able to harvest your own honey from your backyard? Diana and Nikolai Faizouline from Hampton Hives will show you what steps are required to produce this sweet reward.

Topics to be covered include:

- How to get started as an urban beekeeper.

- How to look after your hive.
- How to be a good neighbour.
- The legal side to urban beekeeping.
- How to obtain the sweet reward.
- The Flow™ hive honey tap.

Bookings for both presentations are essential. For further information and to RSVP, contact Council's sustainability education officer on 9524 3333, email sustainability@gleneira.vic.gov.au or book online at www.gleneira.vic.gov.au/Community/Environment

Works continue to progress at Booran Reserve

Ninety-nine per cent of existing materials at the former reservoir site have been recycled and re-used in construction works to date, including concrete from the walls; mulch from trees; and soil from the old batters.

The next phase of sustainability features includes the installation of a 500,000 litre stormwater harvesting system for recapturing rainwater, which will be treated and re-used for irrigation and toilet flushing.

Each segment of the harvesting system is three metres in diameter. The photo below shows the first of the 29 segments installed.

No plastic bags, no excuses

Glen Eira City Council would like to remind dog owners to always be prepared by carrying plastic bags with them when taking their pets for walks.

Under Council's Local Law, owners are legally required to collect and dispose of their dog's litter when out in public.

Council's Manager Building and Civic Compliance John Bordignon said dog litter is a serious community amenity problem, which is entirely avoidable with some forward planning on the part of dog owners.

"Our public places should be clean from animal litter — for everyone's comfort," Mr Bordignon said.

"It is not acceptable for non-pet owners to face animal litter in our parks, gardens, playgrounds, footpaths and other public spaces."

Council has tried to make it as easy as possible for local pet owners to clean up after their pets.

Plastic bag dispensers are available in many of Council's parks and reserves.

AUGUST 2015

GLEN EIRA NEWS

Watch out for swooping birds

It's nesting time for many birds in Glen Eira, so from August to October, look out for swooping birds.

Like most animals, native birds instinctively protect their territory during nesting season and if they perceive you to be a potential threat, they may swoop.

For many people who get caught in this position, it can be a very frightening experience.

The Australian magpie, magpie-lark, red wattlebird, grey butcherbird and noisy miners are the main culprits and are widespread throughout the Glen Eira region, especially around parks and open spaces.

Glen Eira City Council Manager Park Services Laurie Unwin said that swooping birds can cause serious injuries.

"There is a real danger to cyclists if you do happen to ride through their nesting zones, so it is better to dismount and walk through these areas," Mr Unwin said.

"In a lot of cases, the birds are only trying to scare intruders away and avoid contact."

Here are some tips to avoid being swooped:

- Birds usually target individuals and stay clear of groups of people. They also tend to keep their distance if you are holding an umbrella or a large stick above your head.
- Since these birds always attack from behind, be confident and face them. A strategy that is known to work quite well is sticking 'eyes' to the back of hats or helmets. The worst thing one can do is panic and run — this only encourages the birds to continue swooping.

Residents are reminded that all native birds are protected under the Wildlife Act 1975 and there are serious penalties for taking, harassing or injuring native wildlife.

Bountiful garden established while renting

Glen Eira City Council launched its Neighbourhood Sustainable Gardening Program for residents, schools, organisations and businesses in Glen Eira to encourage people to make their gardens more sustainable.

The Program currently has more than 600 members, including Wendy from Ormond (pictured above).

Wendy told Glen Eira News she contacted the Program about the problem of gall wasp on citrus trees.

"I wanted to help educate Glen Eira residents on how important it is to cut out gall wasp as soon as you see the distinctive woody galls on the citrus branch," Wendy said

"Remove the galls before the end of winter as the adult wasps emerge in spring."

Wendy has been renting in Ormond for two years. After obtaining her landlord's approval, she established a thriving vegetable and herb garden.

