Dear All

Given the current situation, the library has amended our overdue email policy.

- Parents and staff should no longer receive emails notifying them of overdue books for the next 6 months.
- If one happens to slip through, please disregard.
- If you currently have books on-loan you can renew them, extend the loan period or simply hang on to them until.....this all blows over.
- We will not be chasing anyone for books.

- If you wish to borrow books for the holiday period, please come and see us today.

- I will place this information on the library home page on the CLE for parents and students to see.
