WHS. GALLUS FAMILY - Ian Nethercote

1946 - 1976 when we moved to South Croydon from Vermont. The Gallus family were well known family in Vermont. They owned a big poultry farm at the corner of Boronia Road and Centre Road. In those days Boronia as only a twolane made road and Centre Road was only a dirt road. The Nethercotes lived at the bottom of Boronia Road on the right hand sie, just befor the Dandeong creek. Our old house is still there. The Gallus family had a big wooden sign at the corner of Boronia Road and Centre Road saying GULLAS POULTRY FARM. On the top of the notice board they had a cut out chook and a hen and a duck, all made out of wood. In those daysthey had a very big U shaped driveway. You drove in from the Centre Road end and drove out half way between Centre Road and Lusk Drive.

The family was made up of Mr EE Gallus, his wife Helen, Diana, Peter and Cynthia. Diana married Peter Brown who worke at the Shell Service Station on the corner of Boronia and Canterbury Roads, Vermont. The service station was called Canbor Service Station

When Peter got married he moved down to Gippsland and took up poultry farming. Cynthia as killed in a road smash in NSW in 1957 or 1958.
I do not know what year Mr & Mrs Gallus died.