Wendy has planted broccoli; cauliflower; kale; broad beans; spring onions; celery; parsley; native ginger; lemongrass; oregano; thyme; and rosemary.

Wendy said healthy soil is vital for a healthy veggie garden.

"Try adding dry leaves, paper and cardboard, as well as lots of fruit and vegetable scraps, to compost and worm farms," Wendy said.

Wendy also recommends using pea straw on the garden beds as it provides nitrogen to the soil and valuable organic matter as it decomposes.

"Some small pea plants may shoot from the straw," Wendy said.

"I cut these off and add them to salads. I also make a juice out of the veggie leaves, including young leaves from lettuce, broccoli and beetroot."

Are you interested in joining the Sustainable Gardening Program?

The Neighbourhood Sustainable Gardening

Program is designed to tap into and build on the passion, knowledge and skills of residents as gardeners.

Anyone who has (or is planning to have) a vegetable patch, fruit trees, compost system, local indigenous plants, water-wise features or chickens can join the Program.

Registered gardeners will receive a welcome pack, which includes a sign that can be attached to their fence identifying that they are part of the Program. They will also be sent regular updates on local events (run by Council and community groups) and specific local gardening information.

To register for the Program, visit www.gleneira.vic.gov.au/sustainable_garden

Keeping your home safe

Home is the place where you feel safe and secure to play, explore and have adventures. The home is also the most common place for young children to be injured.

Injuries happen unexpectedly and as your child develops and becomes more mobile, falls and bumps are more likely to occur.

The Raising Children Network recommends the most useful thing parents can do to keep their child safe is to adjust their home accordingly.

Keep an eye on the new skills your child is learning and the new places they can reach and get to.

The Royal Children's Hospital Safety Centre recommends:

- Turning the hot water temperature down to 50 degrees celsius to prevent serious scalds.
- Removing stove knobs — most knobs can be removed to avoid children turning on the heat or gas.
- Only use the back burners or elements on the stove.

- Securing blind and curtain cords by bundling them together with a rubber band. They should be out of reach by at least 1600mm above the floor.
- Placing furniture in front of power points to prevent access.

Links to child and family health resources can be found on Council's website: www.gleneira.vic.gov.au or visit The Royal Children's Hospital Melbourne Safety Centre for tips and ideas to keep your home safe: www.rch.org.au/safetycentre/

Abandoned and unregistered vehicles

Glen Eira City Council would like to remind drivers that it is illegal for a vehicle to remain on a road if the vehicle is not registered or does not have registration plates affixed to it.

It is important to know that an expired registration label no longer means that the vehicle is unregistered.

Since 1 January 2014, VicRoads does not issue or require registration labels to be placed on the windscreen of vehicles registered in Victoria.

During the last financial year, 822 vehicles were reported to Council with 370 notices issued to the registered owners asking them to remove the vehicle.

Council's Manager Building and Civic Compliance John Bordignon said if anyone suspects a vehicle has been abandoned, they should contact Council's Service Centre on 9524 3333 and Council will arrange for an officer to inspect the vehicle and take appropriate action.

"If the vehicle is found to be unregistered or abandoned, a tow-away notice may be attached to the vehicle," Mr Bordignon said.

"If the vehicle is not removed within the specified time, Council may arrange to have the vehicle impounded."

Impoundment costs incurred by Council may be borne by the registered owner of the vehicle.

News in brief

VCAT overturns Council

During the 2014–15 financial year, the Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal (VCAT) approved 489 dwellings that Glen Eira City Council had refused.

This is an average of 40 per month. Most of the dwellings approved by VCAT were apartments.

Council will continue to advocate for legislation to be amended so that VCAT has to apply Council's planning policies instead of merely having to take account of them.

Footpath Activities Guidelines

Footpaths were traditionally designed for pedestrian traffic. However in recent decades, Australia has seen the introduction of alfresco dining which has led to an increased demand on this community asset.

