

THE WEDDING

(? from the 1960's)

A small wedding of high temperature took place last week when Mag Sulphate married Mr. Tinc benz.

The bride was given away by her uncle Mr. Sodium Salicylate recently returned from the Hepatic Duct.

The bride's frock was an advanced style of connective tissue edged with Silver Nitrate and caught slightly in parts with two Murphy Buttons.

Her hair was styled in Peristaltic Waves with a handsome chignon of Acriflavine gauze and a veil of finely worked horse hair. This was daintily arranged in swathes of bougies and tied with Kangaroo tendon.

Miss Carriage, the bridesmaid, looked dainty in a dress of green sick with a cluster of Tulle Gras which was fanned out at the knees and ornamented with Michelle clips. The bouquet was of Lumbo-salpingitis.

Mr. Pottassium Iodide, the brother of the groom, was best man. Mr. Mercurachrome and Mr. Ungvita, the train bearers, sat on little brown stools, decorated with occult blood.

The Reverend Suture tied the knot but was unfortunately late having travelled via Cystitis owing to a Lumbar Puncture on the way. The church was decorated with clusters of haemorrhoids catching them at the corner.

During the signing of the Register and the charts, Miss Currettes efficiently rendered the "Waters of Incontinence", accompanied by Mr. Prostatectomy on his flushing catheters.

As the bride and groom left the church, Miss Olive hung a self-retaining enema and horse-shoe kidney, whilst Miss Heart played the Wedding March on that wonderful organ.

The reception took place in the Duodenum. It was decorated with bowls of Convulsion and Antibiotics and the toasts were made with Zephiran and Spirits of Alcohol. The tables were covered with plain striped muscle while the guests sat on Malaena stools. The feast was most enjoyable consisting of strawberry tongue and red currant jelly and pots of pea soup and delicious Hydatid liver.

The mother of the bride, Mrs Quinine Sulphate, received the guests in sweet infectious Erysiphillis.

Several items were rendered. Mr. Douche gave an Ileum on his catarrh nasal polyp. "Sleep and Forget" was played by Miss Pot Bromide and Mr. Chloral Hydrate.

Among those present were Miss Pot. Citrate, Ethyl Chloride, The Sulphonamides, Antibiotics, and that charming Frenchman, Jacques Catheter. Also that Rectal drip and that Colostomy bag.

Miss Bronchi was present in that beautiful new shade of blue cyanosis, trimmed with circumoral pallor.

The diabetics came in their coma while the Peabodies came via the Urinary tract. Miss Perineal Body and Mr. Thomas Splint were there.

Old Peritonitis looked rather bloated and old Paraldehyde came via the back passage, while the bride's pets Purulent and Flatus passed.

Mr. Balkan knocked his frame and the burns came in degrees, while the Thyroids came in stages.

Prince Omnopon 1/3rd and Queen Morphia 1/8th were present as royal guests.

Methylated was full of spirits and Miss Fracture didn't eat much as she was reducing.

The bride's ring was a solitary Gallstone set in a Pessary. The happy couple left by Traumatic Ataxia, a gift from the groom's father, General Malaise. The bride travelled in an attractive frock of Tulle Gras with Koplick spots and trimmed with Ribbon Gauze.

She wore a becoming headband of gut and adhesions tied in the centre with an Umbilical cord. On her coat was an attractive Adrenaline spray. She carried a Pilcher Bag, a gift from the groom.

The happy couple hope to travel via the Cervical Canal around the Uterine Sound to spend their honeymoon in the Islets of Langerhans.

Their future home will be in the Thoracic Cavity and they will sleep in the Prostatic Bed.....
