

Bag ~~in~~ bag made from the legging pair of Mole skin Trousers - he searched
- low and everywhere he could think of could find it - he never the less arrived at the conclusion that the contents in the bag was nothing else but pure nuggetty gold picked up by the Shepherd while tending his sheep on Linton Station which has since turned out a payable gold field of no mean order and thoroughly substantiates Mr. Rose's concluding remark

Yours
J. M. Meek

The title of this paper is my suggestion but the "Story" must corroborate.
J. M. M.