While it is recognised that street trading adds interest and colour to our City, it is also important for Glen Eira City Council to manage and maintain pedestrian and vehicle safety, traffic flow and improve visual amenity.

Trading must not obstruct access or create an unsafe or unsightly environment for all community users.

Council is committed to working with traders to manage and maintain quality commercial centres for any community users.

A permit is required for any trading on community footpaths and includes the placing of:

- advertising signs;
- goods;
- tables and chairs;
- windbreaks;
- umbrellas; and
- heaters.

Council's Footpath Activities Guidelines comply with best practice guidelines issued by the Human Rights and Equal Opportunity Commission and Council's Local Law 2009.

For a copy of the Guidelines, visit www.gleneira.vic.gov.au or contact Council's Service Centre on 9524 3333.

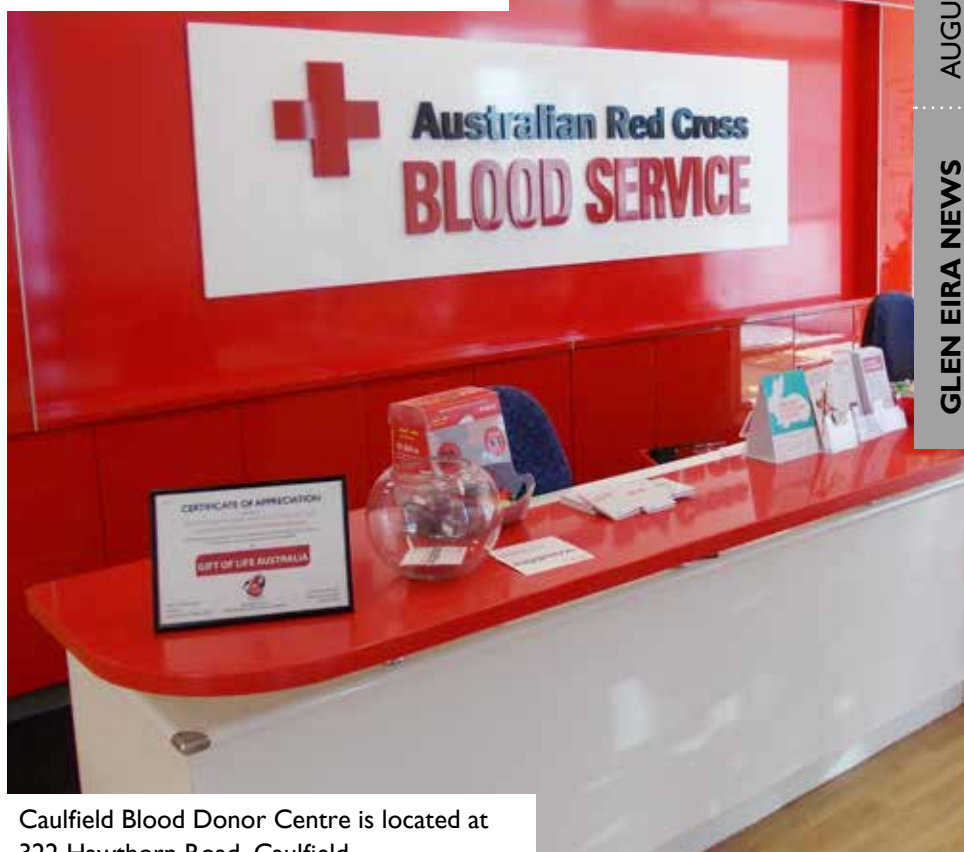

National Blood Donor Week

National Blood Donor Week continues until Saturday 1 August and pays tribute to all blood donors across the nation who each year give more than 1.35 million life-saving blood, plasma and platelet donations across Australia.

Blood donors are the heroes to many cancer patients, trauma victims and renal dialysis patients amongst countless others.

If you haven't donated blood before, National Blood Donor Week is the perfect time to make an appointment.

To make an appointment, contact 13 14 95 or visit www.donateblood.com.au

2015–16 Annual Budget breakdown

As part of the 2015–16 Annual Budget, Glen Eira City Council has allocated funding for capital works projects covering all aspects of community life.

This financial year, $32.1 million ($512 per property) has been allocated for various projects, including public open space; recreation; shopping centres; roads; drains; footpaths; the care of children; people with disabilities; and environmental initiatives.

Rates and charges

Average rates and charges per assessment in 2015–16 increase by approximately 4.94 per cent. This is made up of an additional 600 assessments, an increase of 6.5 per cent for rates and 2.5 per cent for waste and recycling.

Average rates and charges in 2015–16 are projected to be $1,538 per property. This is expected to continue to be the second-lowest average rates and charges per property in metropolitan Melbourne. (Average rates, excluding charges, equates to $1.60 per person, per day.)

Actual rates for an individual property depend on the value of that property. The rates for 2015–16 are based on the valuations as at 1 January 2014.

For every $100 of rates revenue received, Council delivers the services highlighted in the illustration below.

Waste and sustainability charges

These charges are levied on the basis of cost recovery and have increased by approximately 2.5 per cent. Residential garbage charges for 2015–16 are listed below. These waste and recycling charges are expected to raise a total of $14.2 million, of which the State Landfill Levy accounts for an estimated $1.77 million.

- Small 120 litre waste charge — $169 (including an estimated $24 State Levy) ($165 in 2014–15).
- Large 240 litre waste charge — $349 (including an estimated $51 State Levy) ($340 in 2014–15).
- Residential flat shared bins (240 litre) waste charge — $169 per assessment (including an estimated $51 State Levy) ($165 in 2014–15).
- 240 litre family bin — $244 (including an estimated $51 State Levy) ($238 in 2014–15).
- Medical 240 litre waste charge — $169 (including an estimated $51 State Levy) ($165 in 2014–15).
- Litter management charge — $53 ($49 in 2014–15).

- Litter management charge — $53 ($49 in 2014–15).

Council pensioner rebate

Approximately 14 per cent of ratepayers are entitled to a total pensioner rebate of $270. (The Pensioner Fire Services Levy Rebate is in addition to this.)

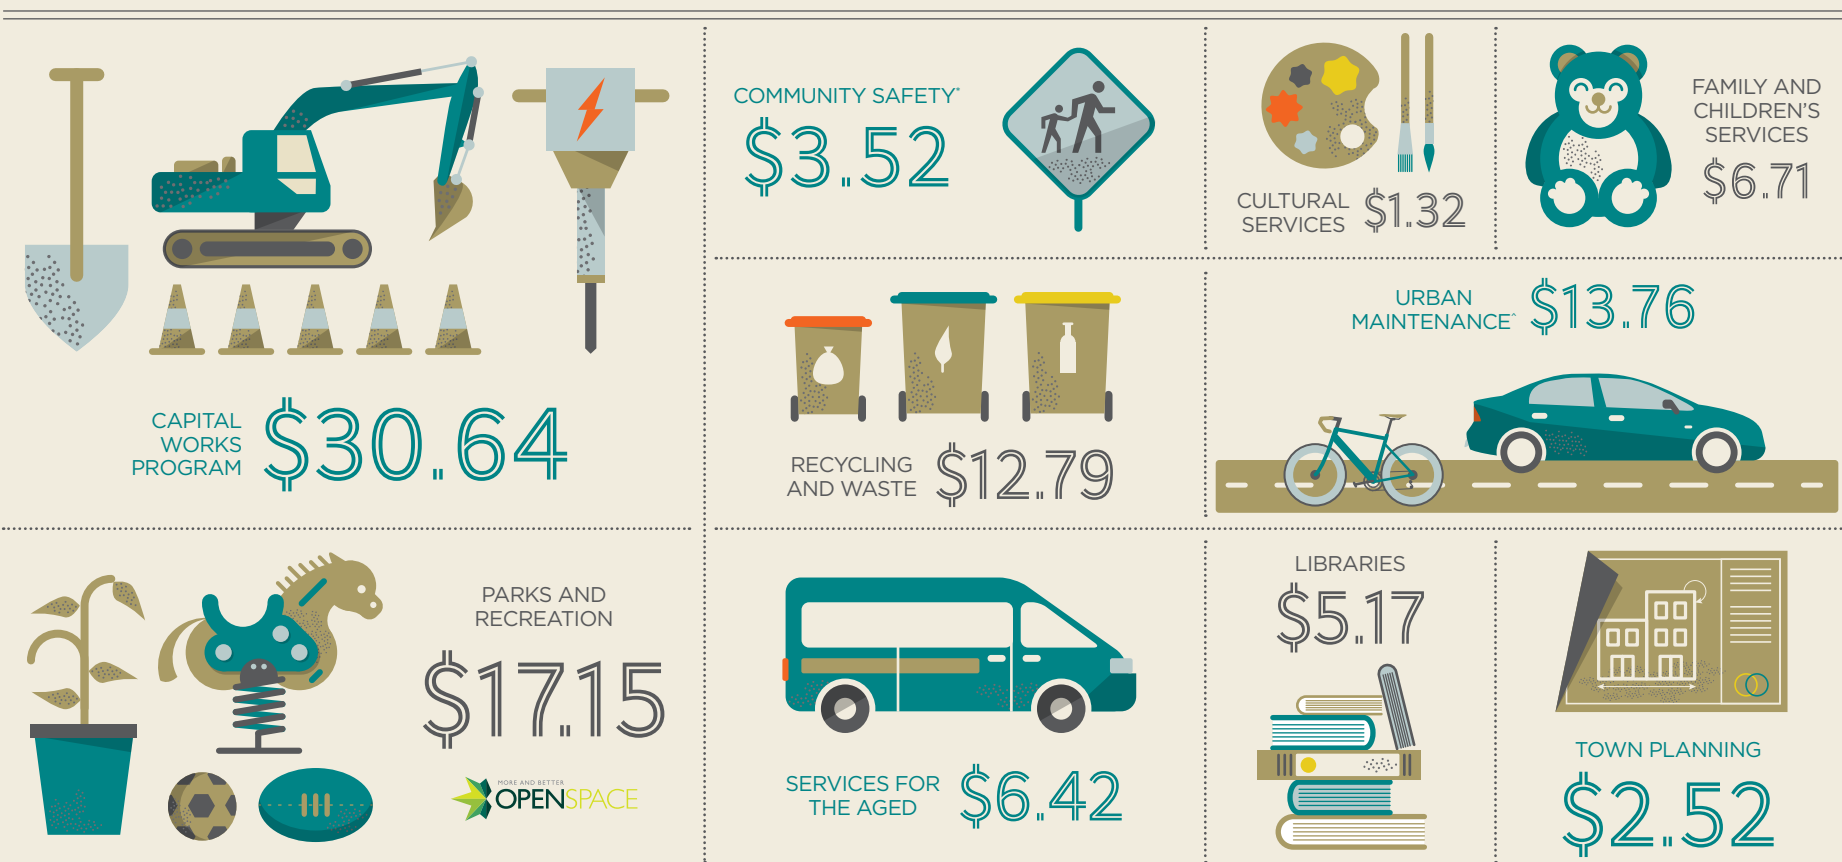

State taxation of Glen Eira property

The State is increasing its Fire Service Levy by 13.7 per cent to approx. $12.3 million in Glen Eira. The Levy is shown on the Rate and Valuation Notice, collected by Council and forwarded to the State Government.

The State Landfill Levy is budgeted at $1.8 million (14 per cent of all waste costs).

State land tax is levied on more than 17,000 properties in Glen Eira, using Council's property valuations. Average land tax in Glen Eira during 2014–15 was $2,194. Total stamp duty, land tax and other property levies on Glen Eira properties to the State Revenue Office in 2015–16 is expected to exceed $200 million. (Total Council rates and charges to support Glen Eira services and community infrastructure will be $96.4 million.)

SERVICES THAT COUNCIL DELIVERS FOR EVERY $100 OF RATE REVENUE (2015–2016)

*Community safety: street lighting, school crossing, traffic engineering, environmental health, building control, local laws. ^Urban maintenance: footpaths, roads, drains and building maintenance. Please note that figures include internal revenue and expense allocations and are calculated net of direct income items such as grants and fees and charges (excluding waste management).

Community projects

New capital expenditure is projected at $32.1 million.

This Budget implements the Open Space Strategy, which Council approved on 8 April 2014 following widespread community consultation.

Open space projects being funded include:

- Booran Reserve — conversion of the former Glen Huntly Reservoir Site as public open space $4.84 million in 2015–2016 and $3.93 million in 2016–2017 (includes State Government Grant funding of $585,000).
- Elsternwick Plaza improvements (pictured above) — $215,000 (to complete the project).
- Eskdale Road/Fitzgibbon Crescent, Caulfield North (new open space) — $450,000.
- Nina Reserve, Bentleigh East — $120,000.
- Hopetoun Gardens, Elsternwick — $100,000.
- Marara Road Reserve, Caulfield South — $100,000.
- Leckie Street Reserve, Bentleigh — $195,000.

- Thomas Street Reserve, McKinnon — $50,000.

The number of street trees planted will be 2,000.

Sustainability

The Budget continues the warm season grasses program — $400,000 for upgrading Princes Park Oval No. 4. It expands the solar panel program on Council buildings — $150,000.

The Budget also allocates the refund of the Carbon Tax — $876,000 — collected by the landfill tip site, to two sustainability initiatives:

- Building retrofits sustainability initiatives as per recent energy audits and installation of solar panels — $481,000.
- Commencement of LED street lighting program — $395,000.

Recreational Services

- Provision to convert the tennis courts outside Carnegie Swim Centre — $130,000 — and Caulfield East Tennis Courts — $265,000 — to small sided soccer for community use.
- Bicycle Strategy: continuation of off-road paths, extensions to the on road network and works to improve existing conditions. Council actively promotes and encourages cycling as a viable mode of transport and healthy leisure activity. To further support cyclists, Council will spend more than $350,000 (includes estimated carry forwards from 2014–15 — $200,000) to future cycle related works, including approximately 1.9 kilometres of green cycle lane pavement treatment.

Renewal and upgrade of Council's major infrastructure assets

- Drainage improvement program — $3.5 million.
- Roads — $4.09 million.
- Footpaths — $1.73 million.
- Local road resurfacing — $1.5 million.

Other rolling annual programs

- Traffic management — $1.08 million. Traffic management expenditure is targeted to improve safety and promote efficient movement. Traffic pressures need a multi-faceted approach, including directing higher density development towards train stations and tram lines, cycling, walking, car-sharing and better mass transit systems (eg. grade separation.)

- Public open space and recreational facilities — $1.35 million.
- Building works — $1.07 million.
- Libraries — $805,000 (purchase of collections.)
- Shopping centre upgrades — $550,000.

Other short-term projects

- Aged care facilities — $523,000.
- Family and Children's Services — $92,000.
- Public open space and recreational facilities — $1.98 million (includes Duncan Mackinnon athletics track (pictured below) — $850,000 — and resurfacing of netball courts — $130,000 — both subject to SRV funding).
- Building works — $1.1 million.
- Other short-term projects — $510,000.

DIRECT DEBIT

Make paying your Glen Eira City Council rates and charges simple and more manageable by signing up to direct debit.

Credit card payments for direct debits are available for the 2015/2016 financial year in addition to the payment by bank account option.

With our direct debit option, 10 equal instalment payments are deducted from your credit card or nominated bank account on the first working day of the month commencing in September.

If you do not currently have your payment debited directly from your account or credit card and wish to arrange to do so, visit www.gleneira.vic.gov.au click on 'Rates' then 'Paying your rates' and download the request form or follow the link to register your credit card details into our secure registration site (credit card only) or contact Council's Service Centre on 9524 3333 for the request form. Any amendments to account details or credit card need to be received on the Direct Debit Request Form at least 14 days before the next debit date.

Remember, once registered there is no need to keep track of due dates or worry about late payments.

* Any arrears from previous financial years must be cleared before this option can be activated.  If you are already on direct debit from your bank account there is no need to reapply unless you wish to switch to credit card.

How to create video marketing

By 2017, video will account for 69 per cent of all consumer internet traffic. (The Guardian — Chris Timble.)

Video is taking content marketing by storm. It is a highly leveraged platform with huge potential reach and people can now consume video content anywhere, anytime.

This fun, interactive, practical session gives you the process from A to Z of how to make it happen for your business — immediately.

Presented by professional trainer, coach and Manager of About Time Management Solutions Elliot Hayes, you will learn:

- the seven key scenarios you can use to create a video;
- how to create a video strategy
- how to plan and storyboard your short video to save time with the creating and editing phase;

- how to access free editing software you can use to assemble your video within half-an-hour;
- the right type of shots to take when using your smartphone to create the video;
- how to share your video online for maximum impact (via YouTube, social media, your blog); and
- how to use your video to promote your business, improve sales, develop partnerships, and grow your brand.

Creating videos to market your business with little or no cost has never been so accessible. If you have little or no budget for creating videos, then this workshop is for you.

Glen Eira Women's Business Network Use LinkedIn to power your professional profile

Social media can strengthen your reputation as a leader and build your company brand. Social executives are out there listening and engaging in real time and are seen as open, transparent and trustworthy.

With three billion using the internet and more than two billion people using social media, a social leader is a leader for her time. This will become more important as mobile growth pushing internet penetration to 50 per cent of the world by 2016.

Leaders who get social understand global interconnectivity impacts every aspect of business and it's got nothing to do with age.

Presented by professional speaker, author and CEO of The Social Executive® Dionne Lew, you will find out how to use LinkedIn to:

- create a human brand — 76 per cent of executives say they would rather work for a social CEO;
- position yourself as a thought leader — showcase your expertise to seven million Australian or 367 million global professionals by publishing quality content and sharing share expertise and option in groups;

- grow sales and revenue — employees who are encouraged to be social help boost sales;
- attract the best talent — 47 per cent of Millennials say an employer's online reputation matters as much as the job it offers, and social media gives you immediate access to the global talent pool; and
- learn to create an authentic, professional profile that puts you above the pack. Who you are online is an extension of who you are offline.

Carnegie Library Forecourt enhancement

Works have commenced on the Carnegie Library Forecourt enhancement. Over the coming months, the Forecourt will be redeveloped to create a safe, inviting, unique and sociable space that will be able to be used by a wide range of people and groups.

The upgrade will see the addition of an avenue of jacaranda trees near Koornang Road. Garden beds with low level plants will complement the design and a raised seating area will provide a space adaptable for informal gathering, small events or performances.

Collectively, the landscape works will provide a strong connection between Koornang Road and the Library entrance.

Works are expected to be completed by the end of October (weather permitting).

Princes Park has it all

The City of Glen Eira is fortunate to have some of the best parks in Melbourne — and Princes Park in Caulfield is no exception. This park is rich in history and offers something for everyone.

This 12.08 hectare park was purchased by the Caulfield Council during 1920–21 for the creation of a recreation reserve in the then south ward. In the 1920s, a government road that ran through the reserve between Bambra Road and the Brooklyn Avenue tennis courts was acquired, and a new road (now Dover Street) was built on the southern boundary of the reserve.

In 1925, a park master plan was put forward to Council by the Princes Park League consisting of an enclosed oval, tennis courts, bowling green, croquet lawns and gardens.

The first pavilion in the park was opened in 1929. By 1932, there were a number of cricket clubs using the Princes Park ovals and a grounds committee was formed to co-ordinate the administration of the various facilities. A request from a local cycling club in 1937 for a track in the south-west corner of the park was refused.

In the 1940s, the park trust complained to Council about the training of greyhounds in the park using live rabbits and also of horsemen using the main oval as a short cut due to the lack of handrails around the perimeter. The playground was moved to its present location in 1948. The DC Bricker Pavilion was opened in 1970. The park underwent a major facelift with a celebrated park reopening in 2004. More than 15,500 new plants were added to the park, including 277 mature trees.

Today, Princes Park offers a multitude of recreational opportunities. A wonderful adventure playground will keep people of all ages amused for hours.

It has picnic facilities located at the playground along with several rotundas and an automated toilet. Also at the playground are basketball and netball facilities, which only add to the fun. Within a short walk from the playground is a unique scented garden that offers a quite reflective space for park visitors.

DC Bricker Pavilion social and meeting rooms are located near the playground and are very popular and can be hired by the community.

Both pavilions at Princes Park are a hive of activity being used by junior and senior sports clubs where new members are always welcome.

If sport is not for you, then why not take a stroll around the extensive all-abilities path and enjoy the beautiful park surroundings.

Pavilion works update

The redevelopment of Centenary Park Pavilion (pictured) is nearing completion.

Works have included demolishing the old building and building a new pavilion — the Julie Cooper Pavilion — which will be utilised by the community, including local sporting clubs.

The Duncan Mackinnon Pavilion and Community Room is nearing completion.

This state-of-the-art facility is scheduled to open in September (weather permitting) and will be home to a number of sporting teams and associations. A Community Room will also be available for hire by the public.

Teen School Holiday Program

Glen Eira youth beat their winter blues by joining in the activities offered through Glen Eira City Council Youth Services' Teen School Holiday Program.

Some of the highlights were ice skating at Medibank Icehouse, followed by a scenic flight on the Melbourne Star Observation Wheel (pictured above).

A first for the Teen School Holiday Program was the popular Escape Room Challenge.

Participants worked together to find hidden objects and solve riddles and crack the clues to try and escape the mysterious garden room before the clock ran out.

Lots of fun was had by all who attended, with many participants keen to come back for the September holidays.

Moving Up program

Glen Eira City Council Youth Services Moving Up program is running again in local primary schools during terms three and four.

This program aims to assist year six students with their transition into high school by enhancing their coping skills to deal with the upcoming changes.

Moving Up consists of three classroom-based sessions that focus on issues such as:

- friendships — new and old;
- bullying — what is it, how to stop it and where to go for help;
- self-esteem — looks at how to increase coping skills; and
- what high school is really like — sorting out the fact from fiction.

After completing Moving Up teachers' comments included:

- The program allowed the students to ask questions they wouldn't normally ask.
- Students seemed more content about next year.
- A few anxious students are more relaxed.

This innovative program, complemented with the support of school support services, ensures the transition to secondary school is smooth and successful.

For further information about Moving Up, contact Youth Services on 9524 3676.

Special four-year-old immunisation sessions 2015

Glen Eira City Council's Immunisation Service is offering immunisation sessions for four-year-old children in 2015. These immunisations are recommended to be given just prior to a child's fourth birthday.

All four-year-old children receiving their immunisation will receive a free show bag. Face painting, balloons and magic tricks will keep the kids entertained.

Parents please note: the Australian Childhood Immunisation Register recommends that all childhood vaccinations are completed by four years and one month. If your child is not vaccinated by this recommended age, they will be considered overdue and you will receive reminder letters from Council.